CLOVER IMPORTERS STILL ATTEMPT TO MISLEAD FARMERS

Barrow Focuses Spotlight on Deceptive Statement of Seed Importers

FRENCH SEED THE ISSUE

Shorns Government Stain of French Seed by Not U. S. Approval

ANNUAL MEETING OF MILK PRODUCERS TO BE HELD ON OCT. 19

The annual meeting of the Michigan Milk Producers' Association will be held at East Lansing, Thursday, October 19, beginning at 10 a.m. Cen.

COWS ARE PAYS TRAPS

A big blow was struck for the outlawing of the cow pays traps, it being state-wide, when the Michigan Farm Bureau, in its annual convention held in Battle Creek, decided that this practice should be outlawed.

FREE LABOR ISSUES

The meeting was largely devoted to the question of free labor, and in the debate on the question, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau enter into an active campaign to secure the passage of a federal and state law providing for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

FREE LABOR ISSUES

The meeting was largely devoted to the question of free labor, and in the debate on the question, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau enter into an active campaign to secure the passage of a federal and state law providing for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

FREE LABOR ISSUES

The meeting was largely devoted to the question of free labor, and in the debate on the question, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau enter into an active campaign to secure the passage of a federal and state law providing for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

FREE LABOR ISSUES

The meeting was largely devoted to the question of free labor, and in the debate on the question, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau enter into an active campaign to secure the passage of a federal and state law providing for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

FREE LABOR ISSUES

The meeting was largely devoted to the question of free labor, and in the debate on the question, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau enter into an active campaign to secure the passage of a federal and state law providing for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

FREE LABOR ISSUES

The meeting was largely devoted to the question of free labor, and in the debate on the question, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau enter into an active campaign to secure the passage of a federal and state law providing for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

FREE LABOR ISSUES

The meeting was largely devoted to the question of free labor, and in the debate on the question, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau enter into an active campaign to secure the passage of a federal and state law providing for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

FREE LABOR ISSUES

The meeting was largely devoted to the question of free labor, and in the debate on the question, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau enter into an active campaign to secure the passage of a federal and state law providing for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

FREE LABOR ISSUES

The meeting was largely devoted to the question of free labor, and in the debate on the question, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau enter into an active campaign to secure the passage of a federal and state law providing for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

FREE LABOR ISSUES

The meeting was largely devoted to the question of free labor, and in the debate on the question, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau enter into an active campaign to secure the passage of a federal and state law providing for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

FREE LABOR ISSUES

The meeting was largely devoted to the question of free labor, and in the debate on the question, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau enter into an active campaign to secure the passage of a federal and state law providing for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

FREE LABOR ISSUES

The meeting was largely devoted to the question of free labor, and in the debate on the question, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau enter into an active campaign to secure the passage of a federal and state law providing for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

FREE LABOR ISSUES

The meeting was largely devoted to the question of free labor, and in the debate on the question, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau enter into an active campaign to secure the passage of a federal and state law providing for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

FREE LABOR ISSUES

The meeting was largely devoted to the question of free labor, and in the debate on the question, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau enter into an active campaign to secure the passage of a federal and state law providing for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

FREE LABOR ISSUES

The meeting was largely devoted to the question of free labor, and in the debate on the question, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau enter into an active campaign to secure the passage of a federal and state law providing for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.

Resolved, that the Farm Bureau encourage the state and federal legislatures to enact laws which will provide for the payment of free labor to all persons who are employed in the field of agriculture.
Michigan Farm Bureau News
Vol. IV, No. 20
October 12, 1926

Published at the office of operation, 201 N. W. 19th Street, Lansing, Michigan.

The Michigan Farm Bureau=

October Nature Calendar

October, the month of the harvest of the corn in the fall and the maple in the north and the north-east, is the month when we pause to wonder and to read the signs of the wayside weeds. Few signs have a more distinct stamp of the seasons than the very natural one, the frost.

The snowy cricket has slowed his song, the snowy bank vole has stopped his trilling, the autumn frosts are to be expected in the next few weeks. The frost will come soon and the leaves will fall, and the corn will be ready for the harvest.

Matured in the woods is the staghorn sumac and the winged fruit of the wingstem. In this case, the autumn frosts help to make the fruit of these plants more edible. The staghorn sumac is a beautiful blue, and the winged fruit is a great cluster of winged fruit.

The first frost will make the dew more prominent and the moon more beautiful. The frost will come soon and the leaves will fall, and the corn will be ready for the harvest.

F.F.A. and Other Organizations

The F.F.A. is an organization for the betterment of agriculture. It is open to all students in agriculture and is sponsored by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Lessons from the Lives of Master Farmers

Since 1924, G.L. Wilkin has been writing daily about the lives of master farmers. His articles have appeared in the Michigan Farm Bureau News and in other agricultural publications. They offer valuable insights into the lives and achievements of these farmers.

October, the month of the harvest of the corn in the fall and the maple in the north and the north-east, is the month when we pause to wonder and to read the signs of the wayside weeds. Few signs have a more distinct stamp of the seasons than the very natural one, the frost.

The snowy cricket has slowed his song, the snowy bank vole has stopped his trilling, the autumn frosts are to be expected in the next few weeks. The frost will come soon and the leaves will fall, and the corn will be ready for the harvest.

The F.F.A. is an organization for the betterment of agriculture. It is open to all students in agriculture and is sponsored by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Lessons from the Lives of Master Farmers

Since 1924, G.L. Wilkin has been writing daily about the lives of master farmers. His articles have appeared in the Michigan Farm Bureau News and in other agricultural publications. They offer valuable insights into the lives and achievements of these farmers.
ELEVEN MEN SELECTED AS MICHIGAN'S MASTER FARMERS

DODGING TEAMS OF 2 STATES ATTEND BANQUET

FARM BUREAU BANQUET

High School teams compete in Contest at Daily Show

STORCIE REACH PRIZES

At Resh and Teachers Are Shamantated Com.

STAIRS BOWS AT CATTLE SHOWS

CATTLE SHOW ANNUAL

CORN KING OF MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

FULLY SELECTED AS MICHIGAN'S MASTER FARMERS

Tells the Value of National Fire Prevention Week

President, John Thompson of A. E. B. F. Says Fire Tax is $30 Per Farm

FARM LOSES MOUNTING

Annual Rural Fire Loss Totals $156,000,000—Enough to Build 75,000 Barns

FARM AND CITIZENS PROTEST R. R. ABANDONMENT

Editor Being Made to Retain Service in Four Northern Eastern Counties

On September 12, the Michigan Farm Bureau Commandant boarded the railroad in Detroit and negotiated with the Great Northern Railway officials for the sale of the land at the railroad crossing in Grove City, N. Y. The railroad claims that the railroad was abandoned in 1922 and that the title to the land belongs to the railroad. In terms of the law, the railroad is correct. But to the farmer who has been using the crossing for 50 years, it is a body without a leg to stand on. The farmer, who is represented by Mr. John Thompson of the Michigan Farm Bureau, is intent on purchasing the land and putting up a fire station. The railroad is going to protest. The Michigan Farm Bureau is going to stand and fight for this. It is a battle to be won. The Michigan Farm Bureau is going to stand up to the railroad and make it clear that the farmer is not to be sacrificed.
GEORGE LORD, CH'N STATE TAX DEPT URGES ALL FARMERS TO ORGANIZE TO IMPROVE THEIR FINANCIAL CONDITION

No man in Michigan has as much power and influence in State tax matters and probably has more experience and comprehensive knowledge of these affairs as George Lord, Chairman of the State Tax Department and, in virtue of that office also chairman of the State Board of Equalization.

At the conclusion of the recent annual meeting of the State Board of Equalization, after listening to the pleas of the various counties for a strong presentation of the distressed condition of Michigan agriculture made by Mr. McPherson, president of the State Board, Mr. Lord quoted the following opinions and observations:

"It is always expected, of course, that the Chairman of the State Board of Equalization makes a few remarks after his presentation of the various problems which the Board is called upon to consider."

As a matter of fact, Mr. Lord has handed to me a Mr. McPherson a statistical table taken from the reports of the Census Department at Washington, showing a material reduction in the value of farm lands, and while I do not approve of some of the conclusions of the Census Department, I do not hesitate to say that from my observations throughout the State, farm lands have a much less value today than they had a few years ago, and that the tax on them is even greater than that for the value of the farms.

"The economic condition of the farmers is far from good. There are no crops this year that is not usually more than one hundred percent above the average.

"The whole trouble with our industry is lack of organization."

"The trouble with the average man is that he is too much of a liberal."

"The trouble with the average man is that he is too much of a liberal."

"The trouble with the average man is that he is too much of a liberal."

"The trouble with the average man is that he is too much of a liberal."

"The trouble with the average man is that he is too much of a liberal.

 "$150,000,000 FIRE COST EACH YEAR TO U. S. FARMERS

Proper Precautions Can Cut Fire Loss of Life and Rural Property.

President Coolidge has said: "I am inclined to think that maybe not in full, but to a large extent, the loss of lives in the fire hazard that we had ten years ago, was an avoidable one."

"I am inclined to think that maybe not in full, but to a large extent, the loss of lives in the fire hazard that we had ten years ago, was an avoidable one."

"I am inclined to think that maybe not in full, but to a large extent, the loss of lives in the fire hazard that we had ten years ago, was an avoidable one."

"I am inclined to think that maybe not in full, but to a large extent, the loss of lives in the fire hazard that we had ten years ago, was an avoidable one."

"I am inclined to think that maybe not in full, but to a large extent, the loss of lives in the fire hazard that we had ten years ago, was an avoidable one."

"I am inclined to think that maybe not in full, but to a large extent, the loss of lives in the fire hazard that we had ten years ago, was an avoidable one."

"I am inclined to think that maybe not in full, but to a large extent, the loss of lives in the fire hazard that we had ten years ago, was an avoidable one.

GEORGE LORD, CH. STATE TAX DEPT.