LONDON, March 6 (AP)—The first white Russian army captured more than 100 German towns in a single day, pushed the northeastern front to the Oder river today and overthrew the reeling Nazis' resistance for an effective thrust against the central salient aimed at Berlin.

Stalin announced the northward drive from Pomerania in an order disclosing the capture of Cammin on the Oder river, 100 miles north of Stettin; 21 miles northeast of Berlin and in the same region as the German strongpoints of Guelzow and

Rising Water Levels In Ohio River Area Close War Plants

COLUMBIANA, O., Mar. 6 (AP)—The river's most disastrous flood in years swelled slowly toward levels reached before in history, threatening plants by the score and sending thousands of low-level workers scurrying to high-ground, hardest hit major plant on the Ohio river at Wheeling, 13 feet above flood stage, and river men predicted the rising, muddy stream would rise another five feet.

Evacuation was paralyzed at plants of the Ohio river in West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, and other public plants, staggered under the flood-raged conditions.

The flood level for the Ohio river crest reached in 1937.

Band to Present Program of Diversified Selections

PROF. LEONARD FALCONE to direct band . . .

Presenting a program of diversified music, the 48-piece MSC band will be heard tonight in College auditorium. Originally announced for 8 p.m., the concert will begin at 8:15. The public is cordially invited to attend, according to conductor Leonard Falcone, associate professor of music.

"Noibe," a romantic legend by an American composer, De Rubertis, will open the program. Italian bandmaster Giuseppe Creatore's sparkling March "Electric" follows.

Bizet's "L'Arlésienne Suite No. 2" will complete the first group of numbers. Shirley Crisman, senior flutist from Pontiac, will play the incidental solo in the third movement, Minuet, accompanied on the harp by Shirley Ryan, South Haven junior.

The first violinist ever to be featured on an MSC band concert, Prof. Romeo Tata will play Bennett's "Cubana." As indicated by the name, the composition has a distinct Latin-American flavor, with an accentuated tango rhythm. This will be the initial performance of the number on campus.

Niles' Folk Music Pleases, Amuses Large Audience

In a radical departure from the usual music program, John Jacob Niles presented his selections of American folk music to an inquisitive, amused audience in the Music auditorium last night.

Niles did not pretend to be a concert artist. Nevertheless, he captivated the audience with his personality and the informal atmosphere in which he performed.

Singing in a husky voice, Niles accompanied himself on dulcimers, which are stringed instruments similar to the banjo. Throughout the program, he made explanatory remarks about each song, and in a number of way he philosophized on the history of various numbers.

All of the songs presented were from Niles' private collection. Many of these have been published and recorded. His appearances afforded the audience a profitable education as well as an evening of enjoyment.

Niles appeared as the main artist on the music department's concert series. The audience was of capacity size.—BAF.

Home Ecs to Present Election Candidates

Candidates for Home Economics elections will be presented for approval at a business meeting today at 5 p.m. in room 1 of the Home Economics building, according to Miss Jeanette Lee, assistant professor of food and nutrition.

The elections will take place at registration spring term, and will include, besides candidates for the regular officers, candidates for the state president of Home Economics club. This office comes to MSC about every 7 years.

Barbara Alexander, Detroit junior, is taking charge of the elections.

Seniors to Wear Caps and Gowns From Swing-Out Until Graduation

With the swing-out scheduled early, May 10, graduating seniors, following a suggestion from Pres. John A. Hannan, will wear caps and gowns each Wednesday from swing-out until graduation. Approximately 50 of the June graduates voted and passed the motion at last night's meeting, according to Class President Mac Gregory, Marquette.

English Department to Sponsor Lecture by Wyndham Lewis

"Today's Homeway," a new work will be the subject of a lecture by Wyndham Lewis, noted English novelist, philosopher, painter and critic, in the Music auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday.

Appearing under the auspices of the English department, the author of "The Apes of God," "The Art of Being Free," "Time and Western Man," and numerous other books, will speak to faculty, students and laymen.

A significant figure in the English literary and art worlds, Lewis knows intimately nearly all the famous writers and painters. In the critical field, his studies of James Joyce and Gertrude Stein in "Time and Western Man" are recognized as classic while his essay on Ernest Hemingway, "Man Without Art," is considered the most sustained piece of criticism ever written on the American novelist.

PARIS, March 7 (AP)—Cologne fell swiftly to the U.S. first army in the climax of its great eastward drive yesterday as General Eisenhower lifted the news blackout on operations of the American third army and revealed that its armor was racing toward the Rhine in a breakthrough that covered 32 miles in two days.

These dramatic developments, coming when the ninth army and its British and Canadian Allies had virtually completed occupation of all German territory west of the Ruhr, shifted the big punches to the middle Rhine farther south and opened the way for the Allies to push the enemy out of the area west of the Rhine and north of the Moselle.

Few Fight on Outskirts

The supreme Allied headquarters' announcement of the capture of the bomb-blackened Rhineland capital said that only sporadic fighting continued last night in Cologne's southern outskirts.

Last night its beaten Nazi garrison was being driven southward toward Bonn through a narrowing corridor along the Rhine's west bank.

Since the start of the shelling attack from east of captured Bonn at dawn yesterday, Patton's armored forces had captured more than 1,500 Germans, including a corps commander, and had reached a point only 20 miles from the Rhine.

Weather Impedes Progress

A field dispatch declared that "for the moment, Americans of war a surge which could anything witnessed in France." Weather, not the Germans, was said to be impeding the advance. A news blackout still prevented disclosure of the exact whereabouts of American spearheads.

There was no escape for the surviving Nazis across any of the five bridges across the Rhine at Cologne.

Basic Students Urged to See Counselors

Basic College students should see their counselors regarding spring term enrollment as soon as possible, according to Paul L. Dressel, counseling director.

Counselors may be seen during their usual office hours and by appointment tomorrow through March 17. Students who do not confer with their counselor before going home may expect some delay in enrolling for spring quarter.

Yanks Resume Hard Iwo Offensive

General MacArthur Calls Japanese Stand In Luzon Island Fight 'Critical, Hopeless'

U.S. PACIFIC FLEET HDQ., GUAM, Wednesday, March 7 (AP)—Preceded by the most intense artillery bombardment of the Iwo campaign, three marine divisions resumed the offensive on the north end of the tiny island Tuesday and engaged the Japanese in "heavy fighting."

By 5:30 p.m. the leathernecks had scored small local gains. More than 14,000 enemy dead have been counted.

The gains were scored on the west side by Maj. Gen. Keller E. Rockey's fifth marine division and in the center by Maj. Gen. Graves B. Erskine's third. The developments were announced in today's communique by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz.

MANILA, Wednesday, March 7 (AP)—The critical and seemingly hopeless position of the Japanese on Luzon, main island of the Philippines and hub of Nippon's crumbling greater east Asia co-prosperity sphere, was heavily emphasized by Gen. Douglas MacArthur in his Tuesday communique.

What remains of the formidable army Japan had on the island when American forces hit it through Lingayen gulf last Jan. 9, has been split into eight different segments. These are being forced into ever narrowing sectors by persistent Yank doughboys.

MacArthur's disclosure that six divisions of Japanese—probably VIRGINIA Boehler, Lansing junior, defeated Mary Kyte, Coldwater freshman, last Tuesday to become MSC's women's fencing champion for 1945. In the tournament between beginning and advanced fencers who had been victorious in the preliminaries and members of Delta Gamma Mu, Shirley Crisman, Pontiac senior, defeated June Lasse, Grosse Pointe sophomore, to place third.

FINAL results of the interclass basketball tournament give victory to the juniors, who won all three of their games. The seniors took second place honors winning two and losing only one of their games.

The sophomores won one and lost two to take the third place away from the freshmen. Ise Firth captained the triumphant junior team while Dottie Goralczyk, was the captain of the runners-up.

The first two teams of the tournament will play teams from Lansing's recreation department tonight at 7 p.m. in the women's gym. The juniors will play the Wolverine team at that time and the seniors will play the Auto Owner's team at 8 p.m. All students and interested townspeople are invited to come.

Rioters Demand Resignation of Italian Premier

ROME, Mar. 6 (AP)—A communist demonstrator was slain in a riot before the royal palace today and Premier Ivanoe Bonomi's resignation was demanded by a coalition of left-wing parties as the escape of Gen. Maria Roatta during his trial for war crimes threw liberated Italy into its gravest political crisis since the Allied invasion.

The demand for the Premier's resignation was presented by a group composed of Communists, Socialists, Actionists, Republicans, Partisans and war veterans. Bonomi has called a cabinet meeting for tomorrow.

The slain demonstrator was identified as Guiseppe Lastagna Mancini, a member of the Communist party, by the membership card in his pocket.

Crown Prince Umberto, lieutenant general of the realm since his father, King Vittorio Emanuele, relinquished his rights, was in the palace during the riot, but he did not appear while the Carabinieri drove off the crowd, estimated at 1,000 persons.

Fighting moisture and fungus—communication's jungle enemies

Ever-present dangers to military communication are the twin enemies of the jungle—moisture and fungus. By impairing the efficient working of telephones and radios, they can halt vital messages as effectively as cutting the wires.

The long experience of Bell Laboratories in designing telephone equipment for use in all climatic conditions has helped the Signal Corps counter-attack these enemies of the jungle.

Lessons learned in this wartime emergency are being used in building better communications equipment for war and peace.
