The gas tax victory has been won. The Farm Bureau is rewarded. A two-cent gasoline tax and a modified license law or revenue for a gasoline tax for highway financing purposes has been adopted. The two-cent tax is to be collected on a per-gallon basis and is to be deposited in the state highway fund. The license law is to be modified in that the amount of the license fee will be increased and a tax on non-residents will be imposed.

In the fall of 1924 many matters for the legislature ran aground because of the re-appearance of the two-cent tax issue.
Against it in 1924 failed of re-election. When the 1925 legisla­tive campaign was finished, it was evident that a huge majority was unanimous in its support of a gasoline tax to meet the highway financing needs of the state. The two-cent tax became law in 1925 on the third reading. A constitutional amendment was being considered, but the proposal was rejected.

The tax is set at two cents per gallon of gasoline and is broadly supported by the people of the state. The revenue from the tax is expected to be used for the construction and repair of public highways.

The plan is well received by many, and it is expected to be a great boon to the state's economy, as it will provide much-needed funds for the improvement of public facilities.

The Michigan Farm Bureau, through its legislative department, has been working hard to secure passage of the proposed gasoline tax. It is an important step in the continuing efforts to improve the state's highways and install new ones where needed.

Home Tasks Made Easier By Attending Farmers' Week April College Brings Forth Its Best Ideas For Values February 2-5
By S. H. Williams
Chairman, Education and Community Welfare

In this land of opportunity, the farmer has a little two-weekend task with a dual purpose in mind. For one weekend it is his responsibility to attend the annual meeting of the State Farm Bureau in Lansing and for the following weekend he must take time to attend the Farm Bureau's educational session at the college.

I hope many of our farm families will find these two events a source of great pride and satisfaction.
Families can be proud of their sons and daughters who are attending the college and also of their husbands and wives who are attending the Farm Bureau's sessions.

We need to be proud of the fact that everything possible has been done to make sure that the sessions are a success and that the families will enjoy the opportunity.

Let us take the time to thank our farm families for making these two events a reality.

A Farm In The House

There are certain very pleasant features about the farm home in which I have been living in recent years. For one thing, it is a perfect place to work and play. It is a place where the family may gather and enjoy each other's company.

There are other very pleasant features about the farm home. It is a place where we may relax and enjoy the beauty of nature. It is a place where we may be our own masters and enjoy the freedom of the open spaces.
