Army Pours Tons of Explosives on Japs at Kiska

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—The army air forces dropped 15 tons of bombs on the Japanese base at Kiska island last Tuesday, the navy announced today, indicating that a systematic campaign had been undertaken to reduce to rubble and ruin this last enemy stronghold in the Aleutians.

The navy communique said that the Tuesday raid was carried out by the army's B-24 "Liberator" bombers escorted by P-39 "Airacobra" and P-38 "Lightning" fighter planes—all operating from the new advance air base in the Andreanof islands.

Eight tons of bombs were dropped on the enemy camp area, starting fires, and seven tons were released over the vicinity of the seaplane hangar with unannounced results.

In addition, a cargo ship in the harbor was attacked and left afloat and sinking, the radio station was damaged by strafing, and two seaplanes were hit, one being destroyed and the other damaged.

Vox Pop Officials Warn Audience to Arrive Early or Miss Program

Vox Poppers

PARKS JOHNSON (left) and WARREN HULL will interview Michigan State students Monday evening on the Vox Pop program. All students must be in the auditorium by 7:25 p. m. to avoid being locked out.

By LOUISE ROTH
In spite of the time listed on tickets and posters, Monday evening's coast-to-coast broadcast of the Vox Pop program in College auditorium will start at 8 p. m., according to program officials.

Because the audience will see an additional half-hour of entertainment which will not be broadcast, all attending the program must be in their places by 7:25 p. m. when the doors will be closed.

Officials Arrive
With the arrival today of John Cole, program director, and the regular conductors of Vox Pop, Parks Johnson and Warren Hull, plans for the broadcast are taking definite shape.

After completion of approximately 300 personal interviews—possibly more personal interviews than they have done for any other program—the directors of the broadcast are now working out a program theme which will best tell the story of Michigan State students to the radio audience of 17,000,000.

Although persons finally chosen for the program are not yet announced, See VOX POP—Page 4

This laboratory's purpose is to test any materials or products to be used in member hotels. It will be in operation by the first of next year.

Many World Round-Trips Qualify 'Singapore Joe' to Talk on Pacific

By BARBARA DENNISON
Fourteen trips around the world should qualify "Singapore Joe" Fisher to speak on the situation in the Far East, says S. E. Crowe, chairman of the lecture course. Fisher will appear at College auditorium Tuesday. His natural color movie "The Pacific Aflame," is highlight of the program.

Crowe said Fisher has plenty of other "background" for his talk. The show business appealed to Fisher and 10 years ago he started a chain of the finest theaters in the east, in addition to his numerous other enterprises. He was also an importer, a keeper of cabarets, and the manager of a concern dealing with wild animals.

Reds Repulse Two German Thrusts

MOSCOW, Oct. 10 (AP)—Stalingrad's defenders were reported officially today to have smashed two German attempts to break through to the Volga east of the city, but dispatches said a new threat had developed in a Nazi advance across the arid Kalmyck region toward Astrakhan on the Caspian sea.

The midnight Russian communique did not mention the Kalmyck area south of Stalingrad after the government newspaper Izvestia told for the first time of a German penetration there. Nazi seizure of Astrakhan at the mouth of the Volga would spare the Germans further costly losses in frontal attacks on Stalingrad, and at the same time control that vital Russian communications artery.

Worshippers Ask Draft Boards to 'Freeze'

Washington, Oct. 9 (AP)—Proposals all the way from a "freeze" on the draft to subsidies to farm labor contacted the house agriculture committee today as it set about finding its answer to one of the nation's most pressing economic problems: "How are you going to keep 'em down on the farm?"

While emphasizing the urgency of the farm labor situation, 15 farm state senators petitioned Selective Service to ease dairy and livestock work on the farms for the next few months, to prevent "irreparable injury" to food production.

What Has Become of Our Big Idea?

TODAY America fights for her life in the biggest way in history. Millions of men are mobilized. So are millions of minds. Big armies are on the march. So are big ideas. Ideas fired men's imaginations before men fired their guns.

Big ideas have gripped the minds of millions. The idea of a super race for world conquest. The idea of super class for world control. The idea of the super dollar for world power. Nations have fallen before the impact of these ideas. Other nations have been confused and divided by them.

The democracies must fight fire with fire. We need all the fire power our ships, planes and guns can provide. We also need the fire to set easy-going Americans ablaze until the illumination of our thinking and the vigor of our action make every other revolutionary way of life pale in to insignificance. This fire must not die down until the world is remade.

Remake the world—crazy? Not so crazy as the world we are living in. And dying in. Remake the world—impossible for America? The Panama canal was impossible until we engineered it. Flight was fantastic until the Wright brothers flew. Electric light was unthinkable until Edison flooded our homes with it. No job is too big if you know how to tackle it.

The ungodly mess the world is in comes from people like ourselves who have forgotten God. Remaking the world starts with remaking America. And Americans.

This is an essential part of our war effort. Start today by putting one wrong right. 130 million doing it! America's big idea means we get back to honesty, decency, neighborliness. No more buck-passing, the cards on the table—the breakfast table as well as the conference table. Americans then will bring the clean-up in politics and speed-up in industry which we need to win the war.

And the fire of America's big idea will burn in the heart of every American and floodlight the world.

CLOTHING CLASSICS . by Barbara Hafford

When WPB cracks down on our beloved long-length jackets and sweaters, it is doubtful whether Michigan State co-eds will go without. Men's clothing stores in Lansing and East Lansing report increasing sales of these two items to les femmes. The men's styles are just naturally long and loose—on womep, anyway.

Sports clothes are still growing unbelievably brighter, and all these red coats that everyone likes so well are beginning to form a background for the more subtle such as Mally Sue Wilson's teal blue reversible. But Fel'sher's red jacket is unique enough to bear mentioning. It is hip-length, boxy, and has no buttons—on purpose.

The Hesperians will see Beverly Grant at their party this week-end in a black dress with a velveteen fitted basque and a full faille skirt banded with three rows of velveteen. Gloria Bell will be at the SAE party in a two-piece rust wool dress with a convertible collar and a set-in tie belt.

Marty Kelly's dark brown crepe dress is quite different. It has a round neck, three-quarter sleeves, and two gold metal pockets. She wears it without accessories except a plain gold bracelet.

Noticed that some people are still wearing knee-length stockings—APPLESAUCE. And APPLESAUCE to the new embroidered suspenders—they're real flashy and help to keep blouses tucked in.

Dancing Instruction Open to All Students

All dormitory residents and students living in private homes will have an opportunity to sign up for dancing lessons from English and Joa at 4 to 5 p. m. Monday in the main dining room of the Union building.

The two accomplished dancing instructors, better known as Everett English and Camilla Joa, will be here only for a limited stay before moving on to another college. They have just completed a successful summer of instruction at The Homestead, famed social center near Washington, and are now conducting dancing classes at several fraternity and sorority houses on campus.

First group of 1,600 enlisted members of the WAVES will be trained at the University of Wisconsin, Indiana university and Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college.

A large number of fraternities gave radio parties last night and over at the Phi Delta house after a buffet supper there was many a clank of pot and kettle as the kitchen hands did the dishes with the help of their dates.

Jack Dodds, Kappa Sig of '42, came back for a visit before leaving for naval training at Harvard. While he was here a few of his friends in the house gave him a haircut with the result that Betty Newton won't speak to any of them.

Another campus visitor was Jim Kinn, the "grandpaw" of the Delta Sig house, who took a bit of time off from his duties as a lieutenant in the chemical warfare division.

Speaking of chemistry... the Alpha Chi Sigmas made their annual award of Lange's handbook of chemistry to James Norton for having the highest freshman scholastic average as a chemical engineering major.

Gene Roberts, Delta Chi, is marrying Jean Armstrong Oct. 14 in Chicago. Gene is going into the army air force. Chuck Jarrett, a brother Delta Chi, became engaged to B. J. Wells, a Kappa, this summer... Lee Brink, Lambda Chi, became engaged also this summer to Ruth Sears.

URING the Quarterback club meeting Thursday evening, Karl Schlademan, who led the Wayne team in its defeat by the Titans, said that Tartars have one of the best quarterbacks in recent years, but he wishes State to win this afternoon.

It seems that Michigan State's Pacific coast football opponents, Washington State Cougars, the Oregon State Beavers, slipping into two of the best teams in the Far West. Both undefeated and untied. The Cougars downed Stanford and Oregon and the Beavers upset Redwood California.

Your correspondent was approached the other day by a White sports editor of the Wolverine, who wants to organize a cheering section for all State's home football contests. The cheering section from the west coast says that all the schools have them. They are colorful and provide more inspiration for the team than the half-hearted cheering that now prevails at the Spartan contests.

It seems to be the vogue for everybody to predict the scores of minor football games and so we will stick our necks out and predict some grid results for tomorrow's tilts.

State over Wayne; Michigan defeat the Iowa Pre-Flight team by a field goal; Notre Dame over Stanford; Indiana over Wisconsin; Wisconsin to edge Missouri; Santa Clara over Oregon; and Boston college over Clemson. Just a few for starters but maybe more for next week if we aren't too far from the track.

Howie Beyer, Successor to Tony Arena, Is Rugged Defenseman at Pivot Post

HOWARD BEYER
... starting Spartan center ...

By BILL BOOS

Howard Beyer is one of Coach Charley Bachman's many cinderella men this year. Howie had the unfortunate role of playing understudy to a 60-minute man last year, and now it appears that he himself will have to be the endurance man for the Spartans at the pivot post this year.

Tony Arena, Beyer's predecessor, was given the Governor's award last year, after being voted the squad's most valuable player by his teammates. Arena was considered one of the Detroit Lions' more promising rookies this fall until his brief stay in the professional game was cut short by the U. S. army.

Anyone who saw Tony play last fall can realize what a struggle Howie had getting sufficient game time to earn a letter then, but now with Arena out of the picture, Beyer will get all the action he has waited so patiently for.

But for a brief replacement by Ernie Keckonen, Howie might have broken into the ranks of the 60-minute men in his first game as a regular at Ann Arbor last Saturday.

Beyer played a bang-up defensive game against the Wolverines, and Spartan fans are looking for more of his rugged play the rest of this season.

FOOTBALL

will have two first year men in its starting lineup.

Joe Gembis, Tartar mentor, was rather pessimistic after the workout his teams staged on Macklin field yesterday afternoon.

"State is a lot better ball club than was shown at Michigan. I wish they would have scored a couple of times to make them a little cocky now, but it looks like they'll be pretty tough out there," was the way Gembis summed up the situation.

Passing Game

The Tartars are expected to turn on a passing game and so Bachman ran his team through a long session of pass defense last night along with signal drill. Star thrower for Wayne is Doug Rutherford, and his ends, Don Meyers and Reed Hagen are the pass catchers.

Besides Rutherford's passing, the Detroiters will look to Halfbacks Sam Carpenter and John Faugh to do some yard gaining on the ground. Frank Chorney, fullback is also a capable ball-carrier, rounding out a formidable attack for the visitors.

In front of this backfield will be an inexperienced line with only one veteran, Guard Don Kennedy. He is the brother of Bill, who played for State last fall and is now with the Detroit Lions.

Two Fresh

Val Asquine, tackle and Gene Malinowski, center, played high school ball last year and are in their first year at Wayne. Other starters will be Mitchell Tottis, guard, and John Cotton, tackle. Kennedy and Chorney are the team's co-captains.

Besides Roskopp and Mroz at ends, Bachman will have Al Conner and Dick Mangrum at the tackles, George Radulescu and Don LaClair, guards and Howard Beyer, center, in the starting line.

What's This !! Wayne Man Gets $100 per Week

Wayne university will send a $100 per week tackle into the game against Michigan State today.

The highly paid gentleman is James Hannan, a 215 pound tackle. Hannan works as a tool and die maker in a Detroit war plant, attends college and plays football at the same time.

The only drilling he gets is when Coach Joe Gembis calls a special daily practice for him from 11:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.

Along with Gingrass at full back, Dick Kieppe, Walt Pawlowski and Bill Milliken will round out the State backfield.

Michigan and Iowa Cadets to Clash With Nationwide Honors at Stake

By PAUL CHANDLER

ANN ARBOR, Oct. 9 (AP)—Michigan and the Iowa Naval Air Cadets open a new rivalry and Coaches Fritz Crisler and Bernie Bierman resume an old one in a football clash here Saturday that will have everything but a good crowd.

Both elevens are powerful, undefeated, and keenly conscious that defeat now would be a paralyzing blow to all hope for future national championship consideration.

Four former Michigan gridgers have places on Bierman's squad, including Forest Evashevski, Wolverine field general and blocking mate for Tom Harmon. Evashevski has been named game captain and starting quarterback for this contest. Tackles Bob Flora and Forrest Jordan and End Harlin Fraumann will also take a crack at their alma mater.

Lots of Gophers

A last minute change in the Sea Hawks' probable starting line-up sent John Kulbitski of Minnesota into left tackle, the gap left open by Sam Kolens, who has moved on for advanced flight training. Three other ex-

Gophers are in the starting line. Tackles Charley Schultz, End Judd Ringer, and Guard Gene Flick, and a fourth Minnesotan, Center George Svendsen, will see considerable action.

Bierman has at his disposal in the person of Dick Fisher the second best halfback in the nation, statistically speaking. Fisher, who was poison to Michigan as an Ohio State undergraduate, has moved the ball 425 yards by his rushing and passing, a record bested only by Paul Gervail of Columbia.

Same Line

Crisler will stand by the line that opened the season: Elmer Madar and Phil Sharpe at ends; Al Wistert and Bill Pritula at tackles, Bob Kolesar and Julius Franks at guard, with Merv Pregulman at center.

Capt. George Ceithaml is a certain starter at quarterback and Don Robinson is just about as sure at tailback. The wingback will be either Paul White or Frank Wardley and three men are eligible for the full back choice, Don Lund, Bob Wiese, or Don Boor.

The raiders, directed by Maj. Gen. Carl Spaatz, commander of the U. S. A. A. F. in the European theater, smashed factories and railroad yards against strong Nazi opposition and came home with only four of 600 planes missing.

The raid was greater than anything thrown by the Nazis against England in the dark days of the Battle of Britain, before the Luftwaffe called off their daylight attacks and concentrated on night raids.

The greatest American aerial exploit of the war came two days after the warning from the United States army by radio to the French people to move away from factories producing for Germany.

The raid moved the German high command to mention Flying Fortresses for the first time, although this was their 14th mission over western Europe.
