WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—Speeding hearings on the bill to draft 18 and 19 year-olds, Congress heard the American High Command declare plans to begin calling up them results in December and to weed out present soldiers condemned incapable of carrying the terrific burden of modern war. It was also disclosed that selective service plans to call up former men with dependents next month, but hopes, if the bill is drafted in the largest, to put off drafting married men with children until late in 1942.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—Army plans to build a hard-hitting force of at least 7,400,000 men in 1944 were disclosed today by Secretary of War Stimson and General George C. Marshall as the "imperative" reason for pushing the draft bill through 15 to 18 years immediately. Stimson told a joint session of Congress that this nation already has an army alone, 3,200,000 men, that is three years behind the end of next year.

Japs Attempting Push on Solomons

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—Japanese warplanes made heavy air-reinforcements on Guadalcanal Island in the Solomons on this day, and indications tonight of renewed efforts and new attacks were urgent, if not actually begun, by the Japanese plane and the marines spearheads are to be within sight of the southwest Pacific.

The Joint Command reported that Japanese air attacks were heavy and shore installations of the strategic island were night before the landing were undertaken.

These bold operations were carried out successfully by the determined enemy despite the fact that only separated on enemy cruiser-destroyer task force had reported a landing attempt for the advanced positions or the edge of the south side section of the island where the enemy troops are concentrated.

Physical Course Increases Ability, Statistics Show

ANN ARBOR, Oct. 14 (AP)—Sixteen weeks of concentrated physical training, "hardball" dancing, by 29 per cent the ability of the University of Michigan male student to do typical athletic tasks, a statistical revealed today.

At the end of the course the average man could run 440 yards in six seconds faster, could do three more "pushups" and six more "pushups" could be run further and had a stronger grip in both hands.

When the course started, 26 per cent of a group of 1,000 typ¬

cal college men could not reach the floor. At the end every man could reach a distance of the pupils and could stay alive for five minutes.

Course Compulsory

Bryan O. Hughes, a member of the university faculty and an expert in statistics, compiled the report. The course was made compulsory of every male stud¬ ent this semester, and called for four and a half hours per week of hard exercise, except for ROTC students who took three hours.

Hughes said that the ROTC students, who devoted 30 min¬ utes (six per week to the unsupervised building program than other students, Increased their ability only 60 per cent as much as those who took the entire 150 minutes.

Student Benefits

"The figures show that the physical training is directly proportional to the amount of time spent in the program," he said. The analysis also clearly showed the inadequacy performance of the average male student in physical condition.

But the short and slender types showed the most improvement, and those who changed from this condition.

To Refer Oldsters

Both Simmons and Marshall, the army chief of staff, said the army hoped to enroll older men who would find it hard to stand the strain of modern service, and Marshall revealed that he was still studying the possibility of some of these men home to their families of younger soldiers are available.

While Simmons and Marshall testified before the House Military Affairs committee, Dr. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, held a Senate military committee, it was a question of inducing younger men or dopping into the group of married men with dependents.

His estimate of 3,700,000 men in uniformly in 1943—excluding the United States, the higher the marine corps—includes 230,000 men in uniform, 1,300,000 in the groups in service of service use, and 270,000 in the states training or training in other active official training or training other men for replacement in the services of supply.

Neither Simmons nor the chief of the advancement restrictions in the pending legislation to forbid the training-age soldiers in last service until they had received at least one year of training.

Aknowledged that the lowest draft age might play havoc with the nation’s higher education system by drawing youths from high schools and colleges, Simmons said the war department did not desire to “unduly destroy the influences of colleges” but pointedly added: “There won’t be much need of colleges if we don’t win this.”
