... Ice Men

Coach Charles McCaffree's swimming team wasn't kidding when it claimed the water in the Jenison pool was the coldest ever recorded in this state—especially when Porpoise pledge Leland Carr pointed out real live ice cubes yesterday. With a skeptical eye, Coach Mac promised to look into their chatter.

... Something

"What gets me," says Dolores Beals, Detroit sophomore, "is this deal about getting something for nothing—like my getting this letter from the college yesterday morning saying 'You are reported doing unsatisfactory in W285.' Why, my gosh, it took me an hour to find out W285 is speedball, and besides, I haven't been there since the day I registered so how can I be doing unsatisfactory?"

Infantry Sweeps Along Davao Gulf To Invade Samal

MANILA, May 10 (AP)—Elements of the 24th infantry division swept across Davao gulf in an amphibious operation Tuesday and landed on Big Samal island, just off the Mindanao island port of Davao. They were rapidly clearing the island of Japanese.

Samal, about 22 miles long and 10 wide, is the main island inside spacious Davao gulf.

This was announced today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who reported that on the Mindanao mainland a bridgehead had been established across the Talomo river north of Mintal in a drive against firm enemy positions.

One American battalion has been virtually isolated by Japanese penetration of Yank lines in this sector.

Inland on Mindanao, one column of the 31st division advanced seven miles eastward from Kibawe while another, progressing northward, engaged an enemy force near the southern Maramag airstrip.

Pygmalion Players Get Show Rolling for June 1 Opening

Although Cockney and British dialects still have some of the actors stumped, the experienced term play cast is making progress toward the opening performance of George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion" on June 1.

Playing the leading role of Eliza Doolittle is Pat Beechler, junior speech major from Charlotte. Before coming to State, Miss Beechler played the lead in "Letters to Lucerne" at the Frances Shrimmer school. She spent last summer acting with the Priscilla Beach theater at Plymouth, Mass.

Opposite Miss Beechler in the role of Henry Higgins, which he played at Louisiana State college is Paul Geisenhof, speech instructor and director of Studio Theater. Geisenhof came to MSC from the University of Florida where he was director of dramatics. He has appeared in "Guest in the House" and "Kind Lady" at State as well as appearing in and directing productions of the Lansing civic guild.

Colonel Pickering is played by Ted Brink, Grand Rapids freshman, who was seen fall term in "Kind Lady." A staff announcer at WKAR, Brink also was with the Priscilla Beach company last summer. Before coming to State, he was active in dramatic work in Grand Rapids.

Living in Australia has helped Bill Thielcke, Albion, Calhoun, junior, with the Cockney dialect necessary to his portrayal of Eliza's father, Thielcke, who has just returned to State from the See—PYGMALION—Page 2

Russel Nye, MSC English Professor Gets Coveted Pulitzer Prize

Russel Blaine Nye, associate professor of English, has been awarded the 1944 Pulitzer award for American biography. It was recently announced by the judges of the Pulitzer Prize association.

The $500 award, which is notable as recognition of outstanding achievement, was given for Nye's book, "George Bancroft, Brahmin Rebel," the story of a 19th century historian and diplomat.

Chosen through national competition among all books published during the year in various fields the Pulitzer award is one of the most coveted in American literature. This is the first time that a member of the faculty has won this prize while still associated with the staff.

Nye is recognized as one of the leading younger scholars in the country in his field of American literature and history. His biography of Bancroft was written on a fellowship awarded him by the Alfred A. Knopf publishing house in 1942.

Now on leave of absence from State on a fellowship from the Rockefeller foundation, Nye is gathering data for a new book. It is to be a biography of Theodore Weld, 19th century abolitionist and liberal who led movements for freedom of the press and speech, and for the abolition of slavery.

Nye has been a member of the faculty since 1940, receiving his bachelor's degree from Oberlin, and his master's and doctor's degrees from the University of Wisconsin. He will return to State in September when his leave expires.

LETTERS To The Editor

The following letter was received from Colonel E. B. Crabill, in Germany, April 19. Colonel Crabill was on duty with the ROTC at Michigan State college from 1930 to 1935.

The following letter was received from Lt. Harry Hampton, who was stationed with the ASTP at State in 1941.

It has been noble trout fishing weather here the last week and Doc (Mauldin) and I have been sweating it out because we aren't where we could do a little trout fishing. A little go at the Pere Marquette or Au Sable would be a welcome change.

I am afraid we're in for a rather long job here as we apparently are going to have to take the Germans' piecemeal. Right now we are sitting in the middle of the only bridgehead east of the Elbe river and it looks like we'll stay here a while.

My outfit fought its best campaign from the Wesel to the Elbe. We averaged 40 kilometers a day as the vanguard for the division captured over 4,000 prisoners and a lock of towns. When we reached the town of Barby we had a tough fight but after capturing it we crossed the Elbe in assault boats unopposed. We immediately constructed rafts and put some antitank guns, tanks and tank destroyers across and next day when the Jerries recovered from their surprise and attacked us we set them back on their heels, destroying eight of their tanks and a battalion of officers candidates who they threw against us. That night the engineers built a bridge so now we have a pretty firm bridgehead. The second armored lost theirs because they failed to put over antitank guns.

Hope to get back to good old Michigan some of these days. You might have a few good plates reserved.

Best regards to all there.
Crabill

Since Easter Sunday the Rover Boy of the ETO has travelled a goodly distance, starting from opposite Duisberg, on the Rhine and winding up as of three days ago just two miles short of the Elbe river. Along the way we managed to take the cities of Munster, Bielefeld, Hannover, Salzwedel, and God knows how many other places of lesser importance. Have personally been involved in the taking of the last three places, but hasten to add that nothing much of real excitement took place there in the way of military action.

However, at Bielefeld, in my lousy French, I uncovered a well-hidden prison of 30 men, mostly French and Belgians, who had been caged for over four years as political prisoners. After a five minute statement in which I told them over and over that they were free and no longer the slaves of the Germans, they still could not believe me. I literally had to carry them from the prison to the out-of-doors before they would take their liberty.

At Salzwedel the entire company had a lively time. The town had been declared an "open" city by the Krauts to protect them more than 3,000 hospital cases, most of them leg amputations which incidentally, speaks exceedingly well of the effectiveness of our artillery and that of the Russians; but of greater importance than the Jerry patients was the more than 2,000 liberated American PW's who collected in the town. I was in charge of collecting them, securing billets by hoisting the Jerry flag.

Hurons Bow to Spartans With 7-4 Loss in Annual Game

McCormick Starts Game for State; Holds Ypsilanti Team Down

Three Pitchers Work Out on Ypsi Mound

The Spartan nine chalked up another win yesterday when they took the Michigan Normal team from Ypsilanti 7 to 4, in a game that began at 5 p.m. on the Huron's diamond.

Norman McCormick started on the mound for the Kobsmen, and went four innings, allowing only one hit in those four innings. Kobs, in an attempt to divide up the work to give the pitching staff a little exercise before the game series with Ohio State, substituted Meredith Yarling.

The latter pitched the fifth inning, but was taken out of the box when the Hurons rallied in the sixth inning. Kobs next sent Bill Page to the mound and he finished the game. McCormick was credited with the game.

After having been rained out twice, the Spartan netmen will attempt to play in their first meet against the Tartars of Wayne this afternoon at the Detroit Tennis club.

In their two previous engagements Wayne's tennis team has been the victor over University of Detroit while dropping one to Michigan.

Those named by Coach Charlie Ball to play singles in today's meet are Harvey Hanyau, Grosse Pointe junior; Dick Young, Rockford freshman; John McGrath, Port Huron sophomore; Ben Porter, Grand Rapids sophomore; Bill Coleman, Grand Rapids senior; and William Drudge, Detroit freshman.

Slated to pair in doubles are Harvey Hanyau and Dick Young in number one and Ben Porter and Bill Coleman taking second position, with Bob Ballard, Pontiac sophomore, and John McGrath, also playing in third position.

The match will consist of two sets of singles, and three doubles.

George Julian, Ex-Football Star, Dies After Operation

George E. Julian, 35, regarded by many as the greatest of Michigan State football players, died yesterday following an operation in St. Lawrence hospital.

The death of George Julian, a captain of the football team, brought to a close the career of one of the greatest and best known fullbacks to come out of Michigan State. His fame and ability on the Spartan gridiron was appreciated only by John D. Drake, class of '39.

A graduate of the 1913 school of Agriculture, Julian with a brilliant career on the football team for State in the years previous to his graduation. He played on the team of 1913 and with 10 straight games and defeated the

When we reached the town we had information that there were only 200 freed GIs in the place, but with trucks and some G-2 information we went out into unknown territory to round up the others. Most of these boys had been on evacuation marches being forced to flee from the Russians as slaves by their captors. Our lightning push caught the whole kit and kaboodle of 10 marching columns, each numbering about 200 men.

But the real excitement came when a prison was containing more than 3,000 Jewish women was released. Within two hours every Kugel store in the town had been perfect and for the first time in more than 100 years these women had a decent meal. They had not been allowed to eat for weeks and were starved and ill. In our football of that period I took 14 in a day in PR, including...

Seventh Army Captures Two Top Nazi Officers

Herman Goering Jumps Out of Frying Pan Into General Patch's American Fire; Marshal Kesselring Caught

KUTZBUEHEL, Austria, May 9 (AP)—Reichmarshal Herman Wilhelm Goering, whose Nazi air force once frightened the world, and Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, German commander-in-chief on the western front, have surrendered to Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's American seventh army.

Goering, a self-professed fugitive from the wrath of Hitler, surrendered near here last night with his wife and six-year-old daughter and was flown today to General Patch's headquarters. Details of Kesselring's capture were not immediately given.

The first of the top Nazis to fall into American hands, Goering said he was sentenced to execution by Hitler on April 24 when he suggested that he, Goering, take over the crumbling Reich.

He declared that his air force followers shot their way through SS troops who were guarding him at Berchtesgaden and spirited him away to a hideout in this area. It was with relief, apparently, that the Nazi leader surrendered last night to Brig. Gen. Robert Stack, assistant commander of the U. S. 36th division.

Another of the original Nazis to fall into the 36th division's hands in the mop-up of this area of Austria was Gen. Ritter Von Epp, who commanded a brief defense of Munich but fled before American forces broke into the city.

Goering readily posed for photographers and talked freely of his final clash with Hitler, whom he described in a speech as late as 1943 as the "greatest German in history." He wore several medals, including the Grand Cross of the Knights Cross, Germany's highest decoration, but complained that he lost more than half of his medals when Allied planes bombed the house where he was held prisoner at Berchtesgaden.

JULIAN

Leaving State in 1915 he was probably the best known of the alumni and was national president of the alumni association from 1938 to 1940. At the time of his death he was vice chairman of the athletic council for State.

His coach during his football days at MAC was John Macklin for whom the Spartan gridiron is named.

He is survived by his wife Katherine, who lives at 942 University drive, East Lansing. He will be buried from his mother's home in Rochester, N. Y. Glen Stewart, director of alumni relations, and L. L. Frimodig, assistant athletic director will attend the funeral Saturday morning.

Fifteen motion pictures will be shown Friday or Saturday nights during the summer session. The titles will be announced later.

Both the lecture-concerts and motion pictures will be presented in Fairchild theater with the exception of the program by Margaret Speaks and Conrad Thibault.

COUNCIL

Officers of the council will be chosen from these nine representatives at the next meeting of the council which will be a dinner meeting Thursday, May 24. All old and new members will attend the meeting.

The council voted last night that no corsages will be allowed for the Mardi Gras, according to a college precedent established by the council for previous all-college dances.

All candidates for Mardi Gras queen, including those eliminated in the semi-finals may pick up tickets at the Union desk. All candidates are also urged to attend the coronation practice to be held in College auditorium tomorrow at 4 p.m.
