Official Enrollment Figures Give State 6,316 Students

Men Outnumber Women

Division Increases

Enrollment figures for the last summer by "drug" requirements were shattered yesterday with the announcement that the official enrollment of Michigan State college for the 1942-43 year is 6,316. This is just a few more than the 6,243 total of 1941, said R. S. Linton, registrar.

There is good news for the 1942 freshmen class is one of the biggest in the college's history. A total of 2,300 are now taking up where they left off, and 200 new students bring the total enrollment—Page 4

Today's Campus

... MSC Amazons

Judging by the health center's records for last year, Michigan State's women are somewhat healthier than its men. Men made up three-quarters of the 43,680 calls made at the hospital during the year ending June 30, according to Dr. C. F. Holland, director.

Eclipse Men

But, Dr. Holland reports, this was a drop from the 50,143 calls of the year before, and hospitalized cases fell off from 2,363 to 2,167, showing a slight improvement in general college health. Surgery cases surged from 140 to 146, however, with appendectomies in the lead.

... New Order

Readers of the Marquette Tribune, published by State's traditional sports rival across the lake, thought their editors had gone berserk the other morning when the paper came out as "Dar Marquetten Luzenblatt," an issue devoted to showing Marquette students what it would be like if America should become a chattel of the Reich.

With headlines like "Golden Sunrise of New Order Frees America," and "Swastika Sails Again on High; Old Lady with Torch Bows Out," the editors explained they were trying to bring home the fact that "It Can Happen Here."

... Age of Innocence

Some of the lambs at Michigan State college (there are a few) are really going to lead an easy life this fall, and they don't have to worry about wolves, either.

Corny Stuff

In an experiment designed to cut down the labor problem involved in raising lambs, the animal husbandry department will let 125 Western feeder lambs out in a corn field to get fat by themselves next week. In addition, the lambs will have access to an alfalfa field adjacent, where they can pick up their protein supplement like good little lambs.

Annual All-Ag Mixer at Pavilion Tonight

Ag council will hold its annual All-Ag mixer in the Judging pavilion today at 7 p. m. A big and little brother get-together, along with brief talks by the various Ag club presidents, election of representatives to Ag council, sports and refreshments will be the chief features of the program.

Orauel Greene, Ag '43, who will handle the entertainment, and football star Bob McNeil, Ag '43, toastmaster, urge all Agricultural students and faculty to attend the divisions inaugural event of the term.

Ambassador to Return

The regular meeting of the Wednesday Night Quarterbacks club will be shifted to Thursday night in the Auditorium, following the next three games, due to an extra day's delay in making copies of the film for the home team. E. G. Foster, Union manager, announced yesterday.

Working at a pace which kept the reading clerk panting for breath, the senators flipped through the 37-page measure in slightly more than four hours, but several important matters were reserved for future consideration.

Sharply increased individual income tax rates were tentatively approved, for the committee presented no amendments and accepted the high schedules tax rates voted by the house.

Teacher of Japanese Course Relates Her Experiences With Rising Sun

By ELLEN STEGENGA

Imprisoned by the Japanese for a month during the Korean revolution of 1919, Dr. Grace Song Line, guest professor of Japanese at Michigan State college, has long predicted the present Japanese attempt to stamp out democracy.

Since 1938 Doctor Line and her husband, Winfield H. Line, have made more than 300 lectures in their attempt to arouse the western world to the danger from the east. At present 48 students, mostly in advanced ROTC, are enrolled in the course.

Language Helped Her
According to Doctor Line, the Japanese are especially hard to beat because they fight not only to gain territory, but because their religion considers democracy an evil. Consequently they will make any sacrifice to win.

Doctor Line highly resents being called a Japanese teacher and says "I once was able to serve my country because I knew the language of the enemy, and I now hope to help the United States by aiding our boys to

Declare Martial Law, Execute 10 Persons in Trondheim

By The Associated Press
LONDON, Oct. 6—Nazi firing squads executed 10 persons in Trondheim and vicinity tonight as German authorities enforced martial law along the Norwegian coast in an effort to stamp out a spirit of rebellion which appeared to be spreading in the Scandinavian countries, radio reports from Norway said.

The executions took place less than 24 hours after the Germans had proclaimed a state of emergency in a 400-mile strip of territory along the sea, and just a few hours after Nazi Commissioner Josef Terboven arrived in Trondheim to take personal charge of energetic measures to suppress sabotage.

The 10 persons executed, it was reported here, were accused of "endeavoring to sabotage food producing factories."

The men who faced the firing squads were described in Norwegian quarters in London as being patriots of Trondheim. Had

Stalingrad Repels Nazi Tank Drive

By EDDY GILMORE
MOSCOW, Wednesday, Oct. 7 (AP)—Twelve Nazi tanks out of a huge formation, beating at the Russian defenders wedged in the ruins of Stalingrad, broke into a single city block yesterday, but 11 of them were destroyed by nightfall, the Russians announced early today in the 44th day of siege.

The Russian relief counter-offensive above Stalingrad meanwhile made further progress, the midnight communique said. Five hundred Germans were killed, and three tanks, nine guns, two mortar batteries and 13 machine gun nests were destroyed as one Red army unit "advanced somewhat" in that sector.

Another detachment of Russian guards was reported officially to have broke into the outskirts of a populated place, demolishing 10 blocks of houses and wiping out 150 Germans.

Field dispatches said Volga river gunboats covered this advance, which is increasingly threatening the extended Nazi flank from the Don river to Stalingrad on the Volga.

Hotel Association to Meet at Mixer for First Time

The Spartan Hotel association, known in past years as the M. S. C. Hotel association, will hold its first meeting in the form of a mixer at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the Spartan room of the Union.

According to Pres. Henry Pollard, the association has planned "many and varied activities for the year, in addition to the mixer." Prominent hotel men will visit the campus and, as usual, freshman and "big brother" work will be carried on under the direction this year of Project Chairman Homer Sittner.

The association is composed of students enrolled in the four-year hotel administration course, and is planning to hold regular meetings through the year.

Other officers elected for 1942-43, besides Pollard, are Addison Fuller, vice-president, and Thomas Mayhew, secretary-treasurer.

ops Begin Effort Regain Airbase

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Japanese have succeeded in sending 600 troop reinforcements to Guadalcanal island in Solomon despite valiant American effort to capture the airbase on the island.

The Japanese had been driven from the island by a force of destroyers and a heavy cruiser on Oct. 3-4, following a night attempt by a small force of bombers with extra-heavy fighters to protect the American base.

Why Isn't MSC in the Scrap Drive?

IT SEEMS that every civic organization, every patriotic citizen and even all the high schools in the state are making some type of contribution to the scrap metal drive. So far, nothing has been forthcoming from either Michigan State college or its student body. Surely a sizeable amount of scrap must be hidden in the various nooks and crannies of the campus. Every basement and attic storeroom undoubtedly contains some obsolete items that can be scrapped. This appears to be a good job for the Buildings and Grounds department to look into. But better yet, here is a suggestion for the fraternities and sororities on campus.

Why not set the pace for other East Lansing residents by searching through your basements, attics and closets, and scrapping useless articles? A thorough going over of each house would probably produce several tons of the scrap metal which is so vitally needed at this time.

Beauty is truth, truth beauty; that is all ye know on earth, and all ye need to know.—Keats.

An Open Letter to Eddie Sewell

DEAR Eddie: Congratulations, fellow! You unquestionably are one popular guy on the Michigan State campus. Here it is only one day before nomination deadline on the senior class presidency, and you're still the only candidate. The fraternity bloc is all for you, and nobody is against you. More than that, they held the elections over until this fall—and just for one reason. They don't want anybody for senior class president other than Eddie Sewell. This is a fine tribute to you.

Spartans at War

By AL BERGLUND

Interesting note about the silver wings that many former Spartans are now wearing in combat is that souvenir "wings" are mailed to relatives and sweethearts of the flying officers, who are also made honorary members of the class. Ten Michigan State men were among the largest class of pilots ever to be graduated from the Gulf Coast A. A. F. training center a few weeks ago. Lansing students who became lieutenants are Gail A. Smith, '39, Lawrence Lockwood who attended State two years from '39 to '41, Gene Brogan, who got his B. A. degree in '41, and Walter J. Ball, who was a frosh here three years ago.

Two other men from Lansing, Cadet Chuck Corey, a member of the inter-collegiate boxing championship team when enrolled here and Bob Gibb, on the freshman swimming team a short while back, were also re-graduates. Corey and Gibb were at Foster Field, Texas.

Members of the state T. Vicary, E. War-ex '43 from Detroit and George Burns, who got his B. A. degree with the class of 1941.

Donald Goss, L. A. '42, former undergraduate assistant in the economics department here, arrived recently at the Finance Replacement Training Center at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, for his basic training in finance. Don was inducted in August.

On furlough here is another Spartan at War. Almost everyone will remember Lt. Joe Kroll, president last year of the Liberal Arts Council. Lt. Kroll left last year to join the A. A. F. He is now stationed at Columbia, S. C.

Al Muehlke, decorated last spring as the outstanding sophomore ROTC student and a member of Beta Chi; and Clark Campbell, son of Lt. Col. J. T. Campbell, formerly attached here, became plebes at the military academy this fall. Lynn Fowler entered Annapolis during the summer. Keith Harsh, infantry junior, couldn't wait to finish his last year of ROTC, applied for active duty this year and got it. All these men were members of Pershing

TO THE EDITOR

"Dear sir: This letter is an answer to the misguided editorial which appeared in Tuesday morning's State News. Under the crusading head "Frosh Spirit Lacks Judgment" this article is in my opinion a direct attempt to squelch badly needed school spirit."

"This lamentable piece of journalism asserts in the first paragraph that Emily Post would have cast a stern reproving eye on the enthusiastic frosh who sought to show their school spirit by a snake dance on the field during halves of the Michigan-Michigan State game.

"If this school has progressed to the point where Emily Post is to be its shining light and savior I think that many other changes will be needed.

"In the second paragraph the author states that "the whole affair was a disgraceful and ugly blot on the good relations that have existed between the two schools." Perhaps the author never participated in such rowdy affairs as snake dances when he was a freshman, but the more adventurous upper classmen will, I am sure, recall their own snake dance between halves of the game.

"Still the good relations between the schools have not been too deeply scarred. The article goes on to say that the frosh were not entirely to blame as (hold your breath) some UPPER CLASSMEN urged them on in their disgraceful display of school spirit.

"Yes, yes, ambitious editor, ban further demonstrations and snake dances on our opponents field. Ban them on our own field too. Ban any display of school spirit. Ban cheer-leaders and enthusiastic boosters for the home team. But first, dear sir, ban any more of these kind of editorials.

Sincerely yours,
 W. H. CORSETTE."

(Editor's note—This is 1942, W. H., and a little more spirit by MSC students in something like a scrap drive would be quite fitting. But did you know that the frosh officially were allotted seven minutes for their snake dance; that nearly 100 band members put in 17 hours each—night and day—preparing for their performance; and that a cornet player nearly cut off his lip in the fracas?)

Spartans Start Preparations for Wayne

Tartar Coach Gembis Has Boys Playing to Win This Year

By TOM RIORDAN
Coach Gembis will bring his University football team to East Lansing Saturday to meet Michigan State for the first time in the other five years. In the other five years on Macklin field, Gembis and his lads have been back to Detroit with a defeat.

that in losing to the University of Detroit, 27 to 0, in their opener, the Tartars did chop their 1941 score against the Titans in half. If they're in usual form, Bachman and his men won't have to worry too much about winning their first game of the season.

Out on the Limb
However, Gembis goes out on the limb and exclaims that the Tartars will not only hold State scoreless for the first half as they did last fall, but for the entire game. On top of this he promises that his club will turn on an offense that will result in a couple of Wayne scores. Better look out, Mr. Bachman!

"We're not trying just to stay even with our opponents this year," says Joe, "but we're playing to win!"

At any rate, Bach hopes that he'll be able to get his own scoring machine in motion and push across some tallies. If Mr. Gembis doesn't object too much.

Gingrass at Full
Only Spartan lineup change will probably find fast-stepping Morgan Gingrass at the starting fullback spot. Gingrass was one State back that did manage to get away for a couple of yards against Michigan. Edo Mancotti, who saw limited defensive duty Saturday, will also get a chance to work at full against Wayne.

Only Spartan kept out of last night's workout was Guard Don LaClair who is nursing a charley horse, received in the Wolverine tilt. He is expected to be ready Saturday, but if he isn't, Big Barney Neuhert will take over the starting job.

Mencotti, Outstanding Soph Fullback; Has Talent in Boxing and Baseball Also

By BILL BOOS
Since this appears to be primarily a building year for Coach Bachman and his staff, Spartan football fans may expect to see frequent use of sophomores in the lineup, and one of those sophomores slated for heavy est charging and best defensive backs on the frosh team.

His 186 pounds and 5 feet 10 height may not meet the specifications of a modern freight-car fullback, but nevertheless Edo has plenty of drive, and once he gets past the line, he is an extremely dangerous downfield runner.

Edo's two pet hobbies are baseball and boxing. In fact boxing may become more than a hobby after the finish of football season, since Varsity Boxing Coach Al Kawal is hoping that Mencotti may fill in one of the vacancies on his squad this winter.

As far as baseball goes, Mencotti was unable to compete in the diamond sport because of spring practice, but he would frequently promise Baseball Coach John Kobs that in case he needed a good pitcher with plenty of speed, Edo was the ticket.

Mencotti appeared only briefly in the Michigan game, and State was on the defense most of that time, but with eight more games to go, he is certain to have lots of opportunities to demonstrate his offensive as well as his defensive abilities.

EDO MENCOTTI

duty is Edo Mencotti, a hard running fullback from Detroit. Mencotti was a unanimous choice for All-City fullback when he played for Cooley high in the Motor City. After graduation he waited a year before entering State last fall, when, as a freshman, he was considered by his coaches as one of the fast-

Soph Excels in Time Trials

for Dalers

By COLBY THOMPSON
The young cross country champion Roy Neimeyer, of the entire Spartan hard-core team and all, to take the route recently.

Neimeyer out-printed the rest of the team in the last half-mile of the race, finishing in the finish line with a second place.

Larry Maurice Horski, who was bothered by a sideache in the late stages of the race, was a hot pace for the rest of the team.

The first three runners were close together and far ahead of the rest of the field. Horski was being slow at rounding the curve, Captain Ralph Monds was the rear guard in. Monday 200 yards behind Horski was followed at varying intervals by Wardell Lyke, a surging freshman, Frank Hill, Bill Fritz, and Greg Hershey. Hershey was last but not least as several others failed to finish.

The criterion of the way the runners will stack up throughout the season, this first time trial was only to give a rough idea of things to come. Some cross countrymen get into running faster than others, and too, all the dalers have had the amount of practice.

Sigma Nu to Meet FarmHouse in Frat Opener Tonight

The fraternity touch football loop will open this evening at 7, with three games under the lights on the varsity baseball field. Last year's runner-up Sigma Nu seven will tangle with FarmHouse at 7 in the feature tilt.

The defending champs, Alpha Tau Omega will not get into action until next week. The ATO's with an all veteran club back, including Frank Pellerin, Howard LaDue, and Les Van Eberstein, shouldn't have too much trouble in retaining their crown.

Other games this evening bring the Hesperians and Delta Sigs together at 8, and the Phi Kappa Phi's will meet Phi Kappa Tau at 9.

Hermie Says —

Our nomination for the No. 1 humorist of the Spartan football squad goes to Little Frankie Manko, stocky sophomore from Pontiac. While his teammates became very self-conscious in front of the "mike" at the pep rally held last Thursday, Frankie was perfectly at home.

The Pontiac lad performed like he had been doing that sort of work for many years. The students loved it, and Frankie is sure to be their favorite from now on.

As far as ability to lug that peskin is concerned, we aren't able to say as Manko was injured for the greater part of the pre-season workouts and he just shed a cast from his leg the other day.

We can be sure, though, that when Frankie does break into the lineup, and we hope that will be real soon, the Spartans will take on a livelier way of going about their duties, with Little Frankie telling a joke or two in the huddle or taking a friendly crack at some one of his teammates, or else an opponent.

Each night the State News received a football story from Ann Arbor, keeping us up to date on the Michigan football team. Thursday night the expected story banged itself off the machine with this last paragraph: "Just for the record: Michigan State plays, as interpreted by the Wolverine fourth team, have been smeared all week."

And just for your record: The AP correspondent from Ann Arbor is none other than ex-Michigan Daily sports staff member Paul Chandler. Thanks for the story, Paul. With a net loss of 16 yards for the game, we can't say you didn't tell us.

Entries Announced in Tennis Tourney

Twenty-five men responded to the call for entries in the College tennis tournament. Director Earl May announced yesterday.

The first matches will be played Thursday, October 8, instead of Wednesday, as previously announced. The first round must be played off by Friday; the second round by Sunday.

Any court that is convenient for both players may be used.

finally released at the point of death. A unique theory of the Japanese impressed Dr. Line. The Japanese truly believe their torture is just, using the logic that no human will tell lies, consequently their prisoners, who lie, are not human and deserve any cruelty.

Returns to Tokyo

Upon the recovery of her health, Doctor Line returned to Tokyo where her only humiliation was the spy who went on duty at 6 a. m. and followed her every movement until midnight. From that time until 1923 when she came to the United States she could always depend on a Jap "companion" trailing her at an obsequious distance.

After graduating from the University of Tokyo with highest honors, Doctor Line came to the United States to do graduate work in public health at the University of Michigan.

At that time she intended to return to Korea where women doctors were badly needed. However, in 1930 when she received an invitation to head a women's medical school in Korea, she found conditions in her homeland intolerable and returned to the United States.

Again in 1938 she visited Korea but found the oppression of her country had increased. Since that time she and her husband have spent their time lecturing on the danger of the Japanese determination to stamp out democracy.

35 M.P.H. Offenders Face Misdemeanor After October 12

LANSING, Oct. 6 (AP)—The state highway department and state police today received an official go-ahead from the attorney general division to declare the entire trunk line road system a safety zone in which it would be a misdemeanor to exceed a 35-miles-an-hour speed limit.

The order will declare it a misdemeanor punishable by fine and jail sentence to drive at higher speeds on and after Oct. 12.

The speed limit already is in effect, by proclamation of Governor Van Wagoner, enforcement relying largely on the patriotism of motorists to comply as a means of war-time tire conservation.

Joe Fisher was on a ship off the coast of Africa during the last war when it ran into mines. The "City of Athens" was demolished with many lives lost, but Fisher managed to get to safety after an experience in an open boat comparable to those we lead of today.

Students will be admitted free to the lecture, and to all lectures in the series, upon presentation of their student activities book.

State Employees Not Buying 10 Per Cent

LANSING, Oct. 6 (AP)—Michigan has failed to meet its obligation in the war bond drive, T. R. Piersol of Ann Arbor, representing the Treasury department in the sale of bonds in this state, told the state administrative board today.

Piersol criticized state employees, declaring they are investing about two percent of their earnings in war bonds instead of the 10 percent requested by President Roosevelt and Governor Van Wagoner. "I don't know of a plant worker or wash woman who is not doing better," he asserted.

SENATE

(Continued from Page 1) voted by the house. Those rates, however, will be subject to possible change later.

Consideration of the 5 per cent victory tax on all incomes over $624 a year was postponed at the request of Senator Downey (D-Calif.), who said he would offer an amendment. He proposed that incomes up to $1,200 a year be exempt and that the rate be 5 per cent on incomes up to $2,400 a year and 10 per cent on higher incomes, instead of the flat 5 per cent on all incomes proposed by the committee.

eros and Orkanger. Among them were a band director, an editor, two lawyers, a civil engineer and a building contractor.

Terboven, commanded by Berlin to suppress the mutinous spirit of the Norwegians in the strategic coastal region by force of arms, was accompanied by the chief of the German police in Oslo, Rediess.

Denmark, reported here to have spurned a German suggestion to become a "model state" in a Nazified Europe, was gravely concerned for her future independence.

Survivors Reach U. S. from Torpedoed Ship

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—The navy announced today that a medium sized United States merchant vessel was shelled and sunk by an enemy submarine about the middle of September in the Atlantic off the northern coast of South America and that survivors had now been landed at a United States east coast port.

Civil Engineers to Hold Opening Meeting of Year

The American Society of Civil Engineers will hold its first meeting Thursday, Oct. 8 at 8 p. m. in faculty room, Union building, according to Walter Mischley.

The speaker for the evening will be C. L. Allen, head of the civil engineering department. Plans for the year will be discussed, and a new secretary elected.

Churchill Requests Second Front Hush

LONDON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill today upon the British House of Commons to exercise discretion in debating the second question "at a period which certainly significant." But cow dispatches indicated his intentions of pursuing with vigor.

Joseph Stalin's March 1941 letter to Henry C. Carter of the Associated Press in Moscow urging that the Allies fulfill obligations to Russia fully on time, prompted several members to bombard Churchill with questions regarding British military relations.

ENROLLMENT

A big factor in the increase of the Engineering division, only division that gained enrollment, is the need for engineers to help in the war effort.

Out-of-state enrollment, however, have dropped off more than a thousand to less than 950. Twenty-two students from outside the states also are enrolled.

Applications are now received for the position of assistant circulation manager of the Michigan State News. The position is open preferably to a junior who will be able to report to the position of circulation manager next year. Applications should be reported to Paul Walker, the State News office.
