C名额 Levy 2c a Gallon: Proposed Weight Tax Should Be Lowered, and the Annual Fee Rolled Back. Leaders See Settlement of Road Problem in Two Weeks

STATE CAPITOL, Lansing, Jan. 15.—Hooking between weight taxpayers and gas tax friends which was the chief feature of the past week in legislative halls seems now to have produced definite results.

With support of House and Senate, a new tax growing daily in both the Senate and the House, Governor Groesbeck called a conference of Senate and House leaders and later he announced an agreement was reached regarding highway finance. The present plan is considerably different from that approved by the Administration when the Legislature convened on January 7th. In it as follows:

1. Introduction of the Senate in a new two-cent gas tax bill, to be sponsored by Senator Orville E. Atwood of Newaygo. The Senate taxation committee has already given the general outline of this bill under consideration and will not do so. It is expected to do so as a substitute for the Motor tax bill. The Senate and Groesbeck leaders have decided to introduce the legislation.

While Mr. Evans and other House leaders show no disposition to endorse the scheme, the conference will accept the senatorial feature will be the enactment of an automatic tax license which would greatly reduce the burden on the motorists and make them more equitable. A bill carrying out these ideas has already been introduced in the House by Representative Charles Loomis of Tuscola, and, if passed, will subject the residents to one of the strongest leaders of the self-called gas tax bloc.

While it is, of course, too early to say whether the Conference will be successful, it is known that the tax question is in a stage which makes much sentiment, of the House is

Failure of Tax Legislation to Keep Up-to-Date Makes Farmer Victim of Unfair System, Says Pres. Noon

Property Tax Was Fair To All In Days When Most Wealth Was In Land; Nowadays It Penalizes The Laboring Class and Others To Evade Taxation

This is the second of a series of three articles in which the address Farm Organization Problems and Some Solutions, delivered by President Proctor Norton, for the State Award of Farmers' Clubs at Last December 31st, is being presented to Farm Bureau readers.

The article printed here on December 26th, discussed the farm organizations' relation to our transportation problem; today's addresses will be on taxation and legislation problems of the farmer. The third and last of the address Farm Organization Problems and Some Solutions, will be printed in our edition of January 30th.

Farm, milk, state Farm Bureau meetings, etc., and producers will naturally sympathize with the latter, and will naturally help themselves by raising their stand, which in turn will raise the whole farm community. It is further and finally, against the fact that the North American farmer is the most generous in the world, and that we have not benefited by this generosity. It is necessary, therefore, to recognize the responsibility of paying the taxes to their proper authorities, and to vote the same on the proper ballot in order to secure the necessary amount for the services of the State, County, and Local Government.

Where Property Tax Falls

"In the earlier days there was practically no government above the county line, and the farmers in the rural districts had to pay the taxes and those who lived in the cities. However, in later years the state of Michigan has been trying to provide for the rural districts and to support the educational system. Therefore, it has been necessary for the farmers to pay a large amount of taxes. In these days than when the world had more money legally and vic­troversy, tremendous wealth can be touched by the farmer and that will always be of pe-

Barbary Eradication Bringing End to Stem Rust of Wheat

Pre. noon finds results of Long Living Becoming Apparent

Pre. M. L. Noth of the Division of Plant Industry at the Department of Agriculture in Washington漳发 that a line of wheat, adapted to the Barbary region of Africa, is proving to be immune to stem rust and other diseases. The strain, which was brought to this country from Algeria, has been under observation for several years and has shown promise of being a valuable asset to the wheat industry. The results of the experiments will be of great value to farmers in the eastern and central parts of the United States, where stem rust is a serious pest.

MICH. TELLS IOWA THE IMPORTANCE OF SEED ORIGIN

C. F. Barneman Addresses Annual Meeting of Iowa Farm Bureau Fed.

Assn., Jan. 16.—C. F. Barneman, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau, told the farmers of Iowa that the importance of seed origin cannot be overestimated. He emphasized the need for farmers to use only superior seed to ensure the production of high-quality crops. Barneman also spoke about the benefits of co-operating with other farmers to buy and sell seed, which can lead to better prices for both buyers and sellers.

Chicago Loses Fight To Evade Water Law

Of great importance to the farmers of the United States is the recent action of the Supreme Court of the United States, which upheld the constitutionality of the water laws of the State of Illinois. This decision means that farmers who have been trying to evade the payment of water taxes will have to pay up or face legal action.

One Would Make Many Paw The Air

In the town of Baraboo, Wisconsin, a new device has been invented by a local farmer, J. H. Smith, which allows him to make many paw the air. The device consists of a series of levers that are activated by the farmer's foot. Each lever is connected to a bellows that emits a loud sound. The farmer can control the number of levers activated, thus controlling the volume of sound. This device has been well received by the local farmers, who believe it will help them to communicate with each other over long distances.

Who will they accept? 100 each of 10 high class varieties. The action of the Elevator Exchange is almost complete, showing almost $10,000,000 in business for the past year. The cash received from the sale of beans has been used to purchase land and equipment for the elevator.
