HERE is no part of the meal which demands more thought than the dessert. We are all content with the good old standbys for the principal courses, but with desserts it is different. Our hunger is partially satisfied by the time they appear, and we are in a more critical mood. We want something attractive to look at, and something that will gratify our sense of taste and not make too serious demands upon our digestion. The pies and hot puddings of our grandmother’s days have waned in popularity, and in their places are to be found cold and frozen desserts. For the making of these new dishes gelatine is indispensable. It may be used in an almost endless variety of ways. It makes possible numberless dishes, not less delightful to the eye than pleasing to the palate, and opens the door to constantly new achievements in culinary inventions. And gelatine is not limited in its use to the dessert course. It does service in the making of other savory dishes from soup to dessert. It is a boon in the preparation of every part of the meal.

Knox Sparkling Gelatine is made under the very best sanitary conditions and from the very best materials, and when it is made into jelly it produces that clear, sparkling effect which has made it so justly celebrated.

It is our hope that with the aid of this little book the housewife will find the making of a great variety of appetizing, nourishing and attractive dishes easier and more pleasant.

It must be remembered, however, that the recipes in this book are prepared for use with Knox Gelatine only, and to have good results no other gelatine can be used.

Knox Sparkling Gelatine is endorsed by the leading Pure Food Experts, and is used daily in homes and by domestic science teachers and teachers of cookery in the foremost cooking schools and hospital training classes in the United States and Canada, and the experience of these people has taught them to use none but the best.

Each package of Knox Sparkling Gelatine and Knox Acidulated Gelatine is sold under the positive GUARANTEE of money back if for any reason you are not satisfied.
Knox Sparkling Granulated Gelatine is put up in two packages. No. 1 is the Plain Sparkling (yellow package), and is the original, unflavored, unsweetened gelatine. No. 3 is the Sparkling Acidulated (blue package). Both packages are alike, containing two envelopes of gelatine, and make the same quantity—TWO QUARTS of jelly. The only difference between the two packages is that the No. 3 Acidulated contains an envelope of Lemon Flavoring, which takes the place of lemon juice and affords a ready prepared flavoring. The flavoring is not mixed with the gelatine in the Acidulated package, but packed in a separate envelope, thus leaving it to the purchasers to use it or not as they desire. With the No. 1 Plain package the natural fruit juices of lemons, oranges, etc., are used for flavoring, while with the No. 3 Acidulated (Busy Housekeeper’s) package the Lemon Flavoring is furnished, in concentrated form ready for use. All that is added is water and sugar and the jelly is ready to mold.

Housekeepers will have no trouble in measuring Knox Gelatine, as it is already measured in two envelopes, each one making one quart of jelly. This makes it very convenient when less than a full package is to be used, and being so divided it may be used in serving a small family as well as a large party.

Birthday Cake
(See Page 41)
QUANTITY OF LIQUID JELLED BY A PACKAGE OF KNOX SPARKLING GELATINE

Each package of Knox Gelatine makes TWO QUARTS of jelly—FOUR TIMES as much as the ready prepared packages on the market that make but one pint. That is why Knox Gelatine is so economical.

In the summer, however, and especially if the dish is to be served within two hours after molding, it is advisable to decrease slightly the quantity of liquid. In making aspic jelly, for molding meat, fish, and salad, where heavy materials are to be held up, one package of Knox Sparkling Gelatine will be required for each five cups of liquid. Remember that a package (two envelopes) of Knox Sparkling Gelatine will jell two quarts of liquid, one-half package (one envelope) one quart, and one-fourth package (one-half envelope) one pint. In trying a new recipe, estimate the full quantity of liquid required by the recipe, and see that the quantity of gelatine is proportioned correctly.

TO MOLD AND UNMOLD GELATINE MIXTURES QUICKLY

By the use of crushed ice and rock salt, jelly made with Knox Gelatine may be molded at any season in one hour. When ice and salt are not at hand, set the dish containing the gelatine mixture in cold water, or in salt and water. In winter the mold may be packed in snow, or covered and set out of doors.

To unmold, immerse the mold to the top in warm—not hot—water; then slightly loosen the jelly at the edge, turning the mold meanwhile from side to side, then place serving dish on top of mold and invert and carefully remove the mold. A delicate jelly cannot be moved easily after it has been unmolded, so that care must be taken to place it evenly on the dish. If before unmolding a lace paper doily is placed evenly over the mold, so that when inverted the doily is between the gelatine mixture and the serving dish, the jelly can be moved at will on the paper.

CAUTION—The liquid quantities in the recipes in this book are based on Wine Measurement (U. S. Standard) and are correct. However, when using the Imperial or Metric System, a quart of which measures more than one quart Wine Measure, this should be taken into consideration and less water or more gelatine used.
LAYING THE TABLE FOR DINNER OR LUNCHEON

Lay a plate for each person. At the right of the plate place an oyster fork, soup spoon and knives in the order of use, the one first used farthest from the plate. At the left of the plate lay the forks, in order of use, the one first used farthest from the plate. Have the tines of the forks and the bowls of the spoons turned upward, and the cutting edges of the knives toward the plate.

Place the napkin, folded, at the left of the forks; or, when soup is served, if desired, the napkin may be folded and placed on the plate with a roll or small piece of bread partly folded within it. Set the glass for water above the knife. If wine glasses are to be used, set the glass for water above the plate and near the center of the cover, and set the wine glasses to the right in a half circle, the one to be first used the farthest to the right and nearest the hand.
SEATING GUESTS AT TABLE

The success of a formal dinner depends greatly upon the selection of the guests and the order in which they are seated at the table.

The host and hostess should sit directly opposite each other. The ladies and gentlemen should sit in alternate seats between the host and hostess. The alternate arrangement may be followed with six or ten persons, but not when eight or twelve are present.

When dinner is announced the host should enter the dining room with the guest of honor. Then the men guests should escort the ladies into the room. The hostess with the man guest of honor should be the last to enter. The guests should stand back of their chairs until the hostess is seated, and each man should adjust the chair for the lady he is escorting and see that she is comfortably seated before he takes his place at her side.

SERVING FORMAL MEALS

Meals are served either from the dining table or by waitress or butler from the serving table and pantry. The custom now is to have the dishes passed to each guest, the meats, etc., being carved into convenient size for the purpose. They are passed to the left of the guests. All dishes, glasses, etc., not again required on the table should be removed from the left when the next course is served.

SERVING THE SALAD

Salad, served with the roast or game (on small chilled plates), is eaten with the fork provided for that course. A salad fork is supplied for a salad served as a separate course. This is placed when the table is laid, according to the position of the salad in the menu, or just before the salad is passed.

SERVING THE DESSERT

For the dessert course, spoons or forks are usually supplied when the table is set, or if one prefers they may be placed for this course after the table has been cleared. They are laid at the right of the space to be occupied by the plate. When serving the dessert with but one maid in attendance, and empty plates or plates with finger bowls are to be set before the guests, and the dessert to be brought in afterwards, place the plates before the silver. If the dessert is to be brought in on individual plates, place the silver, then bring in the dessert.

IMPORTANT—Lemon Juice is used in a number of recipes in this book. For those who prefer our Acidulated package, the Lemon Flavor contained therein may be used in place of lemon juice. In some cases the housekeeper will have to use her own judgment as to how much to use and flavor the dish according to taste.

Soak gelatine five minutes in cold water. Dissolve in boiling water and add cider and sugar to taste. Stir until sugar is dissolved, strain into mold, first dipped in cold water, and chill.

Add hot water to the syrup to make three cups and in this dissolve the softened gelatine. Add lemon juice and when jelly begins to thicken, the raisins and nuts, stirring them through the jelly, and pour over the apples. Knox Sparkling Gelatine is a plain, straight product, and the flavoring and coloring are packed in separate envelopes in each package and not mixed with the gelatine. To insure the making of attractive, healthful and appetizing gelatine dishes for the sick and convalescent, one should use Plain Granulated Gelatine, and add pure flavors, sweetening, seasonable fruits, etc. Gelatine dishes are taking an important part in dietetics, and physicians are ordering them very largely in the diet of their patients. The careful practitioner, however, recommends only a wholesome, plain gelatine which is found in Knox Sparkling Gelatine.

KNOX MAYONNAISE DRESSING

1 teaspoonful Knox Sparkling Gelatine 1/2 tablespoonful Lemon Juice.
1 teaspoonful mustard, if liked. 4 tablespoonsfuls olive oil.
1 teaspoonful salt. Few grains cayenne. 2 cups olive oil.

Mix mustard, salt, sugar and cayenne. Add egg yolks, and when well mixed one-half teaspoonful Lemon Juice; then add gelatine, soaked in one-half tablespoonful Lemon Juice five minutes, and dissolved over boiling water. Cool, and add oil gradually, at first drop by drop, and stir constantly. As mixture thickens, thin with remaining lemon juice. Add oil and lemon juice alternately, until all is used, stirring or beating constantly. If oil is added too rapidly, dressing will have a curdled appearance. Olive oil for the making of mayonnaise should be thoroughly chilled. Mayonnaise should be stiff enough to hold its shape.

NOTE—If preferred, mild vinegar may be used in place of the lemon juice. A little garlic or onion and a teaspoonful of curry powder may be mixed with the dressing to give an added flavor. A small amount of Knox Gelatine added to a cooked dressing improves it and makes it stand up firm and hard.

BUTTER MIXTURE

NOTE—This mixture is intended for immediate use, and will do the work of two pounds of ordinary butter for table use and for baking cakes, muffins, etc., but is not used for frying purposes.

1 pound good butter. 1 heaping teaspoonful Knox Gelatine.
2 pint bottles milk or one quart. 2 teaspoonsful salt.

Take the top cream of two pint bottles of milk, and add enough of the milk to make one pint. Soak the gelatine in two tablespoonsfuls of the milk ten minutes; place in a dish of hot water until gelatine is thoroughly dissolved. Cut the butter in small pieces and place same in a dish over hot water until the butter begins to soften; then gradually whip the milk and cream and dissolved gelatine into the butter with a Dover egg beater. After the milk is thoroughly beaten into the butter add the salt to taste. If the milk forms keep on beating until all is mixed in. Place on ice or in a cool place until hard. If a yellow color is desired, use butter coloring.

Soups and gravies are much better if gelatine is used in them. By using it in a thin soup stock it will make a rich, nourishing soup.
An "Inch-High" Icing

By Mrs. Knox

Have you ever wondered how to make a fluffy "inch-high" icing, soft inside, but glossy and smooth on top? It was my discovery (one day while icing a cake for a special occasion) that the addition of Knox Sparkling Gelatine made a higher, softer, better frosting. And I have been using it in my "fluffy inch-high" icings—as my friends call them—ever since. Try the following recipe for yourself—I know it will please you.

FLUFFY ICING

1 teaspoonful Knox Sparkling Gelatine. (1 teaspoonful orange extract, if desired).
3 tablespoonfuls cold water. 1 cup sugar.
½ teaspoonful vanilla. 2 egg whites.

Soak the gelatine in the cold water in a small cup and dissolve by melting over hot water. Add the sugar to the hot water and cook directly over the fire until the syrup will spin a thread. Turn out the heat, or remove pan from the fire, and add the liquid gelatine immediately, pouring it through a strainer into the syrup. Have egg whites beaten until stiff on a platter or a very large plate, and very slowly add the syrup, beating constantly between additions. When all the syrup has been added, add flavoring, pour icing in top of double boiler and cook over hot water, beating constantly with a slotted or other wooden spoon. When icing becomes so thick spoon can be drawn through it without icing running together again, it is ready to pile on cake. Remove from fire and pile icing quickly on cake, evening top with a broad-bladed knife. If the icing should lose its shine, continue icing cake as usual but leave a little of the icing in the double boiler; to this add two or three tablespoonfuls of hot water and cook until thickened, but not as thick as the first icing. Pour this on top of the dull icing and a glossy finish will be the result.

This recipe makes an icing that is an inch or over in height, soft in texture inside, with a glossy smooth appearance on top.

If desired, half of it may be used as a cake filling previous to cooking in the double boiler, and the other half used as an icing. This quantity will make an inch-high icing for the top of a medium sized cake. For a layer cake, double the quantities given here.
Home-Made Marshmallow Creme

By Mrs. Knox

The confectioners' marshmallow cremes and whips which are so popular today as cake fillings and icings, sundae sauces and dessert decorations are very easy to make at home with Knox Sparkling Gelatine. This recipe is one which I know to be unusually good and makes two pints of creme. It is not only more delicious, but far less expensive than the kind you buy. It can be made up quickly and kept on hand in case of unexpected company or other emergency.

MARSHMALLOW CREME (Makes two pints)

1 rounding teaspoonful Knox Gelatine. Few grains salt.
1 1/2 teaspoonfuls vanilla.
1 1/4 cups cold water. 2 cups fine granulated sugar.
2 cups fine granulated sugar. 1 egg white.

Soak gelatine in 1/4 cup water for five minutes. Put remaining water and sugar in a saucepan, bring to boiling point and let boil until syrup will spin a thread when dropped from tip of spoon. Add soaked gelatine, let stand until partially cooled, then add flavoring and beat until mixture becomes white and thick. Whip white of egg until stiff, adding salt and fold into the marshmallow creme. Pour into glass jars and keep covered in a cool place. Whip up with fork before using as filling in cake. Apply with teaspoon when garnishing desserts. By adding different flavors to the creme, such as lemon, orange, chocolate, almond, etc., deliciously flavored fillings and sauces may be made.

MRS. KNOX'S UNBAKED MERINGUE

1 teaspoonful Knox Sparkling Gelatine. 2 egg whites.
3 tablespoonfuls cold water. 8 tablespoonfuls powdered sugar.

Beat the egg white until stiff. Soak the gelatine in the cold water and dissolve over hot water. When gelatine is dissolved pour it through a strainer onto egg white and beat vigorously, adding the sugar and beating all until well blended. Pile on top of pudding or pie and serve cold.
