Largest Grand March of Season Features Annual Military Ball in Masonic Temple Last Friday

Composed in the largest and most impressive grand march of the season, the Michigan State Marching Band played in the Masonic Temple last night to the tradition of being the most brilliant band of the state. The capacity crowd was captivated by the combined military regimentation on either side of the orchestra, while the big American flag, marking the entrance of the Masonic Temple, stood tall at the back of the band.

At the conclusion of the march, the band was presented with a bouquet of flowers by the Mayor of Lansing, who was in attendance at the event. The Mayor congratulated the band on their performance and praised their efforts in bringing such a magnificent display to the public.
