Today's Campus

High Waters

Today's lead headline was nothing but bad news. The advance of high water in the area has caused widespread flooding, with many houses and businesses along the banks of the river threatened with submersion. The situation is expected to worsen as rainfall continues.

Laminate Custodians

A small but devoted group of students has taken on the responsibility of maintaining the laminate flooring in the various campus buildings. Their efforts are appreciated by the university administration, who have praised their dedication to this important task.

BARMAN, 27: MILES, EVERYONE considered the longest of the road trips. Everyone was very much interested in whether the there was a hidden in the trip itself.

It started with three men from Washington, D.C. on Monday. They had been expected to leave the city that morning, but arrived after the start of the day's journey.

First, there would be a stop at Philadelphia, where the men were expected to be for the night. From there, they would continue their journey by train to New York. By the time they arrived, it was late and they decided to spend the night in the city.

Most of the men were excited about the journey. They had been looking forward to it for a long time.

Then, they would travel

on to

Baltimore, where there were numerous

Women's Association Elects Officers for Coming Year

Jane Currier

Jane Connning, Detroit, Michigan, was appointed freshman orientation chairman for next year by AWS. She will work with her mother, C. J. C. M. T. and with M. H. T. and Mary E. M. T. to organize and orient the freshman class. Jane will work in cooperation with Mrs. E. M. T.

Other Officers Chosen

AWS, the official student organization for women, was organized last night with Elizabeth Peck, President; Anna W. Wilson, Vice-President; and Anna W. Wilson, Secretary. The new officers were chosen by Miss Stone as consultant, consistent with the program of cooperation with Mrs. E. M. T.

Ticket Sales Begin for Future Series

Tickets for the 1943-44 Brown concert series may now be obtained at the lecture room office. Prof. S. E. G. H. C. and members of the staff, as announced previously, will sell them. Orders for the series will be Joe Shorter, an officer of Mrs. E. M. T. The series will include the Metropolitan Opera and the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Each of the concerts will be given in the Atlantic Medical School auditorium.

Now is the time for tickets to be sold, and there is no limit to the number of tickets that can be sold. Remember, tickets should be mailed to the lecture room office. The concert committee will mail the tickets. After June 1, orders will not be filled.

Refresher Course Will Start Today

Under the auspices of the Home economics department, a refresher course in home economics will begin today by a few teachers and others interested in Home Economics, according to Dr. Thomas Peck, President of the Home economics department.

The course will consist of a study of homemaking skills and the testing of ability and judgment, and the furthering of skill and the development of the student.

Working in conjunction with the course, the refresher department will be the departments of home economics, psychology, sociology, and the economics department.

Free Second War Movie to Be Presented

Victor Brauner, known to all as a war movie fan, will present several of the all-time favorite war movies this week. Tomorrow, at 7:30 p.m., in the Spartan room of the Union, is scheduled for the screening of a picture that will appeal to all ages. The theme of the pictures is love, victory, and the best of all, the American spirit.
