Lame-Duck Presidents

While the national political scene is in a state of flux, the Michigan State University political scene is much more stable. The University has elected new officers for the coming year, and the old officers have been retained. The new officers are expected to carry on the tradition of excellence set by their predecessors.

Cold Control

The University is taking steps to control the cold weather. New insulation is being added to the buildings, and heaters are being installed in the classrooms. The University is determined to provide a comfortable learning environment for all students.

Cagners Meet Kentucky, Marquette Here This Week

'All Forward' Team Expected To Start Against Keen Foes

Basketball fans in these parts, especially those followers of Michigan State's Spartans, have been getting themselves 'in a couple of super games here this week.' The Spartans, in the big game tonight, will play with Bill Spalding's Rupp team in the big game Thursday night. This is the first time in many years that the two teams have met. The Spartans' coach, however, has stated that his team is not in form to compete with the Blue Devils. The Blue Devils are expected to win by a large margin.
