MANY MICHIGAN FARMERS TO GO TO NAT'L MEET
State Farm Bureau Is Sending Delegation to Chicago

M. L. NOON IS HONORED
Convention Marks Thirtieth Anniversary of Work

OF Commerce

Michigan is to be well represented at the thirtieth annual convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation which is being held in Chicago, December 2 to 6. The Michigan delegation is expected to number about 125 farmers and their families who will attend the convention as registrants, exhibitors, and speakers.

The Michigan Farm Bureau's efforts to organize, to maintain, and to strengthen the farm interests of Michigan farmers have been widely acclaimed throughout the state. The organization has been a powerful influence in building a new era of prosperity for Michigan farmers, and has been effective in securing the enactment of legislation that is helpful to farmers and their families.

The Michigan Farm Bureau is proud of the contributions that have been made to the development of agriculture in Michigan. These contributions include the improvement of farm practices, the introduction of new crops and livestock, the development of new markets, and the increased production of farm products.

The Michigan Farm Bureau is committed to the principles of free enterprise and the promotion of agricultural progress. The organization is dedicated to the belief that farmers should be free to make their own decisions about the production, marketing, and consumption of farm products.

PAY TRIBUTE TO MICHIGAN WOMAN FOR NEEDLEWORK
Kalamazoo Farm Wife Displays Hands Appliqued Quilt at Big Exhibition

Mrs. Verne Church, federal agricultural statistician for Michigan, has been selected as the Michigan Farm Bureau's exhibit at the big show which is being held in Chicago, December 2 to 6. The exhibit will consist of a hands appliqued quilt and a full-day program of talks on various agricultural topics.

The quilt, which is being displayed at the show, has been made by Mrs. Church and her daughter, and is a beautiful example of the skill and artistry of Michigan women in the field of needlework. The quilt is a traditional design, featuring a variety of flowers and leaves, and is a testament to the creativity and talent of Michigan women.

The full-day program of talks will include discussions on a variety of agricultural topics, including crop production, marketing, and the future of agriculture in Michigan. The program will be of particular interest to farmers and their families, and will provide valuable information on the latest trends and developments in the field of agriculture.

Denies That Coop Marketing Is Any Real Form of Farm Relief

Michael J. Hart, recently appointed executive secretary of the Michigan Farm Bureau, has been outspoken in his support of the cooperative marketing program. In an interview with the Michigan Farm Bureau's official newspaper, Mr. Hart made it clear that he was opposed to the formation of a cooperative marketing program by the Farm Bureau.

Mr. Hart's opposition to the cooperative marketing program is based on his belief that the program would not be effective in promoting the interests of farmers. He argues that the program would be controlled by a small group of large farmers, and that it would not be able to provide the level of service that farmers need.

FARMERS STUDY LOCAL EXPENSE

County Governmental Cost is Subject For Monroe Panel

Monroe Farm Bureau, in cooperation with the local unit of the state Farm Bureau, is conducting a study of the costs of local government in Monroe County. The study will include an analysis of the costs of local government, as well as a comparison of these costs with those of other local units of government.

The study will be conducted by a panel of local farmers, who will be assisted by a team of agricultural economists from Michigan State University. The panel will be charged with the responsibility of collecting data on the costs of local government, and of analyzing these data to determine the extent to which local government is a cost-effective means of providing public services.

Hart Dislikes Federal Co-Operative Marketing Plan

Charles C. Smith, director of the Wisconsin Agricultural Co-Operative Marketing Bureau, remarks that the Federation of the Plan is of the opinion of those who believe in free enterprise and support of the National Government. He adds that the plan involves the utilization of the marketing facilities of the government for the benefit of the individual industries.
