Wool, M.T.C., Ass'n Will Announce 1932 Plans Soon

MAKES FARM NEWS OF THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE MEMBERSHIP

Wool Outlook Better

Stocks on Hand Lower; 1932 Cu. Ft. Objective Urged

Demand Better

Leaders—Directors of the Michigan State Wool Ass'n have forecast that wool stock on hand will be considerably lower this year than in 1931, and that this new situation will be more favorable to getting higher prices. Such a forecast was made by W. M. Peterson, general secretary of the Ass'n, at the annual meeting of the Board of Directors held at the Hotel Olympia in Detroit on Feb. 23.

The wool producers, at the annual meeting, will be the beneficiary.

The board of education at Okemos, Ingham county, where there was a central government for the entire territory. The argument is that it was then, and some parts of us will get better much before the rest. It is interesting to know that we acted in

With Mr. Lacy by opposing such consolidations for the purpose of saving

It appears the board and the superintendent planned savings in every detail of this action. In one particular, the savings in the rent of the school building would be of the same order of magnitude as the reductions in the salaries of the employees. However, the board also took into account the increased costs of transportation due to the larger student body resulting from the consolidation. It is estimated that these savings would amount to approximately $1,000 per year.

It is usually assumed that the consolidation of schools reduces the costs of education. However, this is not always the case. The Okemos action shows how one community disposed of a much greater area developed for outdoor sports, the moving parts of washing machines, etc., were the last to be discarded when the nation and the world had no more ready money to put into anything else in 1929. Prices, wages and securities reached dazzling heights, yet the nation and the world were left with a feeling of emptiness and despair. It was then and some parts of us will get better much.
CO-OPE REPAYING FARM BD. LOANS, STONE ADVISES
Half of 900 Million Repaid Drops Above Groups
Washington.—Robert Beall, vice-president of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York, last night told a meeting of a hundred farmers who assembled at the New York Life Building in the 900 million advances that have been paid on farm bonds.

Mr. Beall stated that almost 50 per cent of the 900 million advances paid have been paid during the past year, and he declared that the cooperative movement will probably continue to grow next year.

MISS VAN HEULEN
Miss Barbeau Van Heuleen, recently the devotional speaker for the Sunday school of the First Baptist Church in Lansing, is now living in the home of the National Farm and Garden Bureau at Washington, D.C., where she is on the special staff of the bureau.

Mr. Van Heuleen is 24 years old, and has been in the employ of the bureau for the past two years.

19,000 ATTEND FARMERS WEEK
Exhibit for 1932 Considered Best Ever

Mr. Wagar, in his last formal address at the close of the Michigan Farmers’ Week at Lansing, stated that the exhibit was the best ever given by the Michigan Farmers’ Week committee.

Mr. Wagar said:

"The display of exhibits in the main hall and in the annex is the best ever given by the Michigan Farmers’ Week committee. The displays are a credit to the farmers, a credit to the state, and a credit to the nation."

Mr. Wagar furthermore said that the plans for next year are already under way, and that the committee is trying to secure more fine exhibits for next year.

A King’s Ransom

For The Queen’s Taste

Last year we paid over $3,000,000 above the market price for extra-quality meat in the food we bought for our stores. Yes, three million four hundred thousand dollars! We have been encouraged to buy this $3,000,000 ourselves and take a bigger profit. But we’d rather offer a little higher price to the grower and it will come to us whenever they produce something especially good. It’s a sort of price we pay for excellence. But even though we have the highest price in the market, if we get an extra-quality product, we can charge a little extra for it.
