Fielding H. Yost Praises
Sportsmanship in Talk
At 'Dad's' Banquet

Dr. DON PHILLIPS

A great sport is the golden rule in action," said Fielding H. Yost, University of Michigan's contribution to the field of outstanding athletic men. Yost, guest speaker at the annual East Lansing high school football banquet, spoke on the "Spirit of Youth."

"Youth are a dominant figure in intercollegiate athletics in the country, and that youth was the foundation of the world," he said. "Youth, with the spirit of the future and examples of the past, were not always necessary to be outstanding."

YOUTH POINTS THE WAY

"Youth holds all of the important records in sports," Yost said. "Youth will never be passed or exceeded by any other age in the world at all. There is a spirit of youth that we can keep up where we are, and I think it is worth the cost."

"Youth," he continued, "is the spirit of the world, and the spirit of the world is the spirit of youth."

Other speakers were honored at the banquet. They were presented with certificates of appreciation for outstanding contributions to the athletic field.
