When Junior Teases to Eat Between Meals!
CHOCOLATE JUNKET WITH WHIPPED CREAM AND PINEAPPLE

Prepare one package of Chocolate Junket in the usual way. Just before serving whip ½ cup cream to which 1 tablespoon of sugar has been added. Add sweetened crushed pineapple to whipped cream and serve on top of junket.

CHOCOLATE MARSHMALLOW SUNDAE

1 package Chocolate Junket    Marshmallow topping
1 pint milk

Prepare junket according to directions on package. When just ready to serve add 1 heaping tablespoon of marshmallow topping, which has been diluted with simple syrup, to each dessert.
HOW TO MAKE JUNKET

FIRST STEP
Get individual dessert glasses ready. Take 1 pint fresh milk (do not use condensed or evaporated milk), warm slowly to lukewarm—NOT HOT (110° F.). Remove from stove. Chocolate Junket requires milk a trifle more, than lukewarm.

SECOND STEP
Add package Junket to lukewarm milk, stirring briskly until dissolved—not more than one minute.

THIRD STEP
Pour at once into individual dessert glasses and let stand undisturbed until firm—about 10 minutes.

FOURTH STEP
When set, remove without jarring to a cold place or the refrigerator and chill before serving. Serve, when chilled, in the same glasses.
JUNKET
Works Magic With Milk

Completely transforms milk. An eggless uncooked custard. No gelatine. No cornstarch. Note this comparison:

When Junior Teases to Eat Between Meals

“I never knew what to give him between meals. Milk seemed to ruin his appetite for the next meal as much as solid foods. Then I heard a friend at the Woman’s Club tell how she gives her youngsters junket because it digests so quickly, so I tried it!” From Mary Mason’s Interviews.

* * * *

Haven’t you worried about what to give your children when they come in from play, hungry, and it is still an hour or two until dinner? Next time, try having some junket ready in the ice box and watch the magic results.

This delicious milk-food is not only nourishing, but it digests in almost half the time needed for milk. The system absorbs the nutriment and it passes out of the stomach, permitting a normal appetite for the next meal.

Thus junket is the perfect answer to the “eating between meals problem”—supplies the precious elements for energy, good muscle and bone without ruining appetites. Children simply love its custard-like creaminess, delicious flavors and natural colors.
