The Berlin radios said 102 German planes were killed in the British air raids.
Colleges Aid in Victory Book Drive

COLLEGES are actively cooperating in the Victory Book campaign to help buy books to be used in the armed services. College stores and campus committees throughout the country have enlisted in the drive, making it possible to bring forward-breaking collection of good books from the shelves of famous authors.

The 1943 Victory Book campaign is sponsored by the American Library association, American Red Cross and the Women's Air Force Service Pilots. L. Bernays and Norman Cousins have received pledges of cooperation from the National Association of College Store men and the American Association of Colleges and University campus committee.

Books placed on the giving of books in good physical condition, books that are interesting and readable. College men particularly are to own plenty of first-class science fiction, science, history, and naval bases. This includes best sellers, both fiction and non-fiction, recently published and out of print, numerous books and small reprints of popular titles.

LETTERS...to the Editor

Dear Sir:

You fail to say how long you are going to hold the show. I think you are wrong. The art school was founded in 1912, and this is the first time it has been a failure.

John Brown

You are also fighting for the right to have and use as much sugar as we like, much sugar, butter, and meat as we care to consume.

But according to the logic of that demand, we should demand as much of those rationed articles for ourselves as we can be accustomed to purchase of them in the past, and to consume them.

The people with reasoning minds will not be satisfied with this kind of argument. They will not be satisfied until the demand is met.

I do not expect Miss Harris and her associates to agree with me, but I hope that we can get together and work out a solution of this problem of rationing.

MONTON IN BRADFORD

Dear Editor:

I am glad to see the contra side of the argument concerning the sugar question. I do not think you have answered the question of whether the people want sugar or not.

You truly,

JOHN C. VOGT

Grin and Bear It

By Len Barnes

I DON'T seem to make much noise, but the series of articles in the next two months, that is if I'm not too busy with other assignments, will be very interesting to read. I hope to be able to put something of value to the college community in these columns.

One of the many things that is being done by the college community is to bring in guest speakers and radio personalities from the war. These are people who are doing interesting and important work in the war.

How does the new book, "The War" by John D. Martin, differ from your previous book, "The Boy Who Loved to Write"?

The new book, "The War," is a more realistic portrayal of the war, while "The Boy Who Loved to Write" was a fictional story.

How did you use your experiences in the war to write "The War"?

I used my experiences in the war to write "The War," but I also drew on the experiences of many other soldiers.

How did you become interested in writing about the war?

I became interested in writing about the war because I felt that it was important to record the experiences of those who fought in the war.

What are some of the challenges you faced while writing "The War"?

The biggest challenge was finding the right words to describe the horror of war. I also had to make sure that I was accurate in my descriptions.

What do you hope readers will take away from "The War"?

I hope that readers will learn more about the sacrifices that were made during the war, and the importance of remembering those sacrifices.

How do you think "The War" will be received by readers?

I believe that "The War" will be received positively, as it offers a unique perspective on the war and its impact on those who lived through it.

Engine Ball Band
Led by a 'Heavy'

"Tony" Hill, known as American's biggest bandmaster, will play for the annual Engineer's ball held in the Union ballroom Saturday, Feb. 23, according to John Childs, Eng. 44, chairman of the dance.

Hill, who weighed 285 pounds, began his musical career as the leader of a6 shouting band known as "Harry Hill and his Five Jacks." Hill and his orchestra played their first engagement in 1923. It took him three years to become manager, and he is now managing engagements ever since.

The ball, which will be a closed affair for the first time, will be held in the Michigan State campus for their first appearance here.

Democrats Defend Flynn
Pick Walker as Chairman

CHICAGO, Jan. 18 (AP)—

The Democratic national committee charged today that recent attacks on Senator Robert F. Flynn, who has been nominated as chairman of the committee, were carried out by members of the President's council of defense.

The committee gave Flynn a vote of "complete confidence" after a meeting of the committee's chairman and Postmaster General Frank C. Walker, who had been chosen as his successor.

Kanzler Leaves WPB

Because of Health

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—Mr. Kanzler resigned today as director general for operations of the War Production board.

Chairman Donald M. Nelson and Mr. Kanzler were in poor health, and it was decided to resign.

Mr. Kanzler asked Mr. Nelson to continue on his personal staff as an adviser and expressed hope that Mr. Kanzler would soon be able to return to the organization.

Mr. Kanzler, the first major appointee by Mr. Nelson after the reorganization of WPB, formerly headed the automotive branch office of WPB in Detroit and directed the conversion of the auto plants to war production. He is a former business associate of Mr. Kanzler and president Ford, and a brother-in-law of the latter.
