Rat Race?

If you're wondering what these four freshmen, armed with clubs, were doing in the shrubbery bordering the sidewalks in front of the Union last night, they were definitely on the hunt—after a rat. The huge rat led the hunters a merry chase, but a glance at the determined faces of the frosh boded no fortune for brother rat. Whether the boys succeeded or not is unknown, but latest commiques reported the green pot-smokers were still stalking their prey in the vicinity of the Home Economics building.

It's Contagious

Right after the announcement that Prof. Shirley had been granted leave by the English department to serve as a physics instructor, the report that will be found in his new workshop by Ron Heath, physics director for the department. Both men majored in physics as undergraduates, in spite of their varied fields now. Because of the highly technical demands of physics, their probable work will be in laboratory and practical work. For the duration, physics instructors belong to the priority class of stainless steel and new tires.

'Seeing-Eye Dog'

The fruits of several local organizations' efforts blossomed on campus this week when Paul Olson, blind student from Durand, appeared with his "Seeing-Eye Dog." The dog was purchased through campaigns conducted by Blue Key and Lambda Chi Alpha, and the Lions club. A small amount of money is still needed to complete payment.

Operators, Miners Can't Strike on Work Week

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Coal mine operators and John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers failed to reach agreement today in an informal conference on procedure for extending the 35 hour work week in the industry.

UNDER THE WIRE

Buenos Aires, Sept. 29

(AP)—The Argentine chamber of deputies tonight approved a resolution recommending a break in diplomatic relations with the Axis.

The vote was not expected to have any direct effect on the government's policy of "prudent neutrality," however, for the conservative senate is supporting the move. Ramon S. Castillo and is likely to act with the chamber where a coalition of liberals and conservatives.

Berlin (from German broadcast), Sept. 29 (AP)—Adolf Hitler will address a mass meeting of the National Socialist party at 8 p. m. Wednesday (noon, E.W.T.). The Berlin radio announced this first announcement did not say where the address would be made.

Washington, Sept. 29 (AP)

Both Michigan senators, Arthur Vandenberg (R) and Frank M. Brown (D), voted against the Thomas-Hatch amendment to the anti-inflation bill which was adopted by the senate tonight, 48 to 43.

Bloc Adds High Farm Parity to Price Bill

Administration Asks Vote on New Compromise in Hot Session

By RICHARD L. TURNER
WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—With tempers frayed and nerves frazzled, the senate tonight deferred until tomorrow a final decision of the farm price controversies tied up in the anti-inflation bill. With its action, any lingering hope that the legislation might be enacted by October 1, the deadline fixed by President Roosevelt, disappeared.

By a vote of 48 to 43, the senate farm bloc wrote its higher parity farm price formula into the anti-inflation bill today and then began a determined fight to keep it from being swept from the measure by a later roll call. No sooner had it been adopted than Senator Barkley (D-Ky.), the administration leader, offered a compromise substitute. A majority of the senate, including many who voted for the farm bloc's amendment, were reportedly committed to support the Barkley plan.

Pep Rally to Start With Snake Dance

A snake dance starting at the administration building at 7 p. m. tomorrow will open the annual "beat Michigan" pep rally, according to Ernie Guy, head Spartan cheerleader.

The dance will end in front of the Union at 7:30, where varied entertainment will be offered. Guy, assisted by six other cheerleaders, will teach the Michigan State yells to the freshmen. Dick Charles and his band will play for a 15 minute street dance after the rally if the weather is warm enough for dancing. Women will be given late permission to attend the dance if the action is necessary. Coaches Bachman, Kawa I. Holsinger and Athletic Director Ralph Young are scheduled to be present and each will give a short talk. Freshmen who wish to try out for cheerleading are requested to see one of the varsity cheerleaders at the platform.

Hershey Favors Use of Youth Manpower

NEW YORK CITY, Sept. 29 (AP)—The working power of school children "four or five hours a day" may be called upon to reinforce "the fighting and producing groups," Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, told a conference of manpower and war labor problems today. "I don't want to hurt education," Hershey said, "but the education of our children may have to be confined. We must realize that we may have to see the time when our youngsters will have to do farmwork or do something else useful four or five hours a day."

Stephan Asks New Trial

CINCINNATI, Sept. 29 (AP)—Contending that the sentence under which he is to hang November 13 for treason was "cruel and unusual" and not in line with testimony and evidence in the case, Max Stephan, Detroit restaurant proprietor, filed an appeal today to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

German Attack Enters Second Month

Valiant defenders of Stalingrad carried the battle for the Volga metropolis into the second month by broadening an offensive (open arrows) in the northwest as fresh troops arrived from the east. Gumbosts, sweeping the riverfront, were credited with destroying a large number of the Nazi invaders driving into the streets (black arrows). A Russian newspaperman said it is now a city of wreckage and trembling earth.

Russian Forces Continue Desperate Stand as Nazis Advance on Stalingrad

MOSCOW, Wednesday, Sept. 30 (AP)—The Red army, killing more than 2,200 Germans, beat off all of the main Nazi blows at Stalingrad yesterday, the Soviet high command announced today on the 37th day of siege.

MOSCOW, Wednesday, Sept. 30 (AP)—German troops captured an unidentified hill site on the Stalingrad front yesterday, but lost more than 1,200 men and 29 tanks in repeated unsuccessful efforts to widen a wedge in Russian lines in their main attack on the northwestern outskirts of the city, it was announced officially today on the 37th day of siege. The badly outnumbered Russians killed 700 Germans before relinquishing the height, the midnight communique said.

Above the city, between the Volga and Don rivers the Russians still were hammering the German flank in an effort to ease the pressure on Stalingrad's garrison, which fought on from their bomb craters and burned buildings. See RUSSIA—Page 4

Nelson Reports New Gain in Production

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the War Production board reported tonight that munitions output in August was 8 per cent higher than in July but declared the showing was "not one that we can brag about."

Actually, Nelson reported in his third "war production communique," production lagged in August about 14 per cent behind the forecasts made on the first of that month. Aircraft production was up 6 percent over July; ordnance up 3 percent; naval ship reconstruction up 7 per cent; merchant ship construction up 6 per cent, and other munitions output increased by 14 per cent.

First Duty Is to Train for War Work

Criticizes Students Who Still Drive Cars for Pleasure

"Michigan State college is not a hideout for the faint-hearted, nor a sanctuary for the spiritless," Pres. John A. Hannah told approximately 5,000 students assembled in College auditorium yesterday at the first all-college convocation since spring term.

The President's message emphasized the obligations of both the college and of students to the war effort of the nation. He stated that the first responsibility of every student, man or woman, is to train himself for whatever part is his for the duration of the war.

President Hannah's speech was not designed to cheer those who were seeking an "easy way" to dismiss their war-time responsibilities. He particularly criticized students who continue to use cars for social purposes. In outlining the war role of the college, Hannah said: See HANNAH—Page 4

FDR Petitions for More Navy Planes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—To build thousands of new navy fighter planes, President Roosevelt today asked Congress for an immediate appropriation of $2,862,000,000, which would send the current fiscal year's outlay for the sea service to a record of approximately $20,900,000,000.

In a brief memorandum to Speaker Rayburn, the president concurred in a budget bureau assertion that the new planes were essential for "the prosecution of the war."

The plane expansion program is in line with the policy recently enunciated by Chairman Vinson of the house naval committee of emphasizing carriers and carrier-based airplanes, in preference to huge battleships.

This program was given impetus during the day when Lieut. Com. John S. Thach, thrice-decorated for his work as leader of a squadron of navy fighter planes in the Pacific, said at a navy department press conference that only carrier-based air power could clear the way for invasion and defeat of Japan.

Spartans At War

By AL BERGLUND

News about the fighting men from Michigan State college who have been stationed all over the world, pours into the State News office in Union annex every day. As a regular feature of the State News, we will tell you about these men—so far as censorship requests permit.

Anyone who has information regarding former Michigan State students now in the armed services is requested to pin it on the bulletin board down in the State News office.

In Pilot Squadron 63 at the Santa Ana army air base in California is Dick Graham, who lived last year at Abbot hall. Mail will reach Dick at the base.

Two former State students are now plebes at West Point, and another started this summer at Annapolis.

At the army pre-flight school at San Antonio, Tex., are Aviation Cadets William S. Burt, from Grand Rapids, and George E. McCutcheon, Birmingham, both former students here.

Lieut. Lloyd E. Jameson, Vet. 37, has been assigned as post veterinarian at Fort Moultrie, Ga.

Aviation Cadet Herb Spencer has completed his basic training at Pensacola, the "Annapolis of the Air," and was transferred recently to the Corpus Christi, Tex., naval air station for advanced training. Herb attended Michigan State for two years, and his home is in Lansing.

Richard E. Drew, '40, was this week promoted to the rank of captain at the Field Artillery Replacement Training center at Fort Sill, Okla. Captain Drew has one of the longest records of service for the Fort Sill Replacement center.

You'll hear more about Spartans at War soon.

President Hannah's Words Are Clear

President Hannah is to be congratulated on the sharp, unerring terms in which he has presented the problem of education during wartime to the students of Michigan State college.

Surely, reality must be hanging over the head of every student in college, so that he or she understood what President Hannah meant when he made such well-defined statements as:

"Michigan State college will become an arsenal of skills ... not a hide-out for the faint-hearted."

"You are all preparing yourselves for active, competent and early participation in the war effort, and being a student must never mean that you are a member of a favored class."

"... It will be a very unpatriotic young woman who will expect her escort to provide automobile transportation."

THINKIN' OUT LOUD

By Sheldon Moyer

WHY IS there a housing shortage in East Lansing this fall? Why did the housing directors have to urge residents on the east side of Lansing to open their homes to college students?

The probable answer lies in the increased war production activity in and about Lansing. Home owners who formerly rented their rooms to students have converted them into small apartments for war workers, saying they are much more desirable and stable.

All of which brings up the point that Lansing and East Lansing are in what is known as a "defense rental area." Therefore, students living in rooming houses, fraternity houses or commercially operated dormitories are entitled to the benefit of the OPA ceiling on rents.

They cannot be charged a higher rent than they paid in the 30 days prior to the maximum rental date established for their area by the OPA—a date which varies according to area and stretches as far back as Jan. 1, 1941.

Under OPA regulations, the landlord is obligated to provide the same services, sheets, towels, and soap, for example, as he did in the 30 day period without additional charge. If he supplied board along with room and charged a lump sum, he is now obliged to render separate accounts so that the rental figure may not be disguised. The price of meals does not come under the ceiling. If he rented a room to one person in the house, he cannot place another person there without reducing the price.

Students living in college-owned or operated dormitories do not come under the rent ceiling, according to present regulations, although OPA has the authority to include them if it is deemed vital to the general rent control program.

If you live in a rooming house or fraternity that has oil heating, that isn't good either. Students in all Eastern and Midwestern colleges are not going to have their rooms as warm as in the piping times of peace.

The reason is that the East normally consumes 1,500,000 barrels of oil a day. Submarines and the need for tankers in our overseas supply service have cut the supply by water to almost nothing. Overland facilities are taxed and the Midwest must stare its tank cars and other facilities. As a consequence, use of all fuel in those regions must be kept at a minimum.

Tip: In buying new clothes, get them warm!

OPA Stops Sale of Rubber Boots and Shoes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration today ordered the rationing of rubber boots and rubber work shoes effective Oct. 5.

Effective at midnight tonight, all such stocks on the shelves were ordered frozen until the rationing begins. Then the goods will be sold on certificates obtained from local rationing boards.

Rifling a gun barrel, a delicate machining job, is being done 30 times faster than a few months ago.

INFORMATION

MARDI GRAS—All Mardi Gras King and Queen candidates must be present at a meeting Friday, Oct. 2, at 5 p. m. in the Spartan room. They should bring their 5x7 pictures with them.

FRESHMAN MEN—Spartan Y invites all freshman men to the Freshman Fellowship gathering in student parlors, Peoples church, at 5 p. m. today.

SPARTAN SERVICE ORG.—For the new cabinet members, officers of last spring term, and ex-social chairmen of the dorms, there will be a meeting of 880 in the A.W.S. office in the Union annex this afternoon at 5. It is important that everyone makes a special effort to attend, Pres. Enid Bennett requests. See INFORMATION—Page 4

Students May Learn New Dance Steps

Michigan State college students interested in learning new and improved dance steps soon will have the opportunity to study under two nationally known dance instructors, Miss Camilla Joa and her partner, Everett Cromwell English.

Miss Joa and English soon will launch a series of classes in the ballroom, rumba and conga at various fraternity and sorority houses in East Lansing.

At The Homestead, just outside the nation's capital, Miss Joa and English instructed such noted figures as King Pe'er II, President Quezon, General Valdez, Donald Nelson, David Sarnoff and Lawrence Tibbett.

New England is the only region in the United States that uses more fuel oil than gasoline.

Prep Work for Spartans

ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 29 (AP)—Mervin Pregulman, 210-pound University of Michigan center, is ready for this football joust against Michigan State Saturday.

Pregulman's reason for coming to Michigan is Lansing; he was an outstanding high school player at Lansing Central, and he is ready to forsake his Michigan school to come to Michigan for his book-learning.

Pregulman is the latest in the line of good Wolverine centers. His vicious tackling and book-learning was one of the reasons he was switched to center.

As a freshman Pregulman was awarded the University of Michigan club trophy for an outstanding job in spring practice.

Star Pitcher to Open Series vs. Cooper

St. Louis Home Grounds Hoped to Be Filled to Capacity

By JUDSON BAILEY

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 29 (AP)—Old Red Ruffing, the warhorse who has pitched five previous World Series openers, is ready to lead off again today for the New York Yankees as they face the St. Louis Cardinals and Mort Cooper in baseball's first wartime World Series in almost a quarter of a century.

Manager Joe McCarthy of the mighty Yanks told reporters on the train bringing the world champions here yesterday that he would string along with the 38-year-old righthander who has undertaken the majority of McCarthy's most important mound assignments for many years. This season he has won 14 and lost 7.

The wild, unbridled enthusiasm that usually surrounds a series was missing last night in St. Louis, even though the classic of the diamond was returning here for the first time since 1934. The war seemed to be responsible for the calm reception, but it did not keep the local fans from gobbling up all seats placed on advance sale and there was no doubt that Sportsman's park would be filled to capacity for the opening game.

All the Cardinals' hopes for conquering the heavily favored Yankees were wrapped up in Cooper taking the first game. The robust righthander, who won 22 games and lost 7 this season, while scoring 10 shutouts, was definitely designated as the Redbirds' leadoff hurler by Manager Billy Southworth.

Spartan's Untried Line Will Face Proven Strength in 'M' Wall

By The Associated Press

Whatever else it may bring to cheer or depress the coaches, Michigan State's opener against the University of Michigan Saturday will lose a scorching baptism of fire on an inexperienced Spartan line.

Line Coach Al Kawal is convinced that no other Spartan foe this season will even faintly compare with the Wolverines in line strength.

Everybody knew Michigan had an exceptional line before the season opened, but that demonstration against Great Lakes proved it to be far beyond expectations," Kawal declared. "How our green line is going to handle Merv Pregulman, Jule Franks, Bob Kolesar and Al Wistert, I don't know."

'M' Center Strong

He pointed out that from guard to guard, where Michigan has Franks, Pregulman and Kolesar, State has a woefully inexperienced trio. Howard Beyer, the Spartan center, saw little service last year behind Tony Arena, while George Radulescu and Don LeClair seldom were called upon to replace Bill Kennedy and Bill Rupp at the guards.

In Kawal's opinion Wistert alone gives the Wolverines a tremendous edge at tackles where Dick Mangrum saw part-time service in 1941 and Alger Conner, a sophomore, will be making his first start.

Ends Least Worry

The ends probably are causing the Spartan coaches the least worry as far as experience is concerned, but they expect terrific pressure on the flanks from the fleet Wolverine backs who last Saturday bewildered the Great Lakes wingmen with tricky sweeps and laterals.

'M' Proves Punting

This success didn't seem to mean anything to the sailors, because they failed to use the quick kick again in the game. Maybe the fact that on the first play Michigan had the ball after the boot, Bob Chappius ran out from his own goal line to the 50. However, this certainly won't happen every time the Wolverines are caught with their backs to the wall.

Michigan proved the value of good punting with several well placed boots by Cliff Wise and Bob Wiese setting up both of the Wolverines' scoring positions. Considerable yardage was also piled up by the Wolves via the exchange of punts method so you might find Saturday's game decided by a couple of good or else mediocre kicks.

Dr. McCune Begins 25th Year at Peoples Church

By Neva Ackerman

One of the longest records of service to Michigan State and East Lansing belongs to Dr. N. A. McCune, who today and all this week is celebrating 25 years as pastor of Peoples church.

Doctor McCune will deliver his anniversary sermon on the theme "Those Days and These Days" next Sunday morning, and will be honored at a reception at 7:30 tonight at the church.

Doctor McCune has been a part of the growth of the college through his work as Peoples church minister. A graduate of Michigan Agricultural college in 1901, McCune took his present position shortly after Peoples church, an interdenominational institution composed of Baptist, Congregational, Methodist and Presbyterian churches, was founded.

Has Seen Church Grow

At that time it was a small church located on the site of the Kesel flower shop with about 250 members. Under McCune the church has progressed to a membership of 1,600 and has had a new church edifice since 1927.

Doctor McCune believes in making religion practical, in "giving students a knowledge of how to apply religion in everyday living." Peoples church, according to Dr. McCune, is built around the idea of a threefold purpose—worship, religious education and community service. For this reason the church is open seven days a week and organizations ranging from Boy Scouts and Missionary society to Y.W.C.A., Y.M.C.A. and Student club.

Has Wide Education

A native of Petosky, Doctor McCune is also an alumnus of Boston university and studied in London and Oxford, England. For two years he taught agriculture at Berea college in Kentucky.

The reception tonight is being given by Women's society and Missionary society of Peoples church, with Mrs. C. K. Wirth and Mrs. H. T. Darlington in charge.

Honor guests will include Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Huxford, Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Hoats, Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Nixon of Albion, and Rev. and Mrs. Peter H. Monsma and Mr. and Mrs. John McCune.

Reception

Big and little sisters will hold their first get-together tonight at 7:15 in the Union ballroom at a reception given by Dean Elisabeth Conrad. Lois Luecht and Laura Mae Leland, co-chairmen of freshman counselor system, are in charge.

In previous years, Miss Conrad has held this reception for freshman women and transfer students during Freshman Week but according to Miss Luecht the new plan will serve to make a closer relationship between big and little sisters.

New students will be accompanied by their big sisters and freshman women who do not have a big sister will be given one at the reception, Miss Luecht said.

The receiving line will be headed by Miss Conrad and includes Miss Mabel Petersen, Miss Emma Sater, Mrs. John Hannah and the wives of all the Deans.

Freshman Orientation

All freshman girls will meet in Fairchild theater tomorrow at 5 p. m. for the first Freshman Orientation class, according to Margaret White, general chairman. Presidents of several campus organizations will speak to the girls, and the purposes of the course will be discussed.

Y.W.C.A.

Jean Barnum, Y.W.C.A. chairman, will report on program possibilities for the year at the first open meeting of the organization at 5 p. m. today, in the Peoples church student parlors.

Miss Emma Sater, campus Y.W.C.A. secretary, will speak to the group on "On the Alert."

PRICE BILL

Senator Thomas (D-Okla.), the author of the farm bloc amendment. Denying any intent to filibuster, he said he nevertheless expected to devote "considerable time" to a statement of his views on farm prices.

Barkley's request, made with an eye on the president's Oct. 1 deadline, provoked a heated exchange in which a number of senators joined. A suggestion that the senate adjourn at once that America's fighting men were drawn from Barkley a rejoinder because the members were tired working more than seven hours a day.

"The senator is losing his temper," put in Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.).

Barkley ordered the session to continue into the evening, whether or not tempers were lost.

Allies Capture Ridge in New Guinea Fight

GEN MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Wednesday, Sept. 30 (AP)—Allied troops in swelling counter-thrust against the Japanese in New Guinea have recaptured Ioribaiwa Ridge 32 miles above Port Moresby and "our advance continues," a communique said today. The Japanese were reported retiring toward Nauro, 10 miles to the north, and piles of equipment they abandoned were seized by the Allied jungle fighters who considerably eased the enemy's pressure on Port Moresby.
