They're Hired—Let's Unite
 America's biggest election, in point of campaign heat and number of votes cast, is now history.
 For the first time in 150 years, the American people have said they want the same man for president for a third term. That in itself is more historic than the campaign.
 But it's over now, and the personnel of the government of the United States has been hired for another four years.
 The thing to do now is for every person to forget any animosities that may have developed previous to the election and to work together as American citizens rather than as party members to make the United States a better nation in which to live.

Auto Headache Is Gone
 Sometimes if rules aren't effective, the best remedy is to revise the rules.
 Acting on that premise, a faculty committee revised student automobile regulations last summer, and Chief of Police Harold Haun reports that the traffic situation on campus is the best he has observed while holding his present position.

 Last year, according to Haun, it was a common occurrence for campus police to find eight or 10 violations of traffic rules every day. This year, however, it is not at all uncommon for a whole day to pass without a single violation.
 Naturally, Haun is pleased with the improvement and commends student cooperation.

When materials for marking lanes in the student parking lot, now on order, arrive, the last difficulty will be ironed out. With lanes marked out, students should not find their cars boxed in by other automobiles when left in the parking lot for a few hours.

Associates Take Over
 The Saturday issue of State News will be under the direction and guidance of the associate editors and assistant business managers.

The managing editor, business manager and the graduate manager will be attending a national collegiate press convention in Detroit where they expect to glean odd bits of information that will enable them to turn out a better newspaper for the student body and the college.

In the meantime students having business in the State News office will find a courteous and helpful staff of aspiring editors and business managers to aid them.

Happy Birthday!
 Newspaper men and women will have a gala time at Ann Arbor next Friday, for that is the 50th birthday of the Michigan Daily, U. of M. student newspaper.
 To celebrate the occasion, 700 alumni who worked on the junior or senior staff of the Daily since it began publication in 1890 have been invited to attend the anniversary celebration dinner.

Through the 50 years of its life, the Michigan Daily has grown and prospered until now it is one of the 10 best college newspapers in the United States. Its content, its typography, and the quality of its editorial and advertising material are equal to professional standards.

The State News extends congratulations and says "happy birthday" to a fine contemporary on its golden jubilee.

MSC A Better Host
 Overnight guests at Michigan State now have a place to stay without leaving the campus. Opening of 14 rooms on the fourth floor of the Union as a sort of campus hotel should be a boon to visitors who formerly had to hunt accommodations among the city's packed rooming houses or commute between M.S.C. and a Lansing hotel.
 Especially for persons attending college functions will these new facilities be valuable, for they make it possible for Michigan State to be a better host.

MERRY GO ROUND

WASHINGTON—It hasn't leaked out yet, but the state department went pretty far in pressuring the Vichy government to surrender the 93 planes which the U. S. navy once sold France and which now are rusting away at Martinique. The state department even threatened to sever diplomatic relations if the French were too stiff-necked about these airplanes.

Summer Welles has had several talks with Ambassador Henri-Haye regarding Martinique, and at one time when Welles asked that the planes be returned to the United States, the French ambassador actually replied: "I'm afraid it might get us into trouble with Berlin."

In other words, Vichy is taking orders from Berlin almost every step of the way.

SECURITY VEILS AGREEMENT
 Meanwhile the agreement negotiated by Marshal Petain and Hitler is cloaked in the strictest secrecy. Some of the main points have leaked out, however, and if these leaks are correct, France and Germany agree to cooperate for the peace of Europe. Since Great Britain is now the only country disturbing "the peace of Europe," at least in the eyes of the Nazis, this means that France will cooperate with Germany in forcing Britain into peace.

WART BOMBERS ATTACK
 Great claims of successful counter-offensives on the northwest Albanian border persist, but Rome is now reporting that Fascist troops are advancing on northern and southern border fronts.

Meanwhile, R. A. F. bombers visited southeastern Italian provinces during the past few days, the British say.

Reports from Belgrade, Yugoslavian capital, tell of 4,000 Italian troops trapped behind their own lines by the Greeks. Kavizza, Albanian base of the Italian attacks, may fall to the Greeks at any time, the capital reports.

A special meeting of the Yugoslavian cabinet has been called over the killing of two persons and wounding of five others when three Italian planes dropped 19 bombs on the Yugoslavian border town of Bitol Tuesday.

CHANNEL PORTS HIT
 Nazi-held ports on the English channel have come in for an unusually heavy share of recent R. A. F. bombing raids, British news sources declare. London, surrounding districts, parts of the industrial midlands and eastern Scotland were targets of German bombers Wednesday.

Reports of a running battle between a British convoy and a German warship of the "Graf Spee" type in mid-Atlantic have filtered into New York by wireless from the attacked ships. Although the messages were distress signals, the fate of the convoy is not yet known.

GARNER TAKES WALK
 For the first time in years, local election officials say, Texas Jack Garner, vice-president of the United States, failed to vote in a presidential election when the polls in Uvalde, Tex., his home town, closed without Garner's appearing.

In Detroit, the DSR has won its fight to maintain public transportation in the approval of state proposal No. 3, while proposal No. 2, setting up a state civil service system was also okayed.

SENIOR FEMALE
 Now that it's all over, the story can be told of the rift in the Wheeler household over the election.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana is a Democrat, but he has made more trouble for Roosevelt than most Republicans. A good part of that trouble has been inspired by the senator's wife, whose ill-will for the president is famous in the capital.

The big scene in the drama came one night when Senator and Mrs. Wheeler were listening to a news broadcast. The Wheelers happen to be intimate with the Clarks (Senator Bennett Clark of Missouri), who rival them in their dislike of the president and his foreign policy.

Therefore, Mrs. Wheeler was amazed when she heard from the radio that Senator Clark intended to come out for Roosevelt. With fire in her eyes, she turned upon her husband.

"I don't believe it," she cried. "I'm going to call Miriam (Mrs. Clark) and get her to deny it. And if you ever do such a thing, Burton, I'll walk out of the house and leave you!"

By this time the radio voice was saying "And now I have an even greater surprise. Here the announcer paused for suspense. "Still another isolationist senator," he said, "is coming out for Roosevelt," namely, Burton K. Wheeler of Montana."

What happened in the Wheeler household at that point is not recorded, but some days later it was observed that Wheeler's "indorsement" of Roosevelt was very mild—nothing stronger than: "From the information available, I understand that the Democratic ticket will be successful."

Nine to Take Part In ACP Meeting

IFU to Send 18 To Ohio State For Region Convo

Three journalism faculty members and six students connected with publications on campus will take part in the annual Associated Collegiate Press association meeting to be held at the Book Cadillac hotel, Detroit, this week-end.

In addition to this meeting, 18 Michigan State fraternity men will attend the first regional undergraduate Fraternity Conference at Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 8 and 9.

A A Applegate, head of the journalism department, will speak today afternoon on "Relation of College Newspaper to the Publicity Program" at a round table discussion headed by Ted Teft, State News graduate manager. Teft will also act as chairman for two other discussions.

Norman is Chairman

Ralph A. Norman, member of journalism faculty, will act as chairman of a faculty advisory committee. His section will discuss advisory problems, the yearbook budget, and other student relationships on yearbook.

Jay C. Gell, also of the journalism faculty, will speak on "Getting to Pay the Bill" in reference to yearbooks Friday morning.

Other MSC students who will attend the meetings are: Jack Singer, State News managing editor; Jack Carman, State News business manager; Earl Brigham, editor of Spartan; and Robert Merz, business editor.

Ohio State is Host

The Interfraternity meet will be held in Columbus, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, and West Virginia. Ohio will be the host school for the conference.

Until recently, the conference has been held in New York City. This year, it has been made regional in order to allow more undergraduates to attend. Purpose of the conference is to promote fraternalism on college campuses.

Safety Meet Opens Today

Education occupies the attention of members of the Engineering, Agriculture, and Home Economics divisions as people of all lines of work who are interested in safety assemble on Michigan State campus for annual Safety Education conference being held here today and tomorrow.

N. Rix, assistant professor of mechanical engineering, will be chairman of the general safety program held in the Little theater, Economics building, on Friday morning, at which time Dr. R. Lauzer, psychology department, Iowa State college, will speak on "Psychology of Safety."

This Woman's World Through Coed Eyes

Banquet planning and pledging are the order of the week's activities in the Women's calendar of events as mid-term grades are chalked up and Coed Carnival plans near completion.

8 Will Attend Chicago Land Grant Meet

The fifty-fourth annual convention of the Association of Land-Grant colleges and universities will be attended by eight representatives from Michigan State. The convention is being held at the Drake hotel in Chicago, Nov. 11-13.

Pres. R. S. Shaw, E. L. Anthony, dean of Agriculture; H. B. Dirks, dean of Engineering; Marie Dye, dean of Home Economics; E. A. Bessey, dean of the graduate school; Edna Smith, state home demonstration leader; R. J. Baldwin, director of extension; E. R. Gardner, director of experimental stations will represent Michigan State. Mrs. Lavina Maselink will attend for the State Board of Agriculture.

The convention will open with a general session at 9:30 a. m. Monday, Nov. 11. On Monday afternoon E. A. Bessey will lead a discussion on "Current Problems of Graduate Work in a Small Land-Grant College." Tuesday afternoon H. B. Dirks will lead a discussion on "The Four-Year Curriculum in Engineering."

COUNCIL

Representatives of the divisional councils will meet Tuesday at 5 p. m. with council delegates to plan the new project.

Permission was granted at last night's meeting to Robert Smith and four other students to operate a survey of student opinion, under supervision of a standing committee of Student council.

Reporting on the success of the Homecoming dance, Richard Bates, representative of Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity, which sponsored the party, told the council that his organization would contribute part of the proceeds to the student loan fund.

The council voted a recommendation to the student-faculty social committee that Alpha Phi Omega be given permission to sponsor the Homecoming dance next year.

Approval of the new Independent Students association constitution was held over until the open meeting next Wednesday, pending a meeting of a council committee to discuss the matter. This committee will also take up the problem of I.S.A. representation on student council through Men's council and A.W.S.

Dairy Acquires New Milk Equipment

Equipment for the homogenization of milk has recently been added by the dairy department. Although homogenized milk has been known for a number of years in the United States and Canada, the process is new to M. S. C.

To homogenize milk, it is put under a pressure of 2,500 pounds. This causes the butter fat to be broken up into very small particles, so that it will remain distributed evenly throughout the milk. Because of this, cream will not rise on homogenized milk. Milk which has been homogenized will have a sweet, clean flavor much longer than other milk, and will not develop a stale flavor. However, it must be refrigerated just as other milk.

Appendicitis Hits 6 MSC Students In One Week

A new high in acute appendicitis was reached at the hospital this week, Dr. C. F. Holland, director of the Health center stated yesterday. Six appendicitis operations were performed during the week of October 29 to November 5.

"Students must not ignore a pain in the abdomen—any pain lasting two hours or longer demands medical advice. They must not take any medicine, their case may not be 'serious' in nature, but the early reporting of abdominal pain is the best insurance against a ruptured appendix," he stated.

Doctor Holland said that they have 10 to 15 patients a day confined at the clinic with colds, sore throats and pneumonia. Since school started this fall, they have handled six cases of pneumonia.

YWCA to Send 25 Delegates To Detroit

Twenty-five members of the Michigan State student Y. W. C. A. will go to Detroit Saturday, Nov. 16, to attend the 11th annual World Acquaintance tour. The tour is sponsored by the student Y. W. C. A. organizations of Hillsdale college, Hope college, Wayne university, Highland Park, Junior college, Michigan State Teachers college, Western State Teachers college, and Michigan State college, and is under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Wedekind.

Grace Nahstoll is the state chairman and member of the Geneva council, and Bethel Freeman is the Michigan State representative on the Michigan Avea committee.

Highlights of the program of the day will be talks by Grace Nahstoll on "Introduction and Background of the Tour," Philip Gentil, "Is Democracy an Effective Form of Government?," and Mrs. Rose E. Perti, of the International Center Y. W. C. A., on Detroit's Nationality Groups.

SPEAKER

The British expeditionary force retreat from Flanders minus guns and equipment did three things to the English people, that hadn't been done to them in 100 years: They were scared; they got angry; and then they went to work.

The complacency with which the average American views the war is similar to that of the average Frenchman 15 months ago, Knickerbocker believes. "Had you told any Parisian a year ago that he'd be a refugee before he knew it, he would have scoffed as any New Yorker would today."

"I don't believe Germans attempted an invasion in September," he stated in an informal question period after the lecture.

Russia's position at present is tense, according to Knickerbocker. When Germany tries to occupy the Black sea Russia will have to decide what to do. "Stalin desires to stay out till the combatants have exhausted each other, and I personally think he'll risk anything not to go to war," stated Knickerbocker.

Youth vs. Age Creates Love Tangle In All-College Play

The struggle of youth against age in the love market, forms the gist of the all-college fall term play, "Accent on Youth," by Samson Raphaelson. The play, now in full swing of production, under the direction of Dr. W. F. Thompson, will be presented in Fairchild theater, Dec. 4 and 5.

Definitely a comedy, "Accent on Youth" won the approval of John Arderson, theatrical critic, during its Broadway run.

"It is a thoroughly amusing entertainment, gayly sad, sadly gay and very, very wise," a review in the New York World-Telegram stated. "A comedy with point," was the comment of the New York Evening Journal.

The play is the story of one Steven Gaye, famous comedy playwright, who has written a tragedy—that of an old man who loves a young girl. Steven, an older man himself, adds to the zest of the plot by falling in love with a young girl himself.

Doris Buzzard is playing the sires to stay out till the combatants have exhausted each other, and I personally think he'll risk anything not to go to war," stated Knickerbocker.

Spartan Freshmen Tackle Bronco Yearlings Friday

Seeking their second victory of the season in as many games, Michigan State freshman gridlers will clash with Western State Teachers college yearlings at 8:30 on Mack-Island tomorrow.

The Bronco colts under Coach Frank Secoy will invade East Lansing fresh from an impressive 40-7 victory over Alma freshman Monday. Alma was unable to move on the Teachers until the final quarter when they marched 60 yards against Secoy's substitutes.

Western State also has a victory over Hope college on its record. If the Spartans are to keep their season undefeated they will have to keep close watch of two triple-threat backs in Noel Perry, former All-state halfback from Kalamazoo, and Bob Miller. They are going to be plenty tough to beat. We never do have an easy game with Western State's Freshman Coach John Robb pointed out.

In the Spartans camp it became known that Art Godfrey, MI Chemist and, will be on the sidelines for the remainder of the season from a knee injury suffered in the Central State game last week. Godfrey is the third freshman to be shelved for the season with the same ailment.

SPARTAN SPORTS

Spartans to Meet Washington State On Coast in 1942

Reports from Pullman, Wash., today confirmed rumors that Michigan State had entered into a two-year football contract with Washington State. Spartan officials were silent on the matter, but details from the northwest school indicated that the series would open in 1942 at Pullman.

Addition of such an opponent on Michigan State's schedule guarantees trips to the west coast for the next three years. In 1941 and '42, the Spartans are slated to play at Santa Clara.

State Seeks to Stop Road Jinx at Indiana; Name 36 for Trip

By Sheldon Meyer

Thirty-six Michigan State football players were to depart today for Bloomington, Ind., where they will attempt to break a two-year old road jinx against the Hoosier forces of Bo McMillin.

Michigan State gridiron squads have captured but one game away from home since 1938. Their lone victory was registered last fall against Syracuse 14-3. So far this season, the Spartans have dropped both of their foreign soil encounters to Michigan and Temple.

Only a few years ago, Michigan State teams used to thrive on the road. In 1937, State's Orange Bowl team, the Spartans pulled out four wins on the road. In 1936, their worst was a 13-13 drawback with Boston college.

RACHMAN FEARS HOOSIERS The Spartans have two more games away from home this fall with Indiana and Marquette. Of the two, Coach Charley Bachman far more fears Saturday's clash with the Hoosiers. There are many reasons why he should.

Indiana has the heaviest line Michigan State has run up against this year. Every member of the forward wall, like the large number of Hoosier backs, are seasoned veterans. In addition, the Indiana eleven will be primed for a victory to raise itself from the doldrums of an unexpectedly poor season. Five starts have netted the Hoosiers but one victory against Iowa and four defeats by Texas, Nebraska, Wisconsin and Ohio State.

STOP AT INDIANAPOLIS Bachman wound up the heaviest phase of the preparations for the Hoosiers yesterday with a defensive drill followed by a short scrimmage. Another brief workout this afternoon will precede the Spartans' departure for Indianapolis where they lay over until Saturday morning.

Following players were named for the trip: Quarterback, Fred Akins, North; William Bachman, Rockford; Bill Chasler, Hamlet; Frank Paul Griffith, South; Walter Kibler, Rockford; Edward Aho, Detroit; Roger Adams, Rockford; Douglas Cameron, Detroit; E. Chicago, St. William; Tom, Southfield, Ky.

Backfield: Fred Akins, Elmer Tom, John Bachman, Detroit; Rudy Robinson, South; Richard Robinson, Detroit; David Woodruff, Rockford; David Karna, Elmer.

Line: Robert W. Neal, Phoenix; Art K. Kinnison, Detroit; Walter Sponka, Rockford; Louis Sponka, Detroit; Robert Patterson, East Lansing; Bruce Blackburn, St. Louis.

Quarterbacks: William Davis, Detroit; James Buchanan, Flint; Bob Shannon, Lansing.

SPARTAN Intramural Flashes

By Hal Schram

In a night marked by extremely rough and high spirited football, nothing but a lot of grief was the outcome for a couple of "sure shots" in the frequently tough football league.

Sigma Alpha Sigmas, with no other object in mind but to make things "hot" for an Alpha Psi chapter in a very cold evening, did just that as they clocked out a close 7 to 6 victory on a blocked kick in the final quarter.

It was Bob Rooder who broke through to interfere with an A. E. P. punt on the 12 yard line and score for Coach Eddie Abbe's "mascots" over Sigma's "mascots". A pass from Rooder to Dick Brock proved to be the margin of victory as S. A. E. converted successfully.

Responsiveness were the victims of a second bit of upset football. Coach Jay Bonn's Delta Sigmas this week, which had won a game all season, finally came in their own to score a 2 to 0 decision scored on the penalty kick. Some great all around play in the upset team featured this Delta Sig.

In the dormitory league Mason 8 clocked up its second win of the campaign on a third quarter pass from Alex Clark to John McVey. Their victims were Abbot 13 and the final score read Mason 8, Abbot 13.

A first quarter safety decided the Abbot 12, Mason 3 clash. Jack Kelly of Abbot 12 fumbled a Mason runner in the end zone for the only two points of the game.

One game was played in the Independent league with the Newman club defeating Williams on a first down early in the final period.

The all-college basketball team has reached the semi-final stage. Art Noid is slated to meet Glenn Bennett for the right to play in the finals, while Lloyd Chapman will face the winner of the Frank Lauer-Katharine Parker match to determine the remaining final berth.

Parties are becoming more common.

more than touchdowns in the dormitory touch football league.

In three scheduled games Tuesday night only one game was played. Coach Vince Whitney's Mason 1 clocked back a 6 to 0 decision from Abbot 11 on a second quarter pass from Bob Haggerty to Jim Valentin.

The Masonites scored their second clean sweep of the season however when both Mason 2 and 4 won on defaults. The teams which failed to put in an appearance were Abbot 16, and as usual, Wells A.

In the independent league, Coach Ed Kitchin and his Viking gridlers kept their title hopes alive by taking a close 2 to 0 decision from the Campbell Kids. The winning margin came early in the third period when halfback Lucy Meyers caught a Campbell ball carrier in the end zone for a safety.

The Vets lost their fourth straight game when the East Lansing Independents scored a 1 to 0 first down victory.

The frequently tough football season is just about over. The final games will be played next Monday evening, whereas Thursday and Independent leagues are just now getting under way.

Reason—the Vets have only 17 teams in their league and they get the jump on the Independents by starting a week earlier, while the team league has 24 teams entered.

That block 2-222 in the frequently league is still anybody's. That is, anybody's except the Farmhouse and Beta Kappa, who are mathematically out of the running.

The D. Z. N.'s haven't given up on block 1 title in the Independent loop despite their historic defeat at the hands of the Wolverines. Why should they?

The Wolverines will have two games to play and anything can happen in the Independent league—but definitely.

Three Teams to Represent MSC Harriers in AAU Run

Coach Lauren P. Brown will send 21 Spartan harriers into the 18th annual Michigan A.A.U. cross country run on Friday to compete with five colleges, several high schools and unattached runners. The four mile course starts at the stadium on the Michigan Normal campus at Ypsilanti.

By winning the state intercollegiate title last week for the eighth consecutive time, State upset Normal, and increased an already tense rivalry between runners at the two schools, which started last spring when the Hurons carried off the state intercollegiate track title, defeating State by a small two point margin.

Running on their home course, Michigan Normal runners are expected to narrow the 29-38 margin that separated the schools at Kalamazoo Saturday. Tom Quinn will be out to revenge his loss to Harry Leonard of Western State, and veterans Bill Zempke and Bob Lee are anxious to cut down the few seconds that put them behind the Green and White runners. Normal will not be the team out to oust the Spartans from their cross country throne. Western State, third place last year a week ago, Central State, Wayne university are also expected to enter strong aggressors, number of unattached runners, mainly ex-college stars, will be to the Spartans' worry.

Following his usual run, Brown will enter three teams in Saturday's race. A state team of the top seven varsity reserves and a squad of eight yearlings, including the trio of teams.

Records show that Michigan State has competed in intercollegiate cross country since 1910. The cross country squad has been undefeated in the last two years, winning seven consecutive games.
