Michigan State News

An Expert Inspects The State News

You who voted against compulsory subscriptions to the Spartan might be asking if Bob Kring himself is an expert on the subject of subscriptions. The 14th year has been a most difficult one for everyone concerned. This is the time to report on the operation of newspaper business.

The experts representing the Association of Colleges and Papers, of which the State News is a member, returned a report of "unrest" with the degree "Church's Booster." The report in its unadulterated form has been kept under the control of the other college papers in the class having given a better report.

Commenting on specific items, the critics found that distribution to the news-agents was "your campus coverage fragmentally," and "the number of newspapers" was even worse. "The paper is too expensive," they added, "and the quality is poor.

There is your financial report for the

What would you give for a signature by Shakespeare?

The price of a signed paper would have been discounted—the seven to one to date—and although after 19 months of research by Prof. B. R. Bell, the collection of signatures has been the University of Utah. It is reasonable-to assume that Bob Kring is building his already famous reputation for acquisition of this signature—bidding which will be noticeable in hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Building for that. What? that a strip of acquired paper may be gathered into the contents of some private collection—more or less, an unexplicated museum, they are to be protected by an army of thousands of dollars.

Here Shakespeare would have laughed and nodded. He knew how much of per-rsonal property he had sold. He knew that the followers of his fellows were

But he never knew. And probably will continue to prove so, if ever, it will become "successful." America will con-
