

Jimmy Dorsey to Play For 1940 J-Hop In Masonic Temple

Known As Great Saxophone Player Jimmy Dorsey, known as one of the world's greatest saxophonists, will bring his band here to play for the 1940 J-Hop, in Masonic temple, February 23, Arthur Howland, party chairman, announced late Wednesday.

Jimmy Dorsey and his band, who will play in Masonic Temple for the J-Hop, Friday, February 23.

changed from auditorium to Masonic temple, when the new college building could not be completed by February 23. Dorsey, who recently defined what swing really is, said that it is surrealism in music.

Not usually known to party-goers is the fact that Saxophonist Dorsey wasn't always a saxophonist. He started his musical career on a cornet, because that was the only instrument around the house that wasn't in almost constant use.

He first played cornet and when Jimmy was about 8 years old the elder Dorsey started him working on scales. After he had played cornet well enough to march in parades, his father believed him to a second hand saxophone, because he felt it was important to musicians to have as many doubles as possible.

The DAILY WASHINGTON
MERRY GO ROUND
 TRADE MARK REGISTERED

(Copyright, 1935, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Under Robert Houghwout Jackson there will be a very important shift in the crusading activities of the Justice department. Murphy concentrated his fire on corrupt politicians. Jackson will train his guns on the powers behind the politicians—business and utility interests.

This does not mean that the "pols" will be neglected. They need not hope for any let-up. Jackson is going after them just as vigorously as Murphy did, and one of the first places on the list to be tackled is boss-ridden Atlantic City.

Behind this shift in emphasis are two factors. The first is that Jackson is less political-minded than Murphy. Jackson is a relative newcomer in politics and has never held an elective office. Murphy has held a number and his thinking is chiefly in political terms.

The second factor is Jackson's strong economic orientation. Like Murphy, he, too, has a long crusading career, but his crusades have been against business powers. As a striking lawyer just out of school in Jamestown, N. Y., he defied a group of street car strikers when they couldn't get another attorney. A few years later he took up the legal cudgels for the local independent telephone company against the giant A. T. & T. and licked it.

A 40-year-old assistant attorney general he wanted into the mighty Aluminum Corporation of America with anti-trust charges, and followed this up with a tax evasion suit against the late Andrew W. Mellon, former secretary of the treasury and ruler of the aluminum field.

In the last two years, as solicitor general, Jackson has hung up the greatest record of supreme court victories on major economic issues in the history of the tribunal.

You Say This
 Student Opinion Column

Editor State News: Why can't football players participate in basketball at Michigan State college? Why should this institution, or certain forces within this institution, dictate in which sport a student may voluntarily participate?

There are certain football men who would in all probability be of great value to a basketball squad already weakened by injury. Why were these men apparently dissuaded from participation in varsity basketball when their interest and proficiency in the sport can be shown by the fact that they are playing intramural basketball? Could it be that they were threatened in such a way that further tranquil college relations would be difficult?

Michigan State has perhaps the best schedule in its history. The team travels from coast to coast, with a consequent responsibility of making the best impression possible. We have a team of which we can be proud, yet a lack of sufficient capable reserve strength greatly decreases our chances for one of our best seasons. Must we remain a one-sport school, with our reputation in major athletic competition depending on the success of the football team?

Michigan State is a land-grant college, supported by state and federal subsidies. The underlying principle of our country is democracy. Let us keep that principle alive at M.S.C. The good of the school as a whole should be more important than any individual sport, and no power should be allowed to prohibit any eligible student to choose a sport or sports in which he may participate.

Careful Consideration Needed
 Possibility of a $500,000,000 loan from the United States has caused much discussion as to far-reaching consequences regarding this country. President Roosevelt believes that loans can be made to any Finland without endangering peace. Other national leaders are of the opposite view.

Yesterday the president, in a message to leaders of both houses of congress, dumped the possibility of such a loan into the hands of congress. He suggested that the loans could be accomplished by increasing the funds of the Export-Import bank.

In the opinion of the President, this action would not drag this nation into war. "There is without doubt in the United States a great desire for some action to assist Finland to finance the purchase of agricultural surpluses and manufactured products, not including implements of war," Roosevelt makes mention of the fact that there is definite opposition to the proposed loan. Objections have been voiced as to "the creation of precedent" which might lead to large credits to nations in Europe, either belligerents or neutrals. "No one desires a return to such a status," said the President.

To make a loan to Finland would be, decidedly, a step toward involving this country in war. The argument that the Neutrality Act does not apply to Finnish-Russian hostility lacks force. Roosevelt says that it does not affect Finland because of the undeclared warfare.

Undeclared war or not, there can be no argument as to intent of Russia's invasion. It does not seem logical that a rule doesn't apply simply because—the war is undeclared. Finland has set an example for stoicism and the little Baltic nation is to be admired.

But not to the extent of involving this country of 130,000,000 people in war which does not pertain to it. This loan possibility must be mulled over with regard to long range policy.

The slogan—"soldiers follow in the steps of loans or moneyed interest"—seems to apply again in this instance.

"LARRUPIN' LOU"
 One of the most familiar "pressure boys" on Capitol Hill is rubypoly, apple-cheeked Louis B. Ward, Father Coughlin's Washington generalissimo. Also, he is one of the most mysterious.

Last year when he was actively lobbying for the Coughlin-backed "cost of production" farm bill, Ward vigorously denied he had any connection with the radio priest. Ward's story was that he was for Coughlin's bill, but wasn't working for him.

Congressional veterans who have watched Ward's operations for a number of years were skeptical. But he was very emphatic. "I am not a representative of Father Coughlin," he insisted, "nor am I on his payroll."

When this session opened, one of the earliest lobby birds on the scene was Ward. Breezy as ever and sporting a big white cowboy hat, he was on hand again pushing hard for the Coughlin farm measure. But this time it will be difficult for him to deny any Royal Oak connection, for on the masthead of Coughlin's weekly now appears this interesting item of information: "Editorial Director, Louis B. Ward."

Note—Since his appearance in the breath-taking southern, Ward has been nicknamed in the congressional risarcions "Larrupin' Lou."

Spartan Poloists Drop Game to Red Wings

By Tom Green

Michigan State's polo team dropped a 15-7 decision to the hard-riding Lansing Red Wings Wednesday night.

Seven goals, four of which came in the last chukker, rung up by Vanok, Red Wing No. 3, spelled defeat for the Spartans. Emil Larsen drove home 3 points to keep State within striking distance during the first two chukkers. Nostri Spatz went in for Larsen in the third period and collected a pair of goals, leaving the Spartan team trailing by only three points, 10-7, as the fatal fourth chukker began. It was at this point that Vanok put on his one-man show. Only the State team three beneath a cloud of tanback dust.

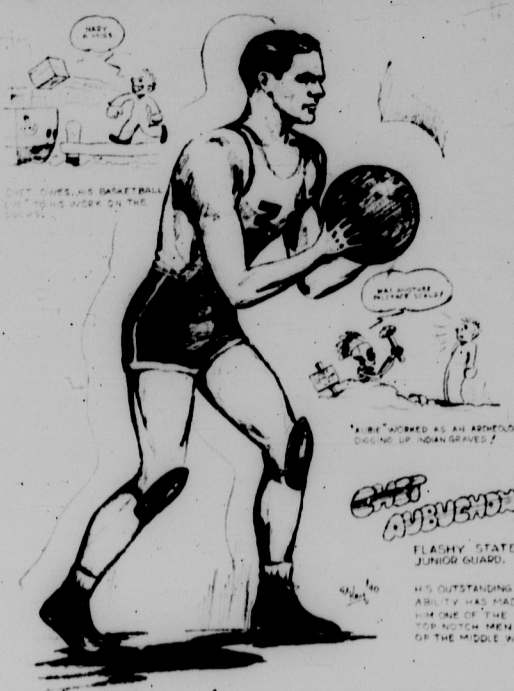

Play Resumes In Dorm League

Active resumed Tuesday night on the Dormitory front, featuring four games in Demonstration hall. In the main attraction, of the evening, Les VonEberle sponsored the Mason 9 quarter to a 22-11 victory over Abbot 14. VonEberle, playing head-up, basketball, accounted for 14 of the victory counts. Howard Ladue also came through with three field goals for Mason 9. Principal scorers for the hosts were Jack Keating and Pete Trease with 4 points each.

Abbot 16 came through in the last minutes of play to defeat Abbot 13, 20-18, in the fastest game of the evening. The consistent all-around play on the part of Ken Lawson, who scored 8 points for Abbot 16, gave the winners sufficient spark for victory. Jim DeChampsy, with 7 counts, and George Morris, with 4 points, led Abbot 13.

Frosh Cagers Tackle Tech Again

In an attempt to chalk up their second straight victory of the season, Coach Tom King and his freshman basketball team will move into Detroit Friday evening to meet the once beaten Lawrence Tech yearlings in a return engagement.

Although winning a decisive 37 to 24 victory over the Detroit aggregation last week, the Spartan yearlings looked far from impressive in this initial contest. Coach Tom King has been working hard these past afternoons in an attempt to eliminate poor passing tactics, faulty shooting and poor ball handling.

The element of teamwork has been stressed throughout daily practices and it is hoped by the standouts among some 50 freshmen who reported for early practices are Frank Mekules, all-state center from Detroit, Vince Lombardo, Bill Lynn, Bill Kerr, Earl May and "Rocky" Stone.

Wolverines Threaten Spartan Streak

By Sheldon Moyer

Enjoying a five-game winning streak, the Michigan State basketball squad will be out to avenge a 33-27 setback by Michigan when the two teams meet here Saturday night in the Jenison fieldhouse.

This highlight game of the season is expected to attract more than 8,500 spectators according to advance ticket sales. The previous record crowd that watched these same teams play in 1930 to dedicate State's portable court in Demonstration hall was 6,800.

STATE FAVORED

The Spartans won that contest, 27-26, and in view of their sparkling performances in recent games, they will also be the favorite to capture the first meeting of these two teams in the new fieldhouse.

Michigan State hit its stride last Monday night against the highly touted Marquette cagers when they held them without a field goal for the last 30 minutes of the game. While State was winning, 48-19, the Wolverines dropped a 48-43 decision to Illinois.

State's squad, which has won all of its five games on the home floor up to date, will be protecting a season record of nine triumphs against three defeats. Fear of weariness after this 12-game stretch has prompted Coach Ben Van Alstyne to ease up the work for his charges this week. Only the lightest of practice has been held while awaiting the invasion of the Wolverines.

Michigan will bring one of the

SPARTAN SPORTFOLIO

By DON ANDERSON

Should Kansas State agree to relinquish their football date with the Spartans next fall, the decision involving the switch of the State-Michigan game from October 12 to November 2 would be left directly up to the Wolverines.

The only thing holding up the proceedings now, providing the agreement of the University of Michigan is assured, is a contract with Kansas State which calls for a game between the Jayhawkers and the Spartans next November 2 on Macklin Field.

Kansas has exhibited a favorable feeling toward the switch provided they can find a suitable substitute for the Spartans and provided the cancelled game be played off at a later date, probably in 1941.

It was the Michigan "feeler" in the matter, sent out late last week, which started the whole thing. State officials have indicated that they were ready to go along with the proposal.

"We would be more than happy to meet the University of Michigan on November 2, provided that Kansas State agrees to postpone their games with us," Athletic Director Ralph Young said yesterday.

"Of course, we would have to gain the assent of our faculty board which passes on such things, but it is reasonable to suppose that they would be agreeable once the acceptance of Kansas State is received."

The "indefinite" word has come right from the Kansas school. Should an agreement from the Jayhawkers, the final action in the whole matter would be right in the lap of the boss down at Ann Arbor.

The Battle Is On!

From the sport pages of the Southern California Daily Trojan comes word of an "indefinite" Southern Cal-Tennessee Rivalry bowl game. It reads quite:

"That much-played up battle of All-Americans didn't work out so well. Harry Smith was to come to grips with Ed Molinski and Bob Sultridge and Gregory Lansdell were to be pitted against Johnny Butler and George Catego. All those men were in the game but Molinski, Sultridge and Catego didn't look much like All-Americans. Butler lived up to part of his reputation, but he wasn't playing against Mercer or the Citadel. In fact, Ben Sobn outplayed Sultridge and Andy Schindler had it all over Catego."
