Heat Heat

The dunks were confined and men's clothing was worn. And underestimations, the people—big fellows from the barracks—continued their calm persevering that they had been in the middle of the Red Cedar. Conditions continued so hot that comfort in the barracks, the boys having a separate table and bench in the middle of the stream of sweltering humanity, was not possible. Then they continued their studies from the window and later, the shallower water swirled around gravel feet and ankles.

Twenty-thousand on the fall—shaping young from Calumet—Northwestern Michigan freshman basketball and college unacquainted among the few band of football students.

During his freshman year this fellow played regularly on the basketball and football teams. (Those were the days before the freshman rule which prevents freshmen from competing against varsity teams.)

In his sophomore year he was a member of the same team and added to be a member of the football team.

This year he is, and played regularly in all three sports. Last year he earned a position on the major league. This year he total established a record which stands at Michigan State.

The person referred to in this regard is the tallest of the group. East Lansing. L. F. Brodsky, a native of the city, has been connected with the athletic department of the school.

After graduation from the institution in 1917, Mr. Brodsky became principal and coach of the Hinsdale High School.

He held this position for nearly three years, resigning near the end of the year to enter the United States army. He was in the service until January, 1919. Since his release he came directly to Michigan State as coach of all freshman athletics.

"From," as he is known to all of his friends, entered city politics in 1909, becoming a member of the city council of which this body in 1923 it became his duty, to fill an unexpired term of mayor, the former executive having left the city. He was elected by the city council in 1922 to fill the vacant term left to him.

He was re-elected in 1926 and again in 1930 and again in 1934.

The mayor's favorite summer game is golf and a member of a local golf club. His favorite food is beef and he is a hind and a bowler.

Stulberg Writes

Adult Violin Text

Prompted by his belief that nothing has been written for the adult violin student who has a knowledge of house and wishes to have a general understanding of the violin to stimulate his interest, Julius Stulberg, violin teacher and vacation of the Stulberg trio, has been named "Violin Methods for Adult Students." Stulberg in an interview regarding his book, "In my opinion of the good books I have read, I have not found that which material is presented in such a logical and methodical order. All of the exercises suggested are original and have been tried by my students.

State Netters Coming Here For Jonuses

An open tournament for tennis players residing in the state will be held here August 25 to 28. The tournament is sponsored by the Lansing Tennis Club which is a member of the Western division of the U.S. Tennis Association.

The tournament was held here last year running for the first time in several years. It is expected to attract a large entry of college players, according to C. B. Ball, Michigan State tennis coach.

Entry may be made up to the day before the meet. They will be accepted by Dean Thompson at Van's Sport Shop in Lansing.

Mrs. Mabelle S. Ehlers, associate professor of institutional administration, is vacations in Canada during August.

State Stars
Stay Strong
Spartan Gridders Work Hard to Keep in Shape.

By Dave Tefft
HC scores have not yet begun to fall, the corn is not yet in the shock, and the weather as a whole has not as yet released any of that clear, crisp, cool spell that is traditionally associated with 11 football. But the first game is less than two months away. Charles Bachmann is getting pessimistic again, and preliminary reverberations from the much talked about Michigan game are coming this way. He perhaps wouldn't go so far as to sort of check up on next year's hopes and see just what they are doing, to keep in shape for the long grind that is to come.

Walter (Old) Nelson, State's point-counterdefensive, is keeping himself mentally alert by having an summer-season squash and by keeping his muscles in shape the while he labors for Vincent Van derbilt in cement construction work. He'll be ready.

Mike Kresh, who is quite likely to be Old bills turning wide most of the time next fall in following in Nelson's footsteps, going to summer school and working for V an dreith.

You are likely to hear 'Buck' Rieckenhoff any time of the day working around the campus covering an electronic bulletin that weighs anywhere from 30 to 50 pounds. And he looks just as he should. He ought to be with Bachmann's remarks about that Spartan line this year. Mike Kostich has just returned from Camp Cooper, and is doing surveying work on the campus. Tire Michigan is a little guard at Montgomery. George Kowalski is working on Grounds. Edmund Pape belongs to Vanderbult's swimming team. Mickey Masket works in a grocery store at Ar
