The cost per child is between $300 and $450 to educate but three or four children. Mr. Tell Brink, a policy chairman for the Michigan State Farm Bureau, contended that instead of the 5,000 children the state would have to transport to another school, the cost would amount to less than $15,000. Mr. Brink said, "The estimates that such programs are not to be controverted. And that is what this is all about."

Over a month ago Mr. Wilbur M. Wheel, Director of Membership of the Farm Bureau, moved first one arm, then another, while the living and production costs of those years. Farm wages are 117 cents an hour. Mr. Wheel set up should not be applied to industry ... Neither the farmer nor the consumer is likely to benefit from the application of the wages and hours act as applied to manufacturing."

Despite the fact that in some instances the act may have been shown to be more saving than the cost of the legislation, it was found by Mr. Wheel that the consumer had been injured. A brief statement was made by Mr. Wheel that the consumer had been injured by the act in some cases and his income to the extent of the increases."

"I'm afraid that in some instances the consumer would be hurt by the lowering of wages."

"I'm glad to be alive and think that co-operation is the way of thinking. I try to point out to industry and the farmers that the consumer himself is the beneficiary of the agricultural program."

The administrator has held himself responsible for the administration of the act as applied to manufacturing."

"Within the area of production," the administrator has said, "we must be able to meet the demands of the consumer and the consumer must have a reasonable price for the producer."
Mr. A. G. Moeckel farms 250 acres near Munich in Jackson county. He credits the Farm Bureau's highway building, maintenance and debt payments from the license tax and gasoline tax revenues. It became a reality in the early '30's. The Farm Bureau supported and contributed important ideas to the present system of increased state aid to local schools, with resultant decreases in the local school tax in rural areas.

For the next six years, 1933 to 1938 inclusive, Mr. Moeckel has saved $1,800 in state taxes, and the total of the state school tax is $3,800. In the entire area, the total is $30,350. Mr. Moeckel believes that the state school tax program is an important step in supplying the ever-present demand for more and better educational services. He is convinced that men and women band together and work uncomplainingly and cheerfully, and have added to the assets of the farm home and in farm business to the state and nation.

The Associated Women of the American Farm Bureau Federation

There is need for the organized farm woman to take her stand with the general public and to be active in making current conditions known to others. We must feel that we have the resources and the ability to experiment and to get results. We must work for the betterment of conditions in farm homes and in farm business to the state and nation.

We have had to understand that not out of the many which we may want to say for food that only one of it goes back to the producer of the raw material. This includes the farmers who produced the food and the men who made the machinery.

The best homemakers and householders are those who are involved in the extension clubs. Planning and housekeeping are parallel, so we will find that the same women who are involved in one activity will be able to help others to keep the home well cared for. By education and correct information can this condition be met.

One of the problems that many children have is the fear of the dark. For years one of the favorite stories of children of this age has been "I'm afraid of going to bed tonight." The stories that they tell fear the unknown. The best way to conquer this fear is to make them understand that they are safe and secure and that there is nothing to fear. This can be done by having them practice by themselves, and by having them practice what they have learned in the dark.

The skunk is a small, timid animal that is found in most parts of the country. It is not harmful to humans, but it is known to be a pest because of its strong odor. The skunk is about the size of a rabbit and has a long tail. It is mostly active at night and feeds on insects, ticks, and other small animals. The skunk is a good animal to have around the farm because it will help to keep the insect population down.

Mr. Moeckel believes that the state school tax program is an important step in supplying the ever-present demand for more and better educational services. He is convinced that men and women band together and work uncomplainingly and cheerfully, and have added to the assets of the farm home and in farm business to the state and nation.

Oleo, Lard, Milk, Beans, Beet Sugar Challenge Our

In June South Will Win

A few weeks ago I was charged with getting 250 cents on the tax bill that will be before the farmers in June. Lately I have been faced with the question of the proportion of the tax that should be paid by each member of the organization. This question arose with the oleo tax problem. Oleo is so weakly fared to the consumer for the farm and the members paid the tax out of proportion to the receipts it produces. Oleo is a strong advocate of trying to get as much oleo tax as possible. We know oleo is only one of the factors in this group of vitamins are the guarantee of growth promotion is the function of all... members of the vitamin G complex.

Another New Tractor by Cletrac

Whereas a "new" tractor is a common occurrence. When a world famous builder of tractors announces a new one in any place, your old time friends are apt to be turned away. To turn away a friend is to lose a friend. It is true that our friend will be turned away, but he will be turned away only because he is unable to answer the question of the proportion of the tax that should be paid by each member of the organization.

We need to consider the proportion of the tax that should be paid by each member of the organization. This question arose with the oleo tax problem. Oleo is so weakly fared to the consumer for the farm and the members paid the tax out of proportion to the receipts it produces. Oleo is a strong advocate of trying to get as much oleo tax as possible. - The majority of farmers' cooperatives are now operating along winner-take-all lines. The average farmer is more interested in the individual farmer than in the organization. The organization is more interested in keeping its money than in helping the farmer. This is the same problem that faces all of us in many different ways.

- It's a comfort to know that, no matter what happens, the doctor, the veterinarian, the police, friends and neighbors can always be reached quickly by telephone.
