And by her guessing she spoiled the meat.
What of the moral? 'Tis easy to see
A good cook measures and weighs to a T."

KNOW YOUR CRACKERS!
There are fig bars made of ungraded figs, inferior shortenings—but there's only one FIG NEWTON. There are crackers that make a claim to crispness—but there's only one PREMIUM FLAKE CRACKER.

We use high score butter, clean-milled flour, rich chocolate, hand-picked fruit—the selfsame choice ingredients you choose for your own good cooking. We take scrupulous pains to keep our floors spotless, our baking sheets shining, to employ only trustworthy bakers. And the big red seal on every box of “Uneeda Bakers” crackers is our pledge of good faith to you. So for your own protection look for the big red Uneeda seal and buy your crackers by name.

"Let's go cracker cooking

"A W S, Missy," said Mandy, when I asked her for her recipe for Ginger Muffins, "hit's as easy as nuffin in dis world. I just takes a good piece of butter and more'n you'd think o' sugar and as many aigs as it looks like hit needs, and I stir 'em all up with flour and baking powder and milk" . . . and yet Mandy's muffins are grand. But most of us need to be more exact in our cooking measurements to achieve good results.

Just look at the cups in your cupboard and see how they vary in size. Spoons, too, have different-sized bowls. So when you start your cracker cooking please bear in mind that the recipes in Menu Magic are created with accurate measurements. Use an eight ounce measuring cup, marked for quarters, thirds and halves, use regulation measuring spoons. And remember that a cupful, or a spoonful, means level—not rounded or heaped.

Uneeda Bakers recipe for Ginger Muffins, on page 21, makes them as good as Mandy's, but you'll find this and all the recipes in this book turn out most successfully when directions are followed exactly and accurately.

And this means also that it is important to use the cracker named. For crackers, too, vary greatly in quality, flavor and texture. Only "Uneeda Bakers" crackers and cookies can give you the happy results that your cracker cookery is entitled to.

And just one word more.

Because "there are as many tastes as tongues," you will undoubtedly like some of the recipes in this booklet more than others. But this is true of all cook books. So I shall be happy to think that all of you are finding some choice new recipes to add to your own collection.

Please write me frankly about your use of them. I shall value your letters and their suggestions.

Cordially,
Nancy Best
START THE DAY IN HIGH!

START the day with a good humored breakfast — and you will find life easier and happier.

Of course you need the essential foods — milk to keep your body strong, fruit to guard your health, and the quick energy fuel in well-baked cereals and crackers—that’s a safe rule to follow.

But don’t wear out breakfasts’ welcome by serving them in “just the same old way.” Not when it’s so easy to put variety into breakfasts, such fun to see the faces at the breakfast table brighten, such solid satisfaction to get the day off to a jolly good start.

Here’s to merrier breakfasts! And here they are—

Mix shortening and honey and add well beaten egg. Crumble crackers and add milk, salt and baking powder. Put mixture into greased muffin pans and bake in a hot oven (425° F) 20 minutes. 12 small muffins.

GRAHAM PINEAPPLE FRITTERS

| 3 eggs, beaten | ¼ tsp. baking powder |
| ¼ tsp. salt | 1 cup cut-up drained pineapple |
| 26 Uneeda Graham Crackers (small) |

Beat eggs, add salt, crumbled crackers and baking powder. Fold in drained pineapple. Fry by spoonfuls in butter or a small amount of hot fat. 6 portions.
PLAIN OMELET—Four eggs serve six when you add 3 crumbled Premium Flake Crackers and 2 tablespoons milk to each egg in your omelet. Melt butter, pour in egg mixture, and cook, covered, over low flame until set. Fold and serve with or without crisp bacon.

SCRAMBLED EGGS AND SAUSAGE—To serve six, crumble 12 Premium Flake Crackers, moisten with ½ cup milk, and stir in 4 eggs. Cook in a small amount of hot butter over moderate flame, stirring until thickened. Pan-fry 12 small link sausages, and serve eggs on warm platter surrounded with sausage.

SHREDDED WHEAT TOAST—Split and toast Shredded Wheat. Serve buttered as toast, with hot milk and salt or sugar as milk toast, or use as a foundation for creamed meat, fish, eggs, or for hash.

UNEEDA GRAHAM CRACKERS served with cut fruit and rich milk make a completely rounded breakfast.

OYSTERETTES or DANDY Oyster Crackers offer a pleasant change for breakfast. Serve them with hot milk.

HOLLAND RUSK are a fine breakfast bread and also make an excellent base for poached, creamed or scrambled eggs, hash, and creamed meat or fish.

ZWIEBACK with marmalade is a treat with the second cup of coffee or cocoa, or makes fine milk toast.

AND LET'S HAVE COOKIES

Just a taste of something sweet—it's a good way to round off any meal—an extra good way to add interest to breakfast. Put a plate of any of "Uneeda Bakers" sweet cookies on the breakfast table—and see how happily the family help themselves!
NEW LIGHT on LUNCHES!

Easy enough for the cracker cook to serve "something new" for lunch! Look at these menus. Read the recipes. Don't they sound GOOD TO EAT?

They're every bit as much fun to cook. For you know when you start (and you start with the hard work done!) that cracker cookery simply CAN'T FAIL!

QUICK TRICKS: and

COFFEE ICE CREAM topped with whipped cream and a gay cherry, and to dress it up—that distinguished sweet biscuit, the Oreo Sandwich. There's a dessert in a hurry!

BEAT UP A MERINGUE, pile it lightly on Lorna Doone Shortbreads, brown in a slow oven, and serve each individual meringue with a spoonful of sparkling jelly in the center. New, quick—and good to eat!

GUESTS FOR TEA! Serve something new. Blend cream cheese with enough orange juice to moisten, add a teaspoonful of grated orange rind and shape in balls. Serve each dainty ball on its own Butter Wafer, garnished with festive green parsley.

SOMETHING NEW in a Charlotte Russe—Fig Newtons cut in thin strips, posed around the edges of a sherbet glass, filled with sweetened whipped cream, and topped with a cherry or a sweet canned fig.
MORE OF THEM!

TRY THIS CATERERS’ TRICK! Cut a pint brick of ice cream in small cubes. Press Nabisco against the sides, cutting to fit if necessary. Sprinkle the cream with grated chocolate and serve with a small fresh flower.

HALF THE FUN of playing bridge is the nibbling that goes with it. And “Uneeda Bakers” Royal Sticks, Chocolate Mint Wafers, Epinuts, Chocolate Fingers, and Nabisco Wafers make exciting nibbling.

AS GOOD FOR YOUR HEALTH as it’s good to your tongue is this novel one-dish lunch. Hot Shredded Wheat, hollowed out in basket shape, filled with seasoned spinach, and topped with a poached egg.

WHEN YOU SERVE A MOLDED SALAD, try your hand at this garnish. Design your own “flowers” of small Cheese Tidbits, with strips of green pepper for the stems. Cheese Tidbits and sliced stuffed olives form a decorative border.
AND NOW TO DO
YOUR OWN CRACKER COOKING!

Don’t think the things in this cook book are all you can do with crackers. They’re not even the beginning.

As you read through the book and try the recipes you’ll probably be finding out that crackers are life-savers in at least three ways:

TO stretch a dish —

When you want to make two eggs do the work of three, dress up yesterday’s leftovers for today’s whole meal, stretch a bit of this and a dab of that into something really exciting—that’s the time to depend on crackers! Try some of the recipes in this book—and you’ll see how easy and pleasant it is to put crackers to work for you.

TO sidestep failure —

If your pie crust doesn’t always come out of the oven crisp and tender, if your souffles are entirely too apt to fall—that’s another place to count on crackers. Cracker pie crust can’t fail—all the difficult blending and baking is done. Cracker souffles don’t fall—(they go farther, too). And as you look through the recipes in this book, you’ll see how you can take the guesswork out of many of your favorite dishes by the simple addition of crackers.

TO add new flavor —

“Uneeda Bakers” crackers are so good themselves you’ll find they always add new interest, new delight to your own good cooking. Now you can have FLAVORED pie crusts—chocolate crust, ginger crust, vanilla crust. You can add the flavor of spicy crackers, sweet crackers, salty crackers, to any dish you want to step up.

So to make your cooking go farther, to guard against failure, to add new flavor and interest to your meals — TRY CRACKER COOKERY. We believe you’ll find it fun!
I'd like to know!

It all started last Spring when I had the pleasure of preparing the first book of "Menu Magic." Would women like the recipes? Would they find in them genuine help in planning meals? Almost in a whisper I asked them to tell me how successful they were with cracker cookery.

The letters that came in every mail were the best kind of encouragement for preparing the "Summer Book of Menu Magic," and now this new fall edition. This time I'm going to be a lot bolder and ask you to do a genuine favor for me.

First, after you have tried some of these recipes, will you please tell me which three you like best? Tell me, too, how your family liked them. Then, if you have worked out any recipes of your own, using crackers as ingredients, would you please pass them on to me? I know this book only scratches the surface of the many, many excellent dishes that can be improved by cracker cookery.

And please, if any of your friends want to be cracker cooks, don't feel you have to give them your cook book! Just send me their names and addresses—and I'll see that they get a copy of "Menu Magic" right away! Thank you.
