

Ban on Sports Gets Byrnes' Attention

War-time Sports Face Possible Shutdown by Byrnes, ODT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11 (AP)—There were indications today that Assistant Pres. Jimmy Byrnes will be asked to make a definite decision on what to do with war-time sports.

Some sources predicted Byrnes will find that the most practical solution is to order as tight a general shutdown as that in effect on race tracks.

President Has Final Say
The request for Byrnes to act is expected to come from a presidential committee and office of national transportation now studying the ban on conventions and shows attended by 50 persons.

"It reaches a point where decisions can't be readily straightened out, we'll go to the White House for a decision on general events," an ODT source said.

It was emphasized that "in the event that the thing to do is to shut down, this thing is not a joke. Nobody's kidding about the war's pressing needs."

No Ban Contemplated
Many inquiries received by ODT as to whether basketball tournaments, track meets and games under the ban on conventions involve complex situations.

Byrnes has said that he contemplates no ban on sports... but ODT feels that sports in the main have been highly cooperative... but some observers see developments the past few weeks which Byrnes no choice but to order a general shutdown, if the whole sports problem is tossed back into his lap.

A Quiet Affair

Today parties are always the latest one given by Spartan crews was different, too. It was a quiet affair. Lansing sophomore was agreeably surprised the other day when she was having lunch in the Union cafeteria brought a birthday cake and a party. Kind of APO?

Housemother Mrs. Meyer of South Campbell had a letter from her nephew in service who was not too sure of her address. But that didn't bother him, he just blithely put "Mrs. Dora Meyer, Some-hall-or-other, M.S.C., East Lansing." Gosh—she got it.

Women Support AWS Decision On 11:30 Lights-Out

By CARROLL BESEMER
The AWS's editorial concerning AWS has brought many comments from MSC students, both men and women.
The article brings about the question whether AWS, supposedly a representative body of women students, is becoming a mere mouthpiece for the "highly official" Figurehead?
Originally the AWS had the power to pass laws governing women students. However, after the decision of the group to abandon the rule of lights out in dormitories and sorority and co-op houses at 11:30 p.m. had been re-

Graft Witness Slain After Confession

Special to State News
By JERRY KENNEY
State Senator Warren G. Hooper, prime witness in a special grand jury case against Frank D. McKay, was found murdered in his car yesterday three miles north of Springport on M-99. Hooper was found at 5:30 p.m. by Floyd Mojeska, of Springport with three bullet holes in his head.

Bullet holes were found in Hooper's left cheek, under his left ear, and in the top of his head. No gun has been found. State police authorities in East Lansing said.

LANSING, MICH., Jan. 11 (AP)—Special Prosecutor Kim Sigler tonight ordered the Carr grand jury investigators to investigate at once the death of State Senator Warren G. Hooper, Albion Republican, who was found shot to death in his automobile four miles north of Springport tonight.

Sigler said "Hooper was a principal witness in the grand jury's case against Frank D. McKay, former Republican national committeeman for Michigan. Floyd Fitzsimmons, Benton Harbor sports promoter, and William Green of Hillman, former state representative, all arrested by the grand jury on a charge of conspiracy to bribe state legislators in connection with a pari-mutuel betting bill.

Sigler said Hooper still was "of value" as a witness against William J. Burns, secretary of the Michigan state medical society, who was accused by the grand jury of offering a bribe on medical society legislation.

"The boys are out working on the case, now," Sigler said.

He said Hooper had given "complete confession to the grand jury and had been granted immunity from prosecution to testify concerning all the facts" in the McKay-Fitzsimmons-Green case. Police investigating the death said that the automobile had skidded partway off the pavement on the wrong side of the road. The ignition switch was turned off and the rear shaft lever was in neutral.

He has received numerous scholastic honors and is a member of many scientific organizations.

The world famous Don Cossack chorus which is composed of six foot Russian giants and led by the "Tom Thumb"-like Serge Jaroff, who declares "A Russian who does not sing is no Russian" will thrill music lovers with its varied program when it makes its third appearance at MSC tomorrow night at 8:15 in College auditorium. Along with the battlefield songs the ancient liturgies, haunting folk songs, and galloping Cossack rounds roared by their own ancestors of the Don Valley will be included in the program.

In the twenty-five years since their founding, the Cossacks have traveled a million miles the world over, 30,000 in the course of a single round of the United States. This season is their 15th in America.

CDC Entertainment Unit to Organize Early Next Week

Try-outs for the "Spartan Spotlight" review, a variety show sent to Percy Jones hospital and to Alma college for the entertainment of servicemen will be held Monday and Tuesday afternoons between 4 and 6 in the Spartan room of the Union, according to Ruth Kuffel, Kalamazoo junior and CDC publicity chairman.

These variety shows are sent out to perform once each month, and it is emphasized that students selected from the current try-outs may still perform in the January show which will be presented Jan. 28 at Percy Jones hospital.

All such shows are under the sponsorship of the CDC organization, and the programs are directed by Prof. Don Buell, of the speech department.

Surprise Landing Slows Japanese Reinforcements

MACARTHUR'S HDQ. LUZON, Friday, Jan. 12 (AP)—American invaders of Luzon, punching seven to nine miles inland from their 25-mile-wide Lingayen gulf beach-heads, have seized five more towns and terminal of four main highways and a railroad leading to Manila. They found the first appreciable opposition at their deepest spearhead.

Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger's sixth army units have been advancing for two days as far and as fast as reasonable caution and the movement of supplies has permitted.

The Yanks have now taken nine towns and more than a score of villages. The 48-hour advance has carried the Americans well south of the maze of swamp country at the mouth of the meandering Agno river and across the river line along which the Japanese might have been able to make a delaying stand.

Only on the extreme left flank, along the Pozorrubio road, have the Americans run into anything more than isolated and quickly eliminated sniper resistance.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's command today made the first mention of "combat contact" near Pozorrubio, at the end of the deepest spearhead east of the San Fabian landing beach. He gave no indication of the severity of the fighting there.

The original 15-mile beach-heads were widened to at least 25 miles with the capture of the mouth of the Agno, which empties into the Lingayen gulf west of captured Lingayen town.

Nine miles represented the deepest point of penetration in the time covered in the communiqué. Since the communiqué always lags 24 hours behind operations it was possible patrols had driven deeper since then.

General MacArthur's communiqué said the Japanese still unable to recover from the apparent surprise landings in the Lingayen gulf after an invasion from the south had been expected, were unable to move their forces from the south in sufficient strength to impede the Yanks' progress notably.

Enemy air activity was reported still negligible.

PACIFIC THEATER

Gen. Douglas MacArthur has not only come back to the Philippines, as he promised, but hasn't stood still for very long since he got there. Scarcely had Leyte island been cleared of the Nips, and Mindoro island completely under our control, than General MacArthur landed on the largest and most strategic island of them all . . . Luzon.

Situated on Luzon is the capital of the Philippines, Manila, and that epic battlefield, Bataan. This assault landing was by far the largest attempted in the Pacific to this date. It was a coordinated landing, with all branches of the armed forces taking a major part in it. Four original landings were made through the back door to Manila, Langayen gulf, and thus far resistance has been weak and very spotty. The Japs are expected to make a major and bitter stand on Luzon, for it is the key to the entire Philippine area, and the Nips know that as well as we do.

Elsewhere in the Pacific Superior efforts have been giving Toyko and surrounding Japanese territory plenty of headaches via the bomb route.

In Burma, British forces are edging closer to Mandalay as the Japs continue to put up only delaying action. The China mainland front is relatively unchanged.

WESTERN FRONT

After posing the greatest threat of the entire western front campaign in their Christmas offensive, the Germans now are retiring from the dearly-won tip of their Belgian positions—possibly all the way back to St. Vith, four miles from the Reich border—under tempestuous blows from four Allied armies that knocked out 15 miles of one main escape route and sited the second with artillery fire. The Germans started withdrawing after losing a tremendous tank battle to the American first army.

These actual battle reports coupled with encouraging statements by top Allied leaders at the front, General Montgomery and Bradley, give the picture that the tide of battle definitely is turning, and in favor of the Allies. Von Rundstedt's forces, in some parts of the front, particularly in the south, are still continuing their pressure and still have initiative.

Aerial support for Allied ground forces has been seriously hampered this past week because of miserable weather. Some say Europe is experiencing its worst winter in 54 years.

EASTERN FRONT

Budapest, capital of Hungary, was at the time they went to press about four-fifths in Russian hands, with the Reds slowly pushing the Nazis into a smaller pocket of resistance. The effect is that the Germans sent out to try and relieve their garrison inside Budapest has been blunted and is itself in danger of being out-flanked by the Russians.

Reds Take Four-Fifths of Budapest

LONDON, Friday, Jan. 12 (AP)

Russian Stalingrad veterans overran the entire Angyalfold district in northeastern Budapest yesterday, driving to within 20 blocks of the Hungarian parliament building in the center of the city and gaining control of approximately four-fifths of the burning capital, Moscow, announced last night.

Simultaneously, in fierce fighting on the snow-covered hills west and northwest of Budapest, other Soviet units for the fourth straight day repulsed large German infantry and tank forces attempting to break through to the rescue of the weakened and desperate Axis garrison, a Soviet communique said.

Once Over Lightly

By PEG MIDDLEMISS

RECENTLY the movies, newspapers and civic organizations have been trying to stir up enthusiasm again about the necessity for blood plasma. A few weeks ago when the war situation seemed more encouraging, the thought of blood plasma was buried deep in most minds. And even then the need was pressing.

Now, however, it must be even greater. No doubt the authorities would go wild with joy if several hundred college students offered their healthy, bottled-in-bond corpuscles. Two years ago, a mobile unit from Detroit was supposedly coming to the college health center.

It never arrived, though, and what happened is uncertain to most of us. Perhaps it had a flat tire or ran out of gas coupons. But with large cities frantic for donors, it might be a worthwhile project for campus organizations to write the Detroit blood bank in an effort to bring a mobile unit here.

In the meantime, the Lansing Red Cross unit is sponsoring a blood drive Monday, Jan. 22, through Monday, Jan. 26, in which students with a missionary spirit might well participate. The blood plasma is used for the civilian supply which serves this community.

Indirectly, it serves the armed forces as well, because in the event of a shortage in the civilian supply, plasma is borrowed from the military supply. For example, this summer there was an epidemic of ptomaine poisoning in an industrial plant, and 50 or 60 pints intended for the armed forces had to be transferred there instead.

During this drive the Red Cross hopes to build up its reserves so that such a situation will not be duplicated. So, for anyone who can cut Grill lab 101 for an hour during those days, call 4-7461 for appointments. Anyone under 21 here it comes again—must have written consent of his parents and army personnel under 21 must have the same from his commanding officer.

See you on the stretcher.

LETTERS To The Editor

TO the Students

There has been some criticism levelled at the management of the lecture-concert series for failing to have enough seats available at the auditorium for all students who wish to attend some particular number.

Since the lecture series (later combined lecture-concert series) started to function in the auditorium, there has been an increasing interest and demand for season tickets from the faculty, college employees, alumni and townspeople.

Before transportation difficulties, the interest extended to town and cities within a radius of 50 miles. This support was encouraging and is a desirable public relation.

During the period of our peak enrollments, the average student attendance was 2,200, ranging from less than five hundred to four and five thousand. The uncertain turn-out of the student body led to the gradual increase of season ticket sales to 1,500 in order to insure a stable audience for each number.

Without this guaranteed audience, there would have been some embarrassment at times. The noted scientist, Dr. Gerald Wendt, spoke to about 150 to 200 students. There was a small student attendance at the lecture by Dr. Will D. . . . fall.

The additional financial support provided by the tickets patrons, has made possible to make the program attractive. Without this the number and quality would be far less. The cost for 100 numbers on the series runs from $2,000 to $3,000.

The lecture-concert series are booked months ahead of time a year ago, if it is casted that our student management would be adequate. Consequently, the of season ticket sales increased again. These stopped early in September, even many faculty were unable to buy seats.

Two special numbers Westminster Choir and Pops, have been given everyone an opportunity to buy tickets at third discount to students on any seat in the auditorium. There are no special sections.

We hope to improve the situation in 1945-46 by having major numbers in evening series evenings. This is a range for the opera orchestra. A star like See—LETTERS—Page

Spartans Given Even Break In Ohio; Colonels Rate Edge

Team in Top Shape for Cincinnati Game

Anticipating a very lively weekend, a Michigan State basketball team took to the road last night in an effort to produce some fireworks with two formidable opponents in the form of the Universities of Cincinnati and Kentucky.

Cincinnati, conquerors of the Spartans in the better-to-be-forgotten game last Saturday night, is the first on the schedule. The Bearcats tripped the Spartans 39-37. Coach Ben Van Alstyne expects to start the same line-up that bowed to the Ohioans with one exception.

Albion Defeat Lifts Team

The Spartans will not be the same team they were a week ago when they take the floor tonight against the Bearcats. One of the tenesness they displayed in the former games. The 75-36 defeat of Albion last Monday has served to give them the needed spark.

The game will be rated as a toss-up on the strength of the home-floor edge that Cincinnati has and the fact of their victory last weekend. The Spartans on the other hand are not conceding a thing and with the bad taste of Saturday's game still in their mouths they should prove to be very dangerous.

Bill Bonebrake, freshman center from Indiana who was shy by two points of tying the all-time Spartan scoring record against Albion, will be at center. Sam Fortino, slippery push shot guard, and Robin Roberts, the rookie who has caused so much trouble with his spark and all-around ability will be at forward.

Some Strong Guards

Joe Beyer and Nick Hashu will count out the team at guard. Both men have been the backbone of the squad and are the quarterbacks of the team setting up plays and being the opposition way when they knock down the floor.

The team to make the trip are: Bill Bonebrake, Robin Roberts, Sam Fortino, Joe Krakora, Dave Wilson, and Paul Bauder. Bauder will leave Cincinnati after the game so he will have a chance to rest before facing Kentucky.

Sports Spectre

BY JERRY KENNEY

This new sports column is occasioned by a new need in Michigan State's athletic fields. Jenison fieldhouse is busy, busier than it has been for two years. Six sports are or will be shortly holding daily workouts.

Intramural sports have begun to regain their pre-war position and show even more promise of doing so. An intermural wrestling tournament has been held; an all-college boxing tournament will be held the end of month. Interhall basketball is in the offing.

Assistant Athletic Director Lyman Frimodig is now making plans for an intermural basketball league of fraternity and independent teams. Those interested in playing intermural basketball evenings should band together and turn entries into Frimodig at the fieldhouse before 5 p.m. Monday. All male students are eligible to play on teams and managers or captains should register teams. An all-college playoff between fraternity and independent winners will highlight the cage tournament.

The all-college boxing matches, which have drawn considerable student interest and participation in the past, will be resumed this month under the direction of Coach Brick Burhans.

In addition to these sport opportunities for Spartan students, revitalized intercollegiate athletics will give game opportunities to more men.

Track, swimming, and wrestling coaches all face a tough problem in putting good teams in the field with little material to work with. Intercollegiate competition in each of these sports will begin within the month, tomorrow in the case of the wrestling team.

Coach John Kuba will start several of the new teams this week.

This renewed sports activity means that more men will be needed to head up teams that will maintain the records of Michigan State as the college sports leader. More men are needed to take advantage of the opportunities for entertainment and recreation in both intercollegiate and intramural sports.

Sign up today for intercollegiate boxing and basketball. Contact the coaches if you are an experienced punter, backman, swimmer, wrestler or baseball player.

New Term's Officers Elected in Psych Club

At the first meeting of the term on Tuesday evening, the Psychology club elected officers for the term. Chairman is Elaine Nordman, River Forest, Ill., honor vice chairman and publicity chairman is Herb Bedard, North Branch sophomore, and secretary-treasurer is Donna Jeanne Bergquist, East Lansing Junior.

Elyne Nowicki, Detroit junior, was chosen social chairman, and Barbara Humphreys, holds the office of program chairman. The next meeting of the club will be held Tuesday evening, Jan. 23.

Surprise Attack Sends Germans Into Retreat

PARIS, Jan. 11 (AP)—The U.S. third army threatened to cave in the Luxembourg front with a surprise stroke today that sent thousands of Germans fleeing into the woods and in Belgium the enemy began a 37 mile withdrawal that wiped out British patrols on a 10 mile outward sweep.

The northwestern enemy anchor of Looche fell along with 15 other towns as German forces were reported evacuating the entire western axis of the Belgian and Luxembourg conquests.

1st Gen. George S. Patton's troops cut in half powerful box positions southeast of Bastogne from which three enemy divisions had been hammering at his lines from the east. The neck out of the box now was up more than 100 miles wide.

Resistance in the remainder of this area was reported collapsing rapidly as the Germans' caught and pinned by the unexpected blow. Flooded off into the snow drifts and woods toward the uncertain haven of Wiltz, ten miles east of Bastogne, where other third army forces lie in wait.

All-College Boxing Tourney Will Be Jan. 29 to Feb. 3

The annual all-college boxing tournament, not held last year, will be resumed under the direction of Coach Coach Brick Burhans Monday, Jan. 29, through Friday, Feb. 3.

Competition will be in eight weight classes and both civilian and army entries will be permitted. The weight classes will be 120, 127, 135, 145, 155, 165, 175, and heavy weight.

Those interested in entering may sign up in the business office of Jenison gymnasium. No entries will be permitted after Saturday, Jan. 27. All competitors must have a physical examination by the college health service before they can box.

Two pounds overweight in each class will be allowed. The preliminary and semi-final bouts will be held in the boxing room on the fourth floor of the gymnasium. Finals will be held in the fieldhouse, if possible.

Winners and runners-up will receive gold and silver medals. Students who have won numerals or letters in boxing previously are not eligible, nor previous winners of the all-college tournament.

Preliminary bouts will be three rounds of one and a half minutes each, while the semi-finals and finals will be two minutes each. A contestant must workout for at least five times before competing in the tournament. The boxing room will be open every day from 4 to 6 p.m. for training.

Young Reveals Hours for Student, Faculty Use of Fieldhouse

The hours that the fieldhouse facilities will be available for use by men students and faculty members this term have been announced by Athletic Director Ralph H. Young.

The gym floor will be open for use from 4 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Monday and Thursday and from 4 to 7 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday. The floor will be available from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturdays.

The basketball courts may be used from 3 to 4 p.m. and from 5 to 8 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and all day long from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Swimming pool hours are more restricted, due to varying swimming practice. The pool will be open from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Monday and Thursday and from 2 to 5 p.m. Saturday, except on days when intercollegiate meets are held.

Stimson Asks Fight Draft To Fill Army

War Secretary Urges Calling of All Fit Men Under 30

WASHINGTON, Jan 11 (AP)—Stubborn Nazi determination to fight to the finish, and unexpected speed in getting to grips with the Japanese, lie back of the demand for tighter manpower controls, War Secretary Stimson said today.

Asserting at his news conference that "measured in terms of effectiveness the army is under-strength," Stimson said:

"If the needs of the armies at the front are to be met, there seems to be no escape from calling into the armed service during this year, substantially all physically qualified men below 30 years of age from factory, farm and government. But when we do this the places of these young men will have to be taken by older men, women and younger men not acceptable for military service."

National Draft Asked

He insisted that the real solution is national service legislation.

The secretary's explanation of the new manpower stringency was given while Col. Francis V. Keesling, Jr., testifying on "work or fight" legislation, was telling the house military committee where selective service plans to get 900,000 young men for the armed forces by July 1.

Calls to Increase

January and February draft calls, Keesling testified, will be 112,000 each—80,000 for the army and 32,000 for the navy—with the army quota going up to 100,000 for the following four months to make the monthly total 132,000.

That builds up a six-months draft total of about 750,000 with the remainder of the 900,000 expected to come from enlistments of youths in the navy and marine corps.

Yank Superfortresses Make Heavy Strike at Singapore Drydock Base

20TH BOMBER COMMAND

HDQ., INDIA, Jan. 11 (AP) — Superfortresses winged over Malay peninsula today for their second smash at Singapore dry-docks and vital naval installations.

Georgetown harbor on Penang island off the west coast of the peninsula also was hit.

A medium force of B-29s took off from bases in India on the double-header strike.

Singapore drydock facilities were first hit by Superfortresses November 5. The round trip of more than 3,500 miles constitutes a long distance record for daylight flights by military aircraft on a mission.

The Georgetown naval base has long been used by the Japanese as an important submarine haven. It is also a key distribution point for supplies and enemy shipping.
