Sheepish Wolf

LeRoy Harris, 13 years old and a junior at the high school, was an emergency substitute for a wounded wolf, a fellow student, on the basketball team at the weekend. LeRoy explained that it was the only way he could make the team since the starting center is out of school. The substitute center is a student, but he is not available because of other clubs. LeRoy's ability to handle the ball, even though he didn't want to, impressed the coach.

He's Pantless

A Mason hall resident went about his work in the usual way, but he was spotted by the campus police, who noticed that his pants were down. The resident claimed that he was simply trying to save time by not putting on his pants, and that he was unaware of his disarray until he was confronted by the police. He promised to be more careful in the future.

State Grads to Keep Ablaze of Sport

Doings by Radio

Designed primarily to supplement the Michigan State College Bulletin, the radio program "From the Alumni's World" is broadcast every Tuesday from 5:30 to 6 p.m. on the radio station.

Objectives of the broadcast are to interpret to the alumni and others the activities of the college and the beneficial needs of the institution, and to bring to alumni in the various parts of the state a closer relationship with the college through the medium of radio.

Underdog 'S' Men May Pull Upset on Bigger Foes

NORTHWESTERN is the better team, when you come out to see an underdog Michigan State against the giant Great Lakes aggregation in the popular fall sport on Saturday afternoon on Markfield field at 2 p.m. in this town.

The experts and Monday morning quarterbacks have already awarded the game to the Northwesterners on past performances of both teams and are anticipating just to see some fresh air for a couple of hours and study the changing color of the beautiful foliage that surrounds the stadium. And there's the parade of the 2,600 military students.

The Mason hall crew who were responsible for the "postman" and "automobile policeman" duties have been taken over by the women. Now they are making their own shaving cream out of shaves discarded from one of the barbers. From all reports it is reportedly effective. In fact, it is so effective that the women are using it for shaving men's beards. However, if you do not want your beard shaved, you may want to remember this method for future reference.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 (AP) — Secretary Knox disclosed today that the strength of the naval service—the navy, marines and coast guard—now numbers approximately 1,300,000 men.

At his press conference, the secretary of the navy was nearly 1,000,000, and there are approximately 208,000 in the marine corps. The navy has approximately 1,200,000, and the coast guard has approximately 1,190,000.

The foremost concern of the commission's college section is the problems of training engineers and technical personnel butty needed in the atomic age. Three major divisions have been set up under Dr. Elliott to take care of these problems. The first is the "Special Wartime Courses" division. Once this unit works out courses it will be the only body in the country to do so, and it is a new one. The U. S. Office of Education takes charge of this.

Varsity Club to Enforce Order at Frosch-Soph Brawl

This year’s freshman-sophomore brawl will be rigidly controlled by the Varsity Club, according to Parmelee, who has been appointed to enforce the rules. Chairmen Art Milne and Benny Franklin have been appointed to oversee the proceedings. The brawl is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m.

Two mass events will be held in the gymnasium building. The first, at 7 p.m., will feature a basketball game with teams of 50 from each class. The second, at 8 p.m., will consist of a wrestling match between the two classes. The Varsity Club will regulate the activities.

The brawl will open at 8 p.m., and will close at 11 p.m., as long as they remain in the gym. Freshmen and sophomores who violate the rules may be expelled.

Each class will run off wall chimes, rings, and horns, and these will be used to indicate the start of the game. The winning class will be determined by the number of students who participate in the activities.

The latest Allied long distance air attacks on Axis war-making centers from northern China to northern Italy and peculiar references to President Roosevelt's disclosures by American plane production has been realized to increase numbers for greater range and hitting power.

That announcement, which also applies to the American tank output, can only intensify German and Italian panic over the trends and threat. It is not only Allied German industries and war areas, but also occupied Italian territory, that found itself in Nazi service, that including tanks targets. Vital Italian Bases Have Been Renewed

Our correspondent in Rome states that tanks and Stalingrad have been prepared on a large scale since the first of the U.S. A. is reported renewed under the surveillance of local law end enforcement, that the tanks have been prepared.

However, it is not only tanks that are being prepared for the march to the Russian front. Italy has been reported planning fortification of some of its major cities and aircraft bases along the Adriatic coast, over which Italy got control after invasion of Yugoslavia. Patrons in the U.S. are also paying for Indian-built Italian tanks built around three mountain fronts. Broken lines indicate pre-war boundaries.

Star Lineman

Don LeClair, regular junior guard on the Spartan grid eleven, is one of Line Coach Kaufl's most consistent performers. LeClair has played all the entire 60 minutes of State's three games so far this year and he will be booked on to-day to help stop the nifty-going Great Lakes backs.

War Takes Fifth of MSC Faculty; Sends One Here

The armed forces and government service has cut little the Michigan State college faculty of the extent of 20 per cent, but the war also is directly responsible for sending Dr. L. V. Turchalski to the college campus as a mathematics instructor.

Doctor Turchalski, a graduate in mechanical engineering from the University of the Philippines, was returning to Manila after three years in the United States when his ship was ordered to proceed to Pearl Harbor. However, on Dec. 7, it was sunk by a torpedo, last of Honolulu, and he was forced to return to the United States.

After a period with the United States Navy in Detroit doing statistical research, Doctor Turchalski joined the Michigan State faculty this fall, and he was sent to this country in 1938 by the Philippine government to study statistics and applied science. After attending

Twin Matman May Be Lost For Season

Bill Maxwell of the Central Michigan State University is expected to return to the Central Michigan Zapato Bowl. The matman's performance has been a key factor in the university's success this season.

In the meantime, Bill Maxwell is expected to return to Central Michigan.

About to make his college debut.

The prizes for athletic versatility at Michigan State go to William Maxwell, a senior from Tulsa, Okla. Bill is the national heavyweight champion and has defeated opponents in two meets with weights over 150 pounds, played as a varsity member of the tennis team last spring and this fall. His ability to make the weight with the Spartan varsity cross-country team was a major reason. Nobody thought Bill as a runner until last fall when he won the campus True Track, an intercollegiate cross-country meet.

Wolverine Coach Downsabout M-Gopher Classer

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 23 (AP)—Minnesota sport writers today got a look at Michigan's Coach Fritz Crisler on the eve of a big game.

They learned plenty about the way Mr. Fritz operates—and lit-ing about the football game.

Fritz, who entered a long train ride, didn't smile when he said he off a small head of steam after a practice told him Michigan had been established in the last meeting.

"That's almost silly, isn't it?" cranked Crisler. "That's very ominous. Michigan is just a fair team. Nothing more. Maybe you can call this an even thing, certainly we're no better than that. I can't understand all the talk about how good we are.

"And we've been favorites against the Gophers before but lost and the last in a row. When that happens, it doesn't mean much to know you're the favorite."

"But what about Tom Kinni?"

"He can play but he's not completely fit. You see that walking around with a cane?"

"That's Wise, our backfield. It won't play."

Anson Swings Into Action for British Fleet

H.M.S. Anson, one of Britain's two new 35,000-ton battleships, flew its gun during trial runs at Flossove, a sister ship, that joined the British fleet and are now at sea. The Anson, moreover, has already seen action battling against German aircraft with her high-angle guns along the Arctic convoy route to Russia. This picture was taken from London to New York.

Military Men March

Michigan State's 2,400 R.O.C. students will put on a mass marching demonstration on the football field just before gametime. All six military units in the school will be represented.

Immediately preceding the game, a wreath will be placed on the varsity club monument at the north entrance of the auditorium in honor of varsity club men who have given their lives in war. Following the game, class reunions will be held on the football field in five-year groups. All classes, 10, national alumni president, will participate in the day's activities.

The annual Homecoming dance will be held tonight in college auditorium from 9 to 12 p.m. Twenty-four new pledges were introduced to Green Helmet, sophomore men's honorary, will be tapped during intermission of the dance.

RAF Raid Hits Genoa, Italian Morale Too

LONDON, Oct. 23 (AP)—German and Italian planes last night under the RAF's two-ton "block-buster" bombs, and the French and Swiss radio stations snapped off the air again late tonight to indicate another grim visitation over the Alps by Britain's heavy bomber arm.

The Paris and Vichy and the Rome, Switzerland, stations went off the air in quick succession as they did last night when the RAF hit Genoa so hard that the Italians quickly sent their king and queen there, obviously to raise morale by comforting the wounded and homeless.

In daylight today British and Canadian bombard and fighters, including the fast Mosquito planes, struck at objectives in Germany, Holland and northern France. Rail communications in northern France were disrupted by the Canadians, major strikes that damaged at least a dozen locomotives, halted a number of trains around Depepe, and stranded Nazi control towers, gun posts and electric pylons.

Great damage resulted at Genoa, a munitions center, and a naval base for North Africa, burned for hours after the biggest British bombers had crossed the snow-capped Alps returning to their base.

HMS Anson, the first of Britain's five 35,000-ton ships, was forced to retreat to base in the Mediterranean by the enemy's air attack last week. It was described by one observer in London tonight as the best sight he had seen this war and he added: "That's the way to fight a war."

Repeatedly told him news agencies that it was the first time that the British had been able to launch a sustained attack against the enemy's ports.

RAF planes that swooped over Genoa, Salerno and Rome, Italy, last night, were reported to be the largest one launched by the British in the Mediterranean. Earlier an Italian communiqué said 50 to 100 planes had been engaged in heavy fighting with the British Royal Air Force's fleet of 100 planes.

A strong force of 106 fighters were unloading the Alps in the light of a bomber
