Blue Barron and Orchestra To Play for Mardi Gras

Voting for Eight Queen Candidates to Close At Noon Thursday, Winner's Identity To Be Disclosed When Crowned

By MARION HECKEL

"Music of yesterday and today" played the Blue Barron way will be the dancing accompaniment for the annual Mardi Gras Friday night. In its first appearance at State, the Blue Barron orchestra will play for the fourth coronation of the Mardi Gras queen from 8 to 12 p.m., according to Mac Cropsey, chairman of the band committee and Marcellus senior.

The final ballots for the queen to reign over the ball can be cast no later than noon tomorrow. Voting Chairman Bob Price, junior, said, and rehearsals will be held at 4 p.m. Friday afternoon, instead of tomorrow as originally scheduled.

Eight Run in Finals
The eight queen candidates now running for the final coronation are: Doris Baird, Mason hall; Pat Bechler, Gamma Phi Beta; Jane Conklin, Zeta Tau Alpha; Mary Kelly, Alpha Gamma Delta; Tom Proccissi, Delta Zeta; Lynn Samons, AOPi, and Joanne Trost, Sigma Kappa.

No one will know the identity of the queen including the eight candidates, until she appears on the stage to be crowned by Counselor of Men Fred T. Mitchell, according to General Chairman Jack Breslin, Battle Creek junior.

Candidates Make Up Court
Marilyn Wilson, Ferndale senior and chairman of the coronation, said that the entire list of candidates, numbering 24, will be announced by master of ceremonies Larry Frymire to form the court of honor for the queen, with the second and third final eliminees serving as chief ladies-in-waiting.

Mary Louise Tobey, Charlotte senior, will play the organ during the crowning, while two boys from the college nursery school carry the queen's crown

Today's Campus

Students Crave

With a red face and bowed head, psychology professor G. R. Gibby made a horrible confession to his industrial psychology class the other day, "100 of your marks will be low," explained Gibby. "I sort of made a mistake and averaged your seat numbers in with your test marks when I figured out midterm grades."

Ye Olde Trash Can

Joe Bogart, Sturgis freshman, has discovered his own private florist shop and used it yesterday to present Mrs. Engleman, English instructor, with a beautiful snapdragon. When asked where he got it, Joe wouldn't tell. But someone piped up, "Oh, don't worry, Mrs. Engleman, he didn't pick it on campus. He found it in a trash can."

International Group Elects New Advisers

At their formal meeting last Friday night the members of International club chose three faculty advisers for the coming year. They will be: Dr. S. C. Lee, head of the Institute of Foreign Studies; B. J. Knittel of the speech department, and Mrs. Isabelle Gonon, counselor for women.

Convo Stresses Future Peace Struggles

By BETIE CAHILL

"The defeat of Germany, Italy and eventually Japan may not bring peace," Pres. John A. Hannah explained to a solemn student body at the convocation commemorating V-E day yesterday.

Emphasizing that there may be months or years of war ahead of American forces in Asia, Hannah reiterated the fact that complete victory is certain, but that another armistice instead of a secure peace may be the result of the victory.

Peace Based on Justice
Hannah said further that the foundations of a lasting peace must be based on an opportunity for social, political and economic justice for all the peoples of the world, regardless of race, color or creed.

"America will emerge from this war the greatest power on earth," Hannah said. Americans, especially college age Americans, should realize the hazards of a chaotic world, and utilize to the fullest the leadership that will make an enduring peace possible. This leadership can be exemplified by an inadequate understanding of the various peoples and problems of the world, and by postwar economic struggles within our own country.

Hannah concluded by saying, "The keynote of the hope for tomorrow rests upon our ability to recognize the problems facing America today. There can be no peace for America and chaos for the rest of the world."

No Time for Cheering . . .

Perhaps some of us are unduly bitter, but at the same time, the reaction which the student body showed at yesterday's convocation seemed out of keeping with the significance of V-E day.

The darkness of the hour, in spite of the recent victory in Europe, was brought out through Sue Averill's hope that students would stay at their posts, through Milt Haitema's statement that wartime is no time for hilarity, and through President Hannah's belief that the future of America depends on an awareness among all people, including students, of the significance of current events.

During the hour's program the natural attitude of students appeared to be subdued. Momentarily the significance struck home. But after the announcement that no classes were to be held yesterday afternoon, the cheers broke loose. Cheers for V-E day? Cheers for the opportunity to observe V-E day? Or cheers for an unexpected vacation?

It sounded like the latter, but personal attitudes are of small importance. The expression of those attitudes, however, could have been more properly timed. A convocation called to mark a halfway point, at the most, of the chaos of the world and an announcement obviously intended to further the solemnity of the occasion do not call for three cheers.

In Campus Quarters

By DOTTIE LA MONT and NAN TRABUE

YESTERDAY being V-E Day, we found it just a bit difficult to concentrate on the main objective of what we're supposed to be writing about.

It seems Beverly Thompson has beside her Theta kite a Psi U pin. The little tiny (only kid-ding) pin comes from Don Raubar, Detroit freshman.

Doris Englehardt, Alpha Gam, has put herself on the one man list by taking an SAE pin from Floyd Leisman, Muskegon Heights sophomore.

And now to some variety bringing into attention the bright gleam that always means a ring. Joan Rothfuss, Blissfield freshman, has that smile to go with her, newly acquired diamond. The gift is from F O William Brubaker, army air forces, who is now at Brooksville, Texas.

Connie Campbell, Alpha Gam, is another one of those who is finding that third finger left hand just about the most interesting object possible. Connie's ring is from S Sgt. Alex Kemp, former Spartan, now stationed in Paris.

Since last week there has been more activity along the silver polishing, window-cleaning line at the Kappa Delta house. Six new pledges are the cause for this situation and they are sophomores Kitty Weiss, Detroit, and Virginia Johnstone, Birmingham.

Others include freshmen Marge Miller, Royal Oak; Jounita Soergel, South Haven; Sally Ann Bailey, Trenton; Jean Slack, Jackson.

There has been a complete turn-over among the SAEs of late. They have just come out with a list of newly-elected officers. Looking the list over we find that Doug Hird, Farmington junior, has been re-elected to the office of president; Brooks Thomas, Downiac sophomore will be vice prexy; Jake Milliken, Fenton freshman, is now secretary, and John Bender, Detroit junior will be treasurer.

To further prove what was stated before about change, you'll find active pins in the possession of sophomores Pat McAvinehey, Davison; Don Dargo, Renovo, Pa.; freshmen Nick Gregory, Chicago, Ill., and Tom Christenson, Manistee.

Not only are there many more SAE actives on campus now, but the ranks of pledges have been swelled considerably since Dick Skinner, Lansing freshman; Russ Scovill, Lansing junior, and Harold Jacobson, Lansing freshman, began their term of pledgeship.

After being put through her paces, Marjorie McCallum, Flint sophomore, emerged as an active AOP. About a week later she helped pledge eight neophytes. Among the group were juniors Pat Rasmussen, Trufant; Virginia Klip, Grand Rapids; sophomores Suzanne Hummitch, Lapeer; Dorothy Klip, Grand Rapids, and Josephine Smith, East Lansing.

Freshmen Jean Casteel, St. Johns; Jacqueline Cory, New Troy, and Joyce Deisch, Three Rivers, complete the list.

Monday night at the Alpha Gam house was witnessed the scene of pledging for two lucky freshmen. They are Alice Rutherford, Detroit, and Jean Peterson, Chicago.

CONVO

 mean an end to the war, but is an indication that efforts should be doubled for the speedy and complete annihilation of the Nipponese.

The convocation opened with an introductory prayer by the Rev. C. A. Shelby, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal church. Fred Patton of the music department led the assembly in the singing of "God Bless America" and "My Coutry 'Tis of Thee," and Dr. William Sur directed the Women's Glee club in two selections.

"It was the happiest moment of my life when I heard Mom's voice over the 'phone. I couldn't speak for a few seconds. You see, I've been overseas for two years."

There's no way to measure the relief, the happiness brought by that first telephone call home.

Spartan Sluggers Leave for Three Game Series

Kobsmen to Challenge Buckeyes And Hurons on the Mound

By JACK KENNEY

The Spartan nine will take to the field today, in the first of three games scheduled abroad this week, when the mitmen journey to Ypsilanti for a game with the Hurons of Michigan Normal college. On Friday they will arrive at Ohio State to play two games on both Friday and Saturday.

Today's game with the Normal team will be the 53rd in a series begun in 1896 of which the Spartans have won 33 and lost 18. One of the games ended in a tie. The Hurons will return to State on June 2.

Strong Ohio Team

Ohio State has been the strongest two teams defeating State three times in a series begun in 1911. This year's records show that the Buckeyes have a powerful aggregation to put forth against the Spartans. In 1943, when the last game was played, the Kobsmen defeated the Buckeyes 10-6.

Captain John Kobs announced yesterday that either Norman McCormick, Detroit sophomore, Meredith Yarling, Elwood, 3rd junior, will appear on the mound today, while Bill Page, Westland Muskegon freshman, Keith Steffee, Sturgis junior, and Darrell Couey, Detroit senior, will be held in reserve for the Ohio State tilts.

Weather Slows Schedule

Bad weather has been the bane of the mitmen as they have either been forced to cancel practice altogether or hold it in a gymnasium. Three times in succession the game portion on the Spartan 1945 schedule has been cancelled because of inclement weather.

Captain Kobs stated that the lineup will be the same for the Normal game, with Jack Bresnahan, Battle Creek junior, at first base, Nick Gregory, Chicago freshman on second, and Dick Linsaver, Pontiac sophomore at third base. Martin Haney, Flint freshman, will be back in the lineup.

Remainder of Lineup

In the outer garden, Rudy Ledwith, Lansing freshman will be the team's leadoff man, while Lee Grant, Ypsilanti sophomore, will be at center field, and Don Snyder, Horse freshman, will be in right field. Behind the plate will be Ben Hudenko, Ypsilanti sophomore.

The squad will leave the Union at 1:30 a. m. on the college bus for Michigan Normal.

INTERNATIONAL FESTIVAL

A meeting of all social chairmen and their committees of all campus organizations and societies will be held tonight at 7:30 in the Spartan room of the Union, according to Gregory Dean, president of the International club.

Meet Officials Book Two More College Entries

Two more colleges have announced that they will enter men in the 29th State Intercollegiate Track and Field meet to be held here this Saturday at 1:45 p. m. The new entries are Central State Teachers college and Hillsdale college. Hillsdale recently went back into the field of athletics when it discovered that the annual track meet was to be held.

Hillsdale sent a letter to the meet's officials stating that "We do not expect to burn up the path but we are entering the meet out of recognition of the efforts of State's officials in sponsoring the meet."

Central State has entered seven men and Hillsdale three. The entries of these two colleges in the meet boosts the entry list up to 90 men altogether and gives over 200 entries in 15 events.

Michigan State, the holder of the championship defending its title won in 1943, will play host to at least seven Michigan colleges participating in the state intercollegiate meet on May 12.
