Women Hear Decorations Lecture

Detroit Interior Decorator Guest of Women's Club

J. L. Koller, director of interior decoration for Hudson's, Detroit, spoke to the Lansing Women's Club Monday afternoon. Interior decoration is an art, and Koller said people should consult artists in the field.

There are no set rules for decorating homes, but there are points to be kept in mind; one is the color of the rooms, and other important factors are the harmony of the rooms and how the rooms are decorated.

A regional program was also presented by Roberta Martin, past president of the House Beautiful women's club, who discussed the color wheel and the use of color in decorating. A tour of rooms in the home of Mrs. Charles R. Read, 111 North W., was included.

A Council of the Arts program, which includes the Lansing chapter, will be held at 7:30 Tuesday night in the Boswell room at the Hotel Rookery.

EIGHTH PASS NEWS

DRIVERS' TESTS: none fail.

Since the new law regarding drunk drivers went into effect April 1, the East Lansing police have issued eighteen applications under the new law.

Police need to emphasize the lack of law enforcement and that they do not condone the taking of any drink by anyone.

New requirements of the Peace Council were also discussed. Officers of the council may be elected at the East Lansing council in the annual meeting of the People's Peace Federation, April 14th at 3:30.

To attend the council, all general members are required to wear a white carnation in their buttonholes or to wear a white carnation in their buttonholes and a white carnation in the pocket of their suit.

The council will meet at 7:30 this Friday evening in the Rookery Hotel.

For more information, contact the Council of the Arts, 512 East W. or Mrs. Charles R. Read, 111 North W.
