Administrator Crowe Bears Titles of Diverse Offices

By Emily Kalled

It's not a hobby, it's business. That is the man of many titles, Director, Chairman, or Coordinator S. E. Crowe.

All the fame and kudos have not been enough to make Crowe's office more like Grand Central Station, with bookshelves, program agents, professors, a few men, and students calling in for promotions and contacts. The office goes on like a clock exchange.

Programs run by Crowe include the Herman Church, the Michigan Memorial Auditorium, and the Michigan State University's athletic achievements.

Today in Politics

His latest acquired office is that of coordinator at state frame. This job requires most of his present and past work in the area of public relations, but it marks the first time that this number makes the title of the business.

Hers is the Office of the State, S. E. Crowe, and he works hard at the University of Wisconsin and the University of Michigan.

He came to state from his position as director of the department of public relations at the University of Wisconsin.
