British Army Closes In On Tilberg After Capturing 'S Hertogenbosch

American ships sent to Philippines.

PHILIPPINES, Oct. 25 (AP) - British second army forces, advancing westward in Holland behind a veritable wall of armor and artillery, rolled back tonight along a 15-mile front north and south of the communications center of 'S Hertogenbosch and drove into swivel on Tilberg, another main town 15 miles southwest of 'S Hertogenbosch.

Landing on the left flank, Lt. Gen. Sir Miles C. Dempsey's forces, including the enemy back side of Tilberg, a fortified stronghold of the German city of 13,000, have now seized a town formerly defended against Allied attacks on the east flank. British patrols were less than two miles east of Tilberg.

Infantry Pushes West

British infantry and armor then 20 miles north of 'S Hertogenbosch, pushed toward west along a railroad running to Enkhuizen and Tilburg.

Away German movements observed north of Tilberg, and French indicated the army was pushing its line of communications, and that both troops and material fell out of the path of General Dempsey's advance.

Canadian forces fighting to the advantage of the Germans, and their position was getting clearer.

The Americans troops made some gains in the north of France, capturing the village of Cambrai after house-to-house fighting. The army impinged on its positions in the north of the Yser, close to the German army's position.

Wanted... Intelligent Voters

To the student voters: Are you, as thoughtful Americans, voting as a group party because you are qualified and believe in the principles and policies for which it stands? Or are you voting as a group party because you have grown up in the tradition of that particular party at home?

"I think an election for grandpa is good enough for me" is not a valid basis on which to vote for platforms, and policies as well as men, for conditions have drastically changed with the passing years. Indeed, if today we should vote as did grandpas, wars and international relationships would continue to be thrashed out by our representatives, for the peace which remains beyond our grasp.

The newspapers and magazines are printing material relevant to the candidates and the parties, and through the radio alone can list the problems as they are presented. That with a couple of hours of study the modern voter to know more thoroughly the essentials of this campaign of 1944.

Will you be an intelligent or a hereditary vote on November 7th?

Spartans, Tatars Expected To Play Aerial Game Friday

Practice to Wind Up With Night Workout

With night workout scheduled to top off a week of preparation for their seventh meeting with the Wayne Tatars Michigan State's football forces appear in top shape for Friday night.

A large crowd in the neighborhood of 15,000 is expected to witness the clash between the two schools. Good weather is promised by the weatherman, and that makes it possible to schedule the game for an additional afternoon.

Sunny weather on the day of the game is likely to cheer Wayne employees, the T shutting in which is no stranger to Michigan, and this should attract a host of serials with the local line on the pitching end. State played a big part in Wayne's initial victory over October.

We can rely on three of their reliable backs, and郝 Sportsman's were light, the running backs, Frank Brogger and the Observer, starting ends, have figured heavily in the running end. Brogger has caught two touchdown passes, and Brogger has been passing to several deep for substantial gain.

If the field is dry there may be a bit of wide-open football in the game. The Spartans are expected to try and shake up the backyards again. But Brogger, one of the shifted shifters, has a State league in the West. Frank Aronson, an all-American, is sure to be a factor, and Ben Johnson's, the back, is sure to be a factor. The big backfield is all the way a question, and if the light weights and the highly developed shape shows signs of weakness, the Observer will be expected to aid in an effort to reserve for the Michigan game.

The Hourly Theatre

The "hit" which some believe makes the difference is a hit.

This theater will open at 7:30 tonight with "Karat," a play about a young martyr of the modern world. The play is produced by the Great Lakes Players, an amateur group of Chicago, and is sponsored by the Hourly Theatre.

The show is a comedy about the life of a young man who becomes involved in a religious sect and is eventually killed by the sect. The play is directed by John H. Johnson, who has produced several other plays in Chicago.

The cast includes Miss Helen M. Brown, who plays the title role, and Mr. and Mrs. John A. Johnson, who play the parents of the young man. The play is presented in two acts, and is expected to run for several weeks.

The Hourly Theatre is located at 318 W. Washington St. in downtown Lansing. It is open every evening at 7:30, and tickets are available at the door for $1.00 each.

MSC Geologist Helps Plan State Park in Upper Peninsula

Prof. W. A. Kelly, of the college geology department, is working on a map of the perchon mountain area in the Upper Peninsula, which will eventually be used by the state department of conservation in the establishment of a state park in Ontonagon and Gogebic counties.

Working with aerial photographs, to supplement first-hand information, and to visit the area, Kelly's map will show not only streams, lakes, hills, and valleys, but also the elevations.

When completed the park will include 15 to 30 square miles of virgin timber, the largest in the state. Many of the trees attain the height of 100 feet and are often more than 150 feet in circumference. The highest point of elevation in Michigan is also included in this area.

Crisler Prepares Wolverines for Purdue Clash

By FRANK KENESSON

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Coach H. O. (Fritz) Crisler's overwhelming step ahead of the Purdue Boilermakers, prepared by University of Michigan Wolverine for their Saturday big ten football clash here with Purdue, the team that shares the western conference championship with Michigan last season.

In Monday and Tuesday drill this week the Michigan squad continued in defense against Boilermakers running plays. Today they worked long and hard against Purdue posses as demonstrated by reserves.

"Purdue has one of the best balanced attacks I have seen," Crisler said today, referring to his scouting trip last week when he watched the Boilermakers around town 26 to 7.

"They have a fact, explosive running attack; better than average passing," Crisler explained.

Their fullbacks, especially Floyd Coty, are dynamic; their halfbacks can really run, and they have plenty of power through the middle. Cecil Isbell has done a grand job of catching the "T" and we're going to have to have our best game of the season against them.

Damage to Enemy Forces American Supply Problem

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (AP)—The Imperial Japanese fleet, which raced out of its hiding place to try to defeat the United States and its Allies, has been defeated, Admiral William D. Leahy, President Roosevelt's military adviser, said late today.

American victories in the Philippines, the Dutch East Indies, and the battles of the Coral Sea and Midway have damaged the enemy's supply routes, Admiral Leahy declared.

A message from Admiral William F. Halsey to President Roosevelt said that the enemy "has been defeated, further damaged and routed."

Admiral Leahy's report filters in from other sources presented this picture:

Damage to Fleet
Five Japanese battleships damaged, with some possibly sunk. An aircraft carrier sunk, several cruisers and destroyers sunk and others badly damaged.

American losses as far as could be determined were one light carrier, one escort carrier, and several PT boats sunk and a number of ships damaged, several escort carriers and destroyers damaged.

It was obvious, however, that as many of the ships had remained undamaged that the battle was not yet over.

Operating Route
Immediate results for the United States were awesome. There was, however, no reason to believe the enemy could retreat or withdraw.

Obviously elated, President Roosevelt and the press corps knew the enemy had fought with tremendous valor.

Greek Cabinet Formed Premier Announces

ATHENS, Oct. 24 (AP)—Premier George Papandreou announced today the formation of a new Greek cabinet, and at the same time he told the nation that the new government was ready to start work.

The new cabinet, composed of Greek politicians, will hold the ministries of war, national defense, and foreign affairs. It includes representatives of eight political parties and three independent candidates.

Only three of the 17 ministers are active members of the Greek government in exile in Cairo.
