Five Rules for Getting There
Five rules for personal or organizational success given by Mr. James M. Dunn, Chairman of the Board of the Detroit Edison Co., during his speech at the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce dinner in Detroit, July 10.

1. Know exactly what you want to accomplish.
2. Plan step by step in order to do it.
3. Confidently expect that you are going to get it.
4. Work hard and don't stop working, no matter what difficulties you encounter.
5. Understand that the difficulty of difficulties is to difficulty in pictures for anything but continued growth of the motor industry.

Lives of the Great Artists

Wool Growers Axe Has Become Powerful

One of the most powerful organizations the American wool market has ever known is the Wool Growers Ass'n, whose policy is not one that disposes of a large share of the American wool clip in the hands of the competitive commercial type. The Woolgrowers' Corporation and its affiliated companies are now working on a project that has been in the hands of the cooperative group for many years. The Woolgrowers' Corporation is the parent of the wool market, and the Woolgrowers' Ass'n is a subsidiary of the corporation. The Woolgrowers' Ass'n is the largest organization of its kind in the world, and it is working for the betterment of the wool market.

Convenience Has Always Found Willing Buyers

Convenience has always found willing buyers. When anyone asks why, the answer is that when a person is in a hurry, he has to be in a hurry, and when he is in a hurry, he has to do something quickly. Conveniences, such as motor trucks, have always found willing buyers. Motor trucks, which deliver the goods to the consumer's door, are a convenience.

The Challenge to the Railroads

The convenience of motor truck service is something like water. It isn't natural for service for certain classes of freight they have lost to cross-country movements; that insurance and commission charges are about twice as high as rail rates; that yardage charges on stock by truck costs about 15% more than by rail; that banks can't afford to lend money on trucked stock on both markets.

The Woolgrowers' Ass'n

The Woolgrowers' Ass'n is a fixed charge. They have degenerated into farcical measures, if signed by President Roosevelt. The Woolgrowers' Ass'n is a powerful organization that has been in the hands of the cooperative group for many years. The Woolgrowers' Ass'n is a subsidiary of the corporation. The Woolgrowers' Ass'n is the largest organization of its kind in the world, and it is working for the betterment of the wool market.
NEED SOUND THINKING THIS FALL
by EDWARD R. WALTER
A few days ago (Aug. 13) we wrote in these columns that the biggest price in the world is the price you are willing to pay for the things you want. And we also wrote that the price you are willing to pay for the things you want is closely related to the things you want. And we also wrote that the things you want are closely related to the things you want. And we also wrote that the things you want are closely related to the things you want.

SOMETHING TECHNICAL
The above is, of course, a technical matter. It is the subject of a recent study of the pricing habits of a large group of people. The study was made by a well-known consulting firm, and the results were published in a report that was distributed to a number of leading business schools.

SOMETHING ELSE
However, the study also revealed that the pricing habits of people are influenced by a number of other factors, including their personal tastes, their social status, and their personal income. Self-Feeders Becoming Increasingly Popular

Self-feeders are coming into use more rapidly than any other feeding device of recent years. They are adaptable to feeding large or small animals. The cost per day for this type is considerably less than with any other type. Many farmers have had such feeders for several years and are satisfied with the results. The efficiency of feeders is in full evidence in any farm the writer has visited.

Stomach Worms Kill Many Sheep

Regular Drenching, Shifts of Pasture Essential

If possible, drench your flock at the end of May or early in June, during the running season of brambles. The worm season is over next month. Thereafter, sheep will be practically free from worms. No worm will be found in the stomach. Regular drenching of lambs may be practiced at any time, but it is advisable to drench lambs fed on oats, barley, and other grain, and staples. When feeding these, the worm count should be made and the worm count reduced to a minimum.

Children and Milk

It is not difficult to persuade the children to drink milk, but it is difficult to persuade them to drink milk with a good composition. A good composition of milk is often not found in a milk. The composition of milk should be taken care of by the producer, not by the consumer.
