Cherry Pit Was Cause of One MSC Campus Landmark

Graduates of some years back find few familiar buildings on the campus when they return, nevertheless, they do find landmarks which have been on the campus for several years and will remain for generations to come.

Most conspicuous of these landmarks is the huge boulder in the open area between the Henry and Home Ee building. This rock was placed there by the class of 1913. A story is told that the inscription on the stone at the foot of the boulder is "Cherry Pit." At one time there was a large relief portrait of Dr. Beal on the rock, which was later removed.

In Pleasant is a rock placed there by faculty in memory of Dr. W. J. Beal, professor of History from 1879 to 1913. The boulder bears a bronze tablet containing a portrait of Dr. Beal. This is not a face of the stone marker, but a bronze tablet with an interesting bit of history.

An Admirable Accomplishment

Several years ago a small group of engineering students with pioneer radio ambitions rigged up a miniature sending set in Olds hall and went on the air for the benefit (supposedly) of their classmates over in Wells. But the air was just right and their power was greater than they expected with the result that residents as far away as Williamston were more than a little startled to hear ribald songs and slightly tinged jests emanating from their crystal sets. That was the beginning of station WKAR. From those beginnings the local station has grown to a prominent place in the realm of educational broadcasting. Within the next few weeks WKAR will increase its scope from a receiving area of 5,000 square miles to one of approximately 12,000. It's been a long, hard pull for radio fathers at Michigan State. Cramped by lack of funds, equipment and an undermanned staff, those who believed in the possibilities of a college station struggled along, shrugging off the laughs of the scoffers and working long hours to make a dream come true. Now, with the expected sanction of the Federal Communications commission, the installation of a new transmitter station and an increase in wattage that dream looks much rosier. WKAR as a station and as a staff has proved that it can stand on its own feet. Let's give them a hand.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY ROUND

(Copyright, 1939, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)
WASHINGTON, April 17—Privately, the Norwegian government wishes that U. S. diplomat Daisy Harriman were not such a speedy worker. Within a few minutes after she was told by the Norwegian Foreign Minister, "We are at war with Germany," Mrs. Harriman had the message on the wires to the State Department.

This Collegiate World

There are over 3,000 co-eds at Wisconsin. In a typical year the average girl would have quite a round of activities to cover. She would have 210 quarts of "coke" to imbibe, and 20 pounds of candy to ruin her complexion with, not to mention 26 feet of gum to chew. Seven and a half days would be squandered in the movies, and 55 days devoted to studies to compensate for the 99 classes cut. Preparing for her 80 days of dates, she would sleep 115 days for beauty, spend three days pulling her hair up, and 16 combing it, bathe 90 hours, and zip 1,000 zippers. She would also turn down 125 dates, receive five declarations of tender sentiments, and be the object of 500 kisses (these statistics included several "steadies"), which transaction would speed the yearly consumption of six inches of lipstick. Besides these pursuits, she would spend 13 days clinging to a telephone. In the chase for the opposite sex she would annihilate 50 pairs of stockings, absorb two pounds of cold cream, and buy a quart of "My Sin" or "Moonlight Madness" perfume. The Gettysburgian of Gettysburg college relates the story of the wrestling coach who patiently tried to explain the fundamentals of the grunt and groin art to his only mildly interested pupils. None seemed to understand, and the light of learning burned low. Finally in sheer desperation he wrote in bold white letters across the gym ceiling "If you can read this you're in the wrong position!"

ALPHA XI DELTA—Mrs. J. E. VanderZalm, Ruth Godfrey, Catherine Garland, and Mrs. Guy Kiefer, alum, and Mary Jane Blue, Kay Norris, Patty Platt, Eleanor Wendt, Hedy Hanson, Betty Peterson, Jane Flomerfelt, June Weber, Christine Vanderzalm, Rosalie Belz, and Celia Potter attended province convention at Northwestern university last week-end. Rosalie Belz and Celia Potter were initiated Sunday morning at the Alpha Xi Delta house in Evanston.

The chapter gave a rushing party Wednesday evening.

This Saturday is State day, and a luncheon will be given for the visiting Alpha Xi's in the Union.

Spring term formal will be held Saturday night.

PHI KAPPA TAU—Pledges will give a radio party at the house Saturday night. Patrons will be Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Island and Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Welmers.

Dick Young, national secretary of Phi Kappa Tau, was a guest at the house Wednesday and Thursday.

Alam Jack McGowan was back last weekend.

The first honorary degree ever bestowed by the University of Maryland was given the Marquis de Lafayette 116 years ago.

It Beats All . . . The fellow who carries the exchange papers over from the post office was really tired Monday morning when he arrived at the office staggering under an unusually heavy load of college papers and the editor's fan mail. After reviving the fellow with a shot of water, we proceeded to investigate the reason for the mammoth burden. And there lying on the top of the heap was the reason. At first we thought it was a mislaid Sunday edition of the Detroit Times, but on closer notice it was apparent by the masthead that it was a college paper. Perhaps, we reasoned, it's several issues written in advance to save time. Anything is logical when it comes to journalists. After the entire staff had gawked at the peculiar and strange-looking periodical, we finally concluded that it was a special edition. And more than that, the editors were proudly flaunting the fact that it was the largest college edition ever to roll off the presses. Seventy pages, the headline said. And so now the whole office is trying to get their hands on the largest edition and this column is sending a request to the editors of the Daily Texan for a few more issues of the largest college paper in the world. Orchids to you, boys, and plenty of them. POWER IN UNION . . . And speaking of special editions, the Industrial Collegian of South Dakota State came out with a 10-page edition about their new union building. Up in one of the ears of the paper was this little ditty:

Teer your hair,
Yell like hell,
The union's done,
It's really swell.

OUT OF CIRCULATION . . . The little girl over on the Michigan campus who gained notoriety by printing her 81 reasons why she hated men has been taken out of circulation. The news reached this campus just lately, as well as at Ann Arbor.

While talking to one of the Michigan lads the other day, we were informed that the boys at the office haven't been doing very much work on the Daily since the now famous Marion Phillips signed her name to the list of contributors.

It's going to be quite a blow to the boys at the Daily office, for Friday the former Michigan State co-ed eloped.

PREVARICATORS . . . Pat Holt, columnist of the Daily Texan, has revealed some startling facts concerning the elections on the southern campus. Seems as though the lads go in for elections in a big way there. In fact, Pat tells us that they seldom, if ever, spend less than a hundred smackers. And they have a law against it, too.

PARDON ME, DUKE! . . . Barren-beaned Bill Bullitt, U.

Feuermann Displays Masterful Skill In 'Cello Concert

Orchestra Makes Appearance

By Sid Levy

Michigan State's auditorium resounded to playing by a master Tuesday evening, when Emanuel Feuermann, Austro-American cellist, appeared with the M. S. C. symphony orchestra as a feature of the spring term concert course.

Feuermann, young for his great ability, demonstrated the phenomenal technique of a polished artist, bringing forth a tone from his instrument that was rich and mellow as only a cello can be. Even when the tremendous range which his program required him to play from the lower notes to high, vocal-like harmonies, Feuermann preserved that quality of tone.

His opening number, "Concerto in A major" by Schumann, was serious in nature, a thoughtful study, played by Feuermann's playing. His tone was notably true and unwavering in the difficult lower range of his instrument.

OPENS WITH CONCERTO

By Valentin, moved from mood to mood with refreshing variety, opening with a smooth flowing melody, changing to a buoyant air, then to the stately dance form of the pasodoble, closing with large and allegro movement.

The program was brought to its scheduled end with a group of three compositions by Bach, Dvorak, and Tchaikovsky, the latter two being somewhat lighter in nature than the rest of his program.

His audience, which seemed enthralled by his playing during the program, gave Feuermann a great ovation, bringing him back for two encores, "Sonata" by Mendelssohn and "Allegro Spiritoso" by Serullle.

Mason Abbot Men Wage War With Firecrackers

If the current epidemic of explosions in Mason and Abbot dorms continue, the inhabitants may expect a blackout at any time.

Recently the boys were startled out of their beds at 3 a. m. by a volley of loud, jarring explosions that turned out to be the finale to an evening of fireworks. It seems that certain club members of the dorms have been manufacturing their own firecrackers on the sly, much to the distress of Prof. Lloyd Gell and Dr. L. J. Luker, faculty members living in the dorms.

Only last week, while the fellows were lined up in the dining room, another window rattle was heard falling over each other in their hurry to discover the cause of the explosion (or to get to safer surroundings), they tracked down the detonation to the library wherein some one had tossed several large firecrackers. To the probable disappointment of the culprits, they failed to do more than create a considerable excitement.

Boogie bombs being thrown in to the incinerator shafts at either end of the buildings is quite a common occurrence in both dormitories and although Gell and Luker have tried to discourage such disturbances, the rock and rags and gang wars roll blithely on.

Kansas Relays Draw Top Track Stars

Arrington Out for Decathlon Crown

Offer called the hot-bed of Olympic decathlon champions, the Kansas Relays have drawn the top-men of the country for the ten event grand Friday and Saturday.

Arrington's forte is the high jump and broad jump, where he is about as good a jumper as has been seen in the decathlon. A better than average sprinter, he has the speed for the 100 meter and 400 meter dashes, but may run into difficulty at 1,500 meters, the metric mile, although he has shown fairly good time recently.

Although the Olympics are definitely out of the picture at the present time, several men have been pointing for this test. Todd, who competed unattached last year, enrolled at the University of Colorado, where many champions have been developed.

The Kansas Relays have been the start of the last two Olympic champions. "Jarring" Jim Bausch set the record in 1932 and then went on to win the world title. In '36, Glenn Morris, also of Tarzan fame, established the present record of 7576 points at Lawrence and later set a world record in the Berlin Olympics.

Ninth Inning Spartan Rally Earns 6-6 Tie

The rains came, but nothing else happened until the last of the ninth. Then the score was 6-5. Quintan Cramer batted for Monroe and singled into center field. Morrison bunted and was safe when Chtcher Bill Cunningham threw low to first. Steve Jakubowski, running for Cramer, was forced at third by Kamrath, but then Owen came through after two bobbles afield to score Morrison with a liner over second.

Arrington combines his long muscular frame with coordination for effectiveness in the three weight events, the shot, discus, and the javelin. The pole vault used to be his noorest event, but he has mastered the big stick until he can turn in a fair performance.

Trials Slated For Yearling Pitchers

Although no practice was held Wednesday because of the varsity's game with Wisconsin, pitching recruits for the 1940 freshman baseball team have worked enough kinks out of their arms in warm-ups this week that Battery Coach George Hill has announced that he will give the mounds corps their first serious look-see of the season sometime early next week.

With only a little over two weeks' practice remaining before the fresh nine invades Detroit to open its four game schedule against Cranbrook school, Hill is faced with the problem of getting his hurling staff of some 20 odd throwers down to hard work in order that the former Spartan pitcher may select the more able tossers and give them individual attention.

DIAMOND DUST

Bill Morrison, sophomore second baseman, had his nice new white trousers all dirty before the game was an inning old. Bill had to hit the dirt to reach third safely on Bob Kamrath's base knock.

Willie Davis gave the Wisconsin pitcher, as well as himself, a real workout in a first-inning duel between the two. Willie fouled off no less than six pitches, five of them consecutive, before he finally ended it all by flying to left.

The 1940 Debaters' league opened officially in the fifth inning when the umpire in chief called a Wisconsin base runner out at the plate. The Badger coach strolled out of the dugout to have a few words with the big bad man in blue. Needless to say, the coach eventually came out second best.

State's first double play of the season came in the third inning—just when the Spartans really needed it. Wisconsin had four runs in and only one out when George Owen picked up a sharp grounder, tossed Morrison at second, who relayed the throw to Kamrath at first completing the twin killing.

State Golfers Point For Michigan

Varsity golfers face their greatest handicap in the form of lack of practice when they meet a powerful University of Michigan team at Ann Arbor this Saturday.

In the few rounds of golf played thus far, Bud Tansey has shown the most promise, having an average of 73 for 18 holes. Other members of the team have worked principally on form and have not kept scores.

By placing a veteran with each one of the new team members, Van Alstyne plans to lend stability to the State team. The matching as planned will be: Kowal with Zylstra and Tansey with Kortege.

Ag League Games Are One-Sided

One-sided scores marked the opening of the Ag Softball league Tuesday night with Block and Bridle and Horticulture winning easy victories.

Tax Willer, pitching for Block and Bridle, limited the Ag Economics team to one hit, while his mates were coming through at the plate for an 8-1 triumph. Willer, along with Mahoney, paced Block and Bridle's attack with three hits apiece each. A four run outburst in the last inning put the game on ice for Block and Bridle.

In the second game, Horticulture walked all over the Ag Engineers 23-5. R. H. Walker limited the Engineers to five safeties. The Horticulture team combed the offerings of A. T. Rumiez for 17 hits.

AAU Junior Tournament Ends Year for Matmen

It's the end of a long four months' season for Wrestling Coach Fendley Collins and his grunt-and-groan proteges when they trek to Detroit this week-end to compete in the National A. A. U. Junior championship mat tournament.

In the last three tourneys, Collins has only been able to enter three matmen at the most, but in this final fling of the current wrestling season the Spartan mentor can enter freshmen as well as varsity grapplers for competition is not limited to veteran letter-winners.

For this reason seven Michigan State entrants will accompany Collins to the tourney site in the Forden high school gym where action will get under way Friday. However, only four of these entrants will wrestle under M.S.C. colors for the remaining members of the traveling squad are not eligible to enter as State athletes under the present college ruling.

Diminutive Leland Merrill, who compiled a sensational record in his initial year as a varsity man, will lead the pair of lettermen. Merrill was undefeated during the regular season, but because of weight difficulties has not entered any of the post-season affairs to date. As a result, the pint-sized West Virginian has dropped a few points behind teammate Bill Martin and must gain a victory in the approaching event to cap the Walter Jacobs trophy offered to the State wrestler who gains the most points for his team.

Merrill will compete in the 145 pound class. A new face to Spartan mat fans, Francis McIntosh, will be the other varsity representative, wrestling in the 153 pound division.

East Lansing Wins Initial Track Tilt

Sweeping every possible first place, East Lansing's track team made its 1940 debut Wednesday afternoon by drubbing Okemos high school, 94 to 10, on the State track.

In five events, the mile man, 220 yard dash, 880 yard run, broad jump, and 200 yard low hurdles, the Trojan trackmen placed men in all three scoring positions. East Lansing also entered three relay teams in that event and they trotted home ahead.

There were no double winners, but Vern Sharp won the 200 yard low hurdles and placed second in the 120 yard high hurdles. While Jack Dodge triumphed in the 120 yard high and placed second in the 100 yard dash.

One-Hitters Pace Independents

Two pitchers opened the Independent softball season Tuesday night with one hit apiece. Bill Crissey of the Michigan State Evergreen Manor to go 1-0 to 0 victory. The Mustangs scored their run when Les Shinton scored on a single by Whitey Matheau. Barney Newbert made the Mustangs made three safe hits.

Pete Hawryciw, pitcher of the DZV team held the Kingspin to one hit and no runs while his mates rallied around him scoring 9 runs and 9 hits. Hawryciw also led his team in batting getting a triple, single, and a walk on balls. A. Thomas scored the only hit for the Kingspin.

In the other game the Upper Peninsula defeated Alpha Chi Sigma 4 to 2. The U.P. team hit safely 7 times to their opponent's 6.

Johnny Bulla, one of the country's outstanding golfers, plans to purchase his own plane and fly to the different tournaments.
