I,100 Expected for Freshman Week

From President Hannah

Registration Falls Short of Previous Enrollment

Activities Will Open Tuesday, Sept. 21: Each New Student to Be Assigned Faculty Adviser for Guidance

For campus enrollment at Michigan State this year, a number an estimated 1,100 to 1,200 students, Freshman E. S. Eaton predicted that week.

The total number of freshmen students will be slightly lower than that of last year's freshman class of 3,366, according to Mr. Logan. However, more women than men will enter this year, and the majority of these come from the eastern part of the state.

Campus Army Groups Total Nearly 3,500

State Becomes Center for Air Force, A.T.

Campus Army groups total nearly 3,500. In addition to the nearly 3,000 men in the regular Army, there are about 500 students in the Air Force training program. These men are divided into groups of approximately 50. At present, two of these are located in the state of Michigan, in the Detroit area.

Dorms House 1,000 Women

Welcom Freshmen

Freshman women are required to live in dormitories. It is possible and are not permitted to live in family houses. The dormitories house about 1,000 women. The dormitories are located on the north side of campus.

Bells on

Plan Adapting for Women

Bells will be used for daily evening exercises. The plan is for one night in a week for a bell. The plan is for one bell on the first night, two on the second night, and so on.

Dormitory hours will be from 9 p.m. to 9 a.m. The hours will be the same for all dormitories. The hours for the first night will be from 9 p.m. to 9 a.m. The hours for the second night will be from 9 p.m. to 9 a.m.

Resident hours will be from 9 p.m. to 9 a.m. The hours will be the same for all dormitories. The hours for the first night will be from 9 p.m. to 9 a.m. The hours for the second night will be from 9 p.m. to 9 a.m.

Freshman in Four Campuses

In addition to the freshman classes in the state, there are about 500 students in the freshman classes in the other campuses. These students are divided into groups of approximately 50. At present, two of these are located in the state of Michigan, in the Detroit area.

Military Atmosphere Pervades Michigan State Campus

The military atmosphere pervades the Michigan State campus as the state university becomes more than just a place of learning for students. The students have taken on a new role, not just as students, but as members of the armed forces. This change has been gradual, with many students enlisting in the military before graduation. The atmosphere of discipline and readiness is everywhere, from the uniformed cadets to the bicycles with saddlebags bearing the insignia of their respective branches of the military.

MICHIGAN STATE COLLEGE

Serves Humanity

The success of many service agencies in the fields of teaching, research, and extension is due to the efforts of a dedicated group of women and men. These agencies are managed by the Michigan State College, and the spirit of the services is reflected in the work of the women and men who serve them.

As a result of extensive planning and preparation, the college has been able to offer a wide variety of programs that meet the needs of students and the community. These programs include: a four-year course in agriculture, a two-year course in business education, a three-year course in home economics, and a four-year course in music.

The college also offers a four-year course in home economics which includes home economics, homemaking, and homemaking science, as well as a four-year course in scientific agriculture which includes agricultural education, agricultural statistics, and agricultural economics.

In addition, the college offers a two-year course in business education which includes business education, business economics, and business statistics.

The Spotlight’s on You

You are news at Michigan State. What you do makes headlines, because the MICHIGAN STATE NEWS is a student newspaper, run by students, for the students. Every morning except Sunday and Monday your newspaper brings you complete details of student activities and up-to-the-minute coverage on worldwide events. It tells you what has happened and what is going to happen. The MICHIGAN STATE NEWS is as much a part of Michigan State as textbooks and lecture notes.

Here are some of the reasons why you'll find that you can't get along without it:

- Associated Press for complete off-campus news coverage.
- AP news pictures for the pictorial side of the news.
- Complete campus coverage of college events and activities.
- Today's Campus for a lively column of local happenings.
- "Grin and Bear It," by Lichten, for a daily laugh.

MSC Paper Enters Second Year of Daily Publication

Varied Services Give Michigan State News High Ranking Among College Newspapers

The Michigan State News, college student newspaper, will resume its second year of daily publication on Sept. 28 and will continue to bring college students up-to-the-minute news of the campus and the world.

Election to membership into Associated Press last year enables the Michigan State News to receive complete world-wide news coverage by a direct wire, an unduplicated news service and the Wide World Service.

World's Largest Audience

The Michigan State News has an audience among college publications in the world's largest, largest circulation market, by reaching college students in all the major cities of the United States.

The States News enters the second year of daily news publication with a strong, established product and an established place in the minds of its readers, a place that is not likely to be taken by other papers.

The first daily publication of the Michigan State News this fall will be the morning news of the state. The paper will be delivered to all students living in common dormitories and dormitories, sororities and student bodies in the city limits of East Lansing. Students who have made a request for Lansing, East Lansing, rural and other papers in the Lansing area will have the opportunity to pick up their copy at the Union desk on the W. Lansing Union and State News delivery card at the time of regular delivery.

So that all of us, before sending all the money earned during the summer, can see whether we are dressed as we should be, certain former college students have arranged through the war that we can feel qualified to purchase what we need.

Sweaters and Skirts Tops

Short and longer tops are any college woman's and student's favorites. They are practical, casual, pleasant and straight to school, church, shops and travel. Fall colors, fabrics and materials. Sweaters can be made of any suitable material, but cotton is often the one that may be worn.

Admission into Men's Jobs Becomes Common

Blogs, they have big shots, in the navy they have big shots, in Washington they have big shots, even in East Lansing. Only a few of the men being trained are known as BMOCs and BWOCs, Men's and Women's Occupational Corps, instead of general "G.I." or "GI." Groups and sub groups. There have been a few men in the past few years, however, who have had jobs in the press, who have worked in business. Many of the women, too, have had jobs as clerks, bookkeepers, and secretaries.

Next month at the State News, which is published by the women's group, there will be a new section, "Women's World." The first issue of the new publication will be a special issue with a cover story on the work of the women's group.

Barbara Dunn, editor of the State News, said that the new section will feature articles on the work of women in various fields, including business, government, and education. The first issue will also include a profile of a woman who has been successful in her field.

"Women's World" will be published monthly and will feature articles on the work of women in various fields. The editor hopes that the new section will help to bring attention to the contributions that women have made to society.

WOMEN'S FASHION NOTES

Hats Rate Again

Women have been coming out with the latest fashion in hats this fall. The beautiful and elegant designs are limited in variety, but the colors are used to their best advantage. The fad for hats was a popular trend during the last few seasons and will continue into the winter season. For winter hats, the use of fur and feathers is popular.

For the knockout punch in a college, the student should remember to have her hair arranged correctly and to wear a hat that complements her outfit. A hat that is too large or too small can detract from the overall appearance. A hat that is too tight can also cause discomfort.

Start your COLLEGE CAREER in the right fashion!

Always wear a hat that is comfortable and fits well.

Lace caps are also widely worn.

Hats are a must to protect from the weather and to add an elegant touch to any outfit.

Dr. W. E. Abbot, Director of Drama at Michigan State College, said, "Before too many people rush into the theater and become professional actors, they should be acclimated to the professional stage and should also have had some experience in the dramatics of school and college. A young actor is not necessarily going to become a professional actor in the theater, but he should have some experience in the dramatics of school and college before he rushes into the professional theater."

Dr. Abbot said that the dramatics of school and college should be taught as a course in the regular college curriculum.

The Michigan State College Dramatics Department has been given the use of the new auditorium, the longest building in the state college, as a regular study room for the drama group. The department has already received an order of $350 worth of scenery, the first amount of money given it by the college since it was founded in 1916.

The department will have its first play in the auditorium on Friday night, February 21, at 8:30. The play is "The Major," a comedy play which will be produced by the department. The play will be the first production of the department in the new auditorium, and it is expected to be a success.

The department plans to produce three plays during the spring term, and it is expected to have a good attendance at each play. The department will also have a number of recitals and readings during the spring term, and it is expected to have a good attendance at each recital and reading.

Balanced Wardrobe Should Be Male Goal

Fresh Men's Problem is Matching Items to Blend Into
An Ensemble of Clothing to Wear for Any Occasion

By Jerry Reeves

The interviewer who has been asking men to mention their wardrobe for the coming term was surprised to hear the response of: "I don't know." The problem of matching items to blend into an ensemble of clothing that is worn for a specific occasion is one that many men face weekly. The interviewer found that men are more inclined to think about their wardrobes than to consider what to wear for any given case. The problem of matching items for the coming term is a common one among many men, and it is one that should be taken seriously.

Welcome to Freshmen

The Freshman week committee is very happy to extend a most cordial welcome to all new students.

A great deal of planning has gone into making your freshman year at Michigan State College as pleasant as possible. The program being offered to you this week is the result of that planning. It is hoped that by following the schedule of activities presented, you will be able to become acquainted with the college and its facilities. During this week, you will be able to see the campus, meet and become familiar with your college friends, and complete your registration as a student in the University.

In conclusion, the committee wishes you a pleasant and profitable week at Michigan State College.

Taxes Pay Bilk of College Cost, But Student Fees Help

The total cost to Michigan State College, students, and students' parents amounts to over $110,000. This amount is in excess of the state appropriation. The remainder of the cost of student instruction comes from various sources, including student fees. It is estimated that about $50,000 is spent for instructional services by the state and about $60,000 by the college. This is the true cost of higher education.

Michigan State Students Go All Out For Victory

(2C Outlines Big Program* To Include All Spartans

The outbreak of Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941, and the declaration of war against Japan by the United States on Dec. 8, 1941, has caused the悒ept of our national and international affairs. The war has brought about many changes in the lives of people everywhere. In the United States, the war has caused a great deal of anxiety and fear, but it has also brought about a sense of unity and determination to win the war.

The war has affected all aspects of life, including education. The United States government has taken steps to ensure that the war effort is supported by all segments of society. This includes the educational institutions, which have been asked to contribute in various ways to the war effort.

The war has also affected the lives of individuals. Many people have been called to serve in the armed forces, and others have been asked to contribute in other ways, such as through the purchase of war bonds and stamps.

The war has brought about a great deal of change, and it has been an important part of American history. The war has been a time of great sacrifice and heroism, and it has left a lasting impact on the lives of those who lived through it.
To the Class of '47 —

HURD'S cordially invite you as we have the past 25 Freshman Classes of State to come in and become around our campus shop. We do not ask that you buy anything, in other words we want to make your acquaintance and will be more than satisfied to have done just that.

From a wide and up to date selection of nationally advertised men's apparel the men of State have been wearing the styles of State from HURD'S for the past 25 years. Let us show you the modern styles for 1941 as we did your fathers for 1910.
