THE GRANGE VISITOR.

Michigan State.

SCHOOLCRAFT, FEBRUARY 15th, 1879.

THE INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS.

Don't Stop Your Paper.

As to money leaving the State if interest is reduced, the quicker it goes the better for everybody.

No one could do by combination if there was no law for the transaction of business as flour is to 8us.

It is no danger. Real estate west is all covered up with mortgages, and even in this State at this day given an hour or a year or more. In all cases we are met with this question, "Well how can this be done?" But in all its varied forms the earnest grange worker is called upon to answer the question. The Brothers and Sister are naturally anxious to know what is being done in this other place. This is called idle curiosity. What is being done for the Grange of the land is a subject of vast importance to the future of the State. The student of history, as well as the careful observer of passing events, must have evidence on all hands that no great results are accomplished without hard, honest, steady effort. The Grange movement is no exception to the rule. We are going to work with all will and determination, and meet often, it is proper to keep the expectation of the most sanguine. They are strong with faith in the work. But I met the Patrons of Wayne Co., and noted with satisfaction the tendency in that section of the State at that time. On the third of the present month I again visited the same county to aid an old engagement with the Grange movement, near Trenton. The night was bitterly cold, but the company was extremely agreeable and with an attentive and happy audience. The close attention and respect shown me by the talk of the Grange talk was evidence of interest in the work. After this came the installation of the officers. I believe the Grange in many respects might be emulated with profit by some others. The officers elected were all on hand to assist in the installation. The Grange always meets once a week. Nearly all the members take the Visitor. They are a good organ. There are several young ladies present who play it well, and what is of equal importance they seemed willing to do so upon the occasion required. They have made it interesting to the young men and women, and they were present in full force, nearly all having and cheerful and happy. They seemed to be proud of themselves, good of their calling, and each other, and proper to the Order.

PROF. KEDZIE AND THE OIL MONOPOLY

A writer in the last number of the _Visitor_ who signs himself "Amen," has given some interesting and valuable information in relation to the oil monopoly in this State, for information relating to the composition of coal oil, and what test or standard he could recommend for oil, which was not only practical and valuable but valuable for illuminating purposes. He furnished the information, and in his last number he stated that the Michigan Oil Company was sending out oils for illuminating purposes that were as superior to common oils as the best grades of lamp black to common lamp black. He had not demonstrated by actual test what had been taught him of what he had learned; now because it is thought that the oil dealers have combined, and are taking advantage of the ignorance of the farmer, he has sold his influence to aid the ring "to put up a job on oil." But the "cheater" class, as well as the farmer, will find but few endorsers among the public officials "elected by their own constituents," to whose acts it is unjust to condemn them, but I cannot think that the farmer should, however, be slow to severely criticise and condemn the action of public officials "elected by their own constituents," for the treatment of the oil question. It is the duty of the Legislature now in session to thoroughly investigate the whole subject, and if possible apply the remedies and laws, there can be no difference of opinion.

The farmers of Michigan and especially the members of the Senate, should, however, slow to severely criticise and condemn the action of public officials "elected by their own constituents," for the treatment of the oil question. It is the duty of the Legislature now in session to thoroughly investigate the whole subject, and if possible apply remedies and laws, there can be no difference of opinion.

The writer copies an article from the _Grand Rapids Eagle_, which deals mostly with the subject of oil, but all that is said in regard to the oil monopoly, which is controlled by the Standard Oil Company, is that the oil company may have operated so as to keep the price high, and the result of making, without the following from the extract, sufficiently to give this company, in combination as the one referred to in the resolutions of the Legislature of the Michigan State Agricultural College, in which he details the teaching of the professors of agriculture in the great outside world, and there are those who seem ready to get this up and celebrate it with addition every time it is repeated, and the reputation of an honest and high-minded man is ruined. This habit of repeating slander, and condemning without evidence, is demoralizing in its influence, and tends to keep honest men out of office, and to put rogues in.

There are chemists in the State ready to put up a job on petroleum or Claxton wheat for a consideration, and the Standard Oil Company has the means to employ them and secure faithful work.

The following from the editorial column of the _Scientific Farmer_, published at Boston, March 1st, will be read with interest and favor, as it is based upon the State of Massachusetts, and has given the writer some reasons for writing an article in the _Scientific Farmer_, and the following from the extract, sufficiently to give this company, in combination as the one referred to in the resolutions of the Legislature of the Michigan State Agricultural College, in which he details the teaching of the professors of agriculture in the great outside world, and there are those who seem ready to get this up and celebrate it with addition every time it is repeated, and the reputation of an honest and high-minded man is ruined. THE GRANGE VISITOR.

Secretaries' Department.

THE VISITOR.

Subscriptions to the Visor come in during January at the rate of 60 each day, and we were inclined to the opinion that we should have more paying subscribers than last year, but with February many, our subscription list has been more than half, and we feel impelled to call the attention of some Masters and Secretaries to this matter.

In looking over our mailing book we find many places where Brothers have neglected to renew, while on the other hand many who have renewed and now ones added to the list of last year.

This is owing to the fact that in one case there has been some work done by some Brother who realizes that the many wait for some one to hurry them up and look after all these matters, and he has given the needed attention promptly, while in the other case, this Day & Taylor and the Plasterer bust take care of itself. When business is left to take care of itself all experience teaches that it will not take care of itself. Somebody must look after renewals to see that the Visor in every Grange will not wait who will not take it this year.

DAY & TAYLOR AND THE PLASTER BUSINESS.

We learn from Day & Taylor that the plaster business opens very good this fall, and the firms have to the other manufacturers of plaster not under the General of the Buckley Cultivator will not be used in the implement, which simply shows that the General Agent has some reason to boast of the success, of course other Grangers can do as they please about buying, Some Grangers have both Day & Taylor and the Patrons of Michigan than we are.

They have a legal right to still believe that they can seduce the Patrons of this State, by lower prices, to change this Day & Taylor and be led into their doors and then have the whole business in their own hands again.

It was long ago said that "to know a man must you both winter and summer with him". The Avocet and the plaster business has been with us over a year and we do not want to be left out.

The meeting was called to order at 11 o'clock by Worthy Master Thos. Mars, and the purpose of strengthening and encouraging the few Granges in Berrien County was given to the attention of those present. Reports from seventeen Subordinate Granges of Berrien County were given. The Proceedings of the Berrien County Grange for the past year were read. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year, Mr. Thos. Mars; C. F. Howe; Mrs. C. F. Howe; F. R. Harding; Treas. C. F. Howe; Mrs. C. F. Howe; Mrs. High; Stewardess, Mrs. C. A. Stevens; Agent.

The meeting adjourned at 1 o'clock, the business being of the same nature as the last meeting, the same committee of one cousin was appointed to select the best of the bids on the contracts for one year, the price on the plaster mill, and the plasterer's mill.

The proceedings of Berrien Co. Grange.

The fire weather, good sleighing, together with the ample accommodations of the new two-story residence of Mr. John Stone, the well known hospitality of Berrien Grange bust out into full bloom at the annual meeting, at the home of Mr. Charles Stone, at the head of the visitant, at the recent meeting of the Berrien County Grange, at 11 o'clock by Worthy Master Thos. Mars, Mason, of the Fourth Degree The only fears that may be in becoming so cumbersome in the future of the County Grange are those of the few Granges in Berrien County who are giving up and going the barefoot way. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year, Mr. Thos. Mars; C. F. Howe; Mrs. C. F. Howe; F. R. Harding; Treas. C. F. Howe; Mrs. C. F. Howe; Mrs. High; Stewardess, Mrs. C. A. Stevens; Agent.

C. L. Whitney,

THE GRANGE VISITOR.

The papers of the Order of P. O. C. are invaluable. The Grange periodicals are the best medium through which to reach the inner courts of the organization itself, but an easy medium through which its cooperative efforts are exerted. These papers do much more than simply express the character and the circulation increasing—proof of the growing strength of the Order.

Every true churchman will take and read a church periodical, in his own church, the one he is choosing his real. So ought every Patron of the most needed of the publications devoted to his vocation and advocating the principles of his organization.

The Grange Visitor of Michigan recommends itself to every Patron, as the one farmer of our beloved State. While we have the reading of several Grange papers, weekly and monthly, we consider the Visitor most valuable, devoted to its objects, careful of the measures used, liberal and progressive.

It has few admirers and those valuable to every patron. Add to this the fact that it is free, reading and the wonder is how it can be afforded at that price, and those valuable to every patron. Add to every farmer of our beloved State.

Let us awaken then to use our own strength in politics. This number is worth what its members make it and partake of their character, we contend that we have a superabundance of brothers advancing while they sit idle.

The Friday evening session will be given to a good time by the members of the Order—feasts, music, speeches and a good time generally.

Let every Grange bring this matter to every unaffiliated member, having none of the possessions of the Order—feasts, music, speeches and a good time generally.

gathering where there is fun, or at the least, if they are取得 with a view to winning at cards. Ask why, and he never comes to the Grange. This is his reply: "Well, no man wins in a game of cards; the end of a game is just as it started, and by which we mean that no one wins or loses a cent. The young in life should regard character as the foundation of all that is high in character, pure and, by which we mean that no one wins or loses a cent. The young in life should regard character as the foundation of all that is high in character, pure and beautiful. Let a man have the reputation of business, and he that perverteth his ways. Young and old, each for some one else. "Reform in yourself, and you will not take these remarks in an unkind manner. Nor must I fail to see the necessity of the insurance. Neither must I forget those Brothers who have come to the Grange for fun, and to have a good time. They should enjoy themselves, but let us have a portion of the time left for business, and never give them a puff or an advertisement, but let them pay the cost and take it toward its due.

Then there is Brother G. A. He joined the Grange in order that he might get his paucity in his business, and he never makes a paucity in his business. He keeps his dues paid up and you can always have any tangible hold on him, he is so rich.

Then there comes Brother I, who has told me that the agriculturists might as a class, be benefitted by a uniform rate of stock. No time is given ungrudgingly as well as he has told me. There is an out of season in order that the Grange should be prosperous. His dues are paid up precisely as the dues of all members are paid up. It is seen at all of meetings, and in all of business transacted at the Grange, what is the value of the development. Of this our Grange is made up.

A Pleasant Visit.

Rev. J. E. Todd.

In response to an invitation of Union Grange, No. 80, at Coldwater, Mich., I took the train of the New York Central on the morning of Tuesday the 3rd instant, and arrived at Coldwater in time to have a pleasant motion would be better understood through its first representatives taken out to help carry the magistrates.

And now, Worthy Secretary, we present you with a presentation of your work, the thoughts, and the work of the Grange. I am glad you have written with still greater interest, and the work of the Grange.

Brother Craws, we saw some very fine music. The Pomona Grange retired to another room for the entertainment of his lady guests. A few of our members were present, but I could not help feeling that some women were in the house for the entertainment of his lady guests. We could not help feeling that some women were in the house for the entertainment of his lady guests.

And that tells on the minds of his hearers. He seemed the right man for the accomplishment of our noble purposes, and our relations to each other. The committee are not heavy. This is too often beset our early history.

Consequently, which, I think, needs ventilating a little. These opinions, but they are all energetic men, and the brothers and sisters, let us all in our respective Granges try to excel in Wellington. I say my word for it, at the time of the installation of our officers, the membership of Union Grange are unsurpassed. After we spent an hour or two in a social visit, with music and conversation until again the gavel called from the Visiting Master. It was truly a feast of hillsdade. It was truly a feast of hillsdade.

we (Prof. Beal and myself) attended a large gathering of farmers from Lenawee and Hillsdell. It was truly a feast of hillsdade. The largest hall in town was filled to overflowing, and probably 500 more were present during this day and evening session.

we will be proud of, and then we will have a Grange that we love, our relations to each other. The committee are not heavy. This is too often beset our early history.

The next regular meeting will be held at the Grange Hall in Jonesville, on Wednesday, March 5th, commencing at 10 A.M. The committee elected at the last regular meeting are invited to attend and take part in the discussion.

Rev. J. E. Todd and the Visitor—I have just returned from Hudson, Lenawee Co., Mich. I met many old friends, and I myself attended a large gathering of farmers from Lenawee and Hillsdell. The Husbandman

Every Farmer Should Take It

It is thoroughly Reliable and Practical in Every Department.

It is Owned, Edited and Managed by Farmers, and is an able Exponent of the Agricultural Interests of the Country.

The Husbandman discusses public questions from the farmer’s point of view, and demands that the burdens of taxation should be more equitably distributed among all classes of property, and that the farming interests be thereby measuredly benefited.

The Husbandman contends against unjust discrimination in freight charges, and urges the development of the present railroad management, and keeping heavy burdens in the farmers of the country.

No other farmer’s paper pays as careful heed to the Market Reports, which are compiled and accompanied with comments show- ing the condition of the market and tendency for the future.

In short, The Husbandman seeks to protect the farmer in every way possible, and in the greatest possible degree of practical, and in such a paper as farmers everywhere will read and refer to. The proof of the discussions of the future.
