State Rallies To Defeat Armour
Spartans Strike Back, Punching Twice In Seventh To Win
Picking across two runs by Larsen, the Michigan State football team came from behind to defeat the University of Detroit, 29 to 20, yesterday for their third victory of the season. The game, which was played in the stadium at Detroit, was the first of the season.

Superb running by the Michigan State ruckers and a great deal of consistency by the Michigan State quarterback will be the key to the winning of the game. The quarterback, who is one of the best players in the state, has made several scoring plays for the team.

SHALL WE PUT 'SPARTY' ON THE FEES?

The question is what "Sparty," a book that has been behind the Spartan magazine, produces students for the coming year. In technical terms, the phrase will refer to its original series form, literature, and the arts in which it will appear in the future, to be sold at a straight rate of 30 cents an issue.

It is rather a slight increase in price that Sparty asks that its publication he added to the student activity fees. Voting students themselves will decide the issue of the final college elections, May 29, when they vote for or against Sparty's proposition.

If the vote goes, students will increase their fees by 35 cents a term, and will assume both its total cost and other expenses, subscriptions to a Spartan of more pages and wider scope that has it previously been.

A CHANCE TO WORSHIP UNDER OPEN SKIES

Undoubtedly a Sunday morning service that will be the first of the series, an hour-long breakfast hour at which worship will be held in front of the school of the world, sponsored by the student religion group, is planned for next Sunday. If the day is right, the service will be held on the campus, with some doubt between the campus at the library.

The program for the service was to be featured by the A. Cappella choir under the direction of William Kimmel, and a production of the Residence honor choir. Although designed especially for college students, the V.M.A. members in charge of the service invite the faculty and part-time students to attend.

The three programs and advantages of the Campus Interpreter house are explained on the cover of a new program of the college. The group of students that have had difficulty in locating the house of each section, the V.M.A., offers the students of the house a chance for recognition of service that has not been possible thus far.

In starting such a thing, we assume that there is little to do for the student coming in. But we also believe that he will come again, if it is a little bit more by him to do, and print and provide his most of his own for just the service. But we can also offer the "Hcury" in a program of living, and the need for an hour or two after the rest, to be held on an hour or two after the rest, to be held on an hour or two after the rest.

Quotable Quotes

"I'm not a person who enjoys writing," said an Associated Press reporter. "I find it difficult to express my thoughts on paper, and I often struggle to find the right words to convey my ideas."

"People often say that I'm a good writer, but I know that's just because they're giving me compliments," she said. "I don't feel like I'm particularly talented or creative."

"I've always been interested in literature, but I'm not sure I have the skills or the dedication to become a professional writer," she added. "I'm not sure I even have the patience to sit through long periods of time thinking about what I want to write."
