FARM AND HOUSEHOLD.

BREAKING HORSES.—The following sensible advice is from the Rural Carolinian: "A man who will habitually take a horse through a narrow door knows very little of what horse management is, or what is fair treatment to the animal. One single blow on the hip against the many corners of a doorway is frequently sufficient to ruin a valuable horse. But when that blow has been several times repeated the horse becomes valueless, because he has become a highly dangerous animal. We have seen a horse whose hips were never healed after striking two or three times in passing through a narrow way. Another very common practice is the leading of horses out of the barn door by the sides of loads of hay, grain, &c. A slight blow upon the hip will sometimes so excite a high spirited horse that the person leading loses control over him, and he escapes upon a jump, banging his shoulders and hips as he proceeds, leaving patches of skin and hair as evidence that he has got through. Many a valuable horse has been ruined in this way, and many a valuable one can be saved by never leading him through a narrow space."

ROLLING THE GROUND.—A correspondent of the Germantown Telegraph writes: "On dry or wet ground the effect is found to be very beneficial. Land prepared for sowing, dry land is much helped by the roller. The blades of grass spring up sooner and retain a longer hold in the earth. In a season of drought rolling has saved the crop, when without it the seed would have never sprung from the ground. In wet and heavy ground it is believed the roller, smoothing and hardening the surface, will leave it with immediately workable condition in a better condition to generate the seed. On grass ground that has been heaved by the frost, the roller has an excellent effect in fixing the roots. Rolling the ground is also good when the land has been left down some time in previous year. If the land is too dry, wait till just after a soaking rain, and go to work capitally. It is a good idea to roll plowed sowed ground before harrowing, as it prows down the furrows, the harrow will be turned back, and makes the surface lies unlevel, and the harrow pulverizes it much more easily. We find this to be average not one farmer in four has a roller."

FRUITS AND HEALTH.—Dr. Hunt said at a recent meeting of the Warsaw Horticultural Society, that "an absence of fruits implied doctor's bills." We have urged for many years the importance of a regular supply of ripe fruit to prevent diseases, and the best health of the human chest which an engaging family could enjoy is a neatly settled orchard, would be a box of early bearing fruit-trees, currant, gooseberry and raspberry bushes, and strawberry plants. We knew a family who moved West, and took with them a very large supply of dried fruit, which lasted them three years the first summer. None of them were sick, although they were exposed to all sorts of them that year, but the next year, with more comforts and less privations, but with no fruit, they suffered from sickness. Other Western residents have told us that so long as they could have ripe fruit, they have been free from all disease resulting from malaria.

HOW TO FIT COLLARS TO HORSES.—MOST COLLARS are made too small, have a collar fit nicely and snugly to the shoulders of a horse. It enables him to work with a great deal more ease, and to supply a great deal more strength. If properly adjusted and adapted, the friction is lessened. Collars are so made, or should be so made, as to throw the weight of the load upon the lower part of the shoulder. The horse can apply but little strength in the upper part of the shoulder, reason breast-collars are coming greatly into vogue, as the strength is exerted on the lower part of the shoulder. If you started out to tell our reader how to make a new collar fit the shoulder of a horse. The collar should be made larger of the proper size. Just before putting it on the first time, immerse it in water, letting it remain about a minute, and immediately put it on the horse, being careful to have the hames adjusted so as the top and bottom as to fit the shoulder, and then put the horse to work. The collar by being wet, will adapt itself to the shoulder, and should dry on the horse.

When taken off it should be left in the same shape it occupied on the horse; and if straightened out, it will soon become a collar and no wonder.—Valley Farmer.

HOW TO MANAGE FRACTIOUS HORSES.—We find the following in the Live Stock Journal: "Many a good-natured high-spirited horse would never allow a shoe to be put on his feet, if they were prepared for sowing.

MANCHESTER, JULY 16, 1874

The past week has been of interest to the producer and consumer. The reaper is at rest in the beautiful crop of wheat, can be heard in many directions from our office, and during the day, our streets are nearly deserted. One more week and the wheat and oats will be secured, and some of it on the market.

THE CHICAGO FIRE.

A fire broke out at 4 P. M., in a small frame building used for storing rags, on Fourth Avenue. The fire burned a small portion of Clark street, near Twelfth, thence it took Third and Fourth avenues between Polk court and Twelfth streets and burned them as far as Harrison st; State street was burned from Harmon court to VanBuren; Wabash avenue from the corner of Peck court to corner of VanBuren; Michigan avenue from Harrison street. Twenty business blocks three churches, two hotels, a Number of fine residences and lots of wood buildings were consumed. About sixty acres were burnt over, and the loss is estimated between four and five million, and the citizens of the unfortunate city are thankful the flames were stayed at the south margain of their business center. The gravest alarm was entirely natural, as the citizens had not forgot the horror of 1871. Several casualties occured whereby two firemen were killed and a policeman was severely injured.

The TRIBUNE says "Every cool-headed observer of the fire must have felt that we have paid a light penalty for allowing our magnificent business center to be surrounded with wooden rookeries. We have come off cheap. We have offered up sixty acres of our combustibles as a sacrifice to the genius of free institutions, meaning thereby the freedom of every man to keep a tinder box and an oil factory where it suits him best. We hope this is the last of such mad folly."

LETTER FROM NEBRASKA.

COAL-NIOBRARA, June 29th, 1874.

EDITOR ENTERPRISE.—Thinking a few lines from Coral City, Dawson Co., Nebraska, on the Union Pacific Railroad will interest your readers I send a few items. We are 250 miles west of Omaha. When we settled here three months ago, there was scarcely a board here, and since then there has been sold over a million feet of lumber, all of which has been converted into houses and stores. We now have a large hotel six stores and thirty dwellings in town. Our country is settling very fast. All the Government and Railroad lands are taken within five miles of the town, by settlers from Ohio and Indiana. One old methodist minister from Grand Traverse, and myself, represent Michigan. We have a number of trains each day and notice car loads of Jackson wagons and other Michigan manufactured articles, trotting horses and fine wool sheep, going to California. As I write, we have the great emigrant train, which carries about 500 every day, all going west. It was on this train that I saw Robert Campbell, Mr. Scott, and families going to the mountains. Also Mr. and Mrs. Link, formerly of Manchester, going to California. I saw a young man you all know, who would rather not have been seen, but I suppose you have missed some one before this time and know who it is. The mail train at 11 we wait for nearly every night. Then we have hundreds going west with teams. Thousands come from Missouri and Kansas going to Oregon and Washington Territory. A great many from Illinois and Iowa pass through here on their way to Colorado. Then we see others with a herd of several thousand Texas cattle, and others with a drove of Durhams, going west to raise fine cattle. In fact, this country is alive with people and business.

Nebraska is as healthy as any the world can boast of. No one is sick, and invalids seem to improve as soon as they arrive here. To the rich I would say, you can double your money every year with property or stock. To the poor I would say that every one, make or female, over twenty-one years of age can get 320 acres for nothing by living upon it. All you have to do is to plow and raise a crop on the sod. A team will plow as easy on an old farm in Michigan. I have spent a day of two among the farmers and find the wheat heavy, corn fine. Gardens full of every thing for the table and if the season is favorable we will raise all we want, except wheat, as but little was sown this spring.

Those who wish a home in the west should come to Nebraska and see the inducements offered for a beautiful home.

HAL.

NORVELL.

From Our Own Correspondent.

On the 9th inst, our usually quiet little town was disturbed by a pretty good sized row. A few weeks ago there came into this village a rather muscular but quiet and gentlemanly appearing scotchman, by the name of Duncan McKichan, who engaged to work by the month for Wm. B. Reynolds. One Snipe, better known to the Supervisor of Manchester as the bird he caught attempting to roost with his turkeys one night last fall, about the time they were ready for market, took umbrage at something said by Duncan on the 4th, and laid a plan with one Preston and George Sweezey to give him a good "licking." Snipe was to do the pounding, and in case the Scotchman was likely to prove more than a match he was then to be assisted by Preston, or Sweezey, or both if necessary. They found Duncan in Drew's saloon on Thursday night, and after some wordstirrishing Snipe hit Duncan on the head and got it in chancery. Duncan in some manner soon worked himself out of that, and by a well directed blow he doubled Snipe up like a jack-knife and made him howl lustily for the help promised him. Then Sweezey sailed in only to get punished much worse, for in two minutes his most intimate acquaintance could not recognize him except by his voice. While the Scotchman was paying his undivided attention to Sweezy, the brave Snipe managed to get out of the saloon and flew away to a more congenial clime believing

"He that fights and runs away
May live to fight another day."

leaving George to his fate. Preston, after receiving a gentle tap on the head from the Scotchman's paw, concluded that they had walked up a regular tiger, and considering "discretion the better part of valor" kept well out of the way by going immediately to see where Snipe had gone.

Mr. Reynolds does not approve of fighting, under hardly any circumstances, but in the morning he raised the Scotchman's wages ten dollars per month.

BROOKLYN.

From our regular Correspondent.

An assault and battery was committed the 10 inst., in front of the post office, by a man named Jack Otto, upon his brother-in-law, Harrington, for an alleged debt, and in less than fifteen minutes he was arrested, brought before Justice Jones and fined $5 and costs. After searching all his pockets and pulling the last penny, he made out to pay his fine and walk the streets once more a free man, but has concluded to try some more economical way of collecting.

Erastus Furgeson fell from a load of hay this morning, July 10, and dislocated his shoulder. Dr. Palmer, who officied, who resulted, and he is doing well.

This week chronicles the death of one of our oldest settlers, Daniel Howland, aged 80 years. Thus one by one, the old landmarks pass away.

COLORADO EXCURSIONS.

Go West Through St. Louis.

During the month of June, the Missouri Pacific and Kansas Pacific Transport Excursion tickets from St. Louis to Denver and Return, good 60 days from date of sale, at exceedingly low rates, thus affording every man an excellent opportunity to visit the Bonanza region of Colorado, among the beautiful Parks of the Rocky Mountains.

Village and Country.

Godey's Lady's Book for August has arrived.

Green fruit is apt to go hard with those who will eat it.

We had a splendid rain yesterday, (Wednesday,) afternoon.

Raspberries are in pretty good demand at 10 cents per quart.

Be sure and take out a policy in the Accident Insurance Co., of Hartford, Conn.

In another column will be found a letter from Henry Goodyear, Conad City, Nebraska.

Dr. and Mrs. Bessac and daughter, have gone to Lake Superior to spend the heated term.

Koch & Rehfuss have not dissolved partnership, but will continue to sell all kind of meat, as usual.

We understand that the young people's picnic will come off at Lenawee Junction, Thursday, July 23d.

Rev. P. O. Johnson of Ann Arbor, will occupy the pulpit at the M. E. church, in this village, next Sabbath.

THE AMERICAN SARDINE COMPANY'S Boneless Sardines are much better and more than half the cost of imported Sardines.

Arthur Case intends starting for the upper lakes in a short time. He will be gone several weeks. He goes for his health.

We have received an article from Ann Arbor, in regard to the County Jail, but as it is not signed we will not publish it.

Some four town boys are out to work harvest. They make pretty good hands, but cause pretty near "busing" several times.

Fifty pieces of the New Styles of Prints, with Side Bands, just received at Mack & Schmid's. They will be sold for Dots per yard."

The town pump has received a general overhauling, the well cleaned, and one new pump, pitchers and cups visit the village for the first time in the memory of man, as usual.

Large fires have occured at numerous points, both large and small, and it seems to be hard to keep a watchful eye on our own safety.

We understand that the Marshal is erected to gobble up all the cat-fish, snake, etc., that he finds running at large in streets, under the ordinance.

Rev. G. W. Lowe has engaged to preach at the M. E. Church in Dundee, on Sunday next. His many friends in this place will be pleased to hear him.

M. B. Wallace, Esq., of this village, visited our office on Tuesday and left a specimen of graphic bird-eye view of Mr. Morgan House, the old home of the late lamented townman, Thomas Morgan, Milton Junction, Wis.

Dr. H. M. Paterson, formerly of New Orleans, now of Adrian, Mich., will be at the Goodyear House, Friday July 17th, and remain two days, for the purpose of all chronic diseases. Examinations free of charge. The Dr. will remove cataract from the eye for a certain sum, with escape, or no charge.—Catarrh permanently cured.

FIRED.—John Waltz was brought before his Honor, Justice Goodyear, on Monday last on a charge of keeping his office open on Sunday. He was fined $5 and costs, $2, which he paid, saying that he would not be caught in that way again.

NEW FLOUR.—The first flour ground from wheat grown this season, was presented to us, yesterday afternoon, by J. D. Carey, Esq. The grain was raised on his farm adjoining the village, and we assure you that it makes excellent flour. "Cast thy bread upon the water."

FOOD SHOOT.—There will be a trap shoot, three miles south of Tecumseh, on Monday, July 20th, 1874, at 2 o'clock A. M. The committee have received a fine lot of wild birds from the north part of the State, and those who are this kind of sport can enjoy themselves on this occasion.

BONELESS SARDINES.—Many of our readers have tested the varieties of boneless cod fish, and pronounce them a great improvement. The American Sardine Co., of N. Y., have shipped us a supply of boneless sardines which are really an excellent fish, much superior in our estimation, to the imported sardines.

REGATTAS.—We have received a very kind invitation to attend the Intercollegiate regatta, on the course of the Saratoga Rowing Association, Saratoga Lake, July 15 and 16, in which many of the Eastern Colleges are interested, but we fear we can not.

The fifth annual Regatta of the N. W. R. A., will be held at Toledo, on Wednesday and Thursday, July 22 and 23. Those who enjoy such sport have an opportunity of seeing a good sight.

THE CORN EXCHANGE.—This new establishment, on the east side of the river, is becoming a favorite place for farmers and others to do their trading in goods in his line. Mr. Kimble endeavors to keep on hand a good supply, and sells very reasonable.

WOOL.—Nort. Case gives us the following figures as the number of pounds of wool bought at this market;

Previous to this Case	82,745
Arthur Case	4,790
Total	88,635

Frank Freeman has been in the market, but we cannot give the amount of his purchase.

STREET PREACHING.—There's not a fellow in the land who feels his oats more than Nels Ockrow, when he is "slightly elevated," and on Sunday he felt that he had an appointment to preach on the corner of Exchange Place and Clinton street. He afterwards found that he had an appointment to accompany the Marshal to the "cooler." Discharged without trial.

OUR CORRESPONDENTS.—Our readers will not fail to notice that we have added two new correspondents to our list, Clinton and Brooklyn. We have worked hard to secure good reliable persons to fill these important positions, and shall not cease until we have one in every township in Southern Washtenaw, Jackson and Northern Lenawee. We think that our readers appreciate our endeavors and that is our reward.

LIST OF LETTERS.—The following is the List of Letters remaining in the Post Office at Manchester, July 17, '74.

THE TRIUMPH.—One of the best guarantees that could be offered as to the popularity of the "New Yorker" or "Triumph" reaping and mowing machines, is the number sold. In this vicinity alone, there has been sold by their agent, Charles Weir, forty-two machines, and the State agent informs us that more could have been sold had they been furnished Mr. Weir is considered one of the best machine agents in the State.

RACES AT ADRIAN.—There will be Trotting and Running races on the Adrian Track on Saturday, July 25th, for three purses of $50 each. Everybody knows "Gib," proprietor of the Gibson House, especially those who enjoy races. He has rented the track, fitted it up nicely, and proposes to make it warm for lively steppers during the summer and coming autumn. At his hotel guests can enjoy the delicacies of the season dished up to programme, and a cheerful air pervades the whole house. Mr. G., and his wife, have made a host of friends and their unassuming hotel is very popular with those who have occasion to visit Adrian. July 25th, will be a lively day, and we hope all will go. Admission 25 cents. Ladies free.

RAIL ROAD IMPROVEMENTS.—After waiting patiently for a long time, this station is coming in for its share of improvements, although they will not be of a character likely to be appreciated by the traveling public, but more to the convenience of shippers. A construction train is already at work removing earth from the south side of the main track at the station grounds of the L. S. & M. S. R'y, where will be laid a new track for a side track, long enough to accommodate a car load. The side track now in use, will be extended east to intersect with the new one, thus furnishing ample room for the movement of large freight trains. They will erect a new water tank and will be able to supply water for the stock yards, etc.

John H. Miller has gone to Lake Superior, for his health.

PERSONAL

Mrs. W. H. Pottle left this village on Tuesday morning, for a visit among the vine-clad hills of Central New York. She will visit the beautiful scenery of Seneca Lake, Walkin's Glen, etc., and enjoy the company of loving friends who are living in that wealthy and picturesque country. She will be absent some four or six weeks. Our esteemable young friend Charles Lewis, who is in the employ of Mr. Pottle, will accompany Mrs. Pottle to her former home, when he will return and visit his parents at Ekhart, Ind. Charley is a very pleasant and accomodating clerk and is able to count his friends by the score. We join his friends in wishing him a pleasant visit and safe return.

Fred Muller, the State agent of the "Triumph" called upon us a few days since. He is every inch a gentleman, and being endowed with a happy disposition, he makes hosts of friends wherever he goes. He is doing the machine business too, and says that Charlie Weir can "beat the natives" in selling reapers and mowers. In another place we give the number of these machines sold in this vicinity.

Albert Munger, of Detroit, was in town a few days ago. A few years since he was employed in the dry goods store of I. L. Clarkson in this village, but by strict attention to business, and gentlemanly deportment, he has secured a position in one of the largest wholesale houses in the west, with larger wages and an opportunity for promotion.

L. Scott, son of our worthy townsman, Dr. B. F. Root, is in town spending a short vacation. He it will be remembered, is employed in the dry goods establishment of B. F. Simons, Lansing.

Nate Schmid has gone to Ann Arbor on a short visit. He intends to take a trip to Whitmore Lake before returning, and try the fishing. Later—Nate has returned; he got homesick?

Marsh Simons, once a telegraph operator at this place, but now located at Lenawee Junction, spent the Sabbath in town. He is as lively and full of fun as ever.

FARM AND HOUSEHOLD.

DAILY FEED OF A HORSE.—The Maine Farmer says: "A young farmer gives his experience in feeding a horse that is doing no other work than the general driving. In the morning his first feed is a quart of oats, after which he has six pounds of cut hay and is watered; at noon he is fed a quarter and six eight pounds of cut hay and is watered, at night he is watered, given one quart of oats, and five pounds of cut hay. This makes a daily allowance of twenty pounds of hay and two quarts of oats, which, at ninty hay and 56 lbs. of oats, will cost 24½cts. He has salt in his crib and is given a dose of salt and sulphur once a week, also he has quart of finely cut carrots. If the horse works, the quantity of the oats is doubled. Our correspondent says, show us your better or cheaper method of feeding.

How to Build a House.—A writer in the Country Gentleman remarks: "We will suppose a frame inclosed with clapboards or siding ready for the mason. Have strips of an inch or an inch and a quarter wide, sawed from saw-manmill boards, and nailed in the corners, up and down, of the studding, upon which nail a course of lathing. Let your mason see why also they call a scratch coat of strong coarse hair mortar from the ceiling to the floor, without a stile. Now this is done, let him commence the lathing upon the face of the studs in the usual way for the side walls. It will be perceived that this plan is upon the principle of the cocoanut, with its many chambers, eating off all air currents, constituting your room cooler in the summer and warmer in the winter. It is cheaper than filling with brick and very much better."

MAPLE YOUNG FARM.—The Farmers' Union suggests that every farmer should have a complete map of his farm, with each field, pasture and woodlot marked, with all the fences, roads and ditches, plainly shown and each field numbered or named, so they can be readily designated. Few farmers can appreciate the real value of one until they have tried the experiment, for with a map of the farm before you, you can direct your workmen to any part of it without the possibility of their making a mistake. You can fill in improvements and estimate their cost at your leisure, instead of spending half a day of your valuable time in searching for the man, or person with a little ingenuity and patience, can draw a map of his farm. It should be drawn to feet upon a large (if desired) and drawn upon thick card-board, to prevent its being torn or defaced. Let our farmers try the experiment, and they will soon learn its value.

MANAGING SMALL FRUITS.—If the currants are more than a year old, cut the tops off close to the roots. With grapes, if the top is of the previous year's growth, and has buds near the roots, cut one or two. If the top is of two years' growth, cut it all away. The top of raspberries should be left untouched, when the roots get their machinery at work they will send up canes that will fruit well the next year. But if the tops is left on, it will require all the energy of the root to support it, and if the plant does not bear the fruit, it will be feeble and sickly next summer, and cannot plump our after giving the planters conditions—the variety and throws them away indifferent. Last spring I filled an order from Rhode Island for raspberries, and before sending them, I cut the tops back to two feet, and none died, saying they returned for the tops.

Useful Information.

To clean paint, rub well with whiting moistened with water, and then with a little kerosene, and wash with clean water.

CAYENNE pepper will kill the worms on cabbage plants, and Hellebore, powdered and sifted on the plants, will destroy the cabbage worms.

To make a good cement for broken china or a very thick solution of gum arabic, dissolved in water, stirred in with plaster of Paris, until the cement is of the consistency of a paste. Apply with a brush to the broken edges, stick them together, and in three days it will be as strong as ever, broken in the same place.

FROM six to ten drops of the concentrated solution of Iodine of Iodide of Potassium, added to a tumbler of pure spring water, taken immediately after the abolutions of the morning are completed, will be found to be producing a rapid growth of thrifty, healthy, hair, thick beard, and a great number of lightly-tinted roses. Never despair of a decayed nose till this has been tried. Cuttings of acacia, plants can be readily started in water, and in the early spring of two years have a green house or hot-bed in the window sill. Fill small bottles or vials with warmed water, cleanse the bottle, and place the cuttings (the sure you have a bud at the base) and put them in the water; hang up the vial to the window sill, and bring about the month for this purpose. Cotton wool is put around the mouth of the vial, to hold the cuttings in position of the stalk and make the plants spring more vigorous. Blanket pots are used in this manner; make holes, cut verbiage, now, fashion, and the bottom of the pot, put in a little moss, then fill with earth, and place the cuttings in the pots, put it in a warm place, and water, and in a short time, when the roots get their machinery at work they will send up canes that will fruit well the next year. But if the tops is left on, it will require all the energy of the root to support it, and if the plant does not bear the fruit, it will be feeble and sickly next summer, and cannot plump our after giving the planters conditions—the variety and throws them away indifferent. Last spring I filled an order from Rhode Island for raspberries, and before sending them, I cut the tops back to two feet, and none died, saying they returned for the tops.

PUMPKIN PIE.—Pare the pumpkin, then grate it, and add sugar and ginger to taste, and milk enough to make it of the proper consistency, then line your tins with pie crust, put in your pumpkin, and bake in the ordinary way.

BLANC MANGE.—Put one ounce of Cooper's isinglass in a little water over the fire until it is dissolved, then sweeten one quart of cream or milk; flavor with vanilla; strain the isinglass on the milk, fill the cup dishes, and set away to cool.

CHEAP LEMON PIE.—One lemon, one teacupful of sugar, one tablespoonful of corn starch rubbed smooth in a little water; pour on this one teacupful of boiling water, stirring it the while; then add yolks, one egg, and butter the size of a walnut.

STRENGTHENING JELLY.—Boil in two ounces of water, one ounce of isinglass, one ounce of hartshorn, and one ounce of pearl barley, until reduced one-half. Strain and sweeten with white sugar, flavor with lemon and nutmeg. It can be sweetened and flavored to taste.

A NEW WAY TO BAKE APPLES.—Take your apples, dig out the cores, place the apples in a deep dish or tin, fill the cavities where the cores came out with sugar, pour a cup of hot water in the tin, bake in a quick oven, and you will have a delightful and palatable dish.

CURING BEEF AND HAM.—For every one hundred pounds of beef, seven pounds of salt; two ounces of saltpetre, and one and a half pounds of brown sugar; four pounds of salt to the hundred weight of pork. Rub the meat well with the mixture, and let it stand for four weeks. To keep the meat after warm weather, it should be taken out after four weeks. To keep the meat after warm weather, it should be taken out after four weeks. To keep the meat after warm weather, it should be taken out after four weeks.

CANNED FRUIT.—Nearly, if not quite all, canned fruit is better if scalded and sweetened, when opened, than if it is cooked in before using, and in doing this the more delicate fruits should be scalded a little longer than the hard, should remain open long, for they will spoil as quick as fresh fruit under the same circumstances.

COTTAGE CHEESE.—Warm two gallons of sour milk until the curd begins to separate from the whey; put it in a coarse bag and hang in the sun four hours; then press out the whey, and add a pint of sweet cream, one tablespoon full of salt and one-half teacupful of butter; mix thoroughly and mold into small cakes. Wash well, surround with thick, sweet cream.

PRESERVE PIE.—Never stew your preserves before making your pies, but put the stems of rhubarb and slice them in half inch lengths, holding several stems in the hand at one time. With these fill the pie, sweeten it generously, about the same as a lemon pie, a small teacupful of sugar for a medium size pie, season with a great spoonful of water, dot over with little dirt pieces of butter, the size of a little, cover it with the upper crust, and take it slowly and thoroughly.

The BEECHER-TILTON SCANDAL

What the Press Has to Say About It.

From the Daily Graphic.

Mr. Beecher has plainly determined to maintain complete silence as to the charges brought against him. The reason is obvious, the country, however, has something to say about the matter, and it is now apparently considered merely to charge against Mr. Beecher's private character. It is a matter in which his own congregation were alone interested, and they had a clear right to decide as to such a matter as seemed best to them. When, however, the members of Plymouth Church undertook to save their pastor's reputation by making a sacrament of another man, the latter is fully justified in appealing to the public and the public has been entitled to demand that the affair be fairly and fully investigated.

From the Albany Journal.

It at least because the public not to form a hasty judgment. Mr. Beecher still declares his purpose to maintain silence. In that the general opinion will not agree with him.

From the Troy Times.

The subject is an unpleasant one at best, but it is now presented in such a light that it must be considered, even by Mr. Beecher and his friends. Silence on the part of the distinguished defendant will be exceedingly to his reputation.

From the Albany Evening Journal.

His written confession of the sin of which he has been accused, and his humble and contrite spirit of the sinner, and his prayers are as touching in their sense of self-abasement as they are damaging to his priestly character and future usefulness.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Sentinel has long been the champion of his innocence, but it would seem that the most damning proof of his guilt, and his guilt and subsequent hypocrisy, if such language could be conceived, that the confession of his sin in a letter which he has written to the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher declares (in regard to the accusations against him) that he "confesses that he will not break the silence he has hitherto maintained." There has been much said, in this, it not, so shall this be unprecedented in the history of the world, which knows it, that it could be in the whole truth, such a confession, and yet, the world, and the time become when Mr. Tilton's friends will still say, "Tilton, Tilton, Tilton." Plymouth Church has called the pastor to the carriage and has the world found his low, low, low
