

Overcrowding didn't bother the students to J. C. Davis' labor economics classes yesterday morning. Finding that there were a half-dozen too few chairs for the large room in the Hoot building, several men dragged a row of chairs, all fastened together, from a nearby room. The idea was fine, but the row of chairs was too long for the room. Still undaunted, they pushed it in as far as it would go, then sat down, with the student or two listening to the lecture from the hall.

Need A Directory?

A last chance to get copies of the 1941-42 Faculty-Student Directory was announced yesterday by H. Brandt, business manager of the book, in placing 46 of them on sale at the Union Desk and the College Book Store. Originally allocated to the stores department of the college, the unused directories were turned back to H. Brandt, national professional journalism fraternity by that department. The directories will be more useful than ever this year due to the extended summer session, which will keep many students here at the addresses listed in the book last fall. Brandt said. Home addresses are included in the directory making the book valuable permanently, he added.

We'll Miss 'Em

The State News contributed a special feature to national defense week with the beginning of this week. The feature editor, was introduced into the news room on March 30 instead of ending it again here. He was also treasurer of the Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalism fraternity.

April Fools Her

Exemplary of the confusion produced by the occurrence of April's day immediately after registration was Marjorie Schaaf, 14, yesterday. Marjorie, standing at the foot of the stairs in the Union Annex, stood bewildered when she asked passers-by, "How do you get downstairs?" Two policemen kindly told her.

Students to Direct Radio Workshop

A series of radio dramatics will be inaugurated this afternoon over WKAR. The Radio Workshop of the University of Michigan presents "Blizzard Justice," a radio drama which will include comedy and drama, and will be the former. "There Was a Boy in the Girls' Bathroom" is another series which ran during the winter terms, according to Barnhart.

LATE FLASHES FROM TRANSRADIO PRESS

Under the Wire

STOCKHOLM, April 2 (TP)—Two ships were sunk out of a German convoy off the coast of Sweden in an attack by British warships Wednesday morning. Another unit of the convoy was damaged and two others put back into Gothenburg harbor.

WASHINGTON, April 2 (TP)—The United States Navy and Danzig shook hands and called a truce today—"for the duration." The navy wireless delivered Cupid-grams to all ships and stations in the navy annulling the navy regulation that for 10 years has prohibited navy and marine officers from being married until two years after receiving their commissions.

WASHINGTON, April 2 (TP)—The Navy department reported today the sinking of what was described only as a "medium sized American vessel" in the waters off the Atlantic coast. Disclosure of the sinking—the second to be announced today—brings to 112 the total of Allied merchantmen taken by Axis undersea raiders.

WASHINGTON, April 1 (TP)—Informed sources said tonight that the government may arrange to get much-needed armaments and materials through an agreement with Spain. These sources declared that a Spanish mission is expected soon to arrive in Buenos Aires to discuss the terms of the agreement.

Registration Drops From Last Spring

New History Course Changes Room

By George Herbert Michigan State's final spring term enrollment will suffer a drop of approximately 100 from last spring's total, Registrar R. S. Linton estimated yesterday after announcing that 5,491 students had classified at the end of registration Tuesday afternoon.

The most surprising feature of the term's enrollment was the registration of 221 students for the new course in Contemporary History of Europe and Asia, necessitating changing the room from 120 Morrill hall to 206 Horticulture building.

MORE TO REGISTER The enrollment figure will probably be swelled by the late registration of more than 100 additional students, including the traveling baseball team, Linton said, but the total will still be nearly 400 below winter term registration.

Consent Decree Clears Way for Ersatz Rubber

WASHINGTON, April 1 (TP)—Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce, announced today completion of contracts to increase America's synthetic rubber production to more than 700,000 tons per year.

The Defense Plant Corporation and the Rubber Reserve company—both government corporations—made arrangements with 25 oil, rubber and chemical companies to put the huge synthetic rubber production increase into effect by the end of next year.

MAY USE PATENTS The announcement came on the heels of a consent decree signed by Standard Oil of New Jersey and the justice department. The settlement permitted any American company to utilize synthetic rubber patents held by the New Jersey oil company.

Meanwhile, a group of senators continued their examination of patent and cartel agreements between Standard Oil of New Jersey and the German chemical trust, I. G. Farben.

NOT SATISFIED Standard Oil President Farish continued his testimony before the Truman committee stating that the record would show that his company offered to cooperate fully with the army and navy during the years following 1938 when synthetic rubber processes were being developed.

Comment from Chairman Truman of the investigating committee indicated that the group still had not been given satisfactory answers to justice department charges that the company retarded the American synthetic rubber program.

Wilkins Falls Ill In Georgia

C. O. Wilkins, treasurer, is in an Athens, Ga., hospital suffering from an attack of pneumonia, Pres. John A. Hannah revealed yesterday.

Wilkins, who had been traveling with the baseball team on its southern trip, contracted pneumonia while the team was in Athens and was taken to the St. Mary's hospital.

When word was received Tuesday that his condition was "critical," Mrs. Wilkins boarded a plane at Lansing and flew to Athens. When reached by long distance telephone yesterday, Mrs. Wilkins said that her husband's condition "has improved considerably."

Toll of Enemy Sea-Raiders Upped to 28

Young Navy Ensigns Are Decorated For Hitting U-Boats

WASHINGTON, April 1 (TP)—The navy raised to 28 today the toll of Axis undersea raiders that have been sent to the bottom.

Of this number, 24 were sunk by navy patrols with the remaining four credited to the army. The list was increased by two undersea craft destroyed by a pair of young navy ensigns who were decorated for their success.

DEEDS DEAR DECORATIONS One of the cognate is former enlisted man Donald Mason, the first who recently reported a direct hit on an Axis raider with the torpedoes.

Ensign Mason has already been awarded the distinguished flying cross and has been commissioned for his efforts. Today's navy announcement stated that he had been awarded the equivalent of a second flying cross.

ENSIGN CRIPPLES SUB The second ensign is a young Californian, William Teponi. Ensign Teponi crippled a sub so badly that a sure kill was made the next day by destroyers.

There is evidence of additional sinkings of Axis undersea craft, but announcements will not be made until full reports have been received in the navy department and absolute surety of claims is determined, and not even then until the confirmation of no possible use to the enemy, added the navy department.

Youth Organizer Reports to Army

NEW YORK, April 1 (TP)—The perennial organizer of youth movements, Joseph P. Lash, was ordered today to report for induction into the army on April 12.

Lash recently failed in his efforts to get a commission in the navy. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt had endorsed his application.

Lash is 32 years old and is secretary of the International Student Service. The Dies committee has frequently accused him of having Communist beliefs.

Stein Will Give Explanation of Music Concert

Music lovers in and near East Lansing will be given an opportunity to hear a preview and interpretation of the concert which the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra will give at the M. S. C. auditorium on Wednesday, April 8, when Dr. Edwin E. Stein, instructor in music, talks Sunday at 4 p. m. in the Music auditorium.

Stein emphasized that the talk would not be technical, but would try to explain the selections which the orchestra will play. The talk will be open to anyone who is interested.

The Cincinnati Symphony orchestra, which will appear under the direction of its conductor Eugene Goossens, has had a wide-spread artistic influence. Although it is not a "traveling" orchestra, it has been heard in 125 cities in the United States and Canada, other than Cincinnati, in the last 26 years. One city has heard this musical ensemble 45 times.

The average age of the Cincinnati players is 42 years, yet the average length of service is between 13 and 14 years. This long association plus adequate rehearsals explains how the Cincinnati orchestra has achieved its high artistic level.

Clark to Be Big Boss

The logical candidate for the position of head waiter was, of course, Prof. John Abbot Clark, L. A. '45, who qualifies because of his diligent study of the New Yorker. Regular waiter jobs will be held by the faculty members who proved themselves so capable at the last all-Ag banquet, Union Manager E. G. Foster said.

"They work cheaper and don't swipe as much sugar as the students," said the head dishwasher added.

He Sold Mardi Gras To Michigan State

Henry Simons Created New Party Idea

Although final results of the Mardi Gras held Monday night are not tabulated, the first Michigan State attempt at such a party was highly successful. Both financially and in participation, Henry Simons, general chairman, said yesterday.

Financial results of the party, including the purpose for which the proceeds will be used, will be announced after the remaining tickets are turned in, Simons said. "I hope that the party will become an annual affair," he stated, adding that student and faculty cooperation made the Mardi Gras live up to his expectations.

The hard-work of committee chairman and members deserves congratulations, Simons said. He also expressed thanks for the efforts of various faculty members and administration officials who aided in the party.

Among those who Simons mentioned as taking an active part in Mardi Gras preparations were Pres. John A. Hannah, Sec. Karl McDonald, Glen Stewart, director of alumni relations, Dean L. C. Emmons of Liberal Arts, Dean of Women Elizabeth Conrad, W. H. Day, campus superintendent of buildings and grounds, Lieut. Col. O. L. Davidson, infantry R. O. T. C. unit, Prof. E. B. Hill, head of the farm management department, M. B. Dickerson of the economics department, Miss Mabel Peterson, and Roy Heath.

Nelson Okays Easter Recess For Workers

WASHINGTON, April 1 (TP)—War Production Chief Donald Nelson assured war workers today that they may have their Easter holidays—if the holiday is to be reserved for religious observance.

Nelson's statement of Easter policy came as the result of scores of letters from workmen, pledging full war effort, but asking whether Easter Sunday 1942 to be considered an ordinary work day.

Nelson replied that a day so sacred to the Christian faith should be observed, but warned that it was purely a religious holiday.

State Nine Beats Clemson, 11-5, To Break Even on Dixie Trip

Telder Hurls His Second Win; Wy Davis, Ciolek Star at Bat

CLEMSON, S. C., April 1—The touring Michigan State baseball team wound up its southern training schedule today with a 500 average by defeating Clemson, 11-5, and immediately began its homeward trek.

The victory enabled the Spartans to finish the trip with a record of three triumphs, three defeats, and one tie (with Fort Benning).

Bob Telder, Michigan State pitcher, pitched the entire contest, allowing 12 hits, and captured his second win in the south.

A pair of Spartan outfielders, Wy Davis and Ed Ciolek, stole the offensive honors. Davis garnered two singles and a double, while Ciolek sniped three singles and drove in three runs. Ciolek also was a constant threat to Clemson on the basepaths, stealing three times.

CDC Meet Brings Action On State Defense Ideas

By Jerry ter Horst "We're getting off to a good start." That was the comment of Dick George, chairman of the Office of Student Defense, after the first spring term meeting of the Coordinating Defense Council last night in the Union.

George was chairman of last night's meeting of the CDC, whose purpose is to suggest and enact the various defense activities on the campus.

"Michigan State will win a spot in national collegiate defense circles if the students will continue to support our efforts," he commented.

PLAN SOLDIER DATE BUREAU Harry Brunger, representing the Y.M.C.A., asked for the CDC's support of a World Student Service fund which would aid beleaguered college students in the war areas, particularly in China, Europe, and foreign students now in the United States.

In the interests of the national victory program, the representatives at last night's meeting of the CDC voted unanimously to accept the idea.

Possibilities of a soldiers' date bureau to aid in entertaining visiting service men and those at Fort Custer were discussed, with PanHellenic council and the Town Girls' delegates volunteering to organize such a plan.

Upon Chairman George's suggestion, the Radio club and the electrical engineers agreed to cooperate in setting up a class in telegraphy.

Bill Monroe and Dan Anderson were appointed to investigate the possibilities of a radio program to further acquaint students with campus defense activities.

La Cofradia, Spanish honorary, volunteered to cooperate with Dr. L. J. Luker, so that a conversational language course may be inaugurated to help students who will be called to foreign battlefields.

TO HOLD RUMOR CLINIC The Men's council will organize a "rumor clinic," whose duties will be to debunk propaganda rumors and aid in withholding any information that might benefit the Axis.

John Rheinick, Don Van Aken and Vera Pennington were appointed by George to investigate the probable addition of a course in mechanics for Spartan women.

Glen Wagner, representative of the Victory Speakers' bureau, offered to feel out student reactions to a campus drive to purchase either a jeep, an anti-aircraft gun or a similar offensive weapon for the army as a gift from the college students.

Raid on Malta Turned Back

LONDON, April 1 (TP)—The Air Ministry announced tonight that the German air force had suffered heavy losses today in a mass attack on the Mediterranean island of Malta.

The Germans renewed their attacks early in the morning, when it became apparent that good weather had returned. Nazi fighter planes machine-gunned buildings on the northern part of the island, and fired on a ship off the shore. Whole formations of bombers returned to attack the harbor in the afternoon.

Preliminary reports indicated that the Germans certainly had lost four bombers and two fighters, and probably had lost one more bomber. Several other German planes were hit during the fight, but managed to keep in the air. The British fighters suffered no losses.

If You Ask Me

Felicitaciones Por Un Proyecto Muy Bien Hecho

By Tom Greene

NOW THAT THEY AREN'T selling full dress suits (except single breasted tuxes) there may be some kind of a crimp put into coming formal parties in the next few years. But all is not lost. There are always basic military uniforms.

BUT SERIOUSLY, there is food for thought in the success of the Mardi Gras party Monday night. The campus bands were plenty danceable, probably better than some of the big names that have made big flops here—well, not very big, but comparatively.

REPORTS ARE THAT a sizeable bank of cash will be going to charity as a result of the party, but the important thing is that the party was fun for those who went. That is the idea of a dance, according to some experts.

PRESIDENT HANNAH was not alone in suggesting that it be made an annual affair. The conversation around the dance floor and in the lounge indicated that plenty of the party-goers thought the same.

THE CREDIT FOR the success of the Mardi Gras goes to many persons and organizations who did their part to put it across. Several people worked hard right through vacation to set up the background and get all arrangements in order. But the fellow who planned the whole thing and saw that it was carried through was your Good Neighbor from Panama, Henry Simons. Henry transplanted the idea here and he deserves a vote of thanks just for that.

BUT HIS HARD WORK on the project is a lesson to the fellows who are "too busy" to do things around here. Henry keeps as busy as almost any two persons here. Besides a full load of credits he is continually making speeches around the state as well as organizing dance programs and even a thumbea band. But he had time to plan something like this.

EITHER WE NEED A lot more students from Panama or some of our other students need to perk up a bit and do things.

Don't Cut Across the Lawn

One of the best things about spring term is the day when you look around and realize that the trees and grass are green and fresh and that it is finally real spring.

That is the day when students here for several months often get their first realization of the beauty of Michigan State's campus.

This is going to be the last spring a lot of students are going to look at that campus and see its beauty.

So it's not only for your own enjoyment, but for the sake of a lot of others that it's up to you to keep the campus beautiful.

And there is no better time than now to stop cutting across the lawns. You're going to have plenty of time to get to classes this term—when you go.

Orchids to You

Announcements of the marriage lecture series and the vocations conference is almost routine now. Some of the older members of the student body can remember the heartaches and tough sledging they once caused, however.

They are expected now and announcements are not half as stuporous as they once were. Conversely, the good of the two events has increased as the novelty wears off.

Last year's marriage lecture series consisted of six addresses; this year's will have eight. The "41 vocations conference" has expanded to the point where classes were dismissed for the general conferences. The present series promises to be just as big or bigger.

The actual worth of the marriage and vocations lectures to those who benefit directly from them is immeasurable. Equally difficult to estimate is the progress shown by the carrying out by students of serious matters that affect student futures.

Slate Tryouts Monday For Spring Play

"Imaginary Invalid" Is Term's Vehicle; To Be Given June 3, 4

Tryouts for the spring term all-college play, "The Imaginary Invalid," will be held next week, according to Jack Bush, president of Theta Alpha Phi, sponsoring organization. Starting at 7 p. m. Monday in room 170 Morrill Hall, the tryouts will continue through Thursday night.

"The Imaginary Invalid," a comedy farce by the French author, Moliere, has a cast of 11 men and four women. Director W. Fawcett Thompson said yesterday. The list of male roles calls for all types of men. Thompson explained: "I'll admit that, and I'll admit it will find a place in this play."

The version of the play that will be given in Fairchild Theater on June 3 and 4 was adapted from three separate scripts by Thompson. The present script is much longer than the original version, he said.

No previous experience is needed to try out for the play. Thompson, advisor and student who like comedy are particularly urged to try out for "The Imaginary Invalid."

Chinese Force Traps Japs In Thailand; Kills Many

CHUNGKING, April 1 (TP)—A Chinese communiqué announced tonight that a Japanese force in North Thailand had been trapped and destroyed.

The Japs had left the Chiengai area March 21 for a raid toward Monghan. The Chinese allowed the enemy to advance into a narrow pass and then attacked. The communiqué said most of the Japanese were killed or captured.

FEINT FOOLS JAPS
The Chinese garrison added the Chinese garrison from Toungoo in central Burma, was now with Lieut-General Stilwell's troops northeast of the city. General Stilwell drew off the besiegers of Toungoo by a feint in another direction.

When the Japs lined around the city had been drained of most of their men, the besieged garrison made a successful sortie and retook Stilwell's main army.

ODDS ARE TWO-TO-ONE
Chinese sources said 20 Jap transports landed troops at Rangoon during the week ending March 26. The fresh Jap regiments and the troops previously stationed around Rangoon made up a force of two divisions.

The whole Jap corps was thrown into the fight against the single Chinese division in the Toungoo area.

ALLIES ESCAPE JAP TRAP
Despite the two-to-one odds the Chinese held Toungoo for about a week and killed 5,000 Jap soldiers before retreating.

On the irascible front, British and Indian units fought their way out of a Japanese trap at Show-Jung. After fighting their way clear, the British and the Indians succeeded in reclaiming their main army to the north.

India Diplomat Silent On British Proposals
WASHINGTON, April 1 (TP)—The Agent General of India, Sir Ganga Rajan, said late today that the proposals made by Britain to his homeland are "more advanced than anything thus far offered."

Sir Ganga had visited President Roosevelt, but said they did not discuss the Indian question. He told newsmen that President Roosevelt is "interested in the whole world."

Chinese Will Reveal Jap Germ Warfare
CHUNGKING, April 1 (TP)—The Chinese Minister of Information, Wang Shih Chieh, said today that the Chungking government intended to pass on full information of Japan's bacteriological warfare against the Chinese to the Allied governments.

Foster Counsels Union Users Not to Abuse Lounge Furniture

Unless students observe the request posted in the mixed lounge, before the present freshmen class, has graduated the lounge will be an empty room. As Michigan Avenue, J. G. Foster, manager of the Union, stated yesterday.

With defense production vamping the making of luxury merchandise such as furniture, and the present rough treatment received by chairs and tables in the Union lounge, in a very few years will have no furniture left, the Union manager continued.

Student carelessness with ice cream cones and coles, and the disposal of cigarette butts has contributed largely to the low condition of lounge furniture. Foster believed.

Suggestions for the preservation of furniture which have been posted in the middle of the mixed lounge are: "Sit, don't drop onto chairs and davenport; keep feet off furniture; smoking is not permitted in the lounge; eating and drinking coles is also prohibited in the lounge."
