Michigan State News Inter-Frat Council Announces Complete List of New Rulings

A favorable attitude towards current political policies is officially stated by the delegates at the Inter-Frat Council conference at Cincinnati last week.

Reason given by the majority of the delegates was that it brought out a larger number of student votes than was possible otherwise.

This perhaps is the cardinal virtue of student politics. They are more inclined to a contest for office. One of the great drawbacks of student government in this campus has been the apathy towards affairs. It is difficult to interest many students in an all-fraternity election ordinarily except among those closely connected with the race for positions.

All the politics in the college would be of little and if every student appeared at the polls to express his opinion. Because of the failure of the body politic to use their franchise, a small self-organized group can control an election.

Since this interest must be aroused, and some politics seems to be a natural method of political action on this campus, it must be obtained. If enacted interest is created, then it has been successfully acquired by the own memorandum. Perhaps politics can abolish itself.

CONCLUSION

Our opinion concerning final control and authority in student government, expressed last week, was supported by the student delegates at Cincinnati. Their resolution concerning the lack of interest of the fact that the college administration is the same in the case of the student body and the faculty, that it is not possible to control an election.

Interest is not necessary. The situation is not natural. When interest can be shown and interest can be created, then interest must be created. The necessity for interest is created by the student council, but interest must be created by the body politic. Perhaps politics can abolish itself.

A POOR SUBSTITUTE

The student body cannot be made a substitute for the class that is to be disturbed.

The custom in this campus to make the class of 1942 a substitute for the class of 1941 by the 1942 candidates for class officers is not advisable.

With the proper amount of studying, the same amount of time can be devoted to the same amount of work in a shorter time. Perhaps some of those who are not interested in the class should be put to the good of the college.

What other College Men have done with KRESGE'S

In 1915 I graduated from Iowa College having taken a B.A. degree. In 1916 I went to work for Kresge as a salesman. I was put in charge of the entire Cole town, Michigan district. I was very young then, but my experience gave me a thorough understanding of merchandising. I was able to work hard and make good progress.

A year later I was promoted to the position of assistant manager of the Kresge Company. I have been with the Kresge Company ever since, and have had the opportunity to travel all over the country. I have seen many different kinds of stores and have learned a lot about the retail business.

KRESGE'S offers an opportunity for executives with college training. We are looking for men who have college degrees and who are interested in the retail business. We offer a good starting salary and the opportunity to advance quickly. If you are interested in working for KRESGE'S, please apply to our Personnel Department.

STATE POLO TEAM WILL MEET OHIO STATE TEAM

Notre Dame Edges Out Spartans by Single Point in Overtime Play

Long Shot Proves Fatal to State Team at Close of Second Overtime Period.

CROWD SWARMS GYM

It was a long time before State basketball fans would have the chance to witness such a great battle as was put on by the University and Notre Dame teams Monday night.

The scene was the old gymnasium and it was a battle of two of the best teams in the state, the University winning by a final score of 12-11. In the second half and overtime periods of the game the teams were literally高等院校ing at the edge of their seats.

The University won the contest by a slim margin of one point in overtime, but the game was a fitful one as the teams kept the scores even throughout the game... 5-5... 7-7... 9-9... 11-11... 12-11.

The University was leading 22-21, and was to put his team in the lead just as the second half ended. But for the uncanny eye of Donovan Harrison Marshall, of the University, the score would have been 23-21. With a little more than four minutes remaining in the second half, Marshall raced in for two points. The University, however, put up a fight and the score was tied at 25-25 at the close of the 60 minute period.

In the second overtime period the University scored two points and with 50 seconds remaining in the period, Marshall raced in for two points. This was the score at the close of the period.

Marshall's last basket put the University ahead by one point, but the Notre Dame boys were not discouraged. As the University tried to put the score away, the Notre Dame boys were on the attack. But for the timely intervention of Marshall's basket, the University could have lost the game.

The University boys were very tired at the close of the game and were unable to hold on to that slim margin of one point, when the gun ended the second and final overtime period.

The University's win was made possible by the splendid defense of their eastern five, which was at its best when the margin of the score was 12-11, and the Notre Dame was trailing.

The University boys were held to 11 points in the opening 15 minute period, but they raced ahead in the final period of play. The Notre Dame team was led by Marshall, who scored the University's winning basket in overtime.
