Emil Velazeo to Play For Engineers’ Ball; Known as Organist

General Ticket Sale Will Begin Friday, February 21; Engineering Students To Get First Chance at Ducts

Emil Velazeo, the "Wizard of the Organ," and his orchestra will be the feature for the Engineers' ball at Michigan State College on Feb. 21, according to William H. party chairman.

Mrs. Velazeo, one of the nation’s foremost radio organists, has a full and rich pipe organ for orchestra work. He said Velazeo is being brought in to perform with the Michigan State’s organ for the first time.

"In addition to being a great organist, Emil Velazeo is a great showman, " said Mrs. Velazeo.

"I don’t know how he will top his performance at the previous ball, but he will try, " she added.

Flu Epidemic Takes Sharp Increase

133 Students Treated Yesterday, Bringing Total to 300 Cases

Michigan State’s influenza epidemic rose to a new peak yesterday when an estimated 133 cases were treated at the hospital, bringing the total to 300.

Three grapefruit pips large are being eaten each day. This has been the only treatment used in the hospital. The large number of patients, combined with the present strain of the virus, is making the hospital crowded.

"Many More Denied"

"Many more are being denied admission to the hospital, " said Dr. C. B. Holcomb, director of the hospital.

"The hospital is crowded as it is, with no more patients admitted, " he added.

"Swiftly Moving"

The epidemic is moving swiftly through the state, with the hospital being crowded with patients.

"We Are Sorry"

"We are sorry, " said Dr. Holcomb, " but we are crowded and cannot accommodate any more patients.

"Life" Trend Would Shock Coleridge

More than a century ago, back in 1816 when the Collected Poems of William Wordsworth were first published, there would be no such thing as "life" as we know it today. life is a book which must be read with the 80 centimes price tag. Wordsworth's Collected Poems were written in the 1800s, when the real world of the working man was just beginning to take shape. Coleridge expresses his feelings about the world of his day in a letter written at the end of 1815 to the publisher of the "Life" magazine. Coleridge points out that people are,

Arthur got a break this past week when requested against his will to sign the petition to the Michigan State football team. The idea was to vote the traditional football team into the Big Ten. For the college football team, it is a heavy responsibility. It is certain that, if the "Life" magazine is continued, the traditional football team will not be continued. And a Rose in Her Hair

There will be no more of this. I am not a politician, and I don't believe in politics. There will be no more of this. And a Rose in Her Hair

La Meri, 'Masque of Kings' to Appear in Lansing This Week

Anderson's 'Masque Of Kings' Starts Three-Night Run Thursday

The Lansing Civic Players' guild will open its current show Thursday night with the first night showing of Maxwell Anderson's 'The Masque of Kings.' The play enjoyed a long run in New York recently, and has been revived in London. It is now one of the current attractions there. A moving picture was made of the play by a British company starring Charles Boyer. It was from this film that the play was developed. The play, according to the New York Times, is a touching picture of man's struggles against evil. The play, according to the New York Times, is a touching picture of man's struggles against evil. The story of 'The Masque of Kings' is centered around the legend of King Arthur, who was one of the six sons of King Nigel of Britain. It is said to be one of the most famous stories in British literature. La Meri, who is playing the lead in the play, is a well-known actress in Europe, and is known for her deep voice and powerful acting. She is also known for her beautiful singing voice. She has appeared in a number of films and stage productions, and is considered one of the greatest actresses of her time. The play opens Thursday night at the Michigan State University Auditorium, and will run through Saturday night. The tickets are available at the box office or online. Eight Bouts Listed on Program

By MARSHALL DUNN

"Black" Barrows, making his last appearance at Michigan State boxing championships, will lead the way among the eight bouts of first-round boxing in the finals of the contest. All of the bouts are scheduled.

MONTREAL, March 2

His previous contests are well in comparison to those encountered a round earlier at"Black" Barrows. His strength is in the force available to his body, and in his control of his own efforts. The men who now belong to the "Black" Barrows are expected to have a strong show in the first round.
