US Fliers May Be Jap Prisoners

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Official acknowledgement that four United States aviators who participated in the bombing of Tokyo April 18 may be in Japanese hands came from the war department today.

Secretary of War Stimson announced that the names of the four airmen used in recent Japanese propaganda broadcasts "fairly well correspond" with those of American fliers long listed by the army as missing.

Japan has asserted the airmen would be punished for alleged inhumanities during the bombing of Tokyo.

It was possible, Stimson said, that the fliers had been forced down after leaving Japan and had fallen into enemy hands.

Darlan Warns Dakar Over 'New Menace'

VICHY, France, Oct. 22 (AP)—Admiral Jean Darlan, chief of Vichy's armed forces, reached Dakar today on a mission of evident urgency, and, in the name of Chief of State Petain, told the population of the West African base that "new menaces ring out against you."

He compared the present situation of Dakar to that of Madagascar before the big Indian Ocean island was occupied by British forces. Quoting from the message he carried from Marshal Petain, he added that any new attack on Dakar would meet "the same answer as in September, 1940," when a De Gaulle-British expedition failed to take the port from the sea.

Military Parade Will Demonstrate Work of ROTC

Tomorrow's pre-game parade of R.O.T.C. students has been planned as a special homecoming feature, not as a regular procedure to precede all football games, according to Pres. John A. Hannah.

Although most students realize the strength of the R.O.T.C. through spring parades, the alumni and others attending the homecoming game will have an opportunity to see the number of men receiving military training at M. S. C., he said.

Tomorrow's R.O.T.C. demonstration also has been organized as a courtesy to the navy in the person of State's visitors, Great Lakes Training station.

V-5 Naval Training To Be Given Here

A new phase of the Civilian Pilot Training program in cooperation with the Naval Air Corps will be put into effect at Michigan State college, presenting an opportunity for interested students to receive 16 weeks of extra-curricular flight training, becoming, at the termination of the course, a navy V-5 cadet, announced Prof. G. W. Hobbs, director of the CPT program.

The navy will pay all expenses of the flight training in the new program, which will begin as soon as a group of 25 is formed. Trainees will receive 35 to 45 hours in the air, and 72 hours of ground school.

Interested students should see Hobbs at 209 Olds Hall.

Beet Volunteers Still Needed

By MORTON D. SMERLING—More students are needed to help sugar-beet topping, C. V. Ballard, county agent leader, stated yesterday.

Volunteers for both mornings and afternoons on the week-ends are especially wanted, since the R.O.T.C. will not be sending out men those days.

Although a great many beets have already been taken up, the situation is definitely not yet under control. About two-thirds of the beet crop still remains in the ground.

McLean to Speak to Delegates at Banquet Tonight

The third annual regional Interfraternity conference will swing into the first phase of its two-day program this morning at 8:30, in the Union building, but with a major last minute change.

F. H. Nemeier, who was to have been main speaker at the banquet tonight at 6 in the Union ballroom, has cancelled his engagement because of illness, and Dr. W. Henry McLean will assume the role.

McLean to be Speaker

Doctor McLean, a former grand tribune of Sigma Chi fraternity, will deliver a speech on "What is this thing called fraternity?" Doctor McLean has traveled over 225,000 miles in the United States and Canada, visiting many fraternity chapters, and formerly was an instructor of psychology at DePauw university.

Senators Shelve 'Dry Rider' Bill on Draft Issue

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—A dry amendment to the youth-draft bill was sidetracked by the senate, 49 to 25, today after a hot debate in which supporters called it a necessary safeguard for soldiers and sailors and opponents denounced it as "the entering wedge of the long blue nose of prohibition."

Offered by Senator Lee (D-Okla.), the amendment would ban sales, gifts or use of all alcoholic drink from army and navy reservations and adjacent areas. The bill, minus the dry amendment, may be voted on Friday.

At the earnest suggestion of Senator Barkley (D-Ky.), majority leader, the senate decided to send the amendment to its military committee with instruction to hold hearings and report as soon as practicable.

This meant, it was apparent, a delay in senate consideration of the "dry rider" until after the Nov. 3 elections and Senator Norris (Ind.-Neb.) told his colleagues it spelled the death of

Pep Rally Tonight Will Usher in Homecoming

Last minute preparations for decorations and a pre-game pep fraternity and sorority house rally tonight open the annual homecoming festivities for the game tomorrow.

A snake dance beginning at the men's dorms at 8:30 p. m., will open the rally, making its way to the women's dorms, after which it will proceed to the Union at 9 p. m. The Men's glee club, wearing white sweaters and pants, will sing a medley of college songs, and cheerleaders will teach new Spartan yells to the crowd.

Coach Charley Bachman and Athletic Director Ralph Young will speak briefly and J. P. Hepinstall, trainer, will make his first appearance at a pep rally in the 30 years he has been at Michigan State.

APO Dance Profits to Go for Victory

Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, will present 80 per cent of the proceeds of the Homecoming dance tomorrow night to some portion of the war effort, Pres. Bob Lenz said last night.

Tapping of 24 unannounced Green Helmet pledges will take place during the intermission of the party. The pledges were chosen last night by the sophomore men's honorary on the basis of a two-point or better scholastic average and participation in campus activities as freshmen.

A committee composed of Arthur Mitchell, L. A. '43; Ellis Brandt, L. A. '43; and Walter Dow, A. S. '44, was appointed to make recommendations as to how the money should be disbursed, Lenz said.

Senator Brown Would Halt Midwest Gas Rationing

GRAND RAPIDS, Oct. 22 (AP)—U. S. Senator Prentiss M. Reds Quell Nazi Troops in Battles on All Fronts

By HENRY C. CASSIDY—MOSCOW, Friday, Oct. 23 (AP)—The Red army fighting on the snowy steppes northwest of Stalingrad occupied two Nazi trenches in an offensive spurt yesterday while inside the besieged city the Russians in hand-to-hand combat killed a battalion of Germans and smashed 12 enemy tanks in a successful defense now entering its 60th day.

Snow and cold rains began enveloping the Stalingrad area yesterday as the Russians continued their resolute defense amid the ruins of the battered Volga river city, and front dispatches said the German penetrations into the northern industrial district several days ago still were ineffective.

A two-day fight in another sector of the same front where the Russians have been attacking the Nazi flank to relieve pressure on the Stalingrad garrison resulted in the killing of 500 German and Rumanian troops, the bulletin added. This fight was said to have developed from an Axis effort to recapture some hill strongholds.

In the Caucasus the communique acknowledged the Germans had "succeeded in driving a wedge into the front line of our defenses" in the Mozdok area, but added fighting is in progress for the annihilation of this enemy group.

All along the vast 2,000-mile front, Hitler's silent enemy, the Russian winter, was tightening its grip, and in spots where the first white flakes had not hidden the rubble of battle, the autumn rains had converted great areas into deep quagmires.

American Forces Await Jap Drive

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Still waiting for Japan's big push, American forces in the Solomon islands repulsed a minor enemy thrust on Oct. 20, and continued a general process of seeking out and bombing Japanese positions on Guadalcanal island.

The navy made this announcement today in a communique which indicated that the battle for the Solomons was still in its preparatory stages, with the Japanese attempting to mass troops and ships and American aviators striving to blast them before they can get set.

At a press conference, Secretary Stimson said that General Douglas MacArthur, in supreme command in Australia, and Vice Admiral Robert A. Ghormley, in command in the Solomons, were "working in the closest possible cooperation."

Are You Writing Any Service Men?

EVERY day a lot of everyone's friends go into the armed forces of the United States. And the number of your friends joining up will increase as the days go by.

When they get into the service, these men gradually begin to find out who their real friends are. Many soldiers have said that their real friends write to them, while their pseudo chums even fail to answer greetings from those who have gone to fight.

You are encouraged to write friends and persons whom you know, but don't write to strangers.

It is claimed that this type of misguided enthusiasm by many clubs and individual students has been harming the war effort.

Wherein lies the rub?

Military officials say it is vital that secrecy be maintained about what organizations are overseas or on active war duty. Thus, correspondence with unknown persons by members of the armed forces might easily be a means of spies obtaining information that should be kept secret.

This does not mean that writing letters to soldiers who are relatives or friends should stop. This, in fact, is encouraged by officials of the armed forces, but unsolicited letters from persons unknown are not.

Without the necessities of life it is impossible to live virtuously.—Plato.

THINKIN' OUT LOUD

By Sheldon Moyer

THE sermon today should prove to be a real target for criticism—from both young and old, faculty members with high blood pressure and freshmen who still have steady gals in high school.

But so long as nobody is unpatriotic enough to throw sugar beets at the keeper of this column, we'll be satisfied to take the bitter with the sweet, just so long as we get some constructive criticisms or helpful suggestions.

To state the case briefly: Thanksgiving day is scheduled for Nov. 26 this year, that is, barring all presidential proclamations.

In past years at Michigan State college, all classes have been excused for this holiday. And in most years, classes also have been excused on the following Friday and Saturday, giving both students and faculty members a four day vacation.

This always has been a highly welcomed vacation, but it is quite obvious that the faculty and administration will not be so lenient when it comes to voting for classes or vacation on the Friday and Saturday after Thanksgiving day this year.

For one reason, public transportation facilities will be glutted enough without students adding to the problem. Gas rationing will be in effect, and the family car won't be at your beck and call. Any way you look at it, you won't be able to go far or do much.

Assuming that the faculty and administration vote at their next meeting not to grant the two extra days after Thanksgiving, you will hardly stand a chance of going further than Lansing. And it won't be patriotic anyway.

So now we reach our major premise. If you have only one day off, and can't get adequate transportation, why not stay right here and attend classes? Yes, right on Thanksgiving day!

Thanksgiving day is more of a habit than a tradition for many folks. But we could actually express our thanks this year that we are fortunate enough to be at college, in a nation that is still relatively free from the pains and agonies of war. We could be thankful to attend classes this day—if we wanted to approach the problem with such an attitude. But naturally we're all too mercenary.

"What's the payoff?"

"What do we get out of it?"

These cries already we hear ringing in our ears.

What's the answer?

It's quite simple. If the student body is "big" enough, and will come right out to say it is ready to attend school on Thanksgiving day, you can bet your old white shoes that the faculty and administration will take notice.

They will take notice enough to approach the problem from an entire new angle—something like this:

How would you like to finish your fall term exams three or four days earlier than scheduled, and go home for an extended Christmas vacation?

As we see it now, such action would accomplish several purposes.

It would enable college students to get home several days earlier to snap up those Christmas rush jobs and allow for a longer recess at one time.

It also would alleviate a major transportation tieup that is bound to occur. Throughout the nation, transportation facilities will be overtaxed with servicemen on furloughs and the normal holiday traffic.

If college students can reach their destinations before the peak of the rush and return to school after the tide of travelers has subsided, it will mean a great deal to the nation's ever increasing transportation problem.

We have stated our case. It's up to you now to criticize and suggest, get behind it or "let George do it."

Don't throw sugar beets, just write.

Spartans At War

By AL BERGLUND

MICHIGAN STATE has a former student at the U. S. army's newest flying field, down in Greenville, Tex. Don Novak, who was here in 1939-40, was graduated last week to the upper class of flying students at the Greenville basic flying school.

A pair of brothers who prepped in Lansing and then came to State are now in the service. Lt. Dale Springer is in the ordnance division, being stationed at St. Louis, while his brother, Lyle, is in officers' candidate school at Camp Davis, N. C.

Added to the growing list of faculty members now in the army are Richard Culp, graduate assistant in the botany department, who did not return to the staff this fall because of his induction; Axel Anderson, graduate assistant in plant pathology, who was inducted early this month; and Lt. Allan H. Mick of Lansing, who was awarded a certificate for merit as an instructor at Camp Robinson, Ark. Lieutenant Mick was graduated in 1935, and was later an instructor and research assistant at the college.

A '37 grad, William E. Hoy, was given the rank of major and recently assumed his duties as a construction engineer in Seattle, where he has been living for the past year.

Another man in the already sizeable delegation of former Michigan State students at West Point is Charles Pratt, an ATO who entered the academy during the summer.

There is a large group of cadets at the Iowa navy pre-flight school, home of the famous Iowa navy football team. Among them are Harold Clemensen, Ken McCleod, Fran Stark, Herb Ihrig, Ralph Jennings, and Al Hansen.

Others are Huntley Johnson, Harry Groszyk, William Miller, Ted Bowman and Danny Simmons. All of these men entered together on August 6 and will graduate next week.

Rommel Heads Axis Near East Forces

CAIRO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Marshal Erwin Rommel was reported tonight in supreme command of all Axis land, sea and air forces in the Mediterranean—including the Italian navy—and planning twin offensives against Egypt and Syria.

Sources with close contacts in Europe, said Rommel, obtained his expanded authority on his recent visits to Berlin and Rome.

These reports implied that the Italian navy, which rarely has ventured beyond the range of coastal guns, and Mussolini's army and air forces had been reduced to about the same puppet status as the forces of Rumania or Hungary.

Bluejackets May Start Team Averaging Over 200 Pounds

By The Associated Press

The Spartans drilled on a soggy field Thursday in a double feature session, with varsity teams taking turns trying their own plays and reviewing Great Lakes formations against two freshmen outfits.

Coach Charley Bachman reported that Halfback Dick Kieppe still was weak from a recent cold and that the star triple-threat might see little action Saturday.

Elbert Stark, the squad's No. 2 passer, practiced throwing a wet ball with fair success.

Bachman's chief hope in Saturday's battle with the beefy Great Lakes Naval Training station team is that "nobody gets hurt."

The reference solely involves the Spartans.

"We'll look like a bunch of kids," commented Bachman as he glanced over a Bluejacket

Varsity wrestling candidates are requested to attend opening workouts in Jenison gymnasium, starting Monday afternoon at 4. Coach Fendley Collins announced yesterday.

roster which indicated Coach Tony Hinkle might start a sailor aggregation averaging 218 pounds in the line and 204 in the backfield.

Great Lakes 'Alumnus'

The Spartan chief, himself an 'alumnus' of the Great Lakes team of the first World war, called off the list: Odson, 250; Daniell, 230; Radovich, 220; Zarnas, 218; Mallecaux, 210; Preston, 190; Smith, 193; Sweiger, 215; Mucha, 225; Popov, 205.

"What a herd that is, and all the cream of the crop."

The problem of keeping the Spartans in one piece Saturday is a serious one for Bachman. "One or two injuries will wreck us," he asserted, "and we'll still have to face Temple, Washington State, Purdue, West Virginia and Oregon State—not a breather in the lot."

Spartan coaches were setting up a defense to halt single wing-back formations, with a man in motion, an offensive similar to the one Michigan used in its 20-0 rout of the Spartans.

Even with Minnesota's Bruce Smith in the tailback position, the Sailors have not brandished a consistent attack to date, scoring six touchdowns in four games, four of the scores coming in a triumph over Iowa.

Quarterback Problem

From the Sailor camp, however, came report that the Bluejackets were working the bugs out of a quarterbacking problem said to be responsible for the "famine" of touchdowns. Dispatches from Great Lakes point out that none of the squad members ever called signals before this year.

Steve Belichick, former Detroit Lions' star, has recovered from an injury received in the opener against Michigan and is expected to run the Sailor team from his fullback post. He would replace Bob Sweiger, Minnesota fullback, who called the signals last week when Wisconsin downed the Sailors, 13-7.

The Sailor squad is scheduled to arrive here by train Friday afternoon and take a final workout at Macklin Field.

Great Lakes Starting Team Includes Charley Carey

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Oct. 22 (AP)—The Great Lakes Bluejackets, their starting lineup drastically changed following four successive days of heavy scrimmages, leave early Friday for East Lansing, and their Saturday clash with Michigan State.

A traveling squad of 33 was named after today's workout. Hard charging, fierce blocking and perfect execution of plays brought 11 players starting assignments. Coach Paul Hinkle calls the group his "Commandos."

The team which probably will face the Spartans consists of ends Howard Hickey and Fred Brekke, tackles Jim Daniell and Nate Johnson, guards Bill Crawford and Ken Robesky, center Basil Petry, quarterback Rudy Mucha, halfbacks Ed Heffernan and Charles Carey and fullback Steve Belichick.

Carey played last season with the Spartans, coached by Charles Bachman, the regular center on the undefeated 1918 Great Lakes eleven.

Kappa Sigs Finally Break Into Win Column

Take Volley Ball Thriller from Powerful Chi Omega Sorority

By JOHN MARRS

Sporting plaid and pastel skirts—courtesy of North Hall friends—Everett "The Wolf" MacDougall and his Kappa Sigs slugged it out with the Chi Omega to a hard won volleyball victory 15 to 11 Wednesday night.

After losing a close touch football game to the Phi Deltis just before the Chi O tilt, the K. Sigs were raging for victory and vengeance. So furious was the play that Photographer Tom Barber and camera were menaced numerous times by players crashing into his squirrel-like perch atop the referee's stand.

Led by Billy Morley, Jane Pearl, and Betty Proctor (and with the added help of Pledge Christie Kerth, the scorekeeper) the Chi O crew staged a last period rally to pull the score up eight points nearer victory before time was called.

MacDougall stated, after the game that this win over one of the school's toughest sorority volleyball teams may be the re-viving spark to fire the morale of his footballers on to more success in the touch football tournament.

Could be, could be—since there's no doubt that Shirley Sawyer, who quarterbacks the Chi O outfit, handles a salty bunch.

Neither team suffered any serious injuries in spite of many resounding collisions. Ed Sewell's right ear is a little out of proportion, however.

Wrestler Bill Maxwell cut such a good feminine figure in his black satin skirt and cowboy boots as he stumbled through the game that rumor has it that MacDougall has dated him for the term party and the Chi O pledge committee are planning a new rush week.

Kieppe Is State's Little But Active Backfield Star

By The Associated Press

When you start mentioning football "naturals" don't forget Michigan State's dashing Dick Kieppe.

The Spartans may not be heading anywhere in particular this season, with rousing setbacks already received from Michigan and Marquette, but Kieppe should stand out like a beacon.

Unlike most triple-threat performers, who satisfy their coaches by merely carrying the mail, Kieppe also is a wow on defense. The Wolverines spank ed State, 20-0, but Spartan followers to a man will tell you it might have been 40-0 if Kieppe wasn't making tackles all over the Michigan bowl.

Corrections in Fraternity league results: Beta Chi was not charged with forfeit losses in either touch football or bowling, as was reported in yesterday's State News.

Missed Marquette

Kieppe missed the Marquette game and State lost 28-7, the worst defeat in Coach Charley Bachman's 10-year regime here. Nobody here thinks the Golden Avalanche would have rolled to four touchdowns if Roving Richard had been available.

The 175-pound senior, compactly built but still lost in the State huddle, has been tagged "Little Egypt," possibly because he brings down rival ball carriers as effectively as his nicknamesake brought down the house with terpsichorean skill.

Consistent Performer

Kieppe, who is 21, is enrolled and is so consistent, fans and experts alike take his talent for granted. He received virtually no publicity last year for finishing among the first 10 midwestern backs in passing and kicking.

Kieppe, who is 21, is enrolled in the physical education course, but he's abandoning his college career this winter. He recently enlisted in the Naval Air corps and expects to be called to service in December.

SPORT BRIEFS

LANSING, Oct. 22 (AP)—Michigan high school basketball teams will have "something resembling state tournaments" despite the effects of gasoline rationing and transportation restrictions on the 1942-43 season, Julian W. Smith, state high school athletic director, predicted today.

He said athletic leaders had not yet interpreted federal restrictions to mean abandonment of tournaments although "modification necessarily must follow."

The state athletic council, he said, probably will take no formal action on the problem prior to its December meeting.

DETROIT, Oct. 22 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers are maintaining official silence on their managerial plans for 1943. However, Del Baker told the Detroit News today by phone from San Antonio, Tex., that he was uncontacted by the Cincinnati Reds, denying a report he was to become manager there. Baker said he had heard nothing from the Tigers.

FDR Shifts Army-Navy Tilt to Philadelphia

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—The Army-Navy football game, one of the annual classics of American sport, was shifted by President Roosevelt today from Philadelphia to Annapolis, Md.

The game, which usually draws upward of 100,000 spectators to Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium late in November, was moved to the grounds of the United States Naval Academy because of war conditions—and only residents of Annapolis will be permitted to attend.

University of Michigan department heads and President Ruthven feel that the university's physical equipment is far inadequate, according to a survey by the Michigan Daily.

Women to Run MSC Campus for One Day

Women will reign for a day when they take over campus activities for the first Woman's day at Michigan State college Wednesday, according to General Chairman Kay Welch, H. E. '44.

Woman's day, sponsored by A.W.S. council, is a new program combining the coed-carnival for acquainting new students with women's activities with an attempt to bring women together to share campus responsibilities.

An all-woman staff will work Wednesday to publish the State News. Women will also take over the Union desk and check-room, act as receptionists in various campus offices. They will also help the Campus police with office and patrol work.

The day will start with a general convocation at 10 a. m. with a keynote speaker and introduc-

ROTC Men Tell When to Salute, What to Wear

Rumors now going the rounds have bewildered many basic military students so that they don't know who they should salute and where.

Here are instructions on it from the military department: Salute cadet officers during classes only. Officers serving as instructors are to be saluted at all times, on either side of the river.

Uniforms, if worn at all, should be worn complete. This includes both cap and tie, the two items, which are most often missing.

"Mass commands" is what they call those shouts which daily are heard by anyone who goes near the river. Begun by the infantry unit, the system has been taken up by most of the others, also.

Each drilling unit gives its own preparatory command and command of execution, then goes through the execution—very good practice for future officers. The men are taking their drill this year with greater pride and enthusiasm than ever before, instructors say.

Capt. Maurice Wilson has arrived here from Camp Bowie, Tex., to fill the vacancy in the field artillery unit left by Lt. L. R. Kyle, who has been ordered to report to Fort Bragg, N. C.

Capt. James H. Speckman has arrived for duty with the Field Artillery unit, replacing Lt. Allen F. Smith.

CONVENTION

The regional interfraternity conference plan originated three years ago when, as a move to replace the single yearly national convention in New York City, the United States was divided into seven regions.

Ron Heath, men's housing director, is graduate chairman of the convention, and Larry Hardy, Hesperian, is undergraduate chairman. The banquet is open to all local fraternity men.

Following the banquet program, a dance, sponsored jointly by the Interfraternity council and Union board, will be held in the Union ballroom.

WPB Estimates One-Third of Nation to Work for War

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Donald M. Nelson, War Production chairman, calculated today that more than one out of every three persons in America eventually will participate directly in the war program—through service in the armed forces, employment in war plants or performing work essential to the war effort, such as farming.

Operas in English To Begin College Concert Series

Featuring grand opera in understandable contemporary English, the Philadelphia Opera company will open this fall's concert course Tuesday with performances of "The Bat" by Strauss at 8:15 p. m., and Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro" at 2:30 p. m., in College auditorium.

Organized by Sylvan Levey, Dr. Leopold Stokowski's assistant for 10 years, and David Hoeker, the Philadelphia company has set a new precedent in the opera world by stressing convincing acting as well as exquisite singing by a troupe in which the average age is but 27 years.

Travelling with full stage productions and symphony orchestra, this all-American troupe is making its first tour of the United States under the management of S. Hurok.

Students will be admitted to both afternoon and evening performances upon presentation of their activity books. Others wishing to attend may obtain tickets at the accounting office in the Administration building.

Washington Sets Wages for Sugar Beet Workers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—The Agriculture department approved minimum wage rates for workers transported into three Michigan counties to harvest sugar beets.

On recommendation of the Michigan Agricultural Wage board, workers sent into Genesee, Shiawassee and Lapeer counties under the government's farm labor transportation program will be paid at least 55 cents an hour or a piece rate equivalent ranging from $1.05 to $1.75 a ton, depending on yields per acre.

DRAFT BILL

The senate decision opened the way for an early vote on the draft bill, making youths 18 and 19 years old available for military service. However, this vote was put off at least until tomorrow when the senate recessed late in the day.

Barkley told his colleagues that congress ought to have additional time to study the question. Adoption of Lee's amendment now, he said, would be bound to delay final action on the draft legislation until some time in November.

The Spartan Calendar will continue on sale in the Union today, it was announced by the Advertising club.

He said Speaker Rayburn of the house had informed him it would be impossible to raise a house quorum until next month because so many members had gone home. The house passed a draft bill Saturday, without any amendment such as Lee proposed.

In a letter to Chairman Walsh (D-Mass.) of the Naval Affairs committee, which was read to the senate, Secretary of the Navy Knox joined Secretary of War Stimson in opposing the amendment. Knox contended that the navy was getting "gratifying results" in promoting temperance through its regulations and education.

Dairy Judgers to Hold Contest Here Today

Although Intercollegiate judging contests in dairy products have been canceled, there will not be a cessation of student judging for the fall term, Prof. I. A. Gould of the dairy department announced yesterday.

Eight students are now training for an elimination contest to be held today. The four who place highest in this contest will be taken to Detroit for a three-day dairy plant inspection and tour, beginning Oct. 29.

Students competing are John Baughman, Edward Chestman, Jack Bush, Tedford, Charles Leverett, Erwin Hagen, Robert Sutter, and Van Allburg. All are dairy juniors or seniors.
