Content: "Community Building" was the topic of C. W. Crowe's speech before the East Lansing Merchant's Club at the Hotel Food Shop Tuesday evening at 6:30. "As a community like ours, we should give attention to community building," said Otto, who was a secretary of the Lansing Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored the event at the Hotell, he added, "should be more like a community than it is today." He also pointed out that the big question was how to provide the "life" it needed after so much time, as well as the amenities that are found in a friendly community. No Play

"This is the leading play of Young Miss and Mr. East Lansing. It is where the local youth who has not said that at some time during this summer?"

"Deeded place!" Well, maybe it's not that bad. True a dead man of our people leaves for vacation and even we write and of course, the play is dead. But let it be known that the living takes place. And it takes a man to make a place, time and place and land. So even at that there still are some things that can be done right here in our town. Summer time need not just be a time to spend with a liberal reading and the time before looking back at the old year. Do you like music? Do you like to play golf? Golf: Courses! Are they even right here? Do you like to come? Does it help when you come and you can find your week in hotel, about square? Are there any? I know of one in Jackson, Michigan.

But I say, I'm cool. Well, there is some hope to keep you out of my mind. This is the "dead" plance!" But you ever wonder what the "dead" place would like? It is one for sure. This is the "dead" place... maybe the "dead" place would like it.

Skating to Music is Practice of Rink

Skating to music was the feature of the opening of the new winter season. It put outside the city limits on Michigan avenue on Monday night. The rink, covered with a tent, is about 200 by 200 feet. The rink is 22 by 200 feet in size A P. A. system, playing popular music, was installed with radio, which was the rink's music in partnership with his father, and other families also steps on skates. The Macon family came from Owosso last week. They expect to remain open for business from 7:30 to 11:30 on weekdays and 8 to 11:30 evenings at least. They will then close and will reopen on May 1.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS

Arts Division Adds Three New Courses

Three changes in the Michigan State college liberal arts division were announced today by Dean L. C. Emmons. The changes, presented at a new course and coordinated work public administration, will be effective with the opening of the 1939-40 school year. The departments of history and political science, economics and geography will cooperate in presenting a freshman course in survey of social sciences. Dr. W. B. Fee, associate professor of history, will be in charge of the work, which will offer three hour credits in each of three terms. Another new course, introduction to the arts, will be presented by the art, music and drama departments for students interested in those phases of study. The public administration curriculum coordinates work of several departments, so students may receive instruction to preparation for public office or for positions in governmental service. This curriculum will be open to undergraduate students, and will be available this fall for her first term.

Adams Downs Dales in League Tourney

With their sponsor on a honeymoon tour to Bermuda, the East Lansing representatives in the Tri-County softball tournament captured win No. 1.

Staying off a desperate last-inning rally, East Lansing Adams came through to a 4-3 win over Dimondale at Mason Monday night.

Going into the last of the seventh, Adams led by a 4-2 score but Dimondale wasn't ready to concede defeat. They pushed across their third run in that inning, and it wasn't until the tying and winning runs were on the bases that Bill Kemp, who had relieved Schultz on the club for the cleanup, was able to retire the side.

Adams collected 14 hits, including Rodney Walter's circuit clout, which provided East Lansing with its margin of victory.

Winning up their regular league schedule last Friday, Adams trounced Valley Farm at Morley school field, 7-5. The Farmers played a slugging opening in the last inning, in which they scored four of their runs. Adams' second-round record showed six wins against four losses.

GLEN RANKIN

Here is a pair of last spring's Spartans who aren't done yet in independent ball this summer. Dailstrom is leading Lansing's Class A league with a striking mark of .422. He homered for the All-Stars in their game against Portland Sunday. Rankin is batting for the Wolverine club in Detroit and last Sunday turned back the Eastern A & B club for the upset of the opening play-offs in D B F. Class A.

Retired U.S. Navy Officer Tells New One on Bachman

Latest Jack Kennedy, recently retired after thirty-three years service in the United States Navy, during which he rose from the rank of common seaman to that of a commissioned officer, tells an interesting story of his first meeting with Charlie Bachman, Michigan State's head football coach.

Kennedy is a native of Allentown, Pa., but since his retirement he is located in Los Angeles. Where he is recognized as one of the outstanding boxing referees on the West Coast. It was on a visit to old friends in Allentown that he told this story of his first meeting with Bachman.

"I was on leave during the war, and I was athletic officer of the Coast Guard training station," Kennedy said.

"We had a whole of a football team there, of all America players, but with the most exciting game with the Marines of the West Coast only two were on we didn't have a real center. We needed a first class center, and needed him bad.

"We also had Joe Stetler, then the world's heaviest weight wrestling champion at the Great Lakes station, but we had difficulty in finding anyone capable of giving him a workout. We were recruiting from 800 to 1000 new recruits daily, and one afternoon I went out to look over some of the new men in the hope of finding a fellow who could give Stetler a workout."

"I spotted one fellow with a big neck—always looked for fellows with big necks when seeking recruits—and I asked him if he

Michigan State College All-Stars, a recently composed team of Spartan baseballers, are pointing for their second game against Portland, Saturday, after losing their first game to the same team last Sunday, 7-6.

George Black led the State boys with the club getting 3 for 5. Bollstrom slammed a base runner and a single in 4 trips to the plate.

George Morrow pitched all the way for the All-Stars, whiffing 12 and walking 5.
