Cigar Boom

Cigar passing has become old time to the Botany faculty. During the spring and summer, four cigar papers of that staff, prepared all pages in honor of the members of their respective families in the spring. H. C. Benson became the father of a daughter, and in the summer a son arrived at the household of Prof. Carl P. Benson. About mid-summer Mrs. Benson presented a daughter to Ben Lewis, Botany professor, on September 19. Miss V. Stevenson, graduate student in plant pathology, became a daddy's laughing boy.

Mob Rule

East Lansing high school held annual pep rally last night at expense of the city's traffic, preparation for its "confrontation" with Lansing Central in the gridiron. The game is scheduled for this evening. All traffic going through East Lansing toward Lansing was stopped and bounced up and down for a minute before being allowed to pass on by the howling mob that punctuated its ranks with fireworks.

Style Cramped

Prof. E. A. Bessey returned last week from a vacation at the university in that state. His son, a Michigan State graduate, is an instructor in Phytochemistry. Professor Bessey said he did not get his car with a recent and rode a train. The space from State occupied the opposite berth, and Bessey occupied his. In conversation with his fellow Spartan, later, Professor Bessey said: "I had no time to get with my pretty girls."

Serve Band to Hold Rehearsals This Week

All State students who play instruments reasonably well will be urged to try out for the Varsity band, open to both men and women, by Director Arthur Best, a new member of the music faculty.

Rehearsals will continue until the end of this week. The new band will assist the regular Varsity band and will play at football games.

Senate Passes Compromise on Price Bill

Next Step Is Ironing Out Differences in Law Passed by House

By RICHARD L. TURNER
WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—The senate unanimously approved legislation giving President Roosevelt power to stabilize wages, salaries and prices tonight, after working out a compromise on the long and intensely disputed question of farm prices.

The bill was passed, 82 to 0, on the eve of the deadline established by President Roosevelt for the enactment of such a measure. The house had already approved a somewhat similar bill. Further necessary legislative processes, however, made it evident that the legislation would not reach the White House until later in the week.

Although Mr. Roosevelt asserted he would act independently to stabilize the cost of living unless a satisfactory measure reached him by Oct. 1, administration leaders were confident he would withhold such action in view of the advanced status of the measure.

The legislation probably will go next to a conference committee, made up of members of both house and senate. Their duty will be to bring the differing provisions of the house and senate bills into conformity. Then, see SENATE—Page 4

President Closes Library in Honor of Old Member

Funeral services will be held at 9 this morning in the colonial chapel of the Estes Leadley funeral home, Lansing, for Mrs. Linda Landon, 66, former college librarian who died late Tuesday. By order of Pres. John A. Hannah, the library will be closed from 9 to 10 a. m. in honor of her memory.

Born in Niles, Mich., on May 9, 1856, Mrs. Landon taught in Kalamazoo public schools before coming to M. S. C. in 1891. She was college librarian for 41 years until retiring March 31, 1932. Well-known to thousands of M. S. C. alumni, she was an honorary member of Men's Union Literary society, the M. S. C. Alumni association, East Lansing Women's club, D. A. R. and the East Lansing Child Study club.

Mrs. Landon resided at 447 Grove St., East Lansing. She is survived by her son, Rufus W. Landon Jr., of Detroit; her husband, R. W. Landon, died in 1886.

Plans for Second MSC Mardi Gras Go Ahead With Kings and Queens

Plans for the second annual Michigan State Mardi Gras were being pushed forward today as various organizations began naming their candidates for "King" and "Queen" of the gala affair, scheduled for Oct. 17.

Each fraternity and sorority will put up one candidate for "King" and "Queen," respectively, while dormitories will do likewise. Men's and women's co-ops are following a different procedure, naming one candidate for men's co-ops and one for women's.

The names of those candidates selected will be announced Saturday in the State News. However, Jack Bush, general chairman of the Mardi Gras has scheduled a meeting of all candidates for 5 p. m. Friday in the

Council Selects Mannie Mullen to Head CDC

Emanuel (Manny) Mullen, L. A. '44, from Brooklyn, N. Y., will head the Coordinating Defense Council at Michigan State college for the 1942-43 school year, as a result of his appointment last night by student council.

Active in defense projects last year at State, Mullen was recommended by retiring head Dick George, Eng. '43, of Muskegon, who resigned this week because of the pressure of other work.

George was given a vote of thanks by Student Council for his efforts in organizing and bringing defense work of Michigan State students into national prominence.

In charge of an election for senior class presidency, vacant because of a political maneuver by organized politicians on campus last spring, will be Frank Izzo, L. A. '43. The election will be held as soon as plans can get organized. Izzo stated:

Phil Althen, A. S. '43, was made chairman of the National Student Federation of America convention, to be held on campus in December. Permission to sponsor the homecoming dance in college auditorium was given to Alpha Phi Omega by the council.

Prizes of last spring's Mardi Gras will be pooled with those of the Mardi Gras to be held Oct. 17, and given to some victory or see COUNCIL—Page 4

Toll of Dieppe Raid Bared by Churchill

LONDON, Sept. 30 (AP)—The British nation learned from Prime Minister Churchill today that the over-all Allied loss at Dieppe last August 19 was "nearly half" of the total force which participated.

Simple arithmetic, taking Churchill's statement and the Canadian government's previous announcement of 3,350 Canadian casualties, or two out of three Canadians participating, showed that the whole force which assaulted the German-held city was close to 7,000.

The prime minister gave a new hint of the stiffness of the German coastal defenses, which the United Nations intend to storm some day. He said the thousands of Allied troops which descended upon Dieppe were protected by a "faultless" air cover, and he demonstrated firm faith in the "Churchill tanks" which they took along.

But, he explained, they ran up against German steel and concrete of "altogether unexpected strength" in the Dieppe roadblocks, which were too solid to be demolished by the Allied six-pounder guns.

Bus Officials Ask Early Signatures

Students intending to go to the Michigan State-Michigan game Saturday via the Greyhound bus lines are urged to register their names early at the Union desk. To date, 202 students have already signed for passage and it is imperative that the Greyhound officials receive early notification of the number of students going to the game. Only a limited number of buses will be available and tickets should be purchased early to insure ample service.

Lansing Ann Arbor runs on Saturday to take care of student traffic.

In addition to the bus previously announced leaving East Lansing at 8:40 a. m., there will also be a bus leaving from the same station at 11:55 which will get the student to Ann Arbor before the game time of 3 p. m. There will be an early bus leaving from the Lansing terminal at 8:05 a. m.

Students interested in taking one of these three buses to Ann Arbor Saturday are to list their names at the Union desk before see CLASSES—Page 4

Reds Beaten Back on Stalingrad Line

MOSCOW, Thursday, Oct. 1 (AP)—German tank forces gained ground in Stalingrad's northwestern outskirts yesterday while in the Caucasus the Red army smashed an entire Rumanian mountain division which suffered 8,000 casualties, the Soviet command announced today.

The Nazi gain was made only in a single sector, the midnight communique said, and came after the "Germans threw in another tank division" in the consuming struggle now entering its 38th day.

"At the cost of heavy losses the enemy on one sector pressed back our units," the bulletin said. "In these battles 15 enemy tanks, 14 motor vehicles, and two mortar batteries were destroyed, and about two battalions (1,000 men) of enemy infantry were annihilated."

In a striking climb-down from his boast on a like occasion a year ago that the Russian power was crushed never to rise again, Hitler declared "We shall never capitulate... we shall emerge victorious..."

Beat Michigan Pep Rally Will Feature Big Snake Dance

Something seldom heard by a majority of the student body is the football team singing the Alma Mater. That is what will happen tonight at 7 p. m. at the annual "beat Michigan" pep rally, which will start with a snake dance at the administration building.

Glenn Johnson will lead the team in the singing, and the members of the team will be presented to the audience when they gather in front of the Union following the dance. The players are scheduled to present some acts, including singing and dancing. Head Cheerleader Ernie Guy is in charge of the rally.

With recent queries in mind pertaining to student transportation to the game, the various means now available will be explained.

Providing the rally lasts after 9 p. m., women students will be allowed 15 minutes to return to their respective residences. There will be no street dance as was previously announced.

Nelson Asks Board to Aid 'Little Men'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the War Production board and others alarmed by the growing threat of wholesale bankruptcies among war-distressed small business men appealed today for federal millions to finance their post-war survival.

Nelson suggested to the senate small business committee the creation of a war liabilities adjustment board to assist in debt adjustments now and with other financing, technical assistance and priorities on machinery and equipment upon the return of peace.

It Doesn't Make Reason or Rhyme

The casual wanderer into Morrill hall notices that it is quite old but that it still manages to retain its dignity, and seems outwardly like quite a sensible building.

But the moment one goes into it to find a classroom for the first time, he sees a peculiar situation, one in which the creaking old building differs from all the other buildings on campus.—The classroom is pretty much a needle in a haystack.

Walking southeast on the first floor of Morrill, for instance, the room numbers illustrate a typical sequence. Beginning with room 120 at one end, one finds consecutively rooms 130, 133, 129, and then 123 and 121. On the south side of the hall the same situation prevails.

Apparently this confusing numbering system is a hang-over from the days when Morrill hall was a haven for harried women, back in 1936. After all these years, somebody ought to take time out and number the old place properly. It looks as though we'll be using it awhile.

Our Living Costs Still Run Rampant

The Home Front's dread enemy, inflation, still threatens us with high living costs as the vastly increased buying power competes for scarce goods not yet under price control.

Today, we are paying $1.35 for what was a dollar's worth of food in 1939. Prices of foods not under control have risen almost 10 per cent in a three months' period. Food products and services under price ceilings have shown a slight decline in the same period.

The answer is evident—more extensive price control.

In Campus Quarters

The war has come even to our society news-casting with a decided increase in the list of engagements and marriages. . . . Over at the Kappa house Phil Barrows, after returning to school for a few days, went down to Texas, Sunday, to marry Bob Telder, Sigma Nu. She will return to school. . . . Another Kappa who returned to school with a diamond was Margaret Clark, receiving the rock from Bud Bisbee, Chi Psi at Michigan. . . . The Kappa Deltas announced the engagement of Carol Schiller to Larry Bayes, Alpha Chi Sig, while Jacquie Day, senior this year, is now Mrs. Tim Willweith, Tim is an air cadet at Randolph field, Texas.

Something less conventional in way of engagements came this summer when Rose Taylor, Epsilon Chi, and Sidney Salsburg, Alpha Epsilon Pi, exchanged rings on top of a Fifth avenue bus in New York. Rose's roommate, Rosalind Friedman, also became engaged this summer to Dr. Allan Marks who graduated last June. Dr. Marks left for the army yesterday. . . . Harry Gardner, Delta Sig, and Ann Hafford, Theta, will be married Oct. 24 at the Episcopal church in Albion. The couple will live in East Lansing until Harry finishes school. . . . And Sigma Kappas approaching marriage are Betty Bushnell, who has a ring from Bob Wilson, and Marilyn Clarks, with a ring from Al Dunn.

The Delta Zetas, encamped in their new house, initiated their new bathtub Saturday night when Kay Foster received a ring from Jack Mackie, S.A.E.

The A.O.P.'s engaged list includes Donna Tubbs who came back with a diamond from Ed Makig, Beta Kappa from '41. . . . Mickey McCrea is wearing Harold Mayes' ring and Janet Englehardt has a sparkler Dan Darling gave her.

Sunday sorority rushing teas swamped many a house. . . and at the Alpha Gamma Delta house Peg Middlemiss attempting to be a stout observer of PanHellenic rules refused to let two guests in the door after 4 p. m. Much was her chagrin when she discovered that the two guests were not rushees at all. . . . But the biggest laugh of the week concerns Bob Shedd, Lambda Chi, a confirmed drinker of milk, who was having his usual ham sandwich and glass of milk at a local-hop establishment when a cop demanded a "look-see" at his draft card—which he did not have. Bob now finds himself conforming.

ALONG THE WINDING CEDAR

By Len Barnes

DIGNIFIED University of Michigan upperclassmen yesterday put a stop to the selling of freshman pots on their campus when the Michigan Daily came out with a story explaining that the tiny maize and blue pots, being sold for 75 cents a head, weren't required dome covering.

It seems that the custom of potting freshmen at the U. of M. has been decadent for 10 years, and that pots sold at 50 cents a head last year to super-fresh frosh who insisted on wearing them.

The Daily did Wolverines a service in informing freshmen that they wouldn't be paddled if they ran around the campus sans pots. Freshmen are considered good sucker bait by a lot of smart aleck upperclassmen who want to have fun and make money.

But the idea of neophyte students wearing pots is a good one.

First off, it gives them individually a feeling that they aren't alone, that they aren't the only ones who don't know the score. Even blasé seniors will recall a little trace of the loneliness they felt on hitting State for the first time, with upperclassmen shaking hands, and them shaking knees. Pots give frosh a certain feeling of unity.

Secondly, they promote friendliness among frosh. One is more likely to gang up with fellow-potted men than with upperclassmen.

Pots also serve to designate frosh for upperclassmen, not only for hazing purposes, but also for showing them a little friendliness, and explaining things to them. In a sense the custom of wearing pots makes new students aware that they are entering a new life, that they must become acquainted with new customs and traditions.

And they give a few at least the proper sense of humbleness for a few weeks. After being big shots in high school they find they are just a very minor part of a very large student body in a college which is growing in size and importance to the nation.

And lastly, as a lot of upperclassmen will testify, pots help a heck of a lot in getting acquainted with cute frosh women.

Yearlings Use Michigan Plays with Some Success; Sophomore Bob Otting Calls Signals for Varsity

By Tom Riordan

With emphasis on defense, the Michigan State football team held its second scrimmage with the Spartan frosh eleven on the secret practice field yesterday afternoon, with the freshmen using Michigan plays.

The first year men were surprisingly successful, too, completing a few passes and breaking through the varsity line, much to the chagrin of Coach Charley Bachman, who is still trying to work out a way to stop the Wolverines.

of the Western conference. The Bluejackets meet as many Big Nine teams as the Big Nine teams do. The heavy schedule continues for Lieut. Hinkle's squad with games against Pittsburg, Michigan State, Missouri, Camp Grant, Marquette, and Notre Dame.

Unbeaten in '18

Before the game with the University of Michigan last Saturday, the Great Lakes Sailors boasted a string of 12 undefeated games, compiled in 1917-1918. During the last year of World War I, the navymen were unbeaten in their nine football games with such teams as Iowa, Illinois, Northwestern, Rutgers, Annapolis, and Purdue. Great Lakes played in the Rose Bowl at the end of the season and defeated the Pacific Coast's outstanding 11, the Mare Island Marines.

Sailor Bachman

One of the outstanding members of this remarkable team was Charley Bachman. The Spartan coach was named center on Walter Camp's first team, the All-American squad of that year. See MONKS—Page 4

Michigan used a man in motion against Great Lakes Saturday and Bachman is extremely interested in having his men become familiar with this system and stop the "M" backs from tearing off yardage like they did against the Sailors.

Not forgetting his own offense, Bach has had the Spartans passing, with both Dick Kieppe and Walt Pawlowski, of the starting eleven, doing the throwing. Elbert Stark has also been doing some passing.

A backfield change finds Bob Otting, 200-pound Flint sophomore, working in the first string eleven at quarterback, replacing veteran Bill Millikin, who is 12 pounds lighter. Either of these signal callers may start, with Millikin's experience giving him the edge. Louie Brand will also probably see action at this position.

The remainder of the backfield is Kieppe and Pawlowski at the halfback posts and Ed Ripmaster at full. Pete Fornari, Edo Mencotti, Stark and Morgan Gingrass will see plenty of action before Saturday afternoon is through.

The forward wall is just about set with Fraleigh and McNeil, ends; Dick Mangrum and Alger Conner, tackles; Don LeClair and George Radulescu, guards, and Howard Beyer at center. Beyer, who injured his ankle in Monday's scrimmage, was pronounced OK for heavy duty last Saturday, barring injuries.

ANN ARBOR, Sept. 30 (AP)—Michigan's sophomores, principally Bob Wiese and Bob Chapuis, were a big surprise in the Great Lakes game Saturday, and it is just possible Coach Fritz Crisler has a couple more of the same kind of cards left in his hand for Michigan State.

It looks like Crisler will try to beat the Spartans without endangering the healing leg of Tom Kuzma, although the big junior halfback may see some action.

Yanks Nip Ninth Inning Card Rally to Gain Edge in World Series

St. Louis, Sept. 30 (AP)—In a wild and turbulent beginning to a world series that had been expected to be one of the tightest in history, the powerful New York Yankees stilled the St. Louis Cardinals for eight innings today and won 7 to 4 after smothering an almost incredible ninth-inning outburst by the Redbirds.

Charley (Red) Ruffing thrilled a capacity crowd of 34,385 with one of the finest pitching performances in his long and lustrous career, establishing two World Series records while shutting out the indomitable Cardinals till the game was within one out of being over.

Mort Cooper, bearing all the hopes of the National League on his broad shoulders, had been steadily shelled and finally removed from the scene — and thousands of fans were on their way out of the park.

Then the Cardinals suddenly showed the spirit and spark that had earned them a place in this year's baseball classic. They hammered Ruffing out of the box and continued their assault on Spurgeon (Spud) Chandler until the great crowd was near hysteria and they had four runs across, the bases loaded and one of their finest hitters, rookie Stan Musial, standing at the plate with what represented the winning run if they could get it across.

But the pink-cheeked freshman missed a chance for fame by grounding out and the Yankees thankfully vacated the field with their victory.

The remarkable Cardinal rally stole the show from Ruffing, who pitched no-hit ball for 7 2-3 innings for one record and received credit for his seventh World Series triumph for another mark.

Independents Urged to List Grid Teams

According to the intramural office, there are only two independent teams listed for the fall term touch football league. L. L. Frimodig, intramural director, requests that men wishing to arm football teams to do so at once and report to him as soon as possible in order to arrange an appropriate schedule. The league was to begin competition a week from Monday.

Informality Is Word for Studying in New Program

Honors Program Inaugurated in Liberal Arts; Only Better Students May Enter; Will Study Good Books at Own Pace

For the first time in Michigan State college history, a new Honors program, presented last spring, is being adopted by the Liberal Arts division, it was disclosed by Dean Emmons.

Those departments in the division desiring to participate in the course include art, economics, English, foreign languages, history and political science, journalism, mathematics, music, philosophy and psychology, and sociology.

The object of the Honors program is to enable a limited number of students to substitute independent and informal methods of study for part of the routine requirements now in force, Dean Emmons stated.

Reduce Class Hours

Rather than carry a heavy load of class hours and many short courses, the student will attempt to master important books and subjects in the courses, going at their own pace and guided by faculty advisers. Replacing daily or weekly quizzes will be comprehensive examinations, and reports and essays will take the place of daily recitations.

Students are considered eligible upon completing at least 90 credit hours or having an honor point average of 1.8 or higher. Only those of high intellectual promise shall be considered and such candidates will be admitted to honors work by formal action of the divisional committee.

Staff Heads Direct

Each department shall have a committee on honors, with department heads in charge, which will present its plan for conducting such work. These committees prepare and grade comprehensive examinations and also judge the honors thesis, essay, or project.

Honors work will be carried on by seminars, private conference, discussion groups, and other ways under the direction of the major department. It will be necessary for every honors student to meet the general Liberal Arts requirements, though generally a student will not be admitted before completing his sophomore year.

Honors work is outstanding in that it develops taste, knowledge and mental power, all intellectual in character, to be evident in the written essays and projects throughout the year.

HITLER

Erwin Rommel, up from Africa as a surprise visitor, and thousands of his war veterans.

To bolster the home front against greater and greater RAF raids, Hitler promised them that the "hour will come when we shall strike back."

About Stalingrad

Of the tremendous battle now being waged for Stalingrad, Hitler said the situation there must be brought to a conclusion and declared: "You may rest assured that no human being will be able to oust us from there."

In the address, broadcast to the world by the German radio, Hitler did not mention the United States by name and referred to President Roosevelt only in derisive vein as a "certain president."

'Not Afraid'

Hitler grew sarcastic when he talked of the second front and, as in past speeches, told Prime Minister Churchill of Britain that he was not afraid of him.

"They (the enemy) say that the second front will come, that the second front is marching. Watch out, and turn back (from Russia)," Hitler said.

"We however did not watch out and did not turn back, but pursued our way and marched on."

"Thereby I do not want to say that we did not get ready for a second front. When Mr. Churchill says 'Now we want to leave that to the Germans to think over in their fear where and when we shall open the second front,' I can only say: Mr. Churchill, I have never been afraid of you."

Belittles Allies

"You are right by saying that we are compelled to think things over, for if I had an opponent of military distinction I might be able to calculate where he will attack.

"If, however, one is confronted with military idiots one naturally cannot know where they will attack. It may even be the maddest enterprise."

It was during the game with Annapolis, that one of the most unusual gridiron incidents took place. The Midshipmen were leading 6-0, near the end of the game, when Annapolis fumbled and a Great Lakes sailor recovered. He broke into the clear, and with 20 yards to a touchdown, a Middie substitute ran onto the field and tackled him. The touchdown was allowed and the conversion was successful.

State Clamps Auto Speed Down to 35 Miles Per Hour

LANSING, Sept. 30 (AP)—35-miles-an-hour speed limit will become effective at midnight tonight on Michigan state highways, decreed by Gov. Van Wagener in a state-of-emergency proclamation.

The Office of Defense Transportation had asked for the limit on a nationwide basis as a companion to gasoline rationing.

Byron L. Ball, state attorney general, said he was convinced the courts would hold prosecution of violators if the order were based on a state clause.
