In Congress, as in community life, there is no easy solution to every problem. The present session of Congress is expected to complete the work on several important measures now before it, and to consider other measures which, while of great importance, cannot be put on the statute books as readily as those which have immediate practical results. Particularly important is the measure for the suspension of all farm crops. If it be amended so that from protective purchasing organizations and special marketing plans, the operation of the Federal Farm Board in all efforts to secure the highest possible benefits to individual farmers is hampered by inefficient organization and the lack of trained and capable personnel. The Federal Farm Board should be amended to provide for the fullest possible benefit to the individual farmer in the operation of special marketing plans before farmers are banded together in a successful cooperative marketing organization. The Federal Farm Board should be able to call on the American Farm Bureau Federation in all efforts to secure the highest possible benefits to individual farmers.

We wish to express our appreciation of the constant assistance which we have received from the Field Officers and Executive Officers of the American Farm Bureau Federation in the promotion of the needs of the individual farmer. We are confident that the American Farm Bureau Federation will continue to do its utmost in the cause of the individual farmer. Attorney General's Role On Constitutionality of Sunday Hunting

In its report, the Attorney General's office to the legislature's special session's law conference committee, reports that, by a vote of 14 against 2, the committee recommended the adoption of a bill making Sunday hunting legal in Michigan.

The recommendation follows a lengthy discussion on the subject, and it is reported that the committee felt that the issue should be handled by the legislature instead of the courts.

The bill, if enacted, would allow hunting on Sundays in any county where no special act prohibited it, and the Attorney General's report indicates that the committee believes this is the best course of action to ensure the fairness and consistency of hunting laws across the state.

Questions

1. Is it proper for a local club to discuss the possibility of Sunday hunting?
2. What are the potential consequences of allowing Sunday hunting?
3. How should the local club proceed in light of the recommendation from the Attorney General's office?
