Foreword.

It is a great pleasure to us to give you this booklet, "Meat for the Family." We feel sure that the housewife of today will welcome a book on meat cookery which was made possible by the interest that the housewife of tomorrow has shown in the subject. This is indeed the case and "Meat for the Family" is really a gift from the high-school girl to her mother, as it is an outgrowth of the Second National Meat Story Contest, conducted by the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

The Second National Meat Story Contest was conducted to carry on the good work begun by the first contest—the education of the high-school girl in the selection and preparation of meat. Instructors of home economics, who found the first contest of estimable value to them in stimulating the students' interest, enthusiastically greeted the second contest and so did the girls.

High-school girls—thirteen thousand five hundred of them—from every state in the Union and from Alaska, Porto Rico, and the Virgin Islands, as well, manifested a lively interest in the contest. One result is this little book of one hundred fifty-five meat recipes, all of which are practical and economical, all of which are good, and many of which are delightfully new and unusual.

The Judges of the contest were well-known home economics authorities. Dr. Louise Stanley, Chief of the Bureau of Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture, who was chairman of the judging committee of the first contest, served in the same capacity for the second contest. The other judges were Miss Ruth Wardall, Director of the Department of Home Economics, University of Illinois; Dr. Katharine Blunt, Chairman of the Department of Home Economics, University of Chicago; Miss Margaret Fedde, Director of the Department of Home Economics, University of Nebraska; and Miss Anne Pierce, consultant and special writer on foods of New York City.

Ude, chef to Louis XVI, once said: "Prominence in cookery never occurs under thirty years of age, and nothing but consummate experience can elevate one to the rank of chief professor. In connection with diligent and studious application one must possess no small share of intellect.” We agree with the last statement—application and intellect are indeed necessary to make a good cook, but we believe that Ude, himself, were he here to read the recipes contained in “Meat for the Family,” would gladly admit that the girls who submitted them are well on their way, long before thirty, to attaining prominence in cookery.

In the days of Ude each individual housewife had to learn how to cook, and she learned very largely by means of the trial and error method. She learned by failure after failure. It is small wonder that years were necessary in acquiring skill. Today, a system of home economics instruction in the schools throughout the country equips the future housekeeper to attack the problems of cooking with a reasonable expectation of success. That the young women of today recognize the value of such education is attested by this little book of well thought out meat recipes.

Beef Dishes

BEEFSTEAK à la HENRIETTA

Porterhouse steak  1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 c. butter  2 tbsp. catsup
3 egg yolks  1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tbsp. cold water  1 tsp. finely chopped parsley
1/2 tsp. lemon juice  Few grains cayenne

Divide butter into 3 pieces. Put 1 piece in saucepan with yolks of eggs, slightly beaten and mixed with water and lemon juice. Place saucepan in a larger one containing boiling water and stir constantly with wire whisk until butter is melted, then add second and third pieces as it thickens. Add water, cook 1 min. and season, then add catsup and parsley. Pour 1/2 of sauce on serving dish. Place broiled porterhouse steak on sauce and cover with remaining sauce. Garnish with parsley.

Dorothy Russum, Osborne High School, Osborne, Kan.

BEEFSTEAK WITH ONIONS

Slice the onions under water and drain. Place in a shallow saucepan, cover closely and cook over a slow fire for 15 or 20 min. till tender. No water or fat should be used, as the onions contain both moisture and richness. Panbroil the steak. Put the onions into the pan in which the steak has been cooked and brown them. Serve the steak with onions around it.

Evelyn G. Morgan, Leavitt Institute, Turner, Me.

BRAISED OXTAIL

2 lb. oxtail  1 c. white turnips
1 c. carrots  1/2 c. finely minced onion

Use large tails. Divide at joints, wipe clean and sauté in fat in a hot pan. Cook pieces in 1 1/2 pt. of water; add cubes of carrots and turnips and finely minced onion. Cook slowly in closely covered dish for 1 1/4 hr. Shortly before serving add 2 tbsp. of salt, 1 tsp. of pepper, and a little chopped parsley. Serve the tails on a bed of freshly cooked macaroni, sprinkled with grated cheese. Strain sauce through a colander and pour over dish.

Katharine F. Sitton, Somerset High School, Somerset, Ky.

BRAISED SHORT RIBS

Roll and tie or skewer 3 1/2 or 4 lb. of short ribs of beef. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and dredge with flour. Sear all sides in melted suet or drippings. Place in a roasting pan or iron pot with tight cover. Add 1 carrot, 1 turnip, 1 onion, 1 small green pepper, 1 stalk of celery cut in slices or cubes, 1 sprig parsley, and 3 c. boiling water. Cover tightly and let simmer for 3 to 4 hr. Remove the cover, place medium-sized parboiled potatoes around the meat, set in the oven uncovered for 45 min. or until the meat and potatoes are well browned. Remove the meat and potatoes from the dish; make gravy by thickening the liquid with 2 tbsp. of flour and more water if necessary; season. Remove the skewer or string from the meat and serve it in a deep platter with potatoes as a border. Onions may be cooked whole with the meat and potatoes.

BROILED STEAK

Trim off superfluous fat from a porterhouse or sirloin steak. Grease wire broiler with some of the fat. Place meat on the broiler and broil over a clear fire, turning every 10 sec. for the first min. so that the surface may be well seared. This prevents escape of the juices. After the first min. turn occasionally until well cooked on both sides. Steak cut 1½ inch thick will take 10 min., if liked rare; 12 to 15 min. if desired medium. Remove to hot platter, spread with butter, and sprinkle with salt and pepper.

Lessie Beasley, Barnwell High School, Barnwell, S. C.

PANBROILED BEEFSTEAK

Wipe and trim a sirloin or porterhouse steak, cut 1½ inches thick. Place in a piping hot skillet. Sear on one side, turn the steak and sear on the other side. Broil 10 to 15 min., turning often. Have ready a heated platter with 1 tbsp. melted butter. Take steak from fire, turn it from one side to the other in the butter and add 1 tsp. salt and ½ tsp. pepper. Place on a heated serving platter and serve at once.

Vida Gottbehent, Tomah High School, Oakdale, Wis.

POT-ROAST WITH VEGETABLES

3 or 4 lb. chuck roast 3 tbsp. fat (preferably from salt pork)
1 c. sliced onions Salt and pepper
1 c. celery cut in bits
1 c. sliced turnips

If the meat is not in a solid piece skewer or tie it into shape; wipe it with damp cheese cloth and roll in flour. Season with salt and pepper. Boil vegetables in salted water to barely cover, until soft. Rub through a coarse strainer. Heat fat in a frying pan or Dutch oven. Put in the meat and brown on all sides. If the frying pan is used, transfer the meat, after it is brown, to a kettle, unless the pan is deep enough to hold the beef. Pour the vegetables and their liquid over the meat together with any seasoning desired. Cover tightly and let simmer slowly for 4 or 5 hr., turning twice. Thicken the gravy a little and pour over the meat.

Doris E. Morgan, Medford High School, Bly, Ore.

ROAST SIRLOIN OF BEEF

Wipe the meat with a damp cloth. Dredge the fat with salt and flour, and also rub flour well into the flesh. Set to bake in a hot oven. Turn the under or tenderloin side uppermost, so that the meat which is unprotected by fat may be seared over on the outside and the juices kept within. After the roast is half cooked turn the fat side up and finish the cooking on this side, letting the fat become well browned. Baste every 10 min. with the fat in the pan, and dredge with flour after each basting. The heat should be such that the fat and flour in the pan be not overcooked; if too dark the fat is not fit for basting, and the flour and meat juices are unsuitable for brown sauce to be served with roast. Cook the roast about 15 min. for each lb. of meat.

1/2 tsp. salt

Kathryn Kinney, Sandpoint High School, Sandpoint, Idaho.

CORNED BEEF

Wash the meat quickly and, if it has been in brine longer than desired, cover it with cold water and bring slowly to a boil; drain off the water and reheat with fresh cold water. As soon as the liquid bubbles, reduce the heat, add a few peppercorns and continue the slow cooking (always below the boiling point) until the meat is tender. At least 1 hr. of cooking will be required on each lb. of beef. Keep the meat closely covered during cooking and it will have to be turned when partly done, if the water does not cover it. Parsnips, carrots, turnips, and potatoes can be added during cooking if it is desired. Cabbage and meat should not be placed in the same kettle. Cut the cabbage into quarters, use some of the stock to cook it in to obtain a meat flavor. Vegetables can all be cooked in the stock, without the beef if the meat is to be served cold.

Mary McKenna, Belle Plaine High School, Belle Plaine, Minn.

CORNED BEEF AND DANDELION GREENS

Place the brown corned beef in the center of a hot platter, and put the potato mixture in the pan and heat quickly until slightly browned, then arrange in mounds at once at each end of the platter, and garnish with small pickled gherkins.

1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
½ tbsp. minced parsley
Dash of nutmeg and cloves
Bacon
Flour

Trim off the membrane and any extra suet from flank steak. Wipe with damp cloth, and score each side across the grain of meat, being careful not to cut too far through meat. 2 tbsp. drippings
¼ tsp. pepper
2½ c. water

2 c. bread crumbs
1 tsp. dried herbs
1 tsp. salt
Grated rind of ½ lemon

Prepare a dressing by blending the bread crumbs, parsley, herbs, seasonings, and lemon rind. Spread this over the meat, roll up and tie firmly. Place in a deep pan in which the drippings have been heated. Turn the meat about so as to brown the entire surface, then add the water, cover closely and simmer for 2 hr. or until the meat is thoroughly tender. Thicken the gravy with a little flour. Color, if desired, with caramel. For a one-dish meal garnish with tomatoes or peppers, carrots and string beans, or any vegetable.

Lucille Ellis, Greencastle High School, Greencastle, Ind.

CARDINAL OF BEEF

Melt in the bottom of a saucepan ¼ c. butter. Add 1 c. of chopped celery stalks, ¼ c. of field mushrooms, cut in quarters, and 2 sweet peppers cut in strips, after removing the seeds and white inside parts. Cook all over a hot fire, stirring to prevent burning, for 5 min., after the butter begins to sizzle. Turn all into a casserole. Put in the saucepan 2 lb. of lean beef, cut into small pieces. Cook until brown all over—this will take from 5 to 10 min., then add ½ tsp. of paprika, or enough to redder the mixture. Place the beef over the vegetables in the casserole, pour over it 1 pt. of strained tomato pulp, cover and cook in a hot oven for ½ hr., removing the cover for the last 10 min., to promote evaporation and concentrate the tomato pulp.

Louise Crowe, Las Vegas High School, Las Vegas, Nev.
CASSEROLE OF BEEFSTEAK

Sauté 3 sliced onions in 1 tbsp. of butter in a pan; put them into a casserole. Cut a steak from the upper side or the round into pieces large enough for one portion. Put these into the pan and sear on all sides, then put into the casserole. Add a tbsp. of flour to the pan, let it brown, add 1 1/2 c. water and stir until thickened, season with salt, pepper and a tbsp. of chopped parsley. Add a little Worcestershire sauce and mushroom catsup. The sauce will be richer if stock is used instead of water. Pour the sauce over the meat, cover the casserole, set in the oven and cook slowly until the meat is tender. Cover the top with parboiled sliced potatoes, and return to the oven to finish cooking the potatoes. Serve in the casserole.

Hattie Brown, Akron High School, Akron, Colo.

CONCORDIA a la MODE BEEF

Purchase 5 or more lb. of bottom round of beef in a piece. Lard it with small fingers of fat salt pork on both sides, dredge with pepper and salt and brown all over in a hot kettle or frying pan containing no fat. The last 5 min. add 4 or 5 small onions whole, a carrot, 1/2 turnip and a couple of pieces of celery, all diced, and stir them carefully while they also brown slightly. Cover with boiling water, after removing to a deep kettle, if browned in a frying pan, add 2 cloves, bay leaf, 2 or 3 sprigs of parsley and 1/2 c. tomato juice or a single tomato chopped. Cover, set in an oven and let cook slowly 4 hr., or until very tender. Turn once, and occasionally rinse and scrape off the brown that will form on the sides of the kettle, to melt and improve the flavor of the broth. To serve lift out on a hot platter and garnish with mounds of cooked, chopped and seasoned beets and carrots and potato balls sprinkled with chopped parsley—all very hot. Pour off most of the broth, leaving just enough for gravy retaining the diced vegetables; thicken with flour and butter melted together. Next day remove the cake of fat from the clear broth poured off, strain through double cheesecloth, season more highly if desired, and there will be a consommé which may be diluted a bit by adding hot water or tomato juice or other clear soup stock.

Thelma Brenizer, Hudson High School, Hudson, Ohio.

BAKED BEEF AND TOMATOES

2 c. cooked beef 1 c. stewed tomatoes
1 onion 1/2 c. gravy
Salt 5 slices buttered bread
Pepper

If there is any cold meat in the house, either ends of cold roast beef or steak, this is a dish that can be made very quickly. It can also be made with raw meat, but this will, of course, take a little longer than if left-overs are used. Cut the meat into rather large dice and free it from all bones and gristle. Peel and slice the onion rather thin, mix it with the meat and put the whole in an earthenware or heavy china pudding-dish. Add the tomatoes, which can be either freshly stewed or canned, add also the gravy. Season well with salt and pepper, and place in a hot oven. If you have no gravy left add a little water. When the dish has cooked for about 20 min., pull to front of the oven and cover the top with slices of thickly buttered bread, the butter side up. When these have turned to a golden brown, the dish is done.

Esther Vermillion, Monett High School, Monett, Mo.

CROWN OR CORONET ROAST OF PORK

Roast as you would ordinary spare ribs and serve with mashed potatoes inside the "crown" and a border of bright red steamed apples as a garnish. The apples should be of uniform size and steamed, rather than baked, to preserve their color.

\[ 2 \text{ c. milk (skimmed milk will do)} \]

Cut codfish into strips, soak in lukewarm water. Cook in fresh water until tender, but do not allow the water to come to the boiling point except for a very short time, as prolonged boiling may make it tough. Cut pork into \( \frac{1}{4} \) inch slices and cut several gashes in each piece. Fry very slowly until golden brown and remove, pouring off the fat. With 4 tbsp. of fat, the flour and the milk, make a white sauce. Serve codfish with pieces of pork, boiled potatoes and beets around it.

\[ 6 \text{ cabbage leaves} \]

Mix rice and sausage slightly. Place about \( \frac{1}{3} \) of the mixture in the center of a cabbage leaf that has been dipped in hot water long enough to wilt it. Fold leaf around the mixture and fasten with toothpicks or string, making it as nearly round as possible. Place the tomato pulp in a saucepan, when hot add cabbage balls, using large enough pan that the balls may be placed in a single layer. Sprinkle with salt, add enough water for the liquid to about cover the cabbage. Cook in a covered saucepan for about 45 min., until tender. Turn occasionally and watch to keep from sticking. GENERAL METHOD OF PREPARING SWEETBREADS
Wash sweetbreads and soak them for 2 hr. in cold water. Add the juice of \( \frac{1}{2} \) lemon or 1 tbsp. of vinegar and a few grains of salt to the water in which the sweetbreads are soaked. After soaking for the time specified, drain the sweetbreads and place them in a saucepan of cold water and put over the fire; add 1/2 tsp. of salt; bring to a boil and let simmer for 20 min. Drain and plunge them into cold water. Drain thoroughly, press into shape and put in a cool place. They are now ready for general use. This is called blanching.

CREAMED SWEETBREADS IN DRESDEN PATTIES

Cut dry bread in 2-inch slices. Shape with a round cutter and remove centers, making cases. Dip cases in egg, slightly beaten, diluted with milk (2 tbsp. to each egg), and seasoned with salt. When bread is thoroughly soaked, drain and fry in deep fat. Separate sweetbreads (they have already been soaked in cold water for 1 hr., plunged into boiling water, parboiled for 20 min. and replunged into cold water to blanch them) and season with salt and pepper. Make a medium white sauce and warm the sweetbreads in it. Serve in hot Dresden patties and garnish with hard-boiled eggs.

BEEF TONGUE WITH RAISINS

Select a smoked or pickled tongue and soak it overnight in cold water. Place it in fresh cold water, add 1/2 lemon, thinly sliced, 1 bay leaf, 3 or 4 cloves, 1/2 onion, 6 peppercorns, and, if you have it, 1 small chili pepper. Simmer until tender, remove from the liquor, skin and trim neatly, and set aside while the sauce is made. For this boil the liquor down rapidly to reduce its quantity. Melt 2 tbsp. of butter, add 2 tbsp. of flour and cook to a smooth paste, then add 3 c. of the liquor which has been strained, seasoned well and stir in the juice of 1/2 lemon and 1/2 c. of large seeded raisins. Simmer till smooth and slightly thickened, then add the tongue and continue simmering for 10 min. Remove the tongue to a platter and serve the sauce separately.
