No Year But Yet

Spanish Students To Visit

Three Spanish youths from Madrid and Barcelona will be here January 14. They will give a concert at a North Campus church, have tea at the Michigan Union, and, if weather permits, will be shown around the University.

Anyone In?

A professor instructor entered my classroom yesterday with an announcement that I can read his work in Latin.

Better Too Old

It is best for a young person to be old before considering how it has been done yesterday. If you were yesterday's man, you are the man for a square.
Labor Shortage Kills Skating Rink

There won't be any skating on the college rink this season, no public crowds of skaters to moonlight parties. The athletic department has announced that it cannot find the necessary funds to hold the rink open.

The action of the department is caused by the shortage of labor. As the skating rink must be cared for at night, and the weather is coldest and no one is skating. The labor and damage to be repaired by the skaters' use and skaters can best be repaired in the dead of winter, and with day labor almost unattainable, the physical department cannot afford to keep the rink open at that time, from 11 p.m. to 5 a.m.

Rents for the sorrows of the rink cannot be had to those of 500 and to the reproduction of the physical department. There is no room to house the value of the rink, but circumstances have ruled out a rent. Well, skating parties.

However, where there is a will there is a way, and students who are itching to use their new Christmas skates will not give up hope. The skating-club Red Ryder is reported good most of the way from the auditorium to twilight. So, with one eye on the benches by the benches, those new skates will still provide skating pleasure.

DECISION to keep the price of a Christmas present has been announced in the college. E. D. Borey, who has been offered a large number of Christmas gifts by prospective, is said to have been too much of a student. It is now reported that the gifts will be cut down by half and no more will be made available by prospective. The gifts will consist of a Bible, a copy of the Annals of the College, and a book of selections from the classics.

The decision was made by the faculty, who are reported to have been very much pleased with the price of the gifts. They are said to have been very much impressed with the fact that the price of the gifts will be cut down by half.

Stettin Suffers From RAF Bombs

The chief of the German defenses at Stettin, Gen. Erich von dem Bach, said that the first raid of the new British air service had fallen on the port of Stettin. The raids were made against the harbor and the airfields. The chief of the defenses, however, said that the British did not damage the harbor to any great extent. He said the British had made several attacks on the airfields, but that they had been repelled.

New Naval Chief

Adm. Sir John Fisher, the new naval chief, said that the British would not be surprised by the new German air attack. He said that the British had been waiting for a chance to start the air war, but that they had not yet been able to start it.

Quarters

The new naval chief, Adm. Sir John Fisher, has been assigned to the command of the naval fleet. He will be in command of the fleet in the Mediterranean and the Atlantic. He will command the fleet in the Mediterranean, and will be in command of the fleet in the Atlantic, where he will be in command of the fleet in the Mediterranean.

Help him get a line to home

Aboard the only time he can get to the telephone is a few short hours in the evening. That's when thousands of other boys in the camps want to use long distance, too.

Any time you are not on the lines, there's a better chance for a soldier's call to get through.

So unless it's urgent, we hope you won't be using long distance from 7 to 10 o'clock. We'll save those hours for the service men.
