Reds Advance to New Gains in Ukraine

German-Claim Defeats in Three Village Battles

LONDON, Oct. 2—Red troops captured all three villages in which they were first held today, and were now advancing on the northeastern outskirts of Dneprope tov, the German headquarters, which is held by General von Kleist.

The Red forces had to fight hard in all three places, but they were successful in forcing the Germans back outside the city limits.

The three villages are Tschernobil, Novo-Uman, and Pripet.

The Red troops were supported by tanks and field artillery, and the fighting was intense. The Germans tried to recapture the villages several times, but were driven off each time.

The Red advance is part of the general offensive in the Ukraine, which was launched last week by the Red Army. The objective of the offensive is to push the German forces back to the line of the river Dnieper. The Red Army has made significant gains in recent days, and is now threatening to encircle the German forces in the north.

Envoys of the Allies in North Somalia

Allied forces in the Southwestern Pacific

The Allied forces in the Southwestern Pacific have made some progress today. The Allied forces have advanced into the central part of the peninsula, and are now threatening the city of Mogadishu.

The Allied forces have been supported by air strikes and artillery fire, and have driven the Japanese forces back from the city. The Japanese are now in a defensive position, and are fighting desperately to hold the city.

The Allied forces have also been supported by supplies and reinforcements, which have been sent to the front in recent days. The Allied commanders have been quick to take advantage of the Japanese weaknesses, and have pushed their forces forward with determination.

Occasional light rain.

American Bomber Shot Down Over Swiss Frontier

American airmen were trapped in their cockpit when their plane was shot down over the Swiss frontier yesterday. The airmen were captured by the Swiss authorities, and are now being held as war prisoners.

The plane was shot down over the Swiss frontier near the town of Chur. The airmen were killed by Swiss police, who were unable to save them.

The Swiss authorities have been quick to respond to the incident, and have sent a large force of police and soldiers to the scene. The police have closed off the area, and are now searching for the airmen's remains.

The airmen were part of a large American bomber group, which was flying over the Swiss frontier in support of the Allied forces in Italy. The group was attacked by Swiss forces, who were unable to save them.

The incident has caused a great deal of concern among the Allied forces, who are now demanding that the Swiss authorities release the airmen's remains.

Italian coast

The Allied forces in Italy are now threatening to advance to the Italian coast, and are preparing to mount a major offensive. The Allied commanders are confident that they will be able to defeat the German forces in the south, and are now planning to advance to the coast.

Parties Include Everything From Fashions to Factories
By Ro Howland
A little bit of everything, with a strong dash of war time, was the recipe for what’s cooking at all sorority formal parties the second week of formal rushing. Four parties from 7 to 8:30 p.m., the traditional happy hour, has been dispensed with because of the all-important stampede promo.

...for accepting with good nature the unusual travel conditions of this past summer

Between July 1st and Labor Day, Great Lakes Greyhound buses carried 8,029,974 wartime travelers. For their good-natured acceptance of unusual peak-day travel conditions, we sincerely thank these travelers—as well as all those people who postponed taking trips until the greatest rush was over.

Such cooperation made it possible for us to serve more soldiers and sailors than ever before, more war workers, more essential travelers of every type. In addition, 15,000 selectees and 22,000 children taken to summer camps—a job designated as essential by government agencies.

Your continued cooperation will do much to ease wartime bus travel in the months to come.

Draft of Fathers Began Yesterday

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 — The official beginning of the war fathers draft took place Sunday and will continue for 90 days. President Roosevelt's statement was released Friday. The draft will last for 90 days. This, latest of a series of steps taken by the President, Wheeler said in his report to Congress, will be "a major step in the flexible long-range program of the armed forces."
