An amazing turn in soybean affairs

Almost unbelievable developments in the state highway financing program for the past few weeks is what we have been watching closely as we go to press. The last few years have been hard ones for the farmers in particular, and the highway situation has been one of the worst. In 1931 the weight tax plan as proposed by the legislature was expected to bring in $16,000,000. However, the tax was ultimately set at 20 cents per 500 pounds, and it was expected to bring in $20,000,000 annually for highway purposes. The tax was expected to be a two-cent tax on each 100 pounds of produce shipped.

This year the tax has been revised to 8 cents per 100 pounds, and it is expected to bring in $30,000,000 annually. The legislation that goes into effect on March 1, 1935, will raise the tax to 10 cents per 100 pounds, and it is expected to bring in $35,000,000 annually.

A number of states have already brought in money under this system, and the Michigan legislature has determined to do the same. The tax will be imposed on all produce shipped, and it is expected to bring in a substantial amount of money for highway purposes.

The tax will be collected by the state highway department, and it is expected to be a substantial help to the state highway system. The tax will be imposed on all produce shipped, and it is expected to bring in a substantial amount of money for highway purposes.

PRESIDENT SAYS FARM FUTURE IS IN CO-OPERATION

Coolidge Asks Agr'1 Colleges To Emphasize Co-op. Marketing

SHOWS THE NECESSITY

Believes Farm Sales Problem Can Be Solved Through Organization

Washington, Nov. 25.—President Coolidge said in his annual message that the nation needs a better farm policy, but these are only means of government. The President said that under the American system of democracy it is the responsibility of the government to see that the right conditions are established for the development of the farmer. He stressed the importance of education in the field of agriculture and the need for more research in this field. He also emphasized the importance of the farm cooperative movement as a means of improving the farm economy.

The President called attention to the fact that the United States is a country of farmers, and that the future of the country depended on the prosperity of the farmers. He said that the government should assist the farmers in their efforts to develop a better farm policy, and that it should do so by providing them with the necessary information and advice.

The President also referred to the importance of the farm cooperative movement, and he said that it was necessary for the farmers to work together in order to improve the farm economy. He said that the government should assist the farmers in their efforts to form farm cooperatives, and that it should do so by providing them with the necessary information and advice.

The President concluded his message by saying that the government should assist the farmers in their efforts to develop a better farm policy, and that it should do so by providing them with the necessary information and advice.

SUCCESS OF CO-OP BUYING DEPENDENT ON LARGE VOLUME

Real Service Can Be Given If Farmers Give Co-op All Their Business

As the population continues to grow, the need for better food supplies increases. The government is making efforts to improve the farm economy and to assist the farmers in their efforts to develop a better farm policy. The government should assist the farmers in their efforts to form farm cooperatives, and that it should do so by providing them with the necessary information and advice.

A New Condition

The President said that in the present time, the government should assist the farmers in their efforts to develop a better farm policy, and that it should do so by providing them with the necessary information and advice.

A Look Ahead

The President said that in the future, the government should assist the farmers in their efforts to develop a better farm policy, and that it should do so by providing them with the necessary information and advice.

The government should assist the farmers in their efforts to form farm cooperatives, and that it should do so by providing them with the necessary information and advice.
