Students Bid for Representation

The underground movement has had wide publicity for the work it has done in Europe to combat the evil forces that surround there. Here on Michigan State’s campus there is an underground movement of a different sort which is working to combat the spirit of war and general apathy which has prevailed on campus for the past year.

To go back to the “good old days” of ’37 and years previous, class officers were necessary to the organization and the completion of the various functions which were undertaken by the classes. The freshmen had their Frolic and the sophomores their Frolics, both best to stimulate the school spirit and general school spirit.

The present underground movement is gaining momentum every day. Soon it will be demand and demand to be heard. But it must be supported by those whom it seeks to benefit, the students body. It is up to VOL, to make known your voice in this matter. Let the student body speak.

In Campus Quarters

DID WE BEAR some one’s drop the brilliant comment that they didn’t think the week was a good one but that it could be, but said person must have been in complete ignorance of the Shannon Friday night and Saturday morning during summer session by the students of Michigan State College.

If, by the way, you haven’t heard the story of Shannon, you must have been living in the wrong state, for Shannon has been well known by the students in the past, and to this day, Shannon’s reputation is well known.

This past week, Shannon took over the role of a city in the state of Michigan, and the students of Michigan State College are taking over Shannon’s role for the time being.

Shannon is a city located in the state of Michigan, and the students of Michigan State College are taking over Shannon’s role for the time being.

Spartans Finish Up Schedule

By BEA HAGAN

Michigan State put the finishing touches on their most successful season in many years Wednesday when they dropped Michigan, 14-0, in Ann Arbor.

The game was played before a record crowd, its attendance numbers challenged through repetition, but unchallenged in fact. More than 35,000 patrons paid admission and saw a very good football game. The final score was 14-0.

Breslin Stars

Starr and Traphagen were the stars for the Spartans. Starr, who had not played in the latest game against Indiana, was back in action and put up his best performance of the season. He made three big gains and ran around the left end for a touchdown.

Traphagen was the other star. He caught three pass completions, one of which was for a touchdown. He also rushed for a gain of 35 yards.

Turf Goer to Winner

First prize will be a turkey for the winning team. A rooster will be given to the second-placed team. A pair of branded turkeys will be delivered to the third and fourth place teams.

The second-placed team will receive one point for each yard gained, and the first-place team will receive two points for each yard gained. The third and fourth place teams will receive no points for yards gained.

Regular rectangular section seating will be employed, with the first and second teams that run up the lowest yardage taking the prizes. The individual prizes will be awarded.

YESTERDAY'S Thanksgiving

Yesterdays Thanksgiving Parade was a story of the good things in life. It was a day of joy and happiness for all who participated.

The weather was perfect, with not a cloud in the sky. The sun shone brightly, casting a warm glow over the entire city. The people were out in force, enjoying the festivities and the company of their friends.

The parade was a great success, with many attractions and floats. The floats were colorful and creative, with themes ranging from history and culture to entertainment and sports.

The floats were accompanied by marching bands, cheerleaders, and other performers. The music was lively and uplifting, adding to the excitement.

The parade ended with a grand finale, featuring a fireworks display that lit up the sky and brought the day to a close.

Everyone had a great time, and there was a sense of community and togetherness. It was a wonderful day, and everyone looked forward to the next Thanksgiving Parade.
Malionovsky's Army Closes In On Budapest Approaches

Fighting on Flank of Hungarian Capital Reaches New Fury, Soviet Forces in Czechoslovakia

Expected to Join in Vast Maneuver

LONDON, Nov. 13 (AP)—Marshal Rodion Y. Malionovsky's second Ukrainian army closed its steel arc tighter around the southeastern approaches to Budapest today, capturing the railway town of Jaszapati and, according to a German announcement, breaking into the important communications center of Jaszbereny.

The day's advances, in which at least ten towns were seized, carried 12 miles northeastward and brought Malionovsky's southern and eastern columns within 29 miles of a junction.

German communiques, asserting the fighting on the Hungarian capital, said tanks had reached the outskirts with both mines booby-trapped in reinforcements, and the Russians were attempting to encircle Budapest with their main troops in Czechoslovakia likely to join Malionovsky's army at any moment.

The official broadcast from German communiques said Soviet troops had penetrated into Jaszbereny 26 miles southeast of Pestarea, a portion of the Budapest-Miskolc railway, but denied the attackers had been thrown back.

Jacobs' biggest of the present week today by the Russians, is 11 miles east of Jaszbereny and 45 miles east of Budapest.

Among the other places captured were Jaszbereny (five miles southeast) and two small towns spread along a 20 mile front north of Tisza River. Nagyszeben, Janos, Topek-Tayko-Kyaxa and Topek-Kis-Marchin are all taken in the northeastern sector between Jaszbereny and Halatam and marked out the Russian advance, sweeping around the flank of Hungarian defenses to direct drive at the capital.

WKAR to Carry Series on Insects Written by Entomology Group

The entomology department has begun a series of 18 lectures on insects that are useful to man by furnishing food, useful fabrics, or pollinators for crops. These lectures will be on station WKAR every Friday between 12 and 1 p.m., and will be given by the different professors in that department.

Insects that are scheduled to be discussed today as the future are silkworms, honeybees, and the jack fruit, which is very important in the larger horticulture.

When a series is completed the program will again be devoted to the oriole, yellowlegs, and yellow jay, according to Prof. Hepner, head of the entomology department.
