Keeping In Touch

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Huber have received a letter from Pfc. and Mrs. Forest E. Walz stationed in Alaska. The couple told about the Fur Rendezvous which is held annually in Anchorage, Alaska. Following are excerpts from that letter:

"... we took in some of the Fur Rendezvous. They run 10 days 25 miles and they have 6 check points. We were at check point five.

"We saw about 7 teams cross. They sure look beautiful running in that snow and we took several pictures. They hold these races for three days, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

"One man won two days straight. He made the 25 mile run in two hours and four minutes the first day and 2 hours and 9 minutes the second day. Yesterday he lost by 1 minute and 25 seconds. They have six or seven dogs in a team. Usually seven.

"The parade was on Saturday, but didn't see much of it. They had a "Merry-go-round" downtown in front of the town hall. Imagine a merry-go-round at that time of year and in such weather. But it was packed with kids and grown-ups every time I saw it.

"There was a Consumers Carnival at the Roller Rink. They had home trailers etc. inside to look at. They had a fur auction, too. The weather was real nice over the weekend, especially on Friday when it was nearly 40 degrees. It's a little cooler this morning. It was only 5 above. We have had only half the snow they had last year

P. S. "There are 22 teams of dogs in all."

Richard J. Fahey, FN, arrived Friday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Fahey from Boston where he has been stationed at the Charleston Naval Yards. His parents saw him off Sunday night from Willow Run airport to report for duty on the U.S.S. Roy O. Hale. The ship was scheduled to leave on a cruise Monday.

Construction of the $1,500,000 building will begin in September, 1957. The structure will accommodate nursing enrollments expected to reach 1,000 within the next decade. Grants of $270,000 from the Greater Detroit Hospital Fund and matched by the University will expedite cost of this new building. The building will be located adjacent to the University's Community Arts Group.

Ann Arbor JC's Plan Annual Show

The Ann Arbor Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its 14th Annual Builders, Merchants and Automotive Show May 15 to 19, inclusive. This event, the largest Jaycee sponsored show of this type in the nation, will be held at Yost Field House rather than at the Fairgrounds, as in previous years.

The general chairman, George F. Lemble, states that, "We are pleased and happy to have this most excellent facility made available to us by the Board in Control of Intercollegiate Athletics of the University—and want especially to thank Mr. H. O. Crisler for his splendid cooperation and assistance.

"This means that our problem of a new 'house' for our show is solved. Not only is this true but we will also be able to make our show more attractive in every respect. We will be able to have more exhibitors than ever before at least 150, in surroundings where there need be no concern about weather. There will be no mud problem—and ample parking space is available. It is with a feeling of nostalgia—but not regret—that we leave the Fairgrounds for the Fieldhouse.

"We expect to attract a much larger automotive display than previously, and may even have a large swimming pool built on the grounds. We will of course, have the usual display of builders and merchants products and services of every type on the market."

M. G. Wade Shows, Inc. will have 10 amusement rides on the grounds, at the north end of the Fieldhouse. They will include two ferris-wheels, and several "kiddie" rides, two of which are recent designs by Walt Disney.

To date approximately 70 booths have been committed, and the balance will probably be sold by mid-March.

In past years, attendance at the show has ranged from 20,000 to 30,000. With the improved facility we anticipate a material increase this year.

'Sugar-Up' Hogs Says County Agent

It is possible to cut weight loss of market bound hogs by feeding them brown sugar in their drinking water, reports Harold Ferris, Assistant Monroe county agricultural agent.

He points out that three pounds of brown sugar mixed with five gallons of water will do the trick.

This sugared water should be given to the hogs 48 hours before they are to be loaded for shipment.

In tests, hogs fed sugar have made 250-mile trips with a lower shrinkage loss per head than hogs getting no sugar.

According to reports, hogs fed sugar will suffer a 2½ per cent shrinkage, while hogs getting no sugar shrink 4½ per cent.

Further, there was evidence of less shrinkage in frame-during during process when these hogs came from hogs fed sugar prior to shipment, he said.

Manchester High Captures District Basketball Title

By BILL BROWN

Questions were in the air following the District No. 18 Class C tournaments in the Stockbridge High School gymnasium Saturday night after an overflow crowd watched the Manchester High Dutchmen take out a 51 to 39 victory over Grass Lake in the toughest competition the Dutch have faced this season.

The Dutchmen played a very good ball game, but good strategy on the part of the Warriors held the high-scoring quintet to a minimum. It looks like your free-shooting by the losing team caused its downfall.

The Grass Lake team, which exhibited excellent character in defeat, hit 50 per cent of their floor shots to the Manchester team's 32 per centage. Manchester, on the other hand, sank 69 per cent of their free throws to Grass Lake's 34 per cent. The overall percentages were 41 per cent for the Dutchmen and 42 per cent for the Warriors.

Ernie Beal led the scorers as he rolled up 16 of Grass Lake's counters. Bill Bunney was high for Manchester with 13, and Tom Adams had 11.

In the opening contest, Stockbridge bowed out 63 to 41. Adams' 19 points and Bunney's 18 greatly aided the Dutch cause, while Stockbridge's Bernie Risner was high for the losers with 10.

The Dutchmen hit 42 per cent of their shots to Stockbridge's 26 per cent. In the free throw department Manchester sank 57 per cent to Stockbridge's 45 per cent. Overall it was 47 per cent to 33 per cent, favor of the Dutchmen.

Friday night, Coach Lee's hometown team, Leslie, found Manchester a little too tough for them, losing 69 to 40. Bill Bunney led the Manchester squad with 20 points, with sophomore Jim Cresch coming in 10 to be next high. Coppernoll of Leslie led the Leslie team with 11 points.

Scoring by quarters went as follows:

Manchester	18	17	6	22	63
Stockbridge	11	11	8	11	41
Manchester	14	16	12	27	69
Leslie	6	9	12	13	40
Manchester	9	12	12	18	51
Grass Lake	6	11	11	9	39

Dutchmen Win No. 19

Undefeated Manchester ran its season record to 19-0 Saturday night with its most important victory of the year, 51-39 win over Grass Lake that brought it the district Cross C crown.

The Dutchmen of Coach Max Lee now await the drawing for the regional Class C tournament at Eastern Michigan College.

Manchester held a precarious 33-31 lead into the fourth quarter Saturday night but the Dutch managed to outscore the Cascades conference Warriors, 18-8, to make it look a lot easier than it was.

Grass Lakes' chances went a glimmering at the free throw line where it missed 20 to 29 chances and also in the final minutes when Gerry Middlebrooks fouled out of action. Bill Bunney led Manchester with 13 points followed by Johnny England and Tom Adams with 11 each. Ernie Beal, paced Grass Lake 16 and Middlebrooks was next with 10.

A short business meeting will be conducted by PTA president, Nelson Short.

Working on the refreshment committee are Mrs. Earl Beckwith, Mrs. Luther Kluger, Mrs. Arthur Wacker and Mrs. Victor Grossman.

Bloodmobile to Visit Area Tomorrow

Families in the Manchester area, usually corresponding to the school area, will have the opportunity to replenish their Blood Bank Friday, March 15. The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Emanuel Church Hall this Friday from 1:30 to 7:30. To give blood contact Mrs. Alvin Clark, recruiting chairman, or come directly to the church hall during the above hours.

"The Manchester Community Blood Bank has been taking care of Manchester area residents' needs since 1953. "Up to January 1, 1957, it had given out 281 pints of blood and about 15 more have been required since then," reports Mr. William de St. Aubin, executive director of the Red Cross in Ann Arbor. "Red Cross blood is never sold—the hospital does have to charge for administering it, however. So the actual savings to people in the Manchester area has been about $5,000 to date."

"Need for blood is seldom anticipated and when that sudden need arises, the value of the Area Blood Bank is beyond compare," says Franklin M. Reck, local Red Cross Chairman. When blood is needed the family should contact Mr. Reck or Mrs. Robert Huber or call American Red Cross in Ann Arbor if neither can be located. A transportation fee is charged if the blood is needed at a smaller hospital where facilities do not allow for continuous blood storage. In that case the blood has to be rushed from the Detroit Red Cross center to the hospital by whatever means the request demands.

Due to the nation-wide nature of the blood bank program, residents of the Manchester area are able to draw on their bank in most sections of the country in case of accident or need. In any case, the "banking" must be done through the local committee by phone or telegram or personal visit.

Easter Seal Drive Opens On Monday

The 1957 Easter Seal drive will begin Monday, March 18 with the mailing of over 56,000 letters containing seals to homes in every section of the county. No goal is set for the drive according to officials of the Society.

In explaining the activities of the local organization, Mrs. Vladimir Bibleoff, president of the County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, said that the organization was devoted to meet the "unmet" needs of the Cripple persons of Washtenaw County. She explained that some of the aid for children was available from state funds, but that use of this money was restricted. No funds are available for aid to adults in many cases, she said. It is in these cases that the society provides the needed aid.

"The organization, which supported solely by the sale of Easter Seals received $12,756.55 last year. This money has been spent in a variety of ways," said Harold Baker, treasurer of the organization. Of this amount, $7,216.70 was retained in Washtenaw County.

The remainder of the collection was sent to national and state offices for the conduct of their pro-

Manchester's Seniors Will Present Comedy

By BILL BROWN

"A-Feudin' Over Yonder," a hill-billy situation comedy, will be presented at the Manchester Civic Auditorium March 28 and 29 at 8 p.m.

Seniors in the cast, under the direction of Barry Ellis, will not only present the play but will also provide entertainment along the country music line.

Try-outs for the play were held last January, with the following cast selected for the respective characters:

Alice Dennis Aunt Harry Hornbonker
Arlene Esch, Becky Mae Hornbonker.
Dave Boutell, Willy Hornbonker.
Jo Evilsizer, Maw Fry.
Elaine Fuller, Rosie Belle Fry.
Bill Wheeler, Clem Fry.
Barb Midkiff, Emmy Fry.
Pete Kenzler, Izzie Fry.
Dan Krone, Zeke Popoff.
Dave Fuller, Pappy Popoff.
Margaret Leeson, Montain Maggie.
Tom Lamson, Travelin' Preacher.

There are also several other musicians, wedding guests, and extras that will appear in the production.

The play itself is the story of two families of eastern Kentucky, the Popoffs and the Frys, that never were on very stable terms. One day, when a Popoff went out to "shoot an old skunk" and accidently shot Pappy Fry, the feud broke out in full tilt.

The play goes on to tell how the feud was finally "settled," if that's what you want to call it.

We don't want to forget our Manchester Dairymen who won the 'C' crown Saturday at Stockbridge. Wednesday night Manchester will play Mercer. Ypsilanti Roosevelt will play Perry and Grosse Ile will meet St. John's of Jackson. Dundee drew a bye on that game but Friday the winners will play. If Manchester is still in the winning come Saturday and they play the Shamrock Dance planned by the Junior class won't start till 10 p.m. giving those who are winners of the games a chance to get back from Eastern Michigan's Field House, Ypsilanti, in time for the dance. All games this week will be in Ypsilanti.

It doesn't seem possible that plans should begin for Michigan Week, May 19-25. Doesn't the time roll by? They've already paired the towns for exchange of mayors. And Manchester's representative of Richard Way will be going to Memphis, a town of 800, a short distance north of Detroit.

And we have a real "Believe it or not" fact when a boy in Manchester do you find four couples living in the same block who celebrate their wedding dates the same day. March 11. They are the Clayton Gieske's, their daughter and husband, the Ed Wunsers, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Knauss and their daughter and husband, the Robert Armstrongs.

According to Harriet Mackintosh spring must be just around the corner—their geese have started to lay—and this she believes is an almost certain sign of spring.

Another sign of spring is when the Manchester Fair Board swings into action and elects officers. At a meeting of the directors Monday at the Walsh restaurant William Kulenkamp was re-elected president of the board, Herb Jacob was elected treasurer, and Willis Uphaus was named secretary, a post formerly held by Jacob. Jesse Walker is vice-president. The directors have decided to have Wendell Rinehart purchase wood for more gates and fence posts, so that sometime we'll have equipment enough and won't have to borrow. We'll be telling you more about the fair plans from time to time.

With all these indications of spring, Oldtimer, you still maintain we'll have more snow?

Girl Scouts to Observe 45th Birthday

Area Girl Scouts and Brownies will celebrate their 45th birthday celebration with parties and programs emphasizing the international aspect of the organization since its founding. The theme of this year's observance is "Growing in the Family Affairs."

At the present time there are more than 1600 members in the Girl Scout Council of Washtenaw County, whose activities are directed and supervised by Scouting officials and many volunteer workers, mothers and college students conducting in many phases of youth work.

One highlight of the week's observance will be the collection of pennies from each member of the organization, one penny for each year of age of the members, with all such money being contributed to the fund for further developing of international Scouting.

Verne Browne is the executive director of the Girl Scout Council for the county and she has urged that all junior and senior high school Girl Scouts from the area, or area troops, hold "pantry showers" for Hungarian refugees who have been resettled in this county. Food and clothing raised in these showers will be distributed in cooperation with the Ann Arbor-Washtenaw Council of Churches.

Driving on lake ice is always hazardous, but spring conditions are notorious for trapping ice fishermen. It looks safe and "fish-on-the-line-driving-home" on it all winter long, so why not? MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE lines

MANY HOUSEWIVES are taking the "run" out of running their homes. Know how? By putting telephones wherever they need them—in the kitchen, in the bedroom, the living room, and down in the basement. Well-placed phones save countless steps and lots of time for the home "managers." And, of course, additional telephones bring better service to everyone in the family. The cost? Just a few pennies a day, plus the one-time installation charge. Order your additional phones from our Business Office today.

HOW CAN shut-in boys and girls keep up with their school work? In recent years Michigan Bell's School-to-Home telephone installations have proven to be one successful method. Telephone equipment, using special two-way speaker units, lets the child who must stay home, or even in bed, hear everything that goes on in his regular classroom. He can recite and ask questions just as though he were actually in school. This daily contact with classmates gives the shut-in child a sense of belonging; he is a real part of the class. We'd be glad to tell you more about School-to-Home telephones. Just call our Business Office.

SCIENCE CAN GIVE us great entertainment, as the Bell System's television Science programs show. These programs aim to bring you an understanding of scientific work and its importance to modern life. And, of real importance to our country's future, they are helping to interest young people in scientific careers. The second show in this new series, televised nationally, is the fascinating story of blood. It's called "Homo the Magnificent" and will be on the CBS-TV network at 9 P.M., March 20.

U. S. Meat Packers Face Higher Costs

Assistant agriculture secretary Earl L. Butz predicted today that U. S. meat packers are likely to be faced with higher costs in the future.

Butz said in a prepared address before the western states meat packers association in San Francisco: "Meat packers are likely to find themselves on the familiar treadmill of higher costs that will take fast stepping to find new and better methods of processing and distribution."

Prompt Legislation Needed for Planning 1957 Corn Program

The American Farm Bureau Federation sees eye-to-eye with Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson on the need for prompt legislation on this year's corn program.

The farm organization's legislative council, Frank K. Woolley, told a senate agriculture subcommittee yesterday that the Farm Bureau now favors a "temporary" measure which gives farmers an opportunity to decide which of two corn programs they want.

Farmers who want to stay within the 375 million acre allotment with price supports of $1.36 a bushel (the national average), without taking part in the soil bank, would be free to do so.

On the other hand, said Woolley, those who would like to make a contribution to the holding down of production by putting acreage into the soil bank would be free to choose price supports at $1.81 a bushel, plant their share of the 51 million acre corn base and put an acreage equal to 15 per cent of such base in the soil bank.

Benson, at his Feb. 21 Washington news conference, said he also goes along with this plan. In the absence of a "more realistic" one.

Woolley said the bill introduced by Senator Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Ia.) has the "highly desirable feature of not requiring a lot of extensive administrative work in that farmers were given their allotment under both alternatives for making a decision in the December referendum."

He added: "It does not offer the farmers anything more in 1957 than they were offered in the referendum in December 1956."

The Farm Bureau spokesman said that "if action is not taken to effectively assist farmers to bring corn supplies into line with demand, livestock and livestock producer prices probably will go lower."

Dairy Ration Self-Fed Not In Valance

A balanced dairy ration is now as important as ever when self-feeding silage, claims C. F. Huffman, dairy researcher at Michigan State University.

The solution, he says, is a modification of the self-feeding program that has proved so popular in self-feeding.

The problem is that dairymen have no control over the cows' silage or hay intake when self-feeding. This is an important consideration especially with high producers, he says.

Unless you know what the cow is eating, and how much, it is next to impossible for you to balance the ration with protein supplement and home grown grain.

When silage is fed, it is also important for dairymen to keep their animals away from silage for two hours before milking time. If he doesn't, milk off-flavors can develop.

Washtenaw's New Farm Center May Locate In Saline

The farm of Mayor Henry Leutheuser may become the new home of the Washtenaw County Farm Center, it was announced at a meeting of Farm Center Council directors Monday. The farm is located on the Saline-Ann Arbor Road just north of Saline.

According to Frank E. McCalla, Farm Council president, the Council is seeking a tract of land embracing approximately 20 acres. Plans for the purchase of Mayor Leutheuser's property have not been completed, it was stated. It was reported, however, that negotiations are currently being discussed between Saline's mayor and Farm Council directors.

The news of the Farm Council's plan Monday night comes as a surprise to many of the organization's members, since previous discussions had included numerous other sites which had recently been narrowed to four. The Leutheuser's property was not one of the sites previously considered.

It was stated Monday that directors of the Washtenaw County Farm Council will meet early next week to make final plans for the new location of the Farm Center.

57's Spring Will Arrive Wednesday

The long willed first day of Spring will arrive during March.

Albert M. Lowe, University of Michigan associate professor of astronomy, schedules Spring's official appearance at 4:17 p.m. Wednesday, March 20. This is nearly six hours later than the date of last year's Spring.

The announcement in this series announces the Sun's crossing of the equator on its way north and is arrived from formal equinox for the "Sign of Aries," the astronomer explains. Since the hour varies either the Earth has completed long hours across the Sun, taking bonus days, nearly a quarter of a day longer than our year by the calendar.

One of the chief groups of the spring sky is Bootes, the giant "Bear Driver." This constellation is easily recognized from its kite-like outline and by the bright star, Arcturus, in the tail of the kite. Professor Lowe points out. Towards these Spring evenings this star shines brilliantly above the northeastern horizon, he adds. First it starts to break through the twilight.

For identification, the professor suggests a prolonged line through the three stars of the Big Dipper, which curves down thirty degrees to this star, orange in color and ranking fourth in brightness of the stars visible from this latitude.

Describing the constellation Bootes, the astronomer says it represents the figure of a mighty man in a running posture. In one hand he holds a staff or spear, and in the other, which is uplifted, he holds the leash of his hunting dogs. With his daughter and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Walker and Beverly at Oak Park, are plans to be there for Beverly's birthday, March 15.

Mrs. Gerald Bauer is spending this week with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Walker and Beverly at Oak Park. Mrs. Walker and Beverly are home from Ann Arbor where they were born March 15, 1956.

TUESDAY NIGHT BOWLING

We had, one big match last week, and this was between Walt Schalbles, and Browns Radio & TV Service. Brown's did a good job in bowling, but it was Walts who showed them how, and Walts did this by getting three points and reasons second best series, a 2536. It seems whenever there is good bowling being done, it's done by Walts team. W. Warner and H. Kappler each had 593, for Walts, and also high for the evening. For Browns it was F. Olsen with a 521. K. & W. Farm Supply kept the league lead by winning three points from Mary's Tavern. How K and W did it is a mystery. C. Scheber had high for the farm boys with 491, and M. Kern's 545 was the best for Marys. In this match, we're sure two bowlers would like to throw their bowling balls in the river. Just remember Paul and Bob things can change next week.

Carl M. Schalbles showed Manns Mill that they are very much in the running and Carl's came away with four points, and a tie for third place. D. Roller's 544 was high for Carl's and E. Pniewski's 231 the best for Manns. Shorts Electric Service kept pace with K and W and the rest, with a three point win over The Little Shop. H. Bernider had 552 the best for Shorts, and D. Heckaman's 527 was high for The Little Shop.

R. McKeever's big 536 helped Double A Products win three points from Mike's Shoe Shop. M. Wolfe's 537 high for Mikes. Spikes Mobile Service kept Widmayers Milk Haulers in the cellar with a three point win. O. Walcutt had high for Spikes with 502, while J. Weir's 474 the best for Widmayers. Walt Schalbles 2750 is still seasons best as is a 1012 single game by Shorts, and a 619 by L. Kappler and W. Warner high Ind. Series. And seasons high game is held by R. Ahrens a 258.

In about four weeks six teams will be leaving town to go to the state Tournament in Saginaw.

Signatures Are Required On Return

Many otherwise accurate Federal income tax returns are received by the Michigan district office of the Internal Revenue Service without signatures of the person or persons filing, James F. Deane assistant district director, this week reminded Michigan taxpayers.

"While we naturally assume that failure to sign is due to an oversight, we must correct such returns and are compelled to send them back. Since our mail is heavy during the filing season — now nearing its final weeks — the income tax return may not go back to the taxpayer until days or weeks after he or she sent it in.

"In cases of taxpayer seeking a refund, an unfortunate delay may result. Giving the filing season — now nearing its final weeks — the income tax return may not go back to the taxpayer until days or weeks after he or she sent it in.

"In cases of taxpayer seeking a refund, an unfortunate delay may result. Giving the filing season — now nearing its final weeks — the income tax return may not go back to the taxpayer until days or weeks after he or she sent it in.

"Millions of returns are received annually with your minus one or both of the required signatures — thousands of them right here in Michigan. I think it's pretty obvious that special care by the taxpayer in this important requirement will help us to help him.

Letter To The Editor

Received your notice that our subscription to the Enterprise had expired so I am hastening to reply and am enclosing my check for the renewal. We enjoy getting the home paper very much, helps us to keep in touch with the old town and our friends.

I am enclosing a 1957 booklet published by the Grand Lake Association, Inc., of Grove, Oklahoma. This will give you a little idea of our country around here and the facilities for enjoying a year around vacation. No closed fishing in Oklahoma—fish all year round.

Minnie and I are enjoying our new home. We built a ranch type place on the ranch over a year ago and are living south of Grove, on US-59. Have a few cattle and sheep, something to keep me out of mischief. We came here to retire but have to have something to do. When I am resting, I am working with a real estate firm in Afton, Oklahoma. Passed my Oklahoma Brokers examination last year. So am a realtor now.

Note that you have had your usual winter in Michigan this year. We have had quite a mild winter so far, no snow so far. Probably we won't have any now as spring is about here. Farmers are sowing oats, and people are planting their gardens. Give our best regards to the people of Manchester, and with kindest regard, to you and the publishers of the Enterprise, I remain.

Yours very truly,
Bob

ost brilliant offensive and defast majority of the thousands pslaunts Friday night, a cool ight squeak at the feet of the the "dark horse" of the Ypsi looked like overtime would be needed to decide a victor when Big John England faked a shot— not once but twice. That was sufficient to completely fool Tom Mackenzie, who made the fatal error by fouling the 6' 4½" Manchester center.

Lee again called time-out, this time not to rattle Ypsi but to relax Big John. John left the huddle with a big smile on his face, and sank both shots with only eight seconds left in the game.

Bill Bailey, Roosevelt ace, then proceeded to toss the ball to big John, who flipped it to Connie Gonyer. Gonyer dribbled around with it until the clock ran out.

Bailey and Mackenzie, who usually score in the double figures, picked only 14 points between them in the course of the game, thanks to a wonderful defensive game by Gunney, Gonyer, Lannom, Van Etten, Adams, and John "Dead-Head" England. "Dead-Head" was aptly carried off the floor by his team-mates and the undertaker following the game.

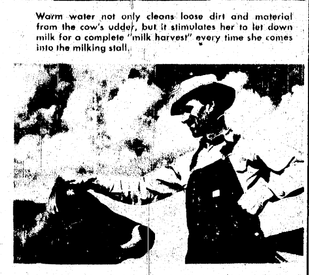
This is a picture of a healthy udder. It is clean, pliable, and fully extended with milk. It is just as important to watch the health of your herd's udders as it is to watch the health of the animals themselves.

Dairymen generally agree that it is wise to grow their own replacement heifers. In fact, bankers and other agricultural financiers say that a major cause of farm failures is that operators fail to provide replacement livestock. Be sure to breed replacement heifers that produce higher and more efficiently.

Warm water not only cleans loose dirt and material from the cow's udder, but it stimulates her to let down milk for a complete "milk harvest" every time she comes into the milking stall.



Dairy cows love kindness and affection, and pay for it by increased milk production. Every dairyman knows that shouting and banging cause fear or a mental disturbance which reduces the milk output. Of course, the feeling of congeniality goes deeper than this. One farmer said that if you want to be a good dairyman, be sure and have the right wife.

Build YIELD-POWER equal to inches more of good topsoil

Three bags of Blenn per acre are equal to the available nutrients in about one inch of good topsoil over the same area. So make your land as productive as you want it. Good corn land is rich in available nutrients and the same nutrients are found in Blenn. Aim for higher corn yields . . . it's better than more acres.

Blenn is made especially for corn and other grains in this area—for local soils and conditions. It supplements the natural nutrients in your soil, so that your crop has every element needed for highest production.

And Blenn is made by Swift's exclusive Flo-Fusion process which packs each particle with fertility . . . assures balanced feeding of every plant.

Now build your income by building the Yield-Power of your soil . . . use Blenn this year.

Swift's new FLO-FUSION process packs each particle of plant food with supercharged Yield-Power

High-quality liquid plant foods are injected into dry materials in a revolving Flo-Fusion processing chamber at Swift's Plants. Millions of individual chemical reactions convert raw materials into chemically-hitched plant food, drying the particles as they are formed. Only Swift makes plant food by the Flo-Fusion process.

THE dollars and satisfaction you gain from dairying are influenced by a three-legged stool — the legs being breeding, feeding, and management. Like a milk stool, all three legs need to be firm and well-supported for best results.

Concerning breeding and feeding, we know that good feed and hard labor are often wasted because the dairy herd does not have the inheritance for high production. On the other hand, good inheritance may be dissipated on improper feed and inadequate attention.

Have as many cows as practical freshen in the fall of the year. Length of dry period should be about two months for highest total milk production. Have calves in box stalls with sanitary feeding equipment. Heifers need to be larger when bred; many heifers could freshen one to three months earlier if they had grown faster when young. Cows should be milked regularly by manual milking practices. Cows need dry, ventilated quarters. Plenty of fresh water at drinkable temperature will increase milk production up to 10 per cent. Milking equipment should be thoroughly and regularly cleaned.

It takes "the eye of the master" to watch the health of his herd, the adequacy of his equipment and buildings, and to provide the affection which all animals require. In investigations conducted by the United States Dairy Experiment Station at Beltsville, Md., cows produced from 30 to 70 per cent more milk when provided with the extras which come with good management. This is increasingly important as herds get larger. In 1936 the average herd enrolled in herd improvement associations was 23.3, in 1946 the herd size was 27, and in 1955 the herd size was 32.5.

Whatever form good management takes, it should start with proper records of breeding, feeding, and milk production. Probably the most important line for any dairyman spends is keeping records.

Your income depends on these facts:

Live, healthy pigs make your profits

Cholera-killed pigs are your losses

Every prime, healthy pig you raise for market represents income but every one you lose takes dollars right out of your pocket!

ROVAC* gives at least two years solid immunity against hog cholera. With this time-proven hog cholera vaccine, you vaccinate in less time, with less labor, at less cost. ROVAC cannot cause hog cholera. You can vaccinate separate litters when each is ready when this is more convenient.

With ROVAC you avoid possible contamination which might introduce other disease problems into your herd.

Consider these important ROVAC advantages:

- Single injection in healthy pigs gives at least a 2-year immunity.
- ROVAC cannot cause hog cholera.
- ROVAC can be used with serum if immediate immunity is required against hog cholera.
- ROVAC saves time, money and labor.

HOG CHOLERA VACCINE

"Protect your pigs... and you protect your profits"

"Yes sir, we're mighty glad to get out in the fresh air and sunshine and get some good green grass." These little fellows need vitamin A from green feed and vitamin D from the sun. Also, their diet may be deficient in a number of minerals after being shut up during cold weather — especially those that prevent anemia. Get pigs out on rye or bluegrass pasture early in the spring.

Pigs and Pasture

go together to make you money

THIS season is one that should bring delight to a hog farmer's heart and money to his pocketbook. Hog prices are going to be good and corn not too high-priced. Plan to make the most of what looks like the best profit year for some time.

Spring brings the chance to get new pigs out on early pasture where they can overcome any deficiencies in their diet caused by the last cold weeks of winter. Also, you can move them out and away from old diseased hog lots and buildings.

Some large commercial hog producers are going to a new system of raising and feeding out hogs in dry lot. However, most typical Corn Belt farmers will still be ahead by making full use of pasture. The dry lot approach requires good buildings, plenty of concrete feeding floors, a strict sanitation program and quite a bit of labor and equipment.

By feeding hogs on pasture you also get the manure spread for you. For each thousand pounds of pork raised, at least 15 ton of manure is produced. If hogs are kept in dry lot, all this must be hauled out or the value is lost.

A year of hogs on legume pasture can make an extra ten bushels of corn per acre when the ground is plowed up the following year. The combination of hogs and clover is about equal to an application of 1 ton of ammonium sulphate per acre. The manure also helps soil structure and increases the amount of organic matter.

CUT FEED COSTS

Feed makes up about 80% of the cost of putting on a hundred pounds of pork. Excellent pasture can really help you bear down on this item and reduce the cash outlay for grain and commercial feed. Michigan State University estimates that high quality hog pasture can save 5-15% of the grain, and 15-20% of the protein required by a hog in dry lot.

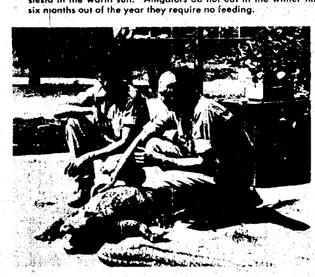
Even in northern states, rye pasture can be ready to graze in March, followed by bluegrass in April. Ladino clover or alfalfa makes the best pasture for the main part of the season, from early May until the end of the summer. Rape and oats can be seeded in early spring to provide temporary hog pasture.

WATER AND SHADE

For best gains, hogs should have plenty of water freely available to them at all times. Average need is about 1 gallon per head daily for fattening hogs. If you're lucky, water may be near enough to the surface so a sandpoint can be put down and water pumped right into the tanks. Most farmers, however, will have to plan on hauling by tank wagon or piping water to the field. Plastic pipe is convenient for this purpose — laying it is a simple job.

We've always known that hogs like shade, just as people do. Tests in recent years show that when they get this shade their daily gains are definitely increased. If natural shade is not available in your hog pasture, it will pay to build some portable shades before hot weather.

After playing a few games and eating a good meal the 'gators like to take a siesta in the warm sun. Alligators do not eat in the winter time and for five or six months out of the year they require no feeding.



Owner of farm, Frank V. Earnest, right, discusses some of the farm's problems with his young son, Ken. Ken assists his father in the many phases of the farm's operations and is the third generation of his family to work on the farm. The farm was founded in 1905 in Hot Springs, Arkansas, and moved to Los Angeles in 1908 by Frank's father.

Hatched from eggs very similar to those of a turkey, the 'gators are about eight inches long at birth. These baby snappers have sharp teeth even at this tender age.

THERE are certain eating places in America that are noted far and wide for the gourmet appeal of their cuisine: Locke-Ober in Boston . . . Miller Brothers in Baltimore . . . Old Original Bookbinder's in Philadelphia. There are even those who say that good eating in America started down on the waterfront in Philadelphia.

Be that as it may, one of the places most widely acclaimed for its seafood sophisticates is Old Original Bookbinder's, established in Philadelphia within sight of the docks in 1865, just a step from the Delaware with its teaming shad and its ships bringing choice edibles from all over the world — the place to which turtle and oyster men from the Eastern shore brought their finest offerings.

Today's big favorite, lobster, was not even on the menu in the beginning. Terrapin was the prime favorite then and shad was often on the menu.

Bookbinder's have a way with seafood. For this reason celebrities down through the years have sought out this famous eating spot — celebrities including Teddy Roosevelt, Caruso, Lillian Russell, John Barrymore, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Irving Berlin, Babe Ruth, Eddie Cantor, Alfred Hitchcock, Danny Kaye and Judy Holliday (she loves their lobster).

Like Judy Holliday, many folks prefer lobster because you can choose the live lobster you want, watch them pop it into a huge cooker of sizzling water, and not long afterwards sit down to enjoy the lobster of your own choice, served as only Bookbinder's serve it.

Their LOBSTER THERMIDOR is divine — but so is their SHRIMP DU JOUR — maybe you too would like to try their recipes, for although we cannot always travel East for a seafood dinner, we can make our own seafood sophisticates.

SHRIMP DU JOUR

5 lbs. shrimp
½ lb. butter
2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 chopped garlic clove
½ c. chopped parsley
½ c. chopped chives
Salt and pepper

Saute shrimp in butter, Worcestershire sauce, garlic, chives and parsley. Place in large casserole and sprinkle with grated sharp cheese and bread crumbs. Add drawn butter. Brown under broiler.

LOBSTER THERMIDOR

2 lobsters 2 lbs. each
½ c. butter (divided)
¼ lb. chopped mushrooms
Salt and pepper
3 tbsp. chopped shallots
2 tbsp. flour
¼ tsp. dry mustard
½ tsp. salt
2 c. milk
3 egg yolks, beaten
2 tbsp. chopped parsley
1 stalk celery, minced
4 tbsp. grated Parmesan Cheese

2 medium lobsters — about 2 lbs. each boiled. When cool, remove claws, crack and remove meat. Cut into cubes and save shell. Melt 4 teaspoons butter, add mushrooms, shallots, salt and pepper. Simmer 5 minutes. Add lobster meat, stir well and keep warm over very low heat. Melt remaining butter in another saucepan; stir flour, salt and mustard slowly. Stir milk in large bowl, pour sauce gradually over beaten yolks, stirring into lobster mixture. Pour ½ milk sauce into lobster mixture. Pour remaining sauce over top and sprinkle with grated cheese. Place in preheated broiler compartment 3 inches from heat and broil 5 minutes or until cheese is golden brown. Makes 4 servings.

SHRIMP SALAD

2 cups cooked shrimp
3 tablespoons dressing
1 cup sliced celery
2 tablespoons capers
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
Mayonnaise

Marinate shrimps in French dressing for 20 minutes. Combine with celery, capers and green pepper. Moisten with mayonnaise and heap on bed of lettuce. Garnish with strips of pepper.

SHELLFISH COCKTAIL SAUCE

½ cup ketchup
3 tablespoons chili sauce
2 tablespoons horseradish sauce
3 tablespoons lemon juice

Combine all ingredients. Mix well and chill. Makes one cup of sauce and serves six to eight. For variety, add a dash of Tabasco or Worcestershire sauce, a teaspoon of minced parsley, or pinch of dried tarragon.

2½ teaspoons Clabber Girl Baking Powder
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 teaspoon ground allspice
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
½ cup shortening

Milk for glaze

Sift together flour, Baking Powder, spices, salt, and sugar into a mixing bowl. Cut in shortening until texture resembles coarse crumbs. Blend in currants. Beat together egg and milk and add all at once to dry ingredients. Stir lightly with a fork, just enough to moisten all the flour. Knead gently about ½ minute on lightly floured board. Break off pieces of dough about 1½ inches in diameter. Form each into a ball. Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Brush with milk. Bake in a 450° F. (very hot) oven 12 to 15 minutes. THE TASTE OF LENTEN SEASON

THE Lenten season more than once calls for a dish that is different. Actually, most of the foods we use for a Lenten theme can be varied enough to make them different — and delicious — by a little imagination and a little ingenuity.

Let's start with the fish, for the occasion that calls for something different, we offer Avocado Topped Seafood Pie — a really innovational Yes — pie. A fishy pastry crust filled with a centerly mixture of crab, halibut, and interesting seasonings, topped with a creamy avocado mixture. Yes, you can make this pie with prettiness you take the slices and a few thin onion rings. And you've a pie fit to set before the queen. Or before Minnie Eisenhower.

The family as a whole — just like most average American families — would vote for Macaroni and Cheese. Sometimes we think we would vote for Macaroni and Cheese. Sometimes look," but there is just never this grand two-some with Blue Cheese. Since nino which has been added piquante, green pepper, mushroom and a clove of garlic. Then garnish with sliced stuffed olives.

Cook elbow macaroni according to directions on package. Drain. Meanwhile, melt butter in saucepan, add garlic and cook over low heat 5 minutes. Remove garlic. Blend in flour, salt, pepper. Add piquante, green pepper and mushrooms. Gradually add combined milk and water and cook over low heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Add cheese, stirring until melted. Pour sauce over macaroni on warm platter. Pour mixture over macaroni. Garnish with sliced stuffed olives.

MACARONI WITH BLUE CHEESE SAUCE

3 package elbow macaroni
1 clove garlic, minced
2 tbsp. butter
½ tsp. pepper
2 tbsp. flour
1 tbsp. piquante
2 tbsp. diced green pepper
½ lb. mushrooms sliced
1 cup evaporated milk
1 cup water
1 cup crumbled Blue Cheese

OLIVE STUFFED EGG SALAD

Lettuce
Hard cooked eggs
Sliced pickled beets
Ripe olives for garnish

Cut olives from pits into pieces. Peel eggs and cut into halves lengthwise. Remove yolks and mash. Blend in mayonnaise with knife on lettuce-lined salad plates. Garnish with additional ripe olives. Serves 6.

A Contrast Between the Old and The New Is Shown in Sunday Village Scenes

Franklin Reck of Manchester and William Moss of Ann Arbor make a last-minute check of the latest in camping equipment loaded on the station wagons before leaving Manchester for Hot Springs, Arkansas, where they'll make pictures for Look Magazine, showing the latest in camping facilities and transportation for family use on vacation outings and trips. Drastically depicting the difference between the old and the new was another scene Sunday afternoon, when Alfred Stang and his daughter, Nina, hitched up old Dobbin for a leisurely ride along the village streets. They stopped to pick up a couple of Nina's little friends to take them for a ride. No, they weren't planning to leave for Hot Springs, Arkansas!

Dutchmen Bow After Winning 21 Straight Games

By BILL BROWN

After making one of the most brilliant offensive and defensive stands ever seen by a vast majority of the thousands at Bowen Field House in Ypsilanti Friday night, a cool Dutchman quintet closed out their season at the feet of the hot Red Devils of Grosse Ile, the "dark horse" of the Ypsi Regionals.

Grosse Ile's victory story would fill this whole page, but it can be summed up in two words: Tom Tilley. Tilley, who stands 5' 8", proved once again that he can make free throws following the nearly-asked fouls he gleans. Eighteen of his thirty points were on free throws. Had he made 100 per cent of all of his shots, both at the charity line and from out-court, he would have still had only 38 points all told. His sparkling 82 percentage left little to be desired, especially when viewed beside Manchester's 37 percentage.

The inability of the Dutchmen to garner a lead and maintain it caused many fans to wonder if it was the same team that stunningly outpointed the Ypsi Roosevelt powerhouse, or if it was only a bad dream.

Max Lee's strong five made it 20 straight Wednesday night by turning down Morenci High 63 to 48, the same margin they were beaten by Saturday night themselves. "Curly-headed, hawk-eyed Bill" Bunney led the team to the first Regional victory with 24 points, twenty of those scored in the first half. Tom Adams' seventeen counters aider the Dutch cause, but Dick Vereecke's seventeen for Morenci were not enough to turn back the tough Manchester squad.

Friday night the Dutchmen met the foe they had been looking forward to all year—once - defeated Ypsilanti Roosevelt. A victory in that contest spelled "success," but it wasn't easily gained.

Manchester scored first, but was leading by only one point at the end of the first quarter. By half-time they had fallen behind by three. This was lengthened to an eight-point deficit at the end of the third period. It looked like the Dutchmen were on the down-beat.

Two minutes of the final period passed with no change in the gap. Then suddenly the Dutch Grosse Ile game, Max Adams started to close that gap. With two minute and twenty-three seconds left in the game, Rich Van Etten, Manchester's brilliant man, dropped in a bucket to tie the score at 5-all.

Coach Lee called for time-out, which father rattled an already-tense and nervous Ypsi team. It looked like overtime would be needed to decide a victor when Big John England faked a shot—not once but twice. That was sufficient to completely fool Tom Mackenzie, who made the fatal error by fouling the 6' 4½" Manchester center.

Lee again called time-out, this time not to rattle Ypsi but to relax Big John. John left the huddle with a big smile on his face, and sank both shots with only eight seconds left in the game.

Bill Bailey, Roosevelt ace, then proceeded to toss the ball to big John, who flipped it to Connie Gonyer. Gonyer dribbled around with it until the clock went off.

Bailey and Mackenzie, who usually score in the double figures, picked only 14 points between them in the course of the game, thanks to a wonderful defensive game by Bunney, Gonyer, Lannom, Van Etten, Adams, and John "Dead-Head" England. "Dead-Head" was aptly carried off the floor by his team-mates and the undertaker following the game.

"The Best Laid Plans---"

Hi, Neighbor!

By Ella V. MacQueen

We asked several Sunday school teachers and heads of primary departments in church schools the age at which they believed children can comprehend the real meaning of Easter and the victory of Jesus Christ over Death, and it was the opinion of most that all three- year-olds can understand what the Festival of Easter means. Children generally take the Easter rabbit, baskets of candy and gifts as just a means of celebrating Easter, as Santa Claus helps celebrate the birthday of Christ.

Sometimes, however, even the best of instruction can be forgotten at the very worst of times. we learned. The wife of a pastor of a small community church was also the head of the primary department of the Sunday School, of which her two small daughters were members. She carefully and painstakeingly related the story of Easter to her small charges and thought that they all understood.

On Easter morning she brought her small charges to perform before the entire congregation to show how they understood the meaning of the Festival. Her first question in front of her audience was, "Now, who can tell us all the reason we celebrate Easter?"

She beamed proudly when the tiny hand of her smaller daughter shot into the air, "All right, Ruthie," she said, "You tell us. Why do we have Easter?" Tiny Ruthie stood up happily in her new frilly dress and perky new bonnet and said loudly, "We have Easter so we can all get new clothes and I don't have to wear Barbara's old hat."

The congregation loved it!

Spring arrives officialy today, but for the past few weeks everyone has been watching for first signs that Winter is losing his grip. During the past few days we've seen crocuses in bloom, heard both geese and crows going North. noticed some leaf buds near to bursting, and willows both red and orange-green.

But the most authentic and spectacular "first sign" was the thunder and lightning storm last week. A three-year-old niece, who had forgotten such storms apparently, phone us the morning following the storm. "Guess what we had at our house last night," she reported excitedly. "It was a great big loud rain-storm, and it just kept blinking at me."

It was just about a year ago that Sergeant Joe Friday, TV's best - known law enforcement officer, bowed to the urgent request of the Los Angeles Chief of Police, and dropped the last sentence of his program introduction. Instead of ending, "This is the city. I work here. I'm a cop," he recorded the balance of his programs with, " This is the city. I work here." The word "cop", the Los Angeles Police said, was offensive to law enforcement officers. In comparing the introduction of two Jack Webb productions now on TV, the older films, "Badge 714" has the old phrase using "cop," and "Dragnet" without the "offensive" word, sounds incomplete and poor Friday with no specific line of work.

Reck Expedition Departs for the Hills of Arkansas

Franklin M. Reck of Manchester and William Moss of Ann Arbor loaded two station wagons with over 60 pieces of camping equipment before leaving Manchester last week for Hot Springs, Arkansas. The equipment was especially selected from the store of tested camping supplies belonging to Recreation Unlimited, a Ford publication project.

At Hot Springs pictures will be taken for Look Magazine and the Ford Times. Look has scheduled their story on the material for June of this year. The Ford Times uses the copy as a regular part of their magazine. Other pictures will be used in Reck's book on "Station Wagon Living" which will be off the press early this summer.

Mrs. Moss, David and William, Junior and Linda Reck made up the party taking the trip to the southwest. Linda returned by plane Friday to continue her work at the University of Michigan. The Moss family remained to model for the pictures.

The equipment provides a variety of tents including the pup tent and new "para-wing" both of which were invented by Moss. Also a cartip tent with aluminum ladder. There as a clear plastic boat as well as aluminum and folding canvas varieties; a station wagon kitchen called "Camp N' Wagon"; numerous stoves, lamps, folding tables and chairs and cots; sleeping bags and all sorts of things to choose from to make station wagon living and camping a pleasure.

It will take until about the first fo April to complete the project and return the equipment to Brophy Lake a Waldenwoods near Hartland.
