FARM BOARDS HAVE RECOGNIZED 6 BIG MICHIGAN CO-OPS

Charles Wilson, Board Member, speaks to Farmers' Day Crowd

EXPLAINS THE SET-UP
Organic Grain Co-ops into Regions, With National Sales Office,

"Michigan is cooperating splendidly with the Federal Farm Board for establishing cooperative marketing organizations, which provides assistance under the terms of the Prevention of Famine Act. Mr. R. H. Smith, fruit and vegetable grower of the regional co-op committee at Michigan State College, rescued many farmers. Another Michigan co-operative representative was John McClellan, who explained the work of the Michigan Live Stock Exchange."

1. Michigan's best growers, with the National Cooperative Bank, are beginning co-ops, also through the Michigan Co-operative Bank.
3. Michigan and northern Michigan and the cherry and other fruit growers of southern Michigan are co-operating under the Michigan Co-operative Elevator Exchange.
4. Northern Michigan elevator associations for better marketing.
5. National co-operative marketing organizations for better marketing.
6. The purpose of that act is the more effective merchandising of farm products. Under the weight of a burden, the Board, called the re-organized board, organized the National Co-operative Bean Marketing Corporation, during its first meeting, at Chicago on July 14, at Chicago on a co-operative management that would take in all cooperative re-organizations of bean producers. Areas where co-ops are still outside, under the National Co-operative Elevator Exchange.
7. Michigan, a pioneer in the agricultural marketing, has introduced the bill that will put on a basis of equality with the greatest percentage of any county in the State of Ohio. The bill was introduced by the Board of Directors of the National Co-operative Bean Marketing Corporation.

LIFE INSURANCE FOR SECURITY

It appears that slightly more than half of the farm people throughout the State are members of the State Farm Bureau. This is not a small number, for it means that there are more than a million people in the State who are members of the organization. The question arises: Are they satisfied with the work of the organization? The answer is yes. The Farm Bureau has done a good job of organizing the farmers and is now working on the problem of financing the farm.
QUICK GRASS AND CANADA THISTLE WORST WEEDS

Just because something is new doesn’t mean it's better. Old-fashioned methods are often the best. For example, the best way to get rid of weeds is by pulling them by hand. This is more effective than using chemicals, which can harm the environment and other plants.
